

Greenstein Pal's Hiring OK'd; Client Also Holds Job

At the same time Canton Township has been cleared of nepotism and political patronage charges in the hiring of one employe, an investigation by The Community Crier revealed Canton has also hired a client of the township supervisor.

According to the Wayne County Circuit Court Records office, Greenstein, an attorney who pledged to cut down on his law practice if elected Canton supervisor, is representing the township hall's switchboard operator in her divorce.

Court records show that Greenstein is defending Ronnie A. Kirkwood, a Livonia resident, who was hired by Canton on Feb. 3, against a divorce suit from her husband, Malcom, and is representing her in her counter - suit.

According to the court records, no substitution of attorney had been filed as of Monday since divorce proceedings against Mrs. Kirkwood began on Aug. 14 and Greenstein filed a counter claim on behalf of his client on Sept. 6.

The supervisor said his brother was representing Mrs. Kirkwood in his name.

Mrs. Kirkwood's hiring for the $7,000 a year job funded by the federal Comprehensive Employment Act (CETA) does not violate that job program's regulations. She is the third person hired by Canton Township through acquaintance with Greenstein.

Art Lewis, director of the Wayne County Office of Manpower, which administers CETA programs in the county, said, "Even if you select a friend, if it's done on the basis that the individual is qualified it's alright."

Greenstein said that because of morale problems in the Canton Township Hall when he took office, "We determined the prime requisites (in hiring) were ability and loyalty - not necessarily in that order, but probably.

"It isn't a question of friends or enemies," Greenstein said, "it's a question of who you can trust to do the job."

On Tuesday, the Wayne County Office of Manpower ruled that recent charges against Canton for nepotism and political patronage "have not been substantiated."

Those charges stemmed from the appointment of Bruce Phillips, a Canton resident who was active in the campaign for Greenstein's New Democratic Club of Canton, to a $9,000 a year post as assistant ordinance officer.

Phillips' wife, Pam, was hired by Greenstein as his secretary and manager of the Canton Township Hall after his election. Mrs. Phillips, who was also active in her boss' campaign, makes $10,400 in that job.

Citing CETA provisions which bar nepotism and political patronage in hiring for CETA - funded jobs, Brian Schwall, a Canton Township trustee, and Betty Hamman, president of the Windsor Park Homeowners' Assn., filed

Major Airport May Be Built Here

The Wayne County Road Commission is investigating the possibility of locating a 1,000-acre airport similar in size to Detroit City and Oakland (Pontiac) airports, in this vicinity.

According to spokesmen for the road commission, which runs Metropolitan Airport, and from the State Highway Dept.'s Aeronautics Bureau, the facility would be classed as a "general transport" airport and would have a runway of 5,000 feet in length.

A runway of that length could serve small and medium twin engine planes and small business jets.

By comparison, Mettetal Airport's runway is 2,600 feet long, Detroit City Airport has a runway of 5,100 feet, Oakland Airport's is 5,300 feet, Willow Run's runway is 7,500 feet and the longest runway at Metropolitan Airport is 10,500 feet long.

At a meeting Tuesday night, the county and state officials, along with representatives from the Federal Aviation Agency, said they will begin a study of locating such a facility in northwestern Wayne County, northeastern Washtenaw County and southwestern Oakland County.

"We've no preconceived ideas on location," said Robert Larson of the Wayne County Road Commission.

City, Merchants Cite Loop Road Leadership Needs

BY HANK MELJER

The Plymouth City Commission agreed Monday to appoint a steering committee of commissioners and downtown merchants to provide leadership in downtown development efforts - something the merchants say is lacking on the commission itself.

The commission met with members of the chamber of commerce (about 15 merchants showed up) in the commission chambers to discuss the status of the loop road.

The merchants were told that the city expected to begin testing the loop road concept through some sign and signal changes within 45 days.

The city's planners estimate that although the trial loop will cost only $6,000 or $7,000, the full loop road, which would round off curves and alter sections of Church, Harvey, Wing, Deer and Union as they encircle the central business district would cost about $557,000.

Chamber president James McKeon attacked the commission for failing to get behind the loop concept.

"Financing is not really a deterrent now," he said, citing

Fire Destroys House

AFTER THEY RETURNED home to find their house at 681 Deer destroyed by fire last Tuesday night, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Nuzum turned to City Police Lt. Henry Berghoff for a little comfort. The fire started near the basement hot water heater and had spread to the attic before firemen arrived. City firemen also fought another dangerous fire Saturday at 312 Sunset where a fire that began in a chair in the basement was stopped just as it was eating through the living room floor. No one was injured in either blaze. (Staff photo by Robert Cameron)

Canton CAC Discusses Membership Compromise

BY KATHY KUENZER

Members of the steering committee for the Canton Citizens Advisory Council (CAC) had their turn last week to offer suggestions on the make-up of the new group.

In an outline presented to committee chairman Mike Manore, eight members of the committee proposed a CAC purpose, status, membership and list of responsibilities.

Spokesman Gary Sands said that the proposed plan "represents a compromise for everyone. It is probably far from perfect," he said, "but it's a fairly good start."

Other members said they offer no major improvements to the plan.

What Manore called the "nitty-gritty of the problem" was the method of determining the council's membership. Manore's plan had suggested that the township board screen and select CAC members and include representation from specified homeowners groups, organizations and interests in the township. In this way, he said, the CAC would be an official organ of the township, fully recognized and funded by the board.

Committee members did not agree that the board should have complete jurisdiction over membership selection.

The newly-proposed plan would leave nominations of members to the present steering committee (for the initial CAC), which would present a slate of names to the board for approval, thus giving the CAC the sanction of the board. The steering committee would "solicit names of capable and interested people from each voting precinct" under a "formula devised by the committee as to the number of representatives from each precinct."

Representatives would include township residents from homeowners groups, business interests, service groups, multiples, mobile homes and agriculture and as well as "members at large." Initially, the CAC would have 20 to 25 members appointed to staggered two-year terms.

The proposed purpose of the CAC would be to serve as a means of communication between the citizens and the township board and to serve as a medium of citizen input to the board.

Suggested responsibilities include conducting a periodic survey of community attitudes and publishing a report based on the data gathered.

Manore added that the first survey might be done at the same time as the spring census if the CAC were organized in time.

The CAC would also establish priorities for township planning and evaluate the proposed budget in light of these priorities.

Tools Stolen

An estimated $300 to $350 in hand tools was stolen late Thursday or early Friday from the Plymouth-Canton High School auto and vocational shop, according to State Police.

Police said that two doors on metal wire cages in the classroom had been opened, apparently with a small paring knife found in a trash barrel nearby.

A saw, drill, tool box and other tools valued at about $250 were stolen late Saturday night or early Sunday from a pharmacy shop under construction at the Canton Professional Park, 8520 Canton Center Road, police reported.

A CHAMPAGNE Art Auction will be held Friday, March 7 in the Cultural Center to raise money for the Plymouth Symphony League. Dorothy Dean (left), Dianna Hubbuch and Sue Bunch are helping organize the affair, which features refreshments at 7:30 p.m. and the auction at 8:30. Tickets are $1.50 per person and are available at Beitner Jewelers, 904 W. Ann Arbor Trail, or at the door. (staff photo).

Twp. Seeks U.S. Recreation $$

A comprehensive recreation plan for Plymouth Township was presented to the township board of trustees last night at a public hearing as a preliminary step in an effort to receive about $25,000 in federal matching funds for recreation.

The plan, created by Norman Dietrich Associates of Plymouth, concentrated on the township's Ann Arbor Trail recreation site, according to planner Jim Anulewicz.

"Basically, we've tried to go back to basics," Anulewicz said Monday. "We've analyzed the site and how it relates to the surrounding area, evaluating its assets and liabilities."

The planner presented the board with a blueprint designating areas of the recreation site suitable for activities ranging from tennis courts to picnic grounds, but did not specify just what activities should be included.

"The whole gamut is open," Anulewicz said.

The recreation plan is a requirement for the township's application to the State Department of Natural Resources, which allocates the federal funds.

Anulewicz has also conducted a survey of township residents' recreational interests. It is now being compiled and will soon be made available.

City Cuts Sidewalks from Paving Project

The Plymouth City Commission voted Monday to delete sidewalks from its 1975 street improvement project and assess such construction separately later should it be deemed necessary.

The commission also chose to drop a section of Hamilton Street from Maple to its south end from the paving program after all four residents of that stretch petitioned the city to do so.

Those streets still included in the paving project are Burroughs from Harding to Fairground, Hamilton from Ann Arbor Trail to Maple, Herald from Maple to Linden, Maple from Virginia to Fairground, Union to the C & O Railroad tracks, Virginia from Fair to Maple and Byron from Main to Harvey.

The 28-foot wide stretches of pavement will be assessed to property owners at a rate of $19.11 per front foot and $9.55 per sideline foot. The city will pay for slightly more than half of the project, probably somewhat more than $100,000.

Assessments were lowered about $1 per front foot after sidewalk improvements were deleted.

"The citizens can choose to do his sidewalk himself or have it done for him - that's a much better situation," said Commissioner Harold Guenther, who had called on the commission at its last meeting to reconsider assessing sidewalks along with streets because many residents had already installed new sidewalks on their own and would face additional costs by helping pay for other sidewalks under the combined assessments.

Schools Listen to Budget Ideas

Fewer than a dozen residents of the Plymouth School District had anything to offer at Saturday's public hearing on development of the 1975-76 school budget.

Comments from those attending the hearing suggested spending more money on: programs for learning disabled and gifted children, reading programs for all students, inservice training for school staff members, playground equipment and programs, elementary school supplies, a centralized resource center and counseling programs for all grade levels.

The board was also told it should spend less on: busing students to distant schools, air conditioning of schools, supplying materials to students and on the resource center based on two teachers from England.

School Board Member George Lawton said at the meeting, that since 85 per cent of the school district's budget covered fixed contractual costs (salaries and fringe benefits) there is only $2.5 to $3 million of the $17 million preliminary budget which can be spent differently than in the past.

"There is no pot of gold somewhere in the district we can draw from," Lawton said, "Taking money for one program must come from somewhere else."

The school board has been discussing next year's budget at its Saturday morning meetings but may not reach a firm decision for some time since many factors, such as state aid, will not be known until next fall.

This was the first time the Plymouth School Board has held a hearing on the budget so far in advance.

School Execs Unionizing?

If officers in the Plymouth Police Dept. can form a union, why can't administrators in the Plymouth School District?

By a 27 to 3 "advisory vote" last week, the Plymouth Congress of Administrators (PCA) decided to investigate approaching the school board for recognition as a bargaining unit.

Carl Taylor, president of the PCA which represents 35 principals, assistant principals, area coordinators, directors and supervisors in the Plymouth schools, said the vote means, "All we want is some clarification (from the school board).

"There is no timetable (for organizing a union), no animosity, no militancy, no gross unhappiness and no money concerns," Taylor said.

"There are a few questions that the administrators want the board to sit down and talk about. If they do, the whole thing could blow over."

Taylor said the administrators were concerned with getting "more input prior to decision making" by the board and with outlining procedures for cutbacks should this district face declining enrollment in the future.

Murder Suspects Face Circuit Court Arraignment

BY HANK MEIJER

Three area residents charged with first degree murder in the Jan. 28 slaying of a 22-year-old Canton man have been bound over without bond to face arraignment in Wayne County Circuit Court Tuesday, March 25 at 8:30 a.m. in the City-County Building.

Judge Dunbar Davis authorized that further steps toward a trial following a day-long preliminary exam Friday in Plymouth's 35th District Court.

Davis concluded that probable cause had been shown for commission of a crime in the death of Terry Buchman, 22, of Canton, who was found fatally shot in a wooded area near the corner of Joy and Ridge roads.

Attorneys for Robert Umney, 22; Barry Provow, 27, and his wife, Leslie, 18, contended that much of the prosecution's case rested on the testimony of Lloyd Cash, 20, of Canton, who was allegedly abducted by the three along with Buchman from his Deer Creek Park apartment.

Cash testified that he and Buchman were driven to a rural section of Canton Township by the three suspects and that he was made to lie down. While on the ground, Buchman, when ordered to get out of the car, bolted and was shot twice.

County Medical Examiner Dr. Sawait Kanluen testified that a bullet from a .22 rifle had penetrated Buchman's arm and chest cavity and that a shotgun blast had struck him in the head.

Dr. Kanluen said that either shot would have been fatal, but that internal bleeding in the victim's heart and lungs indicated that the first shot had come from the rifle, since death would have come instantaneously from the shotgun wound.

The three defense attorneys spent much of the day-long examining, cross-examining Cash. The attorneys questioned how Cash could have seen the shooting or the events which immediately preceded it while lying "face down in the ground" as he had told Sheriff's deputies.

Cash said that there had been a moon out and that he saw Buchman run about 50 feet from the car parked on Joy road as he was shot at. He said that he saw Buchman twist slightly at that point, as a bullet apparently struck him.

The defense attorneys tried unsuccessfully to explore Cash's "business activities," questioning him about his involvement with drugs or other illicit activities. Cash took the fifth amendment when asked if he had taken LSD or engaged in other illegal activities.

Cash did admit, however, that he had been drinking heavily — perhaps as much as 11 beers — and had been forced by the defendants to take what was described to him as "half a hit" of LSD just before the alleged abduction and shooting.

Sheriff's Department evidence technician Herbert Lutz said that when he went to the scene shortly after the murder in the early morning of Jan. 29, the "pitch dark" conditions made it difficult for him to see anything.

Although the defense attorneys, Robert Delaney of Plymouth for Umni; Gerald Davis of Livonia for Leslie Provow, and Michael Pantel for Provow, charged that the events as Cash described them were too clouded to warrant first degree murder charges. Atty. Davis said that his client, Leslie Provow, had not even been said to have held a weapon or expressed any intent to kill Buchman.

But Judge Davis concluded that it was "a very easy case. Participation of all three suspects has been shown to the court's satisfaction."

School Board Reaffirms '45-15'

Year-round school, known as the "45-15 Program," will start this summer at Miller Elementary School.

Reaffirming its commitment made last year, the Plymouth School Board voted unanimously Monday night to implement the 45-15 program at the one school this summer.

Last year the 45-15 program was scheduled to start at Miller School but was scuttled by the unresolved teacher union negotiations when teachers in the program said they would not work without a contract.

The subsequently settled two-year pact with the teachers provides for the 45-15 program at Miller this summer.

Save $250 or more and get a true bicentennial collectors' set worth $39.95 for just $12.50.

200 years ago the early American colonists knew all about the virtues of thrift. And they knew a good bargain when they saw one. Too bad they're not here for our "Great American Bicentennial Spoon Sale."

But you are. Just open a savings account of $250.00 or more - or, if you already have a savings account with us, add $250.00 or more to your present balance. Then take advantage of a super price reduction on a beautiful set of 13 pewter spoons, each with an authentic seal of one of the original 13 colonies.

The set - a $39.95 value - is made by the craftsmen of the International Silver Company and comes complete with a handsome display rack of genuine oak. Best of all, it's yours for just $12.50.

Should you need more encouragement, remember that we offer the highest bank interest in town on regular savings. An effective annual yield of 5.2%.

You see, we compound interest on our regular 5% savings continuously - not quarterly, or even daily like ordinary banks. We also offer a wide array of time deposit accounts which yield from 5 1/2% interest for 90-day accounts ... up to 7 1/2% interest for 6-year accounts.*

This set of 13 great American spoons is a beautiful way to prepare your home for the bicentennial. And our saving plans are good common sense ways to prepare for the future.

See us soon and take advantage of the "Great American Bicentennial Spoon Sale." After all, offers like this only happen once in 200 years.

Federal law and regulation prohibit the payment of a time deposit prior to maturity unless three months of the interest thereon is forfeited and interest on the amount withdrawn is reduced to passbook rate.

Loop Road Enthusiam?

THERE WERE MORE empty chairs than merchants at Monday night's public hearing on the proposed Loop Road for the downtown area. (Staff photo by Robert Cameron)

Mayor Fails to Lead Loop Road Efforts

If past mayors of our historic city acted as our current commission leader did Monday night, it's no wonder the loop road concept has been in the "study stages" for the past 16 years.

It's unfortunate Mayor McAninch took the stand she did - no stand at all.

Monday evening a meeting was held by the commission with the goal of gaining input from the business people of the town on the proposed test plan for the loop road.

After questions asked by the merchants went without any solid answers, the truth finally surfaced. The commission wanted to know how much money the people affected by the loop road would spend to help finance the project.

After haggling back and forth for more than an hour, it was finally suggested that a steering committee be formed downtown of businessmen and commissioners. This steering committee could then get something done if only by solving at least one of the major problems which plagues the loop debate - COMMUNICATION.

This committee could work with the commission and offer input from businessmen not only on the loop road project, but on closely-related concerns of the downtown merchant.

It was a prime time for the mayor to take the bull by the horns and appoint the very men in the audience who were interested in the committee. Ralph Loreaz, Tex Thomas and Jim McKeon were all in favor of the project and the steering group, but our mayor balked at the opportunity to get the ball rolling.

Unfortunately, the idea of the committee almost died, but Harold Gaenther once again offered his guidance to the commission and the community and suggested the commission appoint members to the steering group.

The commission is expected to take this affirmative action Monday at its next meeting.

It seems quite odd to me that Mayor McAninch will approve a study of the loop road, take a bus trip to Lapeer to see a loop road that works and the effect it has on a community, then hesitate to appoint businessmen who will offer their time and money to help start the project.

One merchant made a good point Monday evening. He told the commission that the retailers of this town are mobile people. They are merchants here because they have a place in their hearts for Plymouth and they enjoy retailing in Plymouth.

If the day should ever come when the downtown area is not viable enough for the merchants to prosper, everyone in this town would suffer.

After Monday's meeting, I asked Mayor McAninch why she didn't appoint a committee right there, since it was a power given her when she was elected. She said she didn't have any time at all to think about the committee.

Boy, sixteen years seems like an awful long time to me.

'Good' News is Abundant Here

All too often in reporting and interpreting the news the emphasis seems to be on "bad" news.

Crises seem to overshadow those "good" things which are continually taking place in our community, but which are taken for granted.

These positive things do not entirely escape our attention. Last week, while taking a picture of the Plymouth Theater Guild rehearsals in Central Middle School, we could not help but notice the buzz of activities in the school. The symphony was rehearsing, a crafts class was busy, the gym was full of youngsters and adults playing basketball.

But the schools aren't the only places you can find these sorts of "good" things happening.

Recently the Boy Scouts held a campout at the Plymouth Township Recreation site, Canton Township Hall hosts senior citizen potluck lunches (famous for their sauerkraut) and you can see ice skaters at the Plymouth Community Cultural Center even at 3 a.m.

There are hundreds of activities - from junior sports to opera - that are offered by groups (too numerous to mention here) unique to the Plymouth-Canton Community.

It's these kinds of things, even though they often go unnoticed, that set our community apart from the megalopolis. Let's take advantage of the positive things.

With Malice
Toward None

But Only God...

A classic problem faces the Plymouth School Board - ecology vs. economy.

The issue is whether to cut down one-third of the woods on the new Windsor Park elementary school site to relocate the school and allow Fleet Street to be extended.

If the street were extended - which no one has asked for - it could mean the school district could sell off some of the school site land which would be on the other side of the street from the school.

In addition, the architects aid, it would cost more to rework the drawings for a location of the school that would save the trees.

And, so, we have the classic argument. Obviously the whole problem could be solved by cutting down all the trees on the site.

Let's hope the school board can find four votes for the trees.

City, Merchants Cite Loop Leadership Need

the availability of federal revenue - sharing funds and the city's assessment capabilities. "If you made the loop one of your top priorities the financing would be there."

Several commissioners joined the merchants in calling for the city to go ahead with the loop, charging that an access route to current and proposed parking facilities and as a symbol of the city's faith in downtown it was a vital step.

According to Commissioner Norb Battermann, some of the loop's opponents on the commission haven't been working with the city's problems long enough to understand the need for the loop.

"The younger members of the commission haven't done enough digging into it (the loop), haven't convinced themselves of the necessity of the loop," he said.

He also noted that chamber of commerce members have shown little enthusiasm. "To date the chamber as a body has not pushed the loop road," he said. "If the chamber feels the loop is necessary it should get behind it and push it."

"A few words are just not support," said Mayor McAninch, who said that merchants in Lapeer, where a loop road has been tried with apparent success, provided "impetus in the form of $270,000."

Commissioner John Moehle cautioned against haste in building the loop. "Sometimes we attach a little bit of magic to the idea of the loop road," he said. "The Pontiac loop is almost a barren place."

Commissioner Harold Guenther and several of the merchants stressed that the loop would be only a beginning, and was just part of what has to be an overall attack on the city's parking problem.

"Are we going to wait until Rome burns to do something about parking?" asked Mayflower Hotel owner Ralph Lorenz.

Mayor McAninch contended that parking was sufficient downtown, but that many people simply weren't willing to walk a short distance to find it.

"Plymouth isn't dangerous at night," she said. "I find I can walk a whole block safely."

"Real leadership is not going to come from government," said Moehle. "Government isn't going to revitalize downtown, it's up to individuals."

McKeon said that the city had to take the initiative.

"Until you come to us with your objectives for the loop road, we as a (chamber) board are not going to answer the question of our involvement yes or no, we're not going to be able to tell you whether we're going to contribute or not," he countered. "The business community is pressing for the loop, but I don't see a sequence of events forthcoming from the city."

"You're saying that we should take the leadership," Mrs. McAninch told him, "but only a slim majority of the commission supported the loop." Last fall the commission voted 4-3 to move ahead with plans for the loop. Mrs. McAninch said that only six per cent of the city's tax base lay with its commercial sector, and that she felt that a large sum of public funds should not be wasted on the loop by rushing ahead without business support.

"You appoint a committee of private individuals and we'll come up with the answer," Lorenz said. Guenther too called for a committee - one composed of both merchants and commissioners - to do what he said the city has failed to do - lead.

"Surely we're not going to close with just a lot of talk," Guenther said when McAninch proposed adjournment. "There's no sense of urgency on this commission. We're the single biggest factor in the community and there's no dialogue between this body and the business community."

"I don't see us spending $500,000 for a symbol of support for downtown Plymouth," Mrs. McAninch said. "I think that's exorbitant. I don't think Plymouth should put up a Dayton - Hudson type of shopping center. I think we should stay the way we are - we're unique."

McKeon disputed Mrs. McAninch's views on what constituted the taxpayers' benefit. "It's to the taxpayers' benefit to bulldoze the central business district and plant it with grass," he said. "Then residents can go to Briarwood."

Moehle, who along with Mrs. McAninch opposed approval of the loop last fall, denied that the commission moved too slowly and reflected the "status quo."

Mrs. McAninch seemed reluctant to appoint the steering committee which Guenther had proposed. "We have to be very careful with what we do with the public trust," she said. She did, however, agree that the commission would name a committee at its Monday meeting.

"When you appoint that group it's got to be charged with a goal," Guenther said. "Somebody's got to lead the parade."

While neither Larson nor state officials would discuss possible sites in the area, the land presently owned by the City of Detroit as part of the Detroit House of Corrections site has been rumored as one possible site. A portion of that property in Plymouth and Northville townships has been for sale by Detroit for many months.

Larson and William Hamlen of the state aeronautics bureau both said the existing Mettetal Airport facility would not be large enough to handle the proposal.

Larson said, "Mettetal is landlocked and couldn't be expanded without extensive land acquisition and changing the roads. It couldn't serve the needs."

"It's only a matter of time before (Mettetal and National Airport on Ford Road in Westland - Canton) are discontinued. If Mettetal closes, there're 140 planes and where are they going to go?" Larson asked.

Mettetal's runway is currently 2,600 feet long, but could be expanded to 3,500 feet on the current site, Larson said.

The county will hire an independent firm to study the airport proposal.

In addition, Larson said, the research firm would work with a "review team" of local officials to obtain "community feedback."

The study would include 12 major areas.

- Inventory of existing needs and previous studies (such as the one currently being undertaken on Mettetal Airport by Canton Township).
- Project future needs for air service in the area.
- Forecast capacity needed to meet projected demands.
- Establish requirements for the facility.
- Study the facility's impact on the environment.
- Site selection.
- Prepare an airport design based on the site.
- Schedule proposed development.
- Estimate development costs.
- Determine economic feasibility of project (matching projected revenues with projected costs).
- Determine method of financing.
- Determine method of implementation (who'll build the facility, etc.)

Larson emphasized that the project could be proven unfeasible at any point in the study and cited the environmental and financing points as "very crucial."

He estimated the study could take 12 to 15 months and development of the airport, if the study shows it feasible, another five to eight years.

Rocks Rout RU, Earn Title Crown

BY DENNIS O'CONNOR

For the second year in a row, the Suburban Eight League basketball title belongs to the Plymouth - Salem Rocks.

The Rocks gained at least a tie for the crown last Tuesday when they rolled over the tough Dearborn Pioneers 52-37, then grabbed the title outright with a 79-51 thrashing of Redford Union Friday.

Plymouth finished its Suburban Eight League schedule with a first place record of 12-2. The Rocks' overall record is now an impressive 17-2 with the completion of the regular season. Plymouth starts district play tonight against the winner of the Northville - Southfield game played Monday.

From the opening tipoff in the clash with Redford Union it was apparent that the Rocks had everything under control. Jumping at center, Eric Agardy tipped the ball to Jim Ellinghausen, who in turn passed to captain Dan Moore for an easy lay-up to give Plymouth a 2-0 lead after four seconds of play.

The Rocks continued to set the pace, gaining an overwhelming 22-8 margin after the first eight minutes of play.

The Panthers found themselves down 10-2 with only three minutes left in the period before they hit their first field goal. The Redford offense could muster only two free throws against the giant Rocks. The Panthers missed their first eight shots from the floor, hitting on only three of 14 in the initial quarter. Agardy scored eight, Ellinghausen six and Moore and Brian Wolcott each added four to pace the Plymouth attack.

Ellinghausen paced the second period onslaught, hitting for eight more points. Coach Fred Thomann cleared his bench by the end of the first half, after the Rocks outscored Redford 18-12 in the second period to take a commanding 40-20 half time lead.

The starters came back to play the third period, as Plymouth poured in 23 more points to the Panthers' 12. The reserves played all of the final period, with all but two Rocks breaking into the scoring column.

Ellinghausen finished the game with 23 points as he hit for an outstanding 71 per cent from the floor (10 of 14). He also blocked five shots and hauled down six rebounds. Agardy wound up with 16 points and seven rebounds, while Moore added 10 points and eight assists.

Plymouth shot a hot 53 per cent from the floor (31 of 59), while limiting the Panthers to only 19 field goals in 61 attempts for 31 per cent.

This game marked the final home appearance for the Rocks this season. The win extended Plymouth's unbeaten string at home to 17, a streak that goes back to December, 1973.

The Plymouth cagers showed signs of playing good basketball on the road last week when they beat an upset-minded Dearborn team 52-27. Despite the stall tactics put on by the Pioneers, Plymouth overcame a slow start by reeling off a 12-3 advantage in the last three minutes of the first half to coast into the locker room ahead 27-15. The Rocks increased their lead to more than 20 late in the third period and the outcome was never in doubt.

Agardy paced the Plymouth attack with 24 and guard Brian Wolcott added 10.

Plymouth had a good week at the foul line, hitting 16 of 20 at Dearborn and 17 of 21 against Redford Union.

Chief Rally Sinks Churchill

The Plymouth-Canton Chiefs gained a second place finish in the Western Six League Standings with an 11-point victory Friday over Livonia Churchill (57-46) at the Churchill gym.

Going into that Friday night contest the Chiefs found themselves in the midst of a three-way tie for second place with Farmington Harrison and Waterford Mott. All owned 5-4 records. But both Harrison and Mott lost their last conference game to give Canton outright possession of second with a 6-4 mark.

The Chiefs finished behind the Northville Mustangs, who wound up with a 9-1 league mark while finishing 19-1 for the regular season.

Canton now owns a 10-10 record for the overall season going into district play tomorrow (Thursday) against the winner of the Bentley-Farmington game played last night.

Both Chiefs and Chargers started cold Friday. Neither team scored in the first three minutes of play.

Churchill finally broke the cold streak, mounting a 10-3 lead while the Chiefs were still trying to find the range. Canton hit some late first period buckets to pull within three at the quarter's end, 15-12.

In an evenly played second period, Canton stayed within striking range of the Chargers by outscoring them 14-13 to come within two at the half, 28-26.

The Chiefs again got off to a slow start in the second half, as Churchill built up an eight-point lead by scoring the first six points of the third quarter. But the Chiefs caught fire at that point, putting 13 points on the board in the rest of the quarter to Churchill's one. Good solid defense, especially the Chiefs' ability to fast break, keyed this sudden turn of events. Canton led 39-35 at the end of the third period.

The tough Canton defense continued through the final period, as the Chiefs limited Churchill to only 11 points the rest of the way. Hitting on 10 of 12 free throws in the final period helped Canton score 18 more points. Brian Stemberger was the spark plug in that final quarter.

The six-foot-two inch guard scored eight of his game-high 14 points in the final eight minutes.

Tom Close and Dave Edwards added 10 points apiece.

Canton lost a non-leaguer to a good Southfield Lathrup team 58-56 last Tuesday (Feb. 18).

Salem's 13-1 Frosh Dominate Park Duel

The end of the freshman basketball season was climaxed by a Salem-Canton showdown Monday night.

Coach Pat O'Donnell's Rocks in this friendly season-ending rally 78-52. Plymouth-Salem ends up the year with an impressive 13-1 record, having lost only to Northville in an overtime contest. Coach Mike McCauley's Chiefs end the season with a 5-8 mark.

An evenly-played first quarter saw both teams battle to a 12-12 tie as the lead changed hands three times. The Rocks went ahead for good on a three point play by center Tom Ellinghausen with two minutes gone in the second period and held a 36-24 lead at halftime.

The Chiefs pulled within six in the middle of the third quarter, but the sharp shooting of Mike Christie and the hustle of Stu Roth proved to be their downfall in the last quarter.

Ellinghausen, the Rocks leading scorer and rebounder, led all the point-getters with 22, while pulling down 17 rebounds. Christie followed with 20 points and 13 rebounds, while Roth added nine points and six assists.

The Chiefs' balanced attack was led by Doug Smith's 11, Brent Eckles followed with 10, Kevin O'Connor had nine and Keith Fuchling eight. O'Connor was the Chiefs' leading rebounder with eight.

WSDP to Broadcast Tourney

Turn to WSDP radio, 89.3 FM on your dial, for live coverage of the Plymouth-Salem Rocks and the Plymouth-Canton Chiefs as they hit the basketball tournament trail starting tonight at Southfield.

The student radio station at Centennial Park will follow both squads throughout the tourney. Bill Collins and Tom Davis will be handling the play-by-play of the Plymouth-Salem games, while Gary Selver and John Canton games.

The first broadcast will be tonight (Feb. 26) as the Rocks take on the Northville Mustangs. The Chiefs take the court tomorrow night (Feb. 27) against the winner of the Livonia Bentley-Farmington game.

With the help of the Boosters Club at both high schools and the Plymouth Athletic Department, the entire community will be able to follow the fortunes of the Rocks and Canton.

Doc's Corner

BY DENNIS O'CONNOR

It's that time of the year again, when more than 700 high schools all over the state compete in the annual "March Madness" basketball tournament. This is the 41st year for this event, and this season's promises to be every bit as great as the last 50.

The format of a tourney such as this allows a team to continue advancing as long as it can win. One loss spells the end of the long season which began back in November.

Both Plymouth schools (Salem and Canton) find themselves in the Southfield district. Other participants in this particular district include Northville, Livonia Bentley, Farmington, and the host team, Southfield. All the games are played at Southfield during the week of Feb. 24 - March 1. This district is only one of 22 Class A districts in the metropolitan Detroit area.

Southfield's district winner meets the victor of the Southfield Lathrup district in the Livonia Franklin regional. Whoever triumphs in that one plays the winner of the Livonia Stevenson and North Farmington district winners' game for the championship of the Regional. All regional games will be played during the week of March 4-8 at the Franklin gym.

The squad fortunate enough to win the regional will go on to quarterfinal action Thursday, March 13. The other seven regional winners that will join the Livonia Franklin winner in quarterfinal play will be the victors from the Birmingham Seaholm, Saginaw, Big Rapids, East Detroit, Ferndale, Kalamazoo and Ypsilanti regions.

Semifinal play pitting the four best teams in the state against each other, will be at Michigan State University's Jenison Field House in East Lansing on Saturday, March 15.

The championship Saturday, March 22 in Chrisler Arena at Ann Arbor will determine the best basketball team in the state of Michigan.

In the last two weeks both Plymouth teams have been playing exceptional basketball. Both have high hopes in the upcoming districts.

Canton has won four of its last five games, moving from a fourth to second place finish in the Western Six conference.

Plymouth-Salem has literally blown its last four opponents off the court, roaring to its second consecutive Suburban Eight League crown.

With both teams playing their best basketball of the season, the Southfield district games should prove rewarding for the Plymouth representatives.

Ross Wins Loop Honors, Salem Wrestlers Place 4th

Ron Krueger's Plymouth-Salem wrestlers finished a strong fourth in the Suburban Eight League meet last week, competing without star grappler Scott Agnew.

Dan Ross, who was a late addition to the team this season, captured first place honors in the 157-pound division.

Carl Shultz and Jerry Brink both came in second, wrestling in the 112 and 141-pound divisions. Bob Zalimeni and Dave Champion finished third at 108 and 185 respectively.

The squad took eighth last weekend in the Walled Lake Western State Tournament District.

Outstanding performances were recorded by Les Hassen and Jerry Brink, as each advanced to the regionals.

Hassen broke the school total win mark when he defeated Canton's Craig Lee in his district opener. That gave him his 22nd win, and the 23rd came when he pinned Livonia Franklin's Rob Kassaro at the one minute mark of the first overtime in the 98-pound finals.

Brink defeated Rick Lemaster of Walled Lake Central 18-3 and then qualified for regional competition by whipping Dan Renner of Garden City West in the finals.

Four other Rocks reached the finals before succumbing among them Carl Shultz at 112, Jeff Kenney at 135, Dan Ross at 158 and Dave Champion at 185.

Rock Swimmers Whip Trenton

The Plymouth-Salem swim team made easy pickings of Trenton last Thursday 101-71. Helped by Jeff Luckens' three victories and school records by Randy Skalski and Ron Finley, who also had three wins, the Rocks were never in trouble.

Skalski broke the mark he had set earlier this year in the 100-yard breaststroke in a time of 1:04.

Finley, only a sophomore, recorded a 1:52.3 in the 200-yard freestyle and also won the 100 butterfly and was a member of the winning 400 freestyle relay team.

Lukens' wins were in the 50 and 100-yard freestyle. All the Salem winners, with the exception of Marks, were members of a winning relay squad.

200-yard relay: 1. Chlopan, Skalski, Lazarus, Lukens, (PS), 1:47.3

50 freestyle: 1. Finley (PS) 2. Smith (PS) 3. A. Hunter (PS) 1:52.3

The Plymouth-Canton swim team won its final dual meet of the season last Thursday, drowning non-league opponent Walled Lake Central 100-72 at Walled Lake.

The Chiefs' overall record stands at 7-4 for the season. They hold third place in the Wester Six League standings with a 4-4 record going into this weekend's league meet at Churchhill.

Canton took eight of the 11 events enroute to victory in the Central meet. Glen Peterson was a double winner as he placed first in the 100 breaststroke (1:06.6) and 100 fly. His time in the fly was 59.8 seconds, breaking his own school record.

Kevin Harris was also a double winner. He was victorious in the 200-yard individual medley and 100 freestyle events. Brian Kenney won the 100 back and Scot Wales was a victor in the diving competition.

The Plymouth-Salem junior varsity closed its season on a winning note Friday, defeating Redford Union 49-42.

The Plymouth-Canton junior varsity lost two games last week to finish the season with a 5-15 mark.

Middle School West won its 19th game in a row last week as the eighth graders trounced Pioneer 47-17.

The Plymouth-Salem girls volleyball team turned back a stiff Belleville challenge 15-12, 15-10 last Wednesday in the Plymouth gym.

Plymouth-Canton's girls volleyball team lost a heartbreaker to a good Ann Arbor Huron squad Monday at Huron.

County to Study Overpass Light

Canton Trustee Gerald Cheske, acting for the township board, got some good news and some bad news last week from the Wayne County Road Commission.

In a meeting held Friday morning at township hall, Cheske spoke with members of the WCRC about the condition of township roads and the need for a stop light and street lights on the Joy Road - 1-275 overpass.

First the good news: The WCRC has agreed to do a study of traffic flow on the overpass. County officials said that if the need is shown, a second traffic light will be installed at the entrance to Holiday Park subdivision.

Now the bad news: The WCRC spokesman said flatly that for 1975 only maintenance will be done on township roads under county jurisdiction. This means no lasting improvements are slated for Warren, Haggerty, Sheldon or other problem areas.

Greenstein's Client Gets Job

formal complaints with the Wayne County Manpower Office against Phillips' hiring.

Commenting on the ruling that Phillips' hiring was legal, Greenstein said, "I am happy and gratified that my position

Elaine Guregian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Guregian of 9200 Ann Arbor Road, has been named Plymouth-Salem High School's 1974-75 Betty Crocker Family Leader of Tomorrow.

The Salem senior is now eligible for state and national competition, in which the winners receive college scholarships. She is a member of the Plymouth High Symphony and Marching Band and was a commended scholar for her National Merit Test performance.

"But I'm sickened by the manner in which it was brought to the public by an elected official who failed to do his homework in an effort to play politics.

"It cost the township administration three weeks of almost being paralyzed — at taxpayers' expense — in answering charges which should never have been made publicly until Mr. Schwall had been certain of his groundwork," Greenstein said.

The supervisor said he had once offered to let Schwall head up the CETA program hiring, but Schwall refused. "As usual, instead of doing something constructive for the township, he just sat back and tried to destroy efforts of people who were willing to work."

Schwall, responding in turn to Greenstein's charges, said he was never offered the CETA responsibility by Greenstein in good faith.

"I have no comment on his personal attacks," Schwall said. We all knew they would follow as a direct result of my standing up against the administration for what I believe in.

"I'm willing to pay that price," the trustee concluded.
