Twp. main will serve Burroughs

City to lose top water buyer

BY HANK MEIJER

Come Jan. 1, 1976, the City of Plymouth will be pumping 60 to 90 million fewer gallons per month through its water mains.

That's the date on which the city will lose its biggest water customer, the Burroughs Corp. plant on Plymouth Road, to Plymouth Township.

The Burroughs plant is in the township, but when it was built the township had no main to service it. By 1970, township mains were within reach, but city officials asked the township board if the city could continue to serve the Burroughs plant for five years or until current water bonds were paid off.

The township agreed and the two municipalities signed a contract in Nov. 1970 allowing the city to continue to sell water to Burroughs. In exchange the city turned over to the township sections of several water mains. Several township city water consumers tapped into the new township mains. Although water usage

Meijer, Cameron join in Crier ownership

The Community Crier has announced a change in ownership and management.

Crier staff members Hank Meijer and Bob Cameron have joined Ed Wendover as publishers of the newspaper.

Wendover Thursday purchased stock in the corporation previously owned by one of its co-founders, John Foley.

He then sold those shares to Meijer, who has been editor of the paper since November. Cameron, who purchased an equal third share of the paper, has been staff photographer since November.

In addition to their publishing duties, Wendover will serve as general manager, Meijer will continue as editor and Cameron will remain staff photographer.

Foley co-founded the paper in February, 1974 with Mark Warshauer, who sold his share to Wendover in October.

Wendover, 26, was formerly editor of the Plymouth Observer & Eccentric, editor of the Redford Observer and a reporter for the Observer Newspapers, the Hartford (Conn.) Courant and the Ingham County News. A Plymouth Township resident, he is a journalism graduate of Michigan State University.

Meijer, 23, was a reporter for the Observer & Eccentric Newspapers before joining The Crier staff as editor. He is a graduate of the University of Michigan and a Plymouth resident.

Cameron, 31, manages a family-owned landscaping business in Southfield and is a student of photography at the Institute of the Society of Arts and Crafts. He lives in Plymouth.

Dentist savors memories of Plymouth's past

BY KATHY KUENZER

When you've lived for 90 years there are a lot of dates and names and places stored away in your memory that become intertwined with one another. Precise moments are sometimes hard to figure, but their memories grow in importance and meaning.

That's why when I interviewed Dr. John L. Olsaver of Plymouth on the occasion of his 90th birthday April 3, it didn't matter much that he was unsure of some of the names and dates: What mattered was that he was able to share them with us and help us remember as he does the way it was during his early day in Plymouth.

Dr. Olsaver practiced dentistry here from 1912 until his retirement in 1968.

"I became a dentist after the first enrolling in the engineering school at the University of Michigan when it was pointed out that engineers were a dollar a dozen," he recalls. "In fact, finished dental school, passed my board exams, and came to Plymouth the summer of 1912 to assist a Dr. Howell before I even received my diploma. I had to make up a general chemistry course I missed when I changed majors and did that while I was working with Dr. Howell that summer. I didn't get my diploma until the fall of 1912."

Dr. Olsaver practiced at three different locations downtown: on Main Street above what is now John Smith Menswear and

3,000 population," he said. "We called that area around the depot 'Lower town' and considered the folks there 'rabble-rousers' more or less!"

Dr. Olsaver puffed on a pipe one of many in the family room of his home on Gloucester, while he talked about Plymouth.

"The Daisy Manufacturing Co. was what kept Plymouth going back then," he said, "But, gosh, the downtown area has changed, especially in the last five years."

It was "around 1914" that Dr. Olsaver married Marguerite Hough. They had three children, Barbara, Mary Jane and Jack. His daughters live now in Illinois in two different buildings on Penniman.

"We didn't have paved roads then, and there were only three or four automobiles in the whole town - which was around and his son resides up in Carp Lake, Mrs. Olsaver died in 1968 and shortly thereafter Dr. Olsaver moved to his present home.

He says he "doesn't do much of anything now," although during his younger days he liked to hunt, and fish, bowl, golf, and play "Pedro" (a card game) with his friends.

Three lapel pins on his jacket reveal that he is a member emeritus of the University of Michigan Alumni Assn. He has received awards for being a 50-year and 60-year member of the Masonic Lodge.

"I wish I could show you a silver dollar my father gave me after he left the army, but I just can't seem to find it," the old gentleman said. "My dad fought in the Civil War and went to Texas to help with some problems they were having with Mexico. In fact he was mustered out at the Alamo. That silver dollar should have a really early date on it."

Though the silver dollar couldn't be located, Dr. Olsaver did have pictures of his father, complete with Union army uniform, saber, and pistol, and of his mother when she was about 12.

It would have been fun to go on recalling the old days with Dr. Olsaver, but he was wearying of the strain of sorting out dates and names. We left the good doctor with his memories and his photographs and his pipes, wondering a little what the next 90 years would bring to Plymouth.

PLUS brings home fun of learning

Teachers and administrators in the Plymouth Schools' federally funded PLUS program may call it a "program aimed at strengthening readiness skills," but it's a sure bet the children involved call it fun.

PLUS, which stands for Pupils Learning Useful Skills, is nearing the end of its first year in the school district and project director Mrs. Mary Fritz says "We have already observed big changes in the children, although our 'post - testing' won't come until May."

Last fall four - year - olds from the Isbister, Central and Starkweather attendance areas were selected for the program through testing and screening to determine which children could most benefit from special help with readiness skills. A total of 124 child - parent (or guardian combinations) were chosen for the program.

Sixty - four kids and their moms have since been coming to Ferrand School for one two-hour sessions per week. While there, the parents meet with one teacher for discussion, instruction, observation of children and workshops, while the childrer work with another teacher in an adjoining room.

The other 160 parent - child combinations attend programs conducted three times monthly by mother volunteers in a neighborhood home, then meet once a month with teachers at Ferrand.

Judging from the atmosphere in the children's room, this learning situation "certainly has a lot of being fun. The well - supplied facility is much like any kindergarted room. The day I visited, the children were making "animals and other interesting things" from apples stuck with toothpicks holding raisins, prunes, marshmallows, etc. - not only fun to make, but nutritious to eat.

All activities with the children are followed up at home, and that's why the mothers meet with a teacher next door. "We feel home and school are a team," say Mrs. Fritz. "Here we are teaching the parent to teach and help the child at home."

Mothers come armed with notebooks in which they keep a record of home - directed activities with their child. Notebooks also contain games and suggestions for helping a child improve visual skills, counting, auditory skills, self - image, shape and color recognition, language memory and much more.

A calendar of up - coming events is also close at hand in each notebook, and children and moms were planning such excursions as eating in the school cafeteria, touring a fast food restaurant and taking a train trip from Detroit to Ann Arbor and back.

The PLUS staff includes teachers Roxanne Sparkman, Doris Balzoni and Sue Steele, with Shirley Pearl as aid - secretary.

PLUS seems to be making a hit with all involved, but best of all, it's bringing learning into the the home - and giving it a place of importance.

Siefker resigns

Plymouth Township Planning Commissioner Dale Siefker has submitted his resignation to the Township Board of Trustees, bringing to two the number of vacancies on the commission.

Ordinance violation cited

Canton merchant faces shutdown

BY KATHY KUENZER

A Canton Township businessman can't understand why he has been sent a letter by the Canton Building Department telling him his business is not a permitted use of land under the C-2 or general business zoning codes.

Jim Fulkerson, owner of Fulkerson's Landscaping and a recreational vehicle storage service, received a letter dated April 28 which said he is "in violation of the zoning ordinance."

The letter contends that "operating a storage for recreation vehicles and other equipment is not a permitted use in the C-2, General Business" code and that Fulkerson has until June 1, 1975, to discontinue the operation.

In the C-2 General Business District section of the zoning code, "Permitted Uses After Social Approval" includes "Bicycle, motor vehicle, boat or home equipment sale or rental services."

Fulkerson said that when he began operating the storage business in 1971 he asked for a variance from the ordinance.

"I talked to Phil Dingledey and asked that I receive a variance and he said they'd get back to me in a few days, which I recall they did," he said. "Now the building department says they have no record of that in the (planning commission) minutes, that they can't find it in writing."

Dingledey said he seems to remember the action and that he intended to "do some digging" at township hall for the information Fulkerson referred to.

Derk John Flodin said that he thought Fulkerson's business was permitted "as long as there's a variance granted on it."

Fulkerson's business is on Canton Center Road, the object of recent zoning debates at township board meetings, which he regularly attends.

According to Fulkerson, the matter has been turned over to his attorneys.

Beef thief

Three cases of hamburger patties and a case of orange juice were reported missing Thursday night from a storage cooler at the rear of the McDonald's restaurant, 220 Ann Arbor Road.

Homeowners clean up

Members of the Northwest Canton Homeowners Assn. set out to "clean up" the township - they took their job literally.

The most notable find of their clean up last Saturday was a box of "Playboy" and "Penthouse" magazines - complete with foldouts - found lying along a road.

According to John Cojei of the association, some 35 workers cleaned up 250 plastic bags full of garbage from the roads. "They were out there like beavers," Cojei said.

Also helping the children and adults on the clean up drive were Canton Township's supervisor Bob Greenstein; treasurer, Carl Parsell; and clerk, John Flodin.

Schools to serve seniors

"Once in a while a project comes along that you feel really good about."

That's the way Deputy Supt. Dr. Earl Hogan described a new pilot program that will offer help for fixed income senior citizens and add an extra dimension to life at Central Middle School.

SPICE, School Programs Including Community Elderly, would enable Plymouth's senior citizens to eat hot lunches at Central Middle School.

Central Principal G.T. Gorguze met recently with senior citizens representatives, school administrators, a the Central cafeteria manager, PTSO parents, cafeteria supervisors, teachers, student and a district supervisor of the Wayne County Health Center to assess the need for such a program.

The group said a need did exist and the Plymouth School Board Monday gave approved the start of the project for next Monday. SPICE will run through the end of the school year in late June and will be evaluated then to determine whether it should be continued and expanded in the fall.

"There are a number of elderly people on the Central Middle School area," Dr. Hogan said. "Older people will get a chance to see youngsters, perhaps some may even become resource people in school activities."

FOR A MOMENT Monday it was a lean - to, then this old two - story house on Main St. next to the Youth Center was demolished completely by a wrecking crew. (Staff photo by Hank Meijer.)

Schools to bolster special ed

Plymouth schools personnel director Norm Kee has been authorized by the Board of Education to hire 20 more special education teachers and specialists for district schools.

Hiring of the 20 additional special ed people is described by Supt. John Hoben as "an interim step toward compliance" by the district with state mandates for treatment of learning disabled and emotionally impaired youngsters.

Officials head for D.C.

Canton Township Supervisor Bob Greenstein, Treasurer Carl Parsell and Trustees Jerry Cheske, Bob Myers and Jim Poole are scheduled to leave for Washington D.C. today for the annual Municipal Officers Conference. The township officials will hear speakers from several federal agencies and visit an urban renewal project in Annapolis, Md. They plan to return home Saturday.

Canton board studies CAC

The Canton Township Board of Trustees was expected to act last night on formation of a Citizens Advisory Council. (CAC).

Proposals for organization of the council had previously been submitted by an ad hoc committee to establish a CAC and by township planner Mike Manore. Both proposals agreed the CAC should serve as a medium of communication between the Township Board and Canton citizens. They disagreed, however, in the method of selecting representative to the council and in the interests or areas that should be represented.

Supervisor Bob Greenstein was ostensibly to have prepared a CAC organization plan of his own. While the township officers were said to have had "some discussion about it (the CAC)," Township Clerk John Flodin said Greenstein's proposal was "pretty much his own (Greenstein's)."

Is press barred from Greenstein pledge of open administration?

Bob Greenstein, where are you?

I mean, I know you're there in township hall somewhere, but for some reason I can never find you when I need to have a question or two answered.

Your secretary politely tells me when I call at 3 p.m. that you're "tied up on the phone" and have people waiting to see you in your office.

I reply that I would like to have my call returned. But as with countless times before, there is no return call.

When I phone again at 4 p.m. I'm told again, "I'm sorry, he's still on the phone."

"May I make an appointment," I ask.

"I'm sorry, Mr. Greenstein makes his own appointments."

"How does one make an appointment with Mr. Greenstein?" I inquire.

"By telephone."

I might have guessed.

I suppose the next step is either to camp on your (which would certainly take a lot of MY valuable time) or possible write you a letter.

I only hope you're not as inaccessible to other Canton residents as you are to this reporter.

If you spend the 60 to 70 hours a week on township business as you say you do, surely you could spare five or 10 minutes for one reporter who is trying to do her job.

Lois Lane, you never had it so good.

KATHY KUENZER

Township showed wisdom

The Plymouth Township Board of Trustees has taken a step to insure that history doesn't repeat itself.

Under altered legal requirements of the Michigan Liquor Control Commission, the township board was able to its name to the liquor license application of recently approved for Daniel Ross, new manager of the township's Hilltop Golf Course.

That way, should Ross leave, the township wouldn't lose another license to someone no longer operating a business in the township. That's happened twice.

At least now they've got insurance that the license to serve liquor by the glass at the establishment they own will stay with them - not with whatever businessman happens to hold it.

That change comes late, but still intine for the township - before all its licenses are given away.

THE COMMUNITY CRIER

Canton cleanup lauded

We applaud the efforts of members of the Northwest Canton Homeowners Assn., to keep their sector of the township litter free.

The three dozen association members who turned out Saturday morning for the project found garbage aplenty - and their efforts left the township a better place to live.

Other civic associations could profit by following Northwest's lead. That group sets a good example for us all.

THE COMMUNITY CRIER

How long will this take?

IT'S SPRINGTIME and traffic on Ann Arbor Road between Sheldon and Haggerty is disrupted again. Merchants and motorists alike can look forward to plenty of dust in the weeks ahead! Let's hope work is swiftly completed and then perhaps Ann Arbor Road will finally live up to its designation as a state thoroughfare. (Staff photo by Bob Cameron.)

Crier redirects itself to publishing the best

This week the staff of The Crier gets back to the business of putting out a newspaper.

We regret to say that in the last few weeks that all-important goal has not always been uppermost in our minds.

This week the ownership of the paper changed hands. John Foley sold his interest to his co-publisher, Ed Wd Wendover. Ed, in turn, sold those shares to Hank Meijer. Bob Cameron then purchase additional shares to share ownership equally with Ed and Hank.

Until those changes were made in the last few days, no one really knew from one week to the next who would be working on the next edition.

We spent so much-time confused over the fate of the paper we didn't always concentrate on quality of what went into it.

Now that the confusion has been resolved, we can set ourselves full-time to learning it. And to putting out what we hope is the most informative newspaper in the Plymouth-Canton community.

That's our goal and that will now command our full attention.

We wish John luck in whatever new ventures he pursues. It was his initiative that got the paper started.

THE COMMUNITY CRIER

Foley bids farewell

The Community Crier has made a change.

On Thursday, May 8th W. Edward Wendover became the sole owner of this hometown paper which Mark Warshauer and myself started just 66 weeks ago.

If you love the business, you will be pleased and excited at becoming a jack of all trades, for there is a wealth of knowledge, waiting for your to seek it out.

Newspapering is a tough business. It offers no fancy frills and seldom any elaborate positions. But it does give you the opportunity to work 60 hour weeks and the chance to be and ad salesman, delivery boy and a collection agency all at once. If you're in the business you become all of these eventually.

Once the ink is in your veins, it's there forever. You can't walk away from it for long.

I thought the hardest thing I'd ever tackled in my 24 years was to start the Plymouth Community Crier. That just goes to show how much I've learned in these past 66 weeks. The hardest thing was to really make up my mind to sell Crier.

I ran the paper for over a year the way I wanted it run. Ed wanted a crack at the job, so I accomodated.

The support my wife, Ruth, and I have received from people in the community and the friends we have, made in the past year will never be forgotten. I wish I could list them all in this column, but space is limited. (It has always been the policy of The Crier to keep things short.)

Our plans for the future aren't positive right now, but we'll be staying in town. Someday we'll be back in the business. Next time Ruth wants to be the publisher, so I'll be the circulation manager!

We'll never forget that whenever the chips were down we could just go for a walk around town to lift our spirits and pick up some verbal support from John Wiltse, Bill McAllister, Chuck Avis, Mark Hyland, Scott Dodge, and others who were there when we needed their help. Without these people and countless other, the paper never would have come as far as it has. Thank you for your encouragement, your help and your support.

W. Edward - Good Luck - but remember - newspapering is a tough business.

School board stalls bus garage plans

A proposal Monday that would have authorized completion of plans and a call for bids for a new five-stall school bus garage on Mill St. were defeated by the Plymouth School District Board of Education.

The existing garage barely has room for two buses and the district's transportation facilities are seriously overcrowded, according to Asst. Supt. Ray Hoedel.

A committee of board members and administrators had recommended construction of the project, which is estimated at nearly $2000,00 rather than creation of a new bus complex now on the grounds of Centennial Education Park, which has been considered as a long time goal.

"The cost of maintaining our bus fleet is doubling," John Hoben said. "We have to send buses out for major repairs to commercial vendors" because of lack of space.

Although Board members voted 3 - 1 in favor of the garage plan with only Vice-President Marda Benson dissenting, proponents lacked a quorum and the measure failed.

Bats rip Churchill

The Plymouth - Canton girls softball team raise its record to 4 - 3 overall Thursday, trouncing Livonia Churchill 12 - 2.

The victory was the fourth win for the Chiefs in their last five starts. The game lasted only five innings, when the 10 - run lead took effect.

Canton struck early, scoring five runs in the first and six more in the second stanza. The six - run second inning was sparked by a grand slam homerun off the bat of Kim Zoladz. Kim had two hit in the game, picking up five RBIs. Other players with two runs batted in were Cindy Krieg, Laura Barnes and Barb Palmer.

The Chief s collected only seven hits, but made them all count as they took advantage of Churchill errors. Canton made only two errors in the game.

Salem girls ace RU

The Plymouth Salem girls softball team split two games last week shutting out Redford Union last Tuesday before losing to Livonia Bentley Thursday.

Pitcher Julie Miner hurled a two - hit shutout past the Panthers as Plymouth came up with a 2 - 0 win over Redford Union. Pinch hitter Venus Je Jeter Broke a scoreless tie in the bottom of the sixth when she double and scored on an error. Debbie Pitera crossed the plate for the second run of the game.

Although the Rocks gave up up six runs to Livonia Bentley in the third inning, Plymouth battled back with one run in that inning, one in the fourth, and four in the fifth to tie things up. The comeback proved fruitless when, in the sixth inning, Bentley scored the winning tally on an error.

Julie Shearer had a perfect day for the Rocks as she went three for three agaisny the Bulldogs.

Plymouth's record now stands at 2 - 3 overall and 2 - 1 in the league (not including yesterday's game.

Chiefs lead loop, top 2 foes

The Plymouth - Canton baseball team held onto first place in Western Six League standings last week, ripping Livonia Churchill last 8 - 1. A scheduled game on Monday against conference rival Farmington Harrison was called because of rain.

The Chiefs took a non-league contest Saturday against Catholic Central, 9 - 5, and now boast a league record of 5 - 1 and an overall mark of 10 - 2 (13 - 2 including Cincinnati games).

A semifinal game against Harrison will be played this Saturday night at Ford Field on Farmington Road between Five Mile and Schoolcraft. In what was not exactly the best played game of the year, the Chiefs beat Catholic Central 9 - 5. Canton committed eight errors, allowing Central all five runs to score in the first inning. Only two of them earned. Central made seven miscues. Only three of the nine Chief runs were earned.

Although Canton fell behind 5 - 0 in the opening inning, the Chiefs chipped away, scoring two runs each in the first, third and fourth innings and three more in the fifth to pull out the victory. One of the big blows in the fifth was a two - run single by Dave Pink. Paul Major led Canton's nine - hit attack, going three for three.

Sophomore Mark Perkins started went the first two innings and gave up all the. The second pitcher and winner was sophomore John Young, who gave up three hits while pitching scoreless ball.

Canton sent all nine men to the plate in the first inning, scored four runs on six hits and went on to breeze past Livonia Churchill 8 - 1.

Brian Stemberger led the 12 hit attack with three hits and two RBI's. Mike Verduce, Paul Major and Keith Randazzo each picked up two hits. Verduce also knocked in two runs. Tom Close and Chris Martucci slammed homeruns over the left field fence, both with no men on base.

Martucci went all the way on the mound, allowing only an unearned run and six hits and striking out three and walking one.

Dillon, Rocks outslug Wayne, split twin bill

Tim Dillon knocked in all six of Plymouth runs Saturday to give the Rocks a 6 - 5 comeback win and a split of a doubleheader with Wayne Memorial. Plymouth lost the first game 5 - 0.

In Suburban Eight League

play, the Rocks handed Redford Union its first loop loss of the season as Tom Willette won his seventh game last Tuesday. Careless fielding didn't help pitcher Chuck Thomas against Livonia Bentley as the Rocks gave up four unearned runs in a 5 - 2 loss Friday.

The Rocks' 6 - 3 league record is good enough for a virtual tie for first place with Edsel Ford. Allen Park and Redford Union. Ford is in first place by a few percentage points with a 5 - 2 record (not including yesterday's games.) Plymouth's overall record stands at 10 - 5.

Dillon, Doug Tripp and starting pitcher Brian Wolcott accounted for all eight Rocks hits in the second game at Wayne. Trailing 4 - 2 in the top of the fifth, Plymouth went ahead by one when Tom Davis walked, moved to second on Tripp's third hit of the day, and advanced to third when Howard Inch walked to load the bases.

Dillon, who had previously doubled and hit a sacrifice fly to knock in both Plymouth runs, lace a line drive over the left fielder's head and raced around the bases for what appeared to be a grand slam homerun.

But on appeal, Wayne contended that Dillon missed second. The umpire agreed in what turned out to be a very controversial call and the run Dillon scored was nullified.

Wayne came back in the fifth to tie the score at five - but it was Dillon again who got the last laugh, as he lined a single up the middle in the seventh inning to score Tripp with the winning run.

Wolcott did a great job on the mound, as the Rocks regular shortstop struck out 13 and walked three. Chuck Thomas picked up a save, retiring the Wayne batsmen in order in the seventh.

Poor fielding and a lack of hitting cost Plymouth the first game as John Den Houter lost 5 - 0 despite pitching a five hitter in five innings.

It was the same story in the Bentley game the day before, as Plymouth notched five errors. The Rocks' also had trouble getting key hits, stranding 10 on the base paths.

Chiefs trip

The Plymouth - Canton boys track team took it on the chin Thursday, stumbling before a Walled Lake Western team, 99.5 - 23.5.

Taking first for the Chiefs were Rich Thom and Mike Potter. Thom recorded a five-foot seven - inch high jump, while Potter ran a 2:02.5 in the 880 - yard run.

Chief, Rock girl thinclads fall

The Plymouth - Canton girls track team lost a non - league meet to Livonia Bentley Thursday 41 - 73.

Meagan Ford took first in the 100 and 220 - yard dashed. Her time in the 100 was 12.4, while she won the 220 in 28.1. Pam Leith and Jan Peterson finished second to Ford in the 220 and the 100 respectively.

The other first place finish for the Chiefs was in the high jump where Veronica Gray and Lynn Bigelow tied at four - feet - six inches. Karen DeBoer was second in the two mile Leith took third in the long jump and Carolyn Rumberger placed third in the shot put.

Despite winning two of three relays, the Plymouth - Salem girls track team lost to a powerful Redford Union squad 31 - 74 Thursday.

Sandy Ezzo, Jackie Croci, JoAnn Langkable and Barb Croci won the 880 relay in 1:52.3 and the mile relay with a 4:20.2 clocking.

The Croci twins also won individual events in improved times. Barb took first in the 880 run in 2:27.1 and Jackie was first in the 440 running the quarter mile in a minute flat.

Langkable placed second in the 100 and 220 - yard dashed. Sue Finley took second in the mile run. Dana Workshop and Runi Holter took thirds in the 100 yard dash and two - mile run respectively.

Both Chiefs and Rocks girls fell victim to a superb Ann Arbor Pioneer girls track team last Tuesday (May 6) in a tri - meet at Pioneer. The hosr team crushed the two visitors from Plymouth with 86 points to 36.5 to for Plymouth Salem, and 11.5 for Plymouth - Canton.

But for two first place finishes by Plymouth - Salems Jackie Croci and another by her twin sister, Barb, Pioneer would have swept first in all 13 events.

Jackie took the 100 and 220 yard dashes while Barb took first in the 440.

The Chiefs tip finisher was Meagan Ford, who placed second in the 110 hurdles.

All three relays ended with Pioneer first, the Rocks second and the Chiefs third.

Chiefs win, Rocks don't

The Plymouth - Canton JV baseball team remained undefeated in league play edging Northville (4 - 3) last Monday May 5) and trimming Livonia Churchill 13 - 5 last Wednesday. The Chiefs overall mark rose to 6 - 1 with a non-league romp over twice-beaten Catholic Central 10 - 0 Saturday.

The Plymouth - Salem JV baseball squad lost two games last, dropping its record to 5 - 4. The Rocks fell to Livonia Bentley 5 - 4 as Bob Smith collected Plymouth's only two hits then stumbled against Redford Union 11 - 7 as both mental and physical errors cost the ballgame. Tom Chiatalis, Mitch Symonds, and Smith each collected two hits.

Netters split

The Plymouth Salem tennis team split a pair of 5 - 2 decisions last week to forge a record that now stands at 3 - 7 overall. The Rocks beat Livonia Bentley but lost to Trenton.

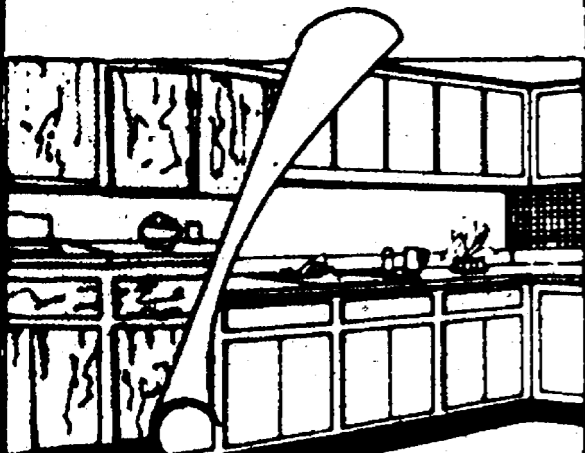

The Plymouth - Canton tennis teams record dropped to 4 - 5 as the Chiefs lost 4.5 - 3 to Livonia Churchill last Wednesday. The first doubles team of Bill Schulz and Kurt Hopfner and first singles Steve Prueter managed wins.

Help too late for farmers?

Low interest loans offered to Wayne County farmers as a result of high crop losses last year may be lost to Canton farmers because of poor timing, according to Donald Korte, former Canton Township trustee and a member of the U.S. Dept. of Agriculture's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service in Wayne County.

He said the loans won't be available to farmers in Canton for another 60 days, and that planting here will already have been done by then.

On April 15 the Wayne County Board of Commissioners

Plymouth native honored as town historian

Katherine Wilcox Thompson, a native of Plymouth and a graduate of Plymouth High School, has been named as a resident fellow of the Rochester (N.Y.) Museum and Science Center for her work as a regional historian in Upstate New York.

The sister of Jack Wilcox of Penniman Avenue in Plymouth, she has been town historian in Penfield N.Y. since 1945. She is a senior researcher in the Monroe County Historian's Office and author of several studies of New York history.

Her mother, Mrs. George Wilcox was founder of the Plymouth Historical Society.

Colleen Herron and James Druce

Mr. and Mrs. James Herron of 43660 Arlington, Plymouth have announced the engagement of their daughter, Colleen, to James W. Druce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Druce of Plymouth.

Druce live at 41602 Bedford.

The couple is planning an Aug. 8 wedding at Our Lady of Good Counsel Catholic Church.

Miss Herron is a 1971 graduate of Livonia Churchill High School. Her fiancé is a new car salesman with Red Holman Pontiac in Westland and a member of the Plymouth Rotary Club.

declared Wayne County an agricultural disaster area because of crop losses suffered under poor weather conditions last year. The declaration made farmers in the county eligible for emergency federal loans at low interest to aid in recovery from losses.

"There's no question there was a great loss to farmers last year," said Korte, "but I doubt if most farmers in Canton will take advantage of the loans.

Pat Erdelyi engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Erdelyi of 9110 Rocker, Plymouth have announced the engagement of their daughter, Patricia, to Gordon L. Scott of East Lansing.

The couple plans a July 25 wedding in First Presbyterian Church in Plymouth.

Scott is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Scott of Agawam,

There is too much red tape — four or five forms to be filled out and submitted — and that means a time loss to farmers."

Korte said those farmers who do take advantage of the five per cent interest loans will probably use the money for personal expenses incurred because of lost income last year or for paying back higher interest loans they were forced to take in order to finance planting this spring.

Mass. He is a graduate of the University of Massachusetts and is currently working toward his master's degree in botany at Michigan State University.

Miss Erdelyi is a 1970 graduate of Plymouth High School. She received a Bachelor's degree in medical technology from Michigan State in 1974.

Burroughs water to come from Twp. main

varies widely throughout the year, last month Burroughs used 64.7 million gallons of city water, or more than one-third of a total of 160.241 million pumped through city mains.

In January, Burrough used nearly 87 million gallons.

As the city's largest customer, the plant pays less proportionately for its water than low volume residential customers.

City Manager Fred Yockey doesn't expect the shift to change the rates other city water customers pay.

"It won't make any difference in what we purchase water at (from the Detroit Metropolitan Water Board)," he said. "We don't anticipate that it will have any effect at the moment. We aren't contemplating any change, but it will have an impact."

According to City Clerk Paul Brumfield, the city raised its water rates back in 1972 in anticipation of the loss of Burroughs meters.

"We don't know yet what the effect will be, but we anticipated this coming up and I'd say there'll be no change," Brumfield said.

Census hearing

The Municipalities and Elections Committee of the Michigan Senate will hold a public hearing Thursday, May 15 at 10 a.m. in the State Capitol in Lansing on proposed legislation that would authorize a 1975 census that could qualify Canton Township and other fast-growing localities for more state revenue.

Mel clipped

Mel's Golden Razor barber shop, 595 Forest in downtown Plymouth, was robbed of $10 in quarters and a poster late Friday night or early Saturday morning, Plymouth Police reported.

Garden assignments delayed

Plans for assigning garden plots to Canton Township residents have been delayed due to wet fields, according to Brenda Pollack, Canton recreation director.

Plows became stuck in the mud when they tried to plow the sites at Lilley and Warren and on Warren between Sheldon and Lilley.

"We are now telling people to call back May 16 for their garden assignment," said Mrs. Pollack. "By that time we should have the plowing done and the gardens staked out."

Interested gardeners may either call the recreation office at 453-2650 or Township Hall at 326-6400.
