SEV hike to lower school millage rate

BY HANK MEIJER

A boost of unexpected proportion in the state equalized valuation (SEV) of the Plymouth Community School District will mean a reduced tax rate for district property owners.

School administrators had estimated that the 1974 SEV of $394 million might grow to about $469 million this year, but it appears the final figure will exceed all estimates.

The district is expected to receive confirmation of a new SEV of $478 million.

Although that boost will net the district only a small gain in overall revenue, a lower tax rate will be needed to meet the schools' fixed debt retirement. (The district will lose state aid in the face of an increased local tax base.)

Last year the district levied 36.01 mills overall, 7.06 of which went for debt retirement. According to Asst. Supt. Ray Hoedel, the added dollars per mill which an increased SEV creates, make it unnecessary for the schools to levy their seven-mill limit. An .06 mill for debt retirement will not be levied this year.

Instead, district taxpayers will pay off school debt obligations at a rate of only 6.59 mills, or .41 mills less than the seven-mill level assessed last year. That decrease will drop the tax rate residents will pay if the June 9 millage requests pass from the current 36.01 to 35.60 mills.

Administrators had based their projections on an SEV for 1975 of only $450 million, still a substantial increase, but not enough to influence debt retirement needs.

Although the tax rate for debt retirement comes down, school administrators meet the effects of a higher SEV with mixed feelings.

The state allocates aid to local districts on an "equal yield" basis - poorer districts get a proportionately larger share of state aid per pupil, while more prosperous districts get little or no aid.

Therefore, even though an increase SEV means local taxes will raise more money, much of the gain is lost in reduced school aid. When all is said and done, the schools gain only about $1,500 for every million dollars the SEV climbs. Last year the schools received about $197 per student in state aid. This year the greater SEV will drop that figure to about $144. The district can expect more state aid if the student population jumps from 12,662 this year to an estimated 13,300 in 1975-76, but but even if that happens, the state will be contributing about $500,000 less to district coffers.

Canton Township accounts for the biggest share of the SEV hike. Valuation there climbed 33.7 percent over last year. Plymouth Township recorded a 21.4 percent increase, while Salem Township had 15.1 percent; the City of Plymouth 6.7 percent, Northville Township 5.1 percent and Superior Township 4.7 percent.

The school district's overall SEV growth rate was 21.4 percent.

The greater SEV will mean an additional $1.89 million in local tax revenue for the schools.

DRILL TEAM members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Mayflower Post fired a salute to nine Plymouth men who gave their lives in World War I Monday at the monument honoring them in front of Central Middle School. ## 3,000 see parade, 'Soapy' Ceremonies honor war dead

The rains held off just long enough Monday morning for some 3,000 area residents to pay homage to Plymouth's war dead.

"For too many Americans Memorial Day is a day to get away from everything, not a day to give tribute," Michigan Supreme Court Justice G. Mennen Williams told the crowd assembled around a bandstand in Kellogg Park.

Williams, who was guest speaker for the occasion, reminded the audience that it has much to thank its dead soldiers for.

"We have a freedom we hardly recognize," he said. "We have a freedom and a liberty which we should be proud and thankful for. We must rededicate ourselves to the same beliefs they had."

During his tenure as governor, Williams recalled, he'd had been a regular participant in Plymouth's Fourth of July parade. He lauded what he found to be a "sense of community" here.

Williams' remarks followed the traditional parade from Central Middle School down Main Street to Kellogg Park.

As the front ranks of the parade reached Main Street near Church, the procession paused, flags curling in the breeze, as the Mayflower VFW color guard and drill team presented arms before the Central Park monument honoring nine Plymouth residents who gave their lives in World War I.

Williams joined parade band Marshall Gerald Olson, American Legions and VFW officers and the leaders of their auxiliaries at the head of the parade. Plymouth Mayor Beverly McAninch and Vito Simonetti, a World War I veteran and honorary parade marshal, rode in automobiles.

The Central Middle School Marching Band, under the direction of Michael DiCuirici, and the band from Middle School

West, directed by Jeffrey Drifmeyer, followed the march, with lively music.

Contingents of Girl Scouts, Brownies, and Cub Scouts came next, each with their colors.

The Centennial Education Park Marching Band followed, directed by James Griffiths. The bright red Plymouth - Canton High School Chieftes closed the procession, as the bands gathered in Kellogg Park.

Salvation Army Lt. Dallas Raby gave the invocation, after which the Centennial Park musicians, in their final appearance together, played the National Anthem. As they played, the crowd joined in and the sun slipped through the cloud cover.

Mayor McAninch led the assemblage in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Master of Ceremonies Fred Delano introduced officers of the two local veterans organizations, The Passage - Gayde American Legion Post and the Mayflower Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars: Bob Finley, Legion post commander; Phyllis Hewer, Legion auxiliary president; Gary Kubik, VFW commander; and Thelma Van Buren, VFW auxiliary president.

Ruling stalled on bid to annex Burroughs lot

BY W. EDWARD WENDOVER

It will be early fall before the "overworked" State Boundary Commission will get around to deciding the outcome of the pending petition seeking annexation of the Burroughs Corp. parking lot to the City of Plymouth.

Originally the state commission had scheduled to make its decision this month, but an influx of other unification filings and court cases has apparently out-distanced the staff of the commission and thus forced a six-month delay.

In order to catch up on other matters already pending, said James Hyde, executive secretary of the boundary commission, all matters not already decided upon have been put in limbo.

The petition filed by the City of Plymouth seeking annexation of the Burroughs parking lot is first in line among the unresolved matters, Hyde told The Community Crier.

Behind that petition are two others filed by the city. The first seeks annexation of the entire township to the city and the second seeks annexation of the Hillside Inn to the city. These petitions must wait for the Burroughs petition to be resolved.

A public hearing on the Burroughs lot annexation was held last fall.

Seniors eye busy weeks as graduation nears

For the first time in years, graduation ceremonies for Centennial Educational Park seniors won't include a guest speaker.

So many diplomas are expected to be awarded that school officials decided against lengthening the ceremonies with a guest speaker's address.

The senior prom Saturday night in the Hilton Inn in Romulus will mark the start of a flurry of activities in the weeks ahead for Park seniors.

The seniors honors assembly will be held Thursday, June 12 at 7:30 p.m. in the Plymouth - Salem High School auditorium. The award and recognition ceremony for seniors and their invited guests only.

Sunday, June 15, has been set aside as a day of recognition for graduating seniors of both Canton and Salem High schools.

More information on the baccalaureate plans will be available after a survey of churches is completed.

The senior banquet has been scheduled for Wednesday, June 18 at 6:30 p.m. in the Mayflower Meeting Ticket sales begin June 2. Tickets are $7 per person.

Graduation ceremonies will be held Friday, June 20 at 8 in the Centennial Park Football Stadium. In case of inclement weather the ceremonies will be moved into the Plymouth Salem High School gymnasium.

Each senior will receive six tickets. Caps and gowns in the blue and white colors will be issued Friday, June 13. The caps are to be retained by the graduates, but gowns are to be turned in immediately following the ceremony. Seniors must have a cap and gown to participate. The rental fee is $6.50 for a white gown and $6 for a blue gown. Fees are being collected in office 2604.

Blank diplomas will be used in the ceremony, with individual diplomas to be picked up at the gown turn - in station.

Seniors will rehearse their graduation exercises Friday, June 20, at 2:30 p.m. and are to park in the Canton lot only. Attendance is required for both the rehearsal and the final ceremony.

Students who are unable to attend graduation can settle final accounts and pick up diplomas in the Plymouth - Salem general office during summer business months.

The senior party will be held Friday, June 20 following the commencement exercises and will run until approximately 2:30 a.m. The program has been prepared by senior parents. Co - chairmen are Mrs. Sue Rogers and Mrs. Nancy Cooper. Cost is $5 per student in advance at the door. The party is closed to all but graduating seniors. Those who leave early will not be allowed to re - enter. Sponsors are still seeking donations and trading stamps books for prizes

By now seniors should have reviewed their credits with their counselor to make sure they have completed all requirements. A final senior credit accounting form is to be issued requiring a signature from the teacher in each successful credit area. Caps and gowns will be issued on receipt of this from on the seniors last day of school, Friday, June 20.

Diplomas will be issued to those students who show that all requirements have been met and at least 15 credits have been earned.

Feds clear Canton

BY KATHY KUENZER

Canton Township Trustee Brian Schwall has said he will not appeal an opinion handed down by the Manpower Administration in Chicago that cleared Canton Township of nepotism and political patronage charges.

In a formal complaint sent in February to Richard C. Gilliland, assistant regional director for manpower of the U.S. Department of Labor, Schwall contended that Canton Township, and Supervisor Robert Greenstein in particular, had practiced "nepotism and political patronage" in the hiring of Bruce Phillips as assistant ordinance officer with Federal Comprehensive Employment Training Act (CETA) funds.

Phillips wife, who is Greenstein's secretary, was said to have had input into the hiring of CETA employees. The township maintains Mrs. Phillips is a regular employee, while Schwall says she is supervisory and had a hand in the hiring. Phillips was also a worker in Greenstein's 1974 campaign for supervisor.

Schwall said he felt there was no further legal recourse" to pursue in the matter.

"As I understand it, though, the opinion from Gilliland says they can find no fault with the Wayne County Manpower's handling of the program, not with Canton Township's," he said. "The Chicago office deals with the primary administrators of CETA funds (Wayne County Manpower), and Wayne County in turn deals with Canton."

The Wayne County Manpower Offices earlier had ruled that they could find no wrong doing by the township in regard to Phillips hiring.

The view from the top

Pioneer Middle School eighth graders who travelled to Washington, D.C. last week didn't know how exciting the trip would turn out to be.

It seems that while some of the students were atop the Washington Monument, the elevator got stuck and they had no way down. (The stairs were under repair at the time.)

After a 20 - minute wait, a repairman managed to get up the stairs and free the jammed cables.

One eighth - grade girls only comment was, "I thought we'd miss our bus."

'45 -15 works in Northville,' educator says

TWO STORMS last week wreaked havoc with trees and power lines in the area. Traffic was disrupted briefly Wednesday on Mill Street (above) and Sunday night a felled tree and dangling power lines closed Ann Arbor Trail between Sheldon and Evergreen for more than five hours. Crier carriers got drenched Wednesday and Sunday parts of City Hall were without power. (Staff photo by W. Edward Wendover.)

While some parents continue to oppose plans to place Miller School youngsters on a 45 - 15 year - round schedule, Northville schools have a waiting list of students who want to switch to that system.

About half of all elementary students in Northville - one - third of the entire student population - goes to school 45 days vacations, 15 then returns to the class room for 45 more days, rather than taking the summer off on a traditional schedule.

The Plymouth school board was expected last night to consider a survey by 45 - 15 opponents in the Miller School area which showed that many parents have reservations about the controversial system.

In Northville, however, parents, students and teachers alike seem won over by the new scheduling, according to Florence Panattoni, a Plymouth resident and assistant superintendent of Northville Public Schools.

The program started there three years ago with 171 students from kindergarten through fifth grade participating. Today, 543 student from kindergarten through senior high school have elected the four track system under which at any given time one fourth of the youngsters in a participating school are on vacation.

"I'm very positive," Mrs. Panattoni said. "I've had three years to look at it and I feel the children are the winners."

She cites increase motivation as one of the most substantial by - products of 45 - 15. "Children come to school very excited for nine weeks, took three weeks off and came back excited again," she said, "Behavioral problems diminished, we didn't have nearly as many fights on the playground." Absences fell to 25.2 percent below the level traditional classrooms.

Plymouth educators hope the 45 - 15 scheduling will enable schools such as Miller to enroll 25 percent more students, reducing pressure to build new schools in fast - growing areas. They feel classrooms constructed now to suit new development may sit idle in a decade when youngsters outgrow the elementary age and population growth slows.

Northville schools didn't go into 45 - 15 bent on saving money, M s. Panattoni said - they didn't have the growth problems of a burgeoning district but the 45 - 15 calendar has created savings.

Teachers in regular Northville classrooms missed an average of seven days of school last year, 45 - 15 teachers missed only four days. The district has had to hire fewer substitutes than it would have otherwise, Mrs. Panattoni said. Also, because teachers, like children, are out of school every 45 days, a pool of teaching talent familiar with 45 - 15 scheduling is always available to substitute.

Vacations give teachers a chance to assess the progress of their students, then come back and work with them again, rather than just getting single summer vacation after their time to work with a class is past.

An important difference between the Plymouth and Northville plans is that 45 - 15 in Northville is voluntary. Parents who didn't like the idea of year - round school simply didn't sign their children up for it.

"What Plymouth is proposing is more work the first year, but Plymouth is very smart talking about trying 45 - 15 in one building," Mrs. Panattoni said. "I like the model idea" of testing the concept at Miller.

Canton seeks trails from Edison

Canton Township may be getting some long - awaited bike trails if negotiations between the township and Detroit Edison succeed this week.

Township Clerk John Flodin said last week that the township was negotiating with Detroit Edison for a recreational lease of lands which run under Edison's power lines.

Flodin said the township is interested in further use of land adjacent to the recreation area north of the fire station at Cherry Hill Road for picnic tables and parking space for the baseball diamonds. However, the main area of interest is further east in the township.

The Edison lines east of the recreation site by the fire station a run almost parallel to Morton - Taylor Road and Lilley down to Michigan Avenue," Flodin said. "We would like to use that land all along there for a bike trail. It is now and in a reasonable wild state. I think part of the beauty would be the remoteness of it.

"We hope very shortly to finalize the lease, but the bike trail just depends upon what will allow," he said.

AFSCME vote deadlocked

BY KATHY KUENZER

The next move in deciding the outcome of the recent union vote among Canton Township office employees will be up to the Michigan Employment Relations Commission. (MERC), according to township Treasurer Carl Parsell.

The vote ended in a 5 - 5 tie after MERC allowed one of two challenged votes to be opened. The second challenged vote, that of Supervisor Bob Greenstein's secretary, Pam Phillips, remains unopened because MERC officials say she acts in a supervisory capacity and is not permitted to vote.

"The decision on whether or not to open the last ballot will be made at a meeting June 13 at 10 a. m.," said Parsell.

"MERC will decide if the ballot will remain unopened. If that happens and the tie the union (the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees) will decide to have another vote or not. They could just drop it."

Parsell said he had not seen any concern on the part of the clerical employees. "Their attitude seems to be 'we've voted, now let's just let it stand,' he said.

He said MERC'S decision on whether or not Mrs. Phillips job is supervisory or that of a regular staff member will be based on labor law. "They have criteria set up that will establish it one way or another. I maintain in actual fact she is not supervisory and that under labor law she is not supervisory. She doesn't hire, fire or reprimand."

The treasurer said if MERC does decide Mrs. Phillips vote is allowable, it could be opened the same day the decision is made.

City ponders hike in parking fees

Plymouth Commissioners last week questioned the affect on downtown merchants of a proposed doubling of parking meter rates.

The fee hike was suggested by a committee of city officials as a means of reducing or eliminating a $30,000 deficit in the city's parking fund.

Metered parking would cost downtown shoppers five cents per half hour, if two recommendations were adopted, compared to the present five cents per hour. Hourly fees at the Central Parking Lot would be boosted from five to ten cents

Only the East Central Lot, behind businesses on Main and Penniman would remain at five cents per hour, since because traffic there is seldom great enough to fill it.

The city commission deferred action on the proposal however, with commissioners divided on the best way to improve parking revenues and conditions in the city.

A TUG OF WAR between Canton and Salem Michigan History students ended in a mud bath for both sides last Friday as the classes celebrated Michigan Week with their own rites of spring. Both sides were victorious - students from both schools slid into Willow Creek. Here the Salem contingent pulls its heart out. (Staff photo by Hank Meijer.)

K-mart to raise berm

For several months, Canton Supervisor Bob Greenstein has considered the berm in front of the Canton K - Mart "not acceptable". Now it looks like that's finally going to be changed. According to Greenstein, the old zoning code required a three foot high berm in front of such businesses. But, upon measuring the new K - Mart berm, the township discovered it ranged from 1.8 feet to 2.4 feet. "If they had met the old three - foot requirement, we would have had no way to make them change it," said Greenstein. "But since they didn't, they were obligated to meet the new standard, which is four feet."

Pilots to speak for Mettetal

Pilots and businessmen who use Mettetal Airport in Canton plan to make themselves heard at a public hearing tonight, May 28 on the possible purchase of the facility by Canton Township.

Kenneth Spencer, a Livonia pilot who uses the airport, says that "just about everybody we've talked to who flies out here will be there."

Spencer said pilots and businessmen at the airport have been pondering how they can approach the subject tonight at the hearing so that the irrational, vocal element will "cool it."

"We've been through a public hearing before," Spencer said, "but then (1969) the opposition never showed up. The same party in Plymouth who made a big fuss then is involved in it again."

Spencer was referring to Dr. Ralph Atchley, a Plymouth resident who has opposed expansion of the airport.

tion of the airport.

"It could be done so that the airport would be a viable, money - making business without being a nuisance," he said. "In Ann Arbor, where expansion restricted turbo - jets from using the airport, but where turbo - props are used, there is less noise than with most prop planes."

Canton residents have expressed the fear that if the airport became municipal, township taxes in Canton will go up no matter what is done with the airport. The people there are just demanding so many new services."

Dr. Page plans for fall festivities

With a new director manager at the helm, plans are well underway for the 1975 edition of the Plymouth Fall Festival - one which promises to be one of the biggest ever.

Dr. Ed Page, pupil personnel director of the Plymouth Community School District, succeeds Tony Flum this year as director. Page has been active in festival planning for eight years and was assistant manager for the last two events.

The festival board meets year - round. Page and his associates have been gathering information, contacting interested participants and meeting with city police and public works officials to lay plans for an expanded festival.

Page expects to improve circulation and make room for more booths by expanding the booth area down Main Street to City Hall, rather than limiting it to the section of Main from Ann Arbor Trail to Penniman.

Inquiries have come from all over Michigan and even Ohio about getting up booths at the festival, although most of the participants are local traditional local organizations.

"We don't have any commercial vendors, all are primarily local, non - profit organizations," Page said. He has sent out application packets to 48 different groups. Of those who submit applications, 32 will be chosen to set up shop for the festivities.

This year's festival is scheduled for Sept. 4-7.

Page hopes downtown merchants will stay open Sunday to offer visitors additional attractions.

For an event that attracts upwards of 100,000 pedestrians to the streets of downtown Plymouth, the Fall Festival's record is an impressive one.

"The problem that arise are almost negligible," said Page. The only injured report last year were a dislocated knee and a bicycle collision.

"One thing we're going to stress is the problem of bikes in the park," Page said.

"They can be hazardous to older citizens and children. We're looking for some group interested in finding a location for a bike parking lot. The city ordinance which prohibits bikes in the park will be more stringently enforced."

The Fall Festival Board charges applicapt $15 to apply for booths. Organizations must provide their own insurance and pay sales tax. Fall Festival receives 25 per cent of the net income from all booths.

"I look forward to it until Wednesday - the first day of the festival," Page said, "And then I look forward to it being over. You're ready to go to bed and sleep."

Correction

KELLOGG PARK is quiet now, but Dr. Ed Page can't help but be thinking of this fall, when the Fall Festival under his direction, will draw thousands of visitors to downtown Plymouth. (Staff photo by Hank Meijer.)

Sandra Guldner, identified last week in The Crier as president of the VFW Ladies Auxiliary, has been elected to that post and will take office July 1. Until then, however, current president Thelma Van Buren will serve.

Willette shines, Rocks clip N'ville, 4-1

BY DENNIS O'CONNOR

Tom Willette struck out 15 batters Saturday en route to his tenth victory of the season and a Plymouth - Salem pre-district win over Northville, 4 - 1. The Rocks now advance to Southfield District action this Saturday, (May 31).

In regular Suburban Eight League action, Plymouth split two decisions but maintained a share of the league lead with Dearborn Edsel Ford. The Rocks hold a 9 - 4 league record and concluded the conference schedule with Belleville yesterday.

A Plymouth win in that game would assure the Rocks of at least a tie in the league. A victory plus an Edsel Ford loss to Allen Park would give Plymouth the title outright.

RBI hit by Willette and catcher Vern Nagel in the opening two innings got the Rocks off and running against Northville.

John DenHouter later walked with the bases loaded and Nagel recorded his second hit and RBI of the day to account for the third and fourth Plymouth runs.

Northville scored its lone run in the fourth, as Willette was almost flawless, pitching a three-hitter. Tom now has 120 strikeouts in almost 65 innings pitched and is averaging about two per inning. He struck out eight of the last 10 batters he faced.

After romping over Allen Park 9 - 2 last Tuesday (May 20), the Rocks had to put away the league title, but failed to get the clutch hit in a 2 - 1 loss to Edsel Ford last Friday.

The only run for Plymouth scored when John DenHouter tripled and came in on the second of two Charlie Johnson hits. Plymouth had two runners on in the second and fourth stanzas and a guy on third in the sixth, but failed to score.

Brian Wolcott started and went the first five innings. Chuck Thomas finished up the last two innings for the Rocks. Both pitchers did excellent jobs. Wolcott gave up both runs, one of them unearned.

In the first round of Sub - 8 play earlier in the season, Plymouth's Tom Willette and Allen Park's Bruce Fournier battled for nine innings before Willette won the dual 1 - 0.

This time around, Plymouth jumped on Fournier for four runs in the initial stanza and went on to beat the Jaguars handily 9 - 2 last Tuesday (May 20).

Willette went all the way for his ninth win, pitching a four-hitter while striking out 11.

But the big story was the Plymouth bats, which exploded for 12 hits paced by a four - for - four performance by Doug Tripp. The Rocks' outfielder had two triples and two singles as he knocked in two runs. His only disappointment came when he was thrown out stealing for the first time in two school seasons and one summer year of baseball. Tripp had 44 consecutive steals before being gunned down last Tuesday.

Netters split

The Plymouth - Canton tennis team held on to its .500 record in dual match action last week, splitting a pair of decisions.

Canton sports a 6 - 6 overall record and finished with a 4 - 4 mark in the Western Six League.

A close 4 - 3 1/2 win over Waterford Mott Friday saw singles players Steve Prueter and Steve Pasley come up with victories. The doubles of Steve Moorehead and Curt Hopfner and Jerome Roelofs and Mike Haarer also won.

SALEM BATTER Anne Schwaller and her teammates had a frustrating morning Saturday as the Canton Chiefs trounced their Centennial Park rivals, 17 - 2. Umpire Max Sommerville called the game after five innings in accordance with the mercy rule. Catching for Canton is Laura Barnes. (Staff photo by Dennis O'Connor.)

Slugging Chiefs Rip Rocks

Quarterfinal action in girls softball district play matched up the Chiefs against the Rocks last Saturday, with the Canton contingent romping to a 17 - 2 win.

Taking advantage of wild pitching and numerous errors in the field the Chiefs scored five runs in the first and nine more the third before the mercy rule ended the game.

Everyone in the Canton line up scored at least one run. The six - hit attack was led by the leadoff hitter Cathy Verduce, who went three for four on the day. Verduce, Barb Palmer, Kim Zoladz, and Laura Barnes knocked in two runs a piece. Anne Dozbush was the winning pitcher. She went all the way, striking out two and walking one.

Donna Goodrich was the leading offensive threat for the Rocks. She went two for three with one RBI.

Coach Joan Ryan had nothing but praise for her team, sighting good defense and excellent baserunning as keys to the victory. The Chiefs now hold an 8 - 5 record.

Parson, Chiefs dump Southfield in tourney

A 4 - 0 shutout victory for the Plymouth - Canton baseball team over Southfield High in pre-districts action Saturday advances the Chiefs to state districts play this Saturday (May 31) at Southfield.

This preliminary state tournament victory was the only game of the past week for the number one - rated Chiefs, as rainouts of Western Six League play prevented further action.

Going into last week's play, Canton was assured of a tie for first place in the conference. But by virtue of a Walled Lake Western victory over Northville last Friday, the Chiefs now own sole possession of the league crown, the first for a Canton boys team in the school's short two - year history.

Canton holds a 7 - 1 first place league victory and a 16 - 2 overall mark (19 - 2 including Cincinnati games).

A solid pitching performance by junior righthander Bill Parson which resulted in his 10th victory of the season was all Canton needed to chalk up the Southfield victory. Parson allowed just two hits, striking out nine batters and walking none.

The Canton offensive attack included single runs in the first and fifth innings and two in the third. Tom Close knocked in the first run of the game with an RBI double. Chris Martucci and Brian Stemberger knocked in the two runs in the third and Stemberger once again hit in the last run in the fifth.

Rock trackmen win... again

The last home meet of the season for the Plymouth - Salem boys track team saw the Rocks win their second dual competition of the year with a 69 - 54 victory over Trenton.

The Rocks were ahead all the way last Thursday's meet as they managed to grab first place finishes in 10 of the 15 events.

State meet bound Mark DeMerrit won the 220 and 440 with times of 22.8 and 49.6. Ted Burton was first in the shot put, Bob Spisich in the long jump and Kim Woody in the pole vault. Freshmen Greg Davis won the 100 dash and the two distance runs were paced by Walt White (mile) and Curt Judd (two mile).

Plymouth won two of the three relays. The mile relay was run by Doug Ward, Spisich, Tom Kindree and Woody. The 880 relay of Davis, Woody, Kindree, and DeMerrit also came out on top.

Doc's Corner

BY DENNIS O'CONNOR

It's tournament time again. It seems like only yesterday the Plymouth - Canton community was wrapped up on the state tournament journeys of the Plymouth - Salem basketball team.

Well, it's that time again, when all the hundreds of high school baseball teams compete in the annual state tournament in the same format. Each team plays until it loses, the survivor is champion.

The two teams from Plymouth should go far in tournament play if their performances this spring are any indication.

Plymouth - Canton has just locked up the first boys Western Six League Title in the school's history. The Chiefs also won the Les Anders Tournament and are currently ranked number one team in the area and even in the state with their 16 - 2 record.

While Plymouth - Salem is not in state rankings, the Rocks are in first place in the Suburban Eight League and are considered one of the top teams in the area sporting a 14 - 6 record.

In my opinion, these are the two best teams in the Suburban West area.

Salem and Canton both qualified for Southfield District play Saturday, with Pre - Districts wins over Northville and Southfield respectively. The Rocks meet Livonia Franklin Saturday at 10:30 a.m. and the Chiefs play Livonia Stevenson that day at 12:30 p.m. Both contests are in Southfield. The winners of these two games will compete for the district title at 3:30 p.m. on that same day.

The only thing I regret to see in District play is that these two great teams could conceivably have to face one another in the finals. It would be unfortunate to see one of these squads get knocked out of tournament play so early.

Graduates, it's time to think AHEAD

Today's job market, and, to an even greater extent, tomorrow's job market require specialized skills, a high level of motivation and a substantial education.

The Army is working with a growing number of colleges, universities and vocational - technical schools to create a program that combines a college education with service to our country.

Project AHEAD (Army Help for Education And Development), makes it possible for a young man or woman to enlist in the Army and, at the same time, start college.

While in the Army, he will pursue a planned course of study, designed for him by the participating school he chooses, and directed toward graduation from that school with a college degree.

And best of all, the Army pays up to 75% of your college tuition costs for approved courses while in the service.

Colleges and universities are enthusiastic about the "Project AHEAD" program. More than 980 institutions are already participating with more joining every day. Many offer open admission for all military personnel.

It's attractive not only because the financial burden of continued schooling is eased, but because you get a chance to test your interests in different fields through different study programs.

With a three - year enlistment, it is possible to earn substantial college credits under the "Project AHEAD" program. The pace is up to the individual student - soldier his or her level of interest and the amount of time he or she is able to spend studying.

When the student - soldier has completed 180 days of service, he or she will be eligible for G.I. Bill educational benefits. This amounts to 36 months of full - time school and may be used to earn the rest of the credits for his college degree after completing military service.

And of course, the student - soldier is earning a good salary as well.

"Project AHEAD" isn't intended for everyone. It's an important opportunity for motivated young people who want a college education, who are willing to work for it and who might not otherwise be able to go to college.

This offer, in combination with Army service, and contribution to their country's welfare, is designed to attract the high quality volunteers the Army needs.

You could be one. Talk to your Army recruiter. Think AHEAD.

45-15 works in Northville, educator says

An added benefit to 45 - 15 youngsters is that more money is likely to be spent in 45 - 15 buildings than in those on traditional schedules - simply because more students use those buildings.

"A building with a thousand student gets more dollars than a building with 750," she said. "It's bound to happen, 45 - 15 buildings are bound to be richer."

She said Miller School, with its flexible interior space, lends itself to a 45 - 15 program - so much so that Northville is designing its new buildings along similar lines.

"If Plymouth puts 45 - 15 in that building they've created a perfect model," she said.

Mrs. Panattoni talked with Miller parents last year about 45 - 15, when it was nearly started. "The impetus was there last year," she said. "At that time there was an extremely positive note."

"If you visited a 45 - 15 school you wouldn't know anything different was happening," she said. "It's just a calendar although I'd say it does facilitate better learning."

While Northville continues to offer a traditional schedule, she sees an increasing portion of the district's enrollment shifting over to 45 - 15.

"Of course we have problems, but principals in 45 - 15 buildings were amazed that their concerns evaporated so readily."

"Some very nice things have happened to children and teachers who are able to come back refreshed every nine weeks - it's a very humane calendar."

Memorial Day draws crowd

Maritinick recited the traditional poem of tribute, "In Flanders Field."

Musical renditions of "Anchors Aweigh" by the Central Band and "America" by the Central Chorus preceded Williams address.

Williams brief speech implored Americans to appreciate their good fortune and to take time on Memorial Day to recall the deeds of countrymen who served and died in our nation's wars.
