Who'll run 'Heights' if charter passes?

Although Plymouth Township's election spotlight is focusing this year on the major township offices, there's that longstanding understudy - Plymouth Heights - waiting in the wings.

In addition to another proposal for a charter to incorporate the City of Plymouth Heights (all of the township east of McClumpha Road) which will be on the August primary ballot (if Governor Milliken ever gets the charter in motion), will be the positions of mayor, clerk, treasurer, and seven councilmen for the defacto city.

Thus far, says Robert Richardson, who chaired the Plymouth Heights charter commission which drafted this currently proposed charter, there's been little interest expressed for the Heights races.

Part of the problem may lie in that since Plymouth Heights was originally filed only as a legal maneuver to block annexation of the township by the City of Plymouth, no one really expects the charter to pass this time - it has failed many times.

"But just in case it passes, we need people to run," Richardson said.

Petitions for positions may be obtained from Plymouth Township Hall and must be returned there by 4 p.m. June 1 with a minimum of 33 signatures of registered Plymouth Heights area voters.

Consider airport purchase, state urges municipalities

BY HANK MEIJER

Airfields serving private aircraft are fast becoming extinct, but state aviation officials are hoping little Salem Airport can buck that trend.

The airport, located just north of Six Mile road on the east side of the village of Salem, is up for sale.

State aviation officials met last month in Salem Township Hall with officials of that township and representatives of surrounding communities to discuss the airport's fate. They contend that Southeastern Michigan can ill afford to lose another general aviation airfield. Canton's Mettetal Airport is for sale, as is National Airport in Westland.

"Our only concern is that airports in this area seem to be losing ground, not gaining," says William Gehman of the State Bureau of Aeronautics. "They're necessary to the community. It's a bad situation when nobody knows the destiny of these airports."

State officials would like to see one or more local communities buy the airfield. Much of the funding required could be provided by state and federal agencies, they say.

"The ideal situation would be to have three to four units of government involved," Gehman says. "The purpose of our meeting was to see if there were any units of government interested in operating the airport."

Salem officials see little likelihood of their sparsely-populated township assuming the burden of operating an airfield.

"Obviously Salem doesn't have enough industry to warrant being concerned about it," says Supervisor Phil Brandon. "But we might be involved in it (a study of the feasibility of purchasing the airport) the degree that we could have something to say about the operation."

Brandon adds that Livonia - which was represented at the meeting - fears the prospect of losing both Mettetal and Salem airfields.

Also on hand for the meeting was Dale Townsend, Canton's engineer.

Salem Airport's existing runway is 2,840 feet long. According to Salem Township Trustee Harvey Barkley, some 26,000 operations take place there annually. Officials say both traffic at the airport and a runway to handle it would have to be increased if the field were to operate without large losses.

Barkley says that means stepping up operations significantly. And the runway, Gehman adds, should be expanded another 1,000 feet. Since the field is bordered by Six Mile on the South, the landing strip would have to be extended north.

"That airport, if it's properly managed and aided with state and public funds," Gehman contends, "would operate without much local public money going into it."

He says taxes on users of the airport should cover most of the operational costs, with the bulk of local expense coming with purchase of the land and facilities.

To bring the field close to a break-even point, he adds the runway should be expanded to at least 3,200 feet, but that 3,800 feet would be a maximum. That length would allow more twin-engine propeller driven planes to land there. The field currently serves a combination of recreational aircraft and small business planes, such as those flying parts into Ford Motor's Sheldon Road plant in Plymouth.

State officials who conducted the Salem meeting were the same group which sought last year to win local approval of a study for a major regional airport in Plymouth or Salem Township. They stress that Salem Airport is not being considered for greater expansion.

"Salem couldn't be expanded to handle that type of airport," Gehman says. "This is simply an effort to preserve an existing airport."

Brandon adds, "This is not visualized as that sort of major airport. You'd be talking about crossing major roads."

Will Salem Airport ever operate as a public facility? State officials are expected to call another meeting soon. They hope one or more area government will decide to study the airport's future. If so, state and federal funding would cover from 75% to 90% of the more than $50,000 cost. So far, however, there have been no takers.

City's 911 aims for September

As of Sept. 7, City of Plymouth residents will be able to dial 911 for police and fire emergencies.

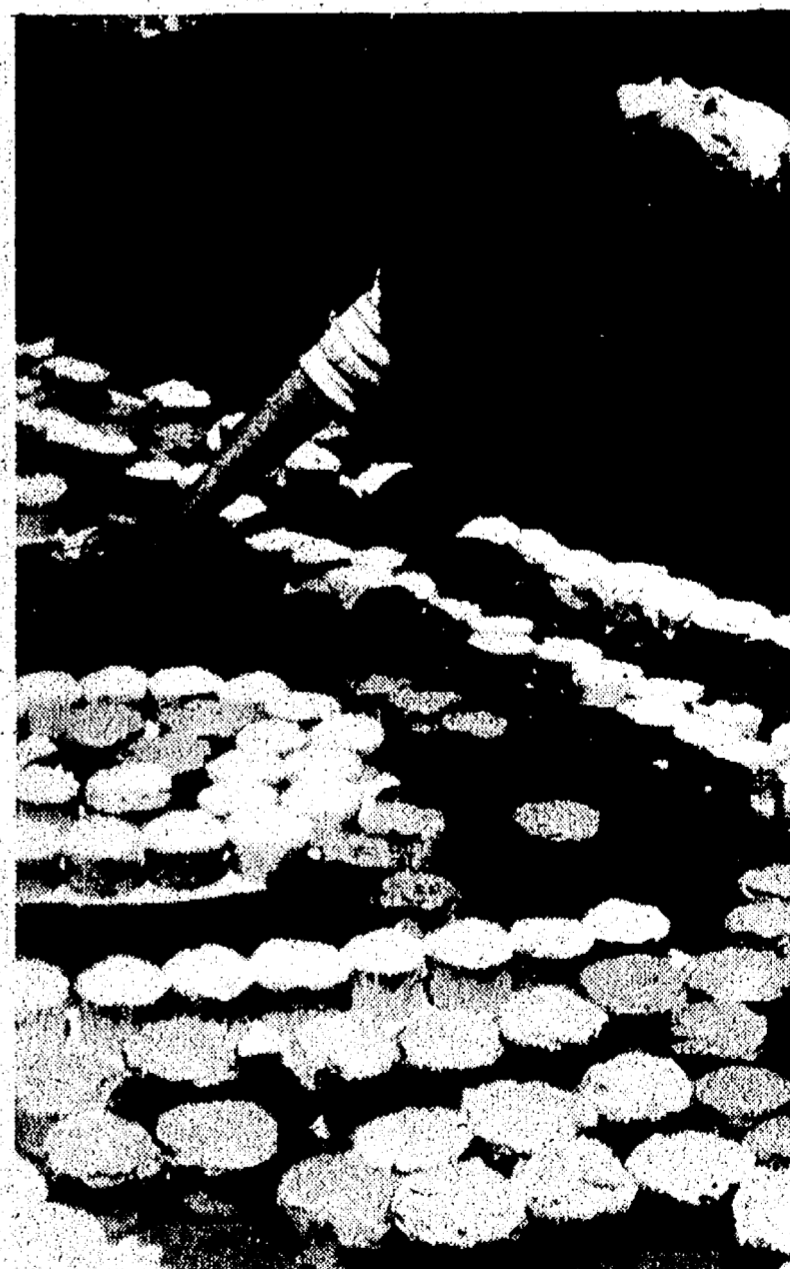

The Michigan Bell Telephone wire center in Plymouth is the site of behind the scenes work as technicians prepare the city's communications network for the new 911 emergency dialing system.

According to Haze Wilson, local managers for Michigan Bell, preparations are "on schedule" to begin after Labor Day for the 5,000 residence and business customers in the city.

"It takes about 30 days of installation of equipment at the office. After that will come four weeks of testing."

The testing phase will insure that every telephone in Plymouth is operating with the 911 number Wilson said. The calls made

Does it taste patriotic?

A GIANT FLAG OF CUPCAKES was the main attraction for Isbister School students last Friday. After they passed muster Colonial style in a school-wide assembly, youngsters took their turn picking a cupcake from the sweet red, white and blue flag. The tasty banner was the work of Isbister teachers, who baked in secret to surprise their students. (Crier photo by Hank Meijer)

Vote shows Canton favors 100,000 population

BY KATHY KUENZER

Canton voters' overwhelming support of the new master land use plan last week has been called by its author, Supervisor Bob Greenstein, an "absolute mandate" for the township to continue its efforts to restrict development and preserve agricultural land in Canton's western half.

Greenstein, referring to the 3,070 votes cast in favor of the plan compared to the 879 votes given a plan that would allow for development of the entire township said, "the overwhelming victory of the proposal to save farmland in Canton puts us out in front of every municipality in the United States in progressive attitudes concerning comprehensive land use."

Greenstein said he considered the vote an "absolute mandate for all members of the board (of trustees) to quickly zone in accordance with the newly-adopted land use plan."

He said he hoped the zoning ordinance required to implement the plan could "become law before the tax date so as to allow a substantial reduction in farmland taxes without affecting whatsoever taxes in the subdivision."

Greenstein's remarks were seconded by Treasurer Carl Parsell, who said, "the people have had faith in us."

"This is an affirmation of the mandate that the policies of the team be continued — the people like the progress we're making."

A breakdown of the official vote in the township revealed that the master plan was approved by a vote of nearly seven to two, with the least amount of support shown in precinct two, which covers the entire southwest portion of the township and includes a few new residences east of Sheldon Road. Those voters cast 240 votes for the new master plan and 162 for the earlier plan which would have allowed full development of the township, with an ultimate population of 200,000 people.

Other precinct's votes ranged from eight to one for the new plan in Royal Holiday Mobile Home Park, five to one support of the new plan in precincts three, four, seven and nine, all residential subdivisions.

Analysis

Of the 4,417 voters who cast ballots, only 468 failed to vote on either master plan alternative.

On the fire levy question, residents in the three precincts closest to the site where the station will be built at Haggerty and Warren were the only voters who cast more ballots for the fire proposal than for the new master plan, suggesting extreme interest in improving fire protection near their homes, Holiday Park, Royal Holiday Mobile Home Park and Pickwick area subdivisions cast a total of 1,043 votes for the fire millage assessment but only 995 votes in favor of the land plan.

A total of 2,853 votes were cast in favor of the millage and 1,292 votes against it.

Fire Chief Mel Paulun said of the fire millage vote — "It's great. It's a great victory for us, especially after the two previous defeats. Now we'll be able to offer better service to the township."

Treasurer Carl Parsell said unless the fire proposal got into "official red tape," the board would proceed immediately with the two public hearings necessary to officially set millage limits and grant authority to form the assessment district. "This may be the fastest thing we've put into action," said Parsell. "We did this on the premise it would be done as soon as possible. The people have had faith in us."

Parsell said that at the first public hearing the board would reaffirm the 1.5 mill limit which it set for the first year's millage limit.

Goldsmith files

Lynne Goldsmith, 33, a four-year resident of Canton, has announced her candidacy for the Canton Board of Trustees. Ms. Goldsmith, a Democrat, has been a member of the League of Women Voters for seven years, chairing several committees and currently holding the position of Environmental Quality Chairperson. She is Membership Chairperson for the Carriage Hills Homeowners Association, a member of the Environmental Awareness Committee of Geneva Presbyterian Church, a past member of the steering committee to draft and organizational proposal for the Canton Citizens Advisory council and a past member of the School Boundary Committee.

Ms. Goldsmith says she supports planned population growth, a retention of agricultural land and protection of natural resources.

"The recently passed Canton Land Use plan concentrates most of the proposed commercial, multiple, industrial and residential development in the eastern half of the township," she said. Therefore, "those living in the east, amidst full urbanization, — as in the previous land use proposal for the east — will be virtually unaffected by the open space on the west. Implementation of a plan which benefits the entire township is now of the utmost importance."

On other issues, Ms. Goldsmith says the first order of business of a new administration should be to adopt Robert's Rules of Order and other specific rules appropriate for conducting business meetings, that with the recently passed fire protection assessment district only what is needed to supplement general fund monies be levied for fire protection annually, that ordinances governing development around flood plain areas be passed and that "as long as we have a reserve police department, it should be headed by an independent police chief."

27 YEAR OLD MARK WOLLENWEBER has joined the staff of the City of Plymouth as assistant city manager. The former mayor's assistant from Westland will assume labor relations duties and other tasks in City Manager Fred Yockey's office. Wollenweber, who holds a master's degree in urban affairs from the University of Detroit, has also served on the staff of the Michigan Municipal League. ## Quick reactions stop car before it crashes

BY LYDIE ARTHOS

Last Monday, May 17 while walking down Washtenaw Avenue in Ann Arbor, Oded Borowski heard a noise behind him. He turned and saw a car less than 40 feet away speeding toward him. The car jumped the curb and Borowski, who lives at 400 Plymouth Rd., noticed that the driver was unconscious and slumped over the steering wheel.

He stepped out of the path of the car, which was headed towards a utility pole and a building on the corner of Washtenaw and Cambridge. The car's window was open but the car door was locked. Borowski chased after the runaway auto grabbed onto the steering wheel and guided the car away from the pole and the building.

By this time the driver's foot had fallen off the accelerator. Borowski, still running alongside the car, steered it up a hill and allowed it to roll down and coast to a safe stop.

A nurse stopped her car and helped him extricate the female driver, who was still unconscious. Borowski said the woman appeared to be having some sort of convulsive attack, but that he was uncertain of its exact nature.

Another passerby stopped to help and called the police. Police cars and an ambulance soon arrived.

The woman had by this time regained consciousness. At the time she reportedly said she had no memory of the loss of control of her car, nor any knowledge of the reason for her unconsciousness.

Brothers overcome

Two brothers who farm near Canton's western border were reported in fair condition Tuesday in University Hospital following an accident involving chemicals on their farm.

According to sources in Canton, Don and Stan Gill were overcome by ammonium sulphate when a hose broke on the farm equipment they were using.

Honest kids turn in wallet

A pair of Plymouth youngsters last Friday found a wallet in Fralick Street at the rear of Plymouth's Post Office — and turned it in to Plymouth Police.

Police said Christopher Richards, 13, of Ann Street; and Tom Shinn, 13, also of Ann, came across the wallet at about 5:15 p.m. The wallet contained $15.37.

Lantern line of 1,776 adds new twist to July 4th here

Plans for Plymouth's 1976 Fourth of July are well underway, and the Plymouth Jaycees who are coordinating the festivities are inviting everyone in the community to join in the annual parade and other events, which will mark our Independence Day. The theme for this year is "200 Years of Progress".

The July Fourth program will begin with the passing of Paul Revere's lantern along the Bicentennial Mile parade route, "Paul Revere" will pick up the lantern at City Hall and carry it on horse back south on Main to Hartsough Street. Exactly 1,776 participants will form a line down the center of the street and pass the lantern from Hartsough back to City Hall. Main Street will be marked off in 200 "year" intervals.

The 1,776 will wear buttons indicating their respective years. Only 1,776 buttons will be made. Reservations will be accepted on a first come, first served basis. Church groups and other organizations are encouraged to reserve a given block of space en masse. The Jaycees also hope neighborhoods will form groups to take part.

Because of the cost involved, a minimum donation of $1 is being sought from those taking part. Proceeds will go toward parade activities.

After the passing of Paul Revere's lantern, the parade will begin at 12:30 a.m. The Plymouth Jaycees would like to encourage everyone interested to enter a float or other unit. The deadline for applications is Saturday June 19. This year the Jaycees are waiving fees for adult and youth non-profit organizations but are retaining the $15 per entry for private business units.

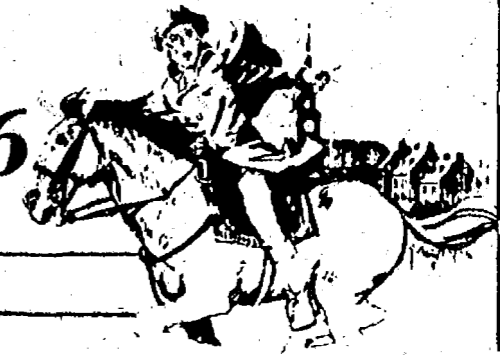

Applications forms for the parade are available at the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce Office, 880 Wing; First National Bank of Plymouth, and at The Community Crier in The Crier Building, 572 S. Harvey.

Schools accept resignation with regret

Plymouth School Board members last Monday unanimously accepted "with regret" the resignations of Canton High head football coach Jim Muneio and his seven man staff of assistant, junior varsity and freshman coaches.

The decision caps a controversial campaign by opponents of the coach to force his resignation which finally ended up before the school board. The board earlier this month said it gave full support to a positive evaluation of the coach by administrators, but Muneio maintained that opposition to him had severely damaged the morale of his players.

Shortage of funds may doom fireworks

Plymouth Jaycees want to sponsor an aerial fireworks display as part of their Fourth-of July festivities this year, but they've got a problem — money.

The Jaycees are appealing to the community and to friends of Plymouth for financial support. Expenses for their parade are about $1,500 and the estimated cost for the fireworks display is $3,500. They are seeking donations from industry, professionals, retailers and residents. Contributors of $200 or more will receive an engraved plaque. All contributions will be acknowledged in a newspaper ad in alphabetical order, the Jaycees add.

Commercial and professional community members will be contacted by mail and in person by the Jaycees. Residents are asked to send their contributions to the Plymouth Jaycees, P.O. Box 279, Plymouth, Mi, 48170.

Speaking of contributions, Hank Salla of the Parade Committee says, "The more money we get, the more we'll do."

Jaycees vow to fill sandboxes

The Plymouth Jaycees ran out of sand earlier this month during their annual sandbox fill.

As a result, officers of the organization report, about 200 calls for the sand had to be turned away. Altogether some 700 requests were taken.

The Jaycees say they apologize to those residents - and their youngsters - who didn't get sand. They had delivery problems and hope to get more sand soon.

"Those orders will be filled," a Jaycee spokesman vowed.

PROUD WIFE LEONA Schonberger looked on last Thursday as friends and colleagues of Central Middle School custodian Martin Schonberger gathered to honor him on his retirement. Schonberger relaxed in a new chaise lounge, one of many gifts from friends. He retires this year after 16 years in the Plymouth Schools. For the last eight he has been head custodian at Central. The long-time Goodfellow also served as a Plymouth volunteer fireman and justice of the peace. Schonberger won high praise for his service to the district. As one teacher put it, "He must have saved the school a lot of money. This is the first time I've seen him sit down since I came here. He was always fixing things instead of buying something new." ## CP urges millage vote-- either way

Editor:

On June 14 the voters of the Plymouth Community School District will be casting their votes to select two school board candidates and whether or not to pass a new millage of 4.75.

We of the "Concerned Parents" believe the decision to support or defeat the millage should be each individual's own decision.

Any person publicly or privately making a position statement regarding the millage and identifying themselves as a "Concerned Parent" speaks only for himself and not for the group.

This stand was made as an official policy resolution at our March board and general membership meeting and recorded in our organization's minutes.

We sincerely encourage and hope that each voter will investigate the issues involved and whether or not they have children in the school system, will exercise their right to vote.

GEORGE MERCHANT, PRESIDENT
BARBARA OLSON, VICE-PRESIDENT
"CONCERNED PARENTS"

Michigan's attorney general has thrown our crossing guard controversy back into local laps.

Attorney General Kelley, in a written opinion to School Supt. John M. Hoben, says neither the school district nor city or township government is obligated to guard youngsters who must cross busy intersections going to and from school.

Kelley's ruling begs the question. We still don't know who's going to foot the bill for crossing guards. But then maybe that's a determination the state shouldn't have to make. At least the opinion deflates the claims of officials on both sides that paying for guards is somebody else's 'constitutional' responsibility.

Perhaps it will force local officials to resolve the matter among themselves. The schools seem to be in no mood to pay the full shot of providing guards. Plymouth Township has refused to pay its billed share, and the city says it may not pay unless the township does.

What they all might do is bring the matter to the district's Intergovernmental Committee -- the face-to-face discussion between school and township meeting representatives on neutral turf might create a little more understanding. And a call for aid on a subject of immediate importance might breathe some life back into the flagging Intergovernmental Committee.

You can join in the Fourth

Although we've all been buried by the "Buycentennial" barrage, it should be noted that there is a fine opportunity for us all to mark the nation's 200th birthday right here on Main Street.

Plans for this year's Fourth of July festivities include some special ideas that will allow us all to get involved in an appropriate observance.

Under the guidance of Plymouth Jaycee's, the parade and fireworks for this year could draw us national attention -- IF (and that's a big "if") -- we all get behind the idea.

There are several ways to get involved:

*One distinctive facet of this year's July Fourth will be a line of 1,776 persons up and down Main Street who will pass a symbolic lantern the length of the community's official "Bicentennial Mile." For information on how to be one of the 1,776, call the Jaycees at 455-4374 or use the coupon in this edition of The Crier. It's first come, first served.

*Community groups, block associations, scout troops, school classes, and businesses can observe the Bicentennial by joining in the July Fourth Parade. For information on how to be a part of "200 Years of Progress", the parade's theme, call the Jaycees at 453-8377.

*The third way to get involved is to attend both the parade and the fireworks afterwards. Since both events will be bigger than normal, it should be fine entertainment for our nation's largest party. Get your folding lawn chairs ready and get there early to get a good seat.

Let's rekindle Spirit of '76

But there's yet another way to help make this July Fourth our biggest ever. It's a two-step proposal: first, get your wallet; second, take a little money out and give it to the Jaycees. Whether you're a retail business, a local industry, a service group, a professional or just someone who believes we should do something appropriate to show our colors -- your help is needed.

The Jaycees estimate they'll need to raise some $1,500 to put on a larger parade and about $3,500 to stage a whiz bang fireworks show. Surely our community can find that much in its pockets.

Contributions can be sent to: Plymouth Jaycees, PO Box 279, Plymouth, Mich. 48170. Donors of $200 or more will receive a commemorative plaque from the Jaycees.

And "if we get more, we'll do more," says Hank Salla, JC finance chairman of the July Fourth activities.

So start making your costumes, planning your float -- and above all, give if you can.

After all, it's the proper way to observe our Bicentennial.

Based on Linda's shocking story:

Mod scheduling has flaws

Editor:

It has been brought to my attention that there could be serious flaws in the Plymouth School Board's modular scheduling program.

I recently talked to a Canton High 10th grader, Linda P., and her parents, who told me the following story. Linda only has two classes: basic writing and intermediate writing. Unfortunately, basic writing is a prerequisite for intermediate, and incredibly enough, here she is taking both classes at the same time! She started the school year also with algebra, but, for some unexplained reason, her teacher dropped her from the class.

Linda now has less than two hours a day actually spent in the classroom and the rest of her day is free time. She receives little or no counselling. She now has lost almost an entire year of education because of modular scheduling. She should have had counselling in the first place to prevent her from getting into this situation. Linda will not be able to graduate on time.

Furthermore, modular scheduling is supposed to be optional with each student. She picked the traditional program yet was placed into modular scheduling. She has many friends in the same situation. Also, teachers never apparently take attendance, and if they do, parents are rarely notified of their child's class-cutting.

Linda's story is shocking. I cannot see how a responsible school board can let something like this happen. There is no telling how many other students educational programs are ruined like Linda's. I am a resident of Canton and pay taxes which should provide a quality education. I have now serious doubts as to whether or not modular scheduling is providing such a quality education.

We need democracy not a dictatorship

Editor:

In response to Mrs. Wellard's letter in The Crier concerning the many hats Mr. (Canton Supervisor Bob) Greenstein wears. She forgot to mention his seat on the zoning board of appeals.

Also when all fails, Mr. Greenstein has his slate to fall back on.

It is a sad situation when

New Hope says 'thanks'

The New Hope Foundation for the retarded would like to thank the following organizations: Knights of Columbus, Little Caesars, Meijer Thrifty Acres, McDonalds, Burger Chef, Dalys, The Clock, Terry's Bakery, Stan's Market, Old Village Sausage Shop, Party Pantry, Wrigleys and Levan Pharmacy, and all the people who helped and donated deserts.

With their help and donations, they made our recent spaghetti dinner possible.

BONNIE EDDLEMAN
NEW HOPE FOUNDATION

a person in front of the Canton Board does not have seven just and unbiased men hearing him, but a slate of Greenstein's men, who swing the vote everytime. I would like to know how many times during a major decision on of the slate had another opinion other than Mr. Greenstein's.

When Mr. (Treasurer Carl) Parsell -- Greenstein's sidekick and major mouthpiece is absent from the meetings, (which he so frequently is) and a vote is taken contrary to the way Mr. Greenstein likes, he just waits until Mr. Parsell is present and brings the motion up again, as demonstrated in the tape fiasco. To make sure he is heard on the planning board, he saw to it that, naturally this was approved by the slate!

We do not need men who have no opinions of their own. We need men who are able to express their own views on every subject. We need a democracy, not a dictatorship.

Voters should get to know each candidate and not vote for them because they are a slate.

Let's get some fresh air.

Canton comes to Twp. rescue

THE VALUE OF MUTUAL AID between local fire department was abundantly apparent last week, when a coincidence of timing forced Canton firefighters to respond to a call for emergency treatment of a sick woman at the Hillside Inn in Plymouth Township. Both

Plymouth Township ambulances had been summoned to unrelated emergencies minutes before, and the city's rescue van had been destroyed the week before in an auto accident and its replacement had not yet arrived, so Canton rescue was called. (Crier photo)

The most comprehensive inpatient alcohol rehabilitation center in the nation will soon be established at the former Wayne County Child Development Center on Sheldon Road north of Five Mile under a plan approved by a committee of the Wayne County Board of Commissioners.

program because everything is out there — clinics, offices, classrooms, recreational facilities, residential quarters and vocational training equipment. You just can't beat it anywhere."

The plan to lease the facilities, located on 700 acres of county property to the Sacred Heart Rehabilitation Center, was announced jointly by county commissioners and Fr. Vaughn Quinn, director of the Sacred Heart Rehabilitation Center.

Crier sets new rates

Effective with next week's edition of The Community Crier, increases in circulation and display advertising rates will take effect.

Fr. Quinn said the addition of the Northville Township facility to his program, which now has a center in downtown Detroit, will increase his patient capacity from 143 to 300 and extend care to women and youthful patients for the first time. County officials had been searching for the best possible public use of the Child Development Center since it closed in late 1974.

"We regret that we must take this step," said Crier General Manager W. Edward Wendover, "but we've just received our second 10 per cent increase in printing costs in less than two years.

"The Crier has never raised rates for home delivery or advertising before, but we can't continue to be caught in the price squeeze," Wendover explained.

"This decision will take an idle facility with a replacement value of $14.5 million and put it back into use for a most necessary and urgent public purpose," said Public Commissioner John Lesinki.

Home delivery of The Crier will now cost 70 cents each month or $8 a year. Mail subscriptions will cost $11 yearly.

Annual subscriptions already in effect will not be increased.

Carriers for the newspaper will receive greater return for their tireless efforts under the new rate.

Fr. Quinn added: "That means that 99.2 percent of them are receiving no help and are, in effect, dying."

Expressing his delight with the prospect of moving into the Northville Center, where he plans to use 20 buildings, including a hospital, Fr. Quinn added: The type of facilities it offers make the Northville Center absolutely ideal for our Location is especially vital when buying a house for maximum resale value. Statistics say that you will be reselling your home long before the final mortgage payment is in the mail. On T-Bird license

Liquor switch denied

A request for a liquor license transfer by the former owner of the Thunderbird Inn to a vacant lot across the street has been denied by the Plymouth Township Board of Trustees.

The board voted not to recommend transfer of the Class C license with dance permit from its current escrow status at 14707 Northville road where it was issued to the Thunderbird, to 14710 Northville Rd.

Licenseholders John J. Carlo, John S. Klein and Arthur Kobierzynski retained the liquor permit after sale of the hotel to current owner Deane Baker, who was granted a new license by the township.

"The transfer seems premature to me," said Clerk Helen Richardson. "The vacant property is zoned R-2A and would need rezoning."

"We must word this statement (to the liquor commission) as strongly as possible — there should be an activity (store, or hotel for example) already present before such a transfer. We should set a precedent for our township and others with this decision," Trustee Richard Gornick added.

What will 4.75 mills buy?

Plymouth Community School District administrators have come up with a "shopping list" of programs which they say will be lost should their June 14 request for an added 4.75 mills be turned down.

The list came as part of the packet of information distributed to pro-millage volunteers last week in a kick-off meeting for the district's millage campaign.

Among the programs a millage loss would jeopardize, officials said - they emphasized the programs as comprising what the levy would "buy" - are: a full school day for elementary school pupils with a full program and staff of specialist in reading, art, music, physical education and library; preservation of current class sizes; a full program of elective courses and middle school athletics; and a full high school program with existing course offerings and an improved program to enable some students to work on a traditional schedule.

Also, adequate textbooks and supplies for all students; daily cleaning of each school with "much needed maintenance that has been deferred this year because of the present budget crisis"; an expanded special education program to comply with state-mandated standards; and retention of such existing programs as athletics, extra-curricular activities, band,

Geer School and sixth grade camp.

School officials say a combination of soaring costs and a burgeoning student population force them to seek the added mills. They say state officials concur that an additional three mills is required simply to keep pace with inflation.

Plymouth is also one of the few districts in the state which is still growing. The combination of inflation and increased enrollment would produce a $2 million deficit should the millage fail, officials say. In the past two years, state aid per pupil has dropped some 20 per cent.

The millage volunteers were told Plymouth's 29.01 operating millage rate is one of the lowest in the metropolitan area, and that in per pupil expenditure Plymouth ranked 25th among 36 Wayne County School districts.

Careers get head start at West

While career education in the middle schools will be a basic requirement beginning next year, some Plymouth middle school teachers have decided to get a head start and try their hands at career education classes now.

West Middle School, librarian Judy Gallo, home economics teacher Betty Szilagyi and seventh and eighth grade social studies teachers Bill Nelson, Shirley McKeon, Al Sudia and Ray Sypniewski have teamed to provide the beginnings of a career education program during the past months.

After several classes examining many careers, a "Career Day" was organized at which more than 50 parents and local business people devoted an hour or two of time explaining a range of professions from stockbroker to Olympia hockey goal judge.

The West team is also planning a "Shadow Day" in which eighth graders go individually or in small groups with their parents and experience their jobs for a day.

GENE REAVES, CANTON'S AUTOGRAPH KING, has revealed that he has one of the rarest autographs around. The late billionaire-recluse Howard Hughes signed his autograph for Reaves in 1935 "in a bar in Glendale, California," says Reaves, a Canton constable. "Someone told me that Howard Hughes was standing across the room," he recalls, "So I went over and got his autograph. Reaves, who is also a former Santa Claus, says he has the world's largest autograph collection, ranging from the signatures of movie stars to presidents to sports heroes. (Crier photo)

Garrison leaves State Police

Trooper Michael Garrison, 29, community relations officer for the Plymouth Post of the State Police, has resigned his police post to become a parole officer with the State Department of Corrections in Kalamazoo.

Garrison, a four-year veteran of the State Police, was the local post's first community service officer. "We really started from scratch," he said, "We opened up a lot of rapport with the high schools. I feel we've got good relations with them and a good understanding of their problems."

Replacing Garrison will be Trooper Dave Sass.

Garrison, who has his masters degree in guidance and counseling, won praise from local officials and school administrators for his work with juveniles.

programs for teenagers from Truesdell School.

The tiny school, which currently houses only two classes and will be phased out with the opening of nearby elementary schools, in Canton Township is located on Haggerty road south of Ford in Canton.

Growthworks officials say they hope to make the facility a summer center for tutoring in academic courses, drama workshops, field trips and informal games, among other activities.

Trustee Joe Gray abstained from voting on the request.

From Cherry Hill to Bird, Jane's taught generations

BY LYDIE ARTHOS

After more than 30 years of teaching, Jane West is still young in spirit for as she says, "In order to keep abreast of the times and understand the youth, you have to be broad-minded."

Mrs. West has a wealth of experience from which to draw this conclusion. Born on a farm here, she attended the Cherry Hill one-room schoolhouse. Later she returned to teach fourth through eighth grades at this same schoolhouse, which by then had been expanded to two rooms.

After teaching in the Van Buren School System and substitute teaching, she began a career of more than 21 years of teaching at Bird School. Since then, she has taught two distinct generations, a parent and a son or daughter.

When she first came to Bird

School, Mrs. West taught 16 students in the all-purpose room. When the band came into practice, she recalls, she and her students moved into the hall of the overcrowded school.

Mrs. West finds that today, "teaching is more of a challenge, a challenge for the teacher to motivate the children."

Mrs. West says, "children need guidance." She has found that the secret of maintaining discipline and order in the classroom is consistency for "then the children know what is expected of them, otherwise both the teacher and the children become confused."

Of her fellow teachers at Bird school, Mrs. West says enthusiastically, "I don't believe there is a staff in the world that is as close as ours. It is one big family."

Recently the staff at Bird school and all those who had taught with Mrs. West in the past, gathered to celebrate her retirement and that of Sara Haas.

Having lived and taught all her life, Mrs. West has been able to watch her students grow up, and she enjoys their return trips to visit her.

"In teaching," she says, "you cannot measure the immediate success." Success is something which only becomes evident through time, she adds.

Mrs. West, whose husband, Joe, is Plymouth Township treasurer, says she is ready to retire and give others an opportunity to teach. She will, as she put it, "Let the young take over."

She looks forward to her retirement as a time to devote to her personal interest and activities, and for the first time in decades, "to sleep late in the morning."

THE NULTYS AND THE CAR THEY WON

Mishap befalls generous couple

BY LYDIE ARTHOS

In a curious twist of fate, the Robert Nultys of Plymouth gave to charity a car they won in a contest less than two weeks before they were involved in an accident which demolished their truck and house-trailer.

Mr. and Mrs. Nulty were visiting friends in Sedona, Ariz. when they bought a ticket for a Ford Pinto car to be given away in a fundraising drawing for the Sedona Healthcare Service fund raising project.

On the day of the drawing, March 20, the names of Florence and Robert Nulty came up as winners.

By then the Nultys were back on the road, however, traveling by car. Their friends in Sedona located them and urged the Plymouth couple to return to Arizona. When they did, they decided to donate the car to the fund-raising effort.

As reported in the "Red Rock News" in Sedona, Nulty said, "I really don't need another car, and Florence and I have been much impressed by what you showed us and told us about the Outpatient Treatment Center project here. We'd like to help so if you'll give me back my $10 (the price of the drawing ticket), you can have the Pinto to use in any way you see fit to raise additional funds for the project."

The Pinto was sold and the money from the sale contributed significantly to the success of the fund-raising project.

A few days later, on April 1, the Nultys were in an accident near Tucson. A large tractor trailer rammed into the rear of the house-trailer the Nultys were pulling.

As the vehicles collided, flames burst out on the left side of Nulty's truck, the doors were jammed but Nulty pushed his wife through an open window and dove out right behind her.

As they ran from their truck, Nulty says "the flames were roaring like a blowtorch."

Mrs. Nulty received a broken shoulder, but no one else was seriously injured. The vehicle and its contents were a total loss.

In retrospect, Mr. Nulty comments, "We're happy it turned out the way it did, it could have been much worse."

Park program features '76 salute

"Salute to Americana" is the theme of the Bicentennial-in-the-Park program scheduled for Thursday June 3 from 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. in Kellogg Park. On that evening, community groups will offer performances honoring America's heritage. Everyone is invited to attend this second Bicentennial-in-the-Park Series.

The program will open with a presentation of colors by the VFW post 6696 Color Guard. Entertainment will begin with an "Americana Concert" by the Central Middle School Band, under the direction of Michael DiCiurci.

Members of the Boy Scout "Order of the Arrow" will perform authentic Indian dances. Two Girl Scout troops will present bicentennial skits. Junior Troop 266 will stage "Horse Sense" a sketch about Paul Revere's horse, and Cadet Troop 626 will present "Look for the Blue Horizon", a melodrama about America and pollution.

Suzuki Violin students, under the direction of Lois Andres, will perform "Songs of America". All performers will be young children who began playing violin during their elementary school years.

A Mark Twain short story, "The War Prayer," will be dramatized in an interpretative reading by members of the Plymouth Theatre Guild. The story reflects the American mood during Civil War times.

Final entertainment for the evening will be a medley of music performed by the Plymouth Community Chorus, under the direction of William Grimmer.

The "Salute to Americana" program will close with the retiring of colors by the VFW color guard.

The Northville-Plymouth-Canton Novi League of Women Voters will be set up to register voters during the park program during 7 p.m. and 9 p.m.

Residents of Canton, Plymouth Township and the City of Plymouth may all register.

The Bicentennial-in-the-Park series is sponsored by the City of Plymouth and arranged by the Community Bicentennial Commission, representing Canton, the city the township and the Plymouth Community School District.

Future Bicentennial-in-the-Park programs scheduled are International Night, June 17; PCAC Heritage Crafts Night, June 24; and Nostalgia Night July 1.

In case of rain park programs will move to the Central Middle School gym.

Foes blast new master plan

BY KATHY KUENZER
 Opponents of Canton's master land use plan spoke out against it once again last week just one day after it was given what Supervisor Bob Greenstein called an "absolute mandate" by Canton voters.

At a public hearing on the plan held last Wednesday morning by the Wayne County Planning Commission, some 28 Canton property owners — and their lawyers — spoke out against the plan.

According to Canton farmer Alfred "Fritz" Lobbstaal, "99% of those speaking were in dissent against the plan.

"I'm not one to pull a 'tear-jerker'," said Lobbstaal of his own comments to the commission, "but honestly, I told them that in the past 15 years of the 30 years since we bought the property I have had to take my industrial pay to cover the expenses of paying my farm taxes. I don't object to farmland preservation providing the farmers don't suffer a loss from paying these high taxes all these years."

Lobbstaal said he also wanted to get across the message that the advisory vote on the "100,000 population plan" or the "200,000 population plan" was in his words undemocratically worded.

"It was like the question 'do you still beat your wife?'" he said. "Either way you responded, you were a loser. And no response to the advisory question at all meant you were giving your vote to someone else."

Said Greenstein of the hearing, "There were a lot of lawyers screaming and shouting against the plan, but the only new allegation I heard was that because only 47% of the township electorate voted, and therefore it was not a fair or legal vote. "I felt good that that many turned out."

Greenstein said one lawyer's "interesting allegation" was that the plan was a "thinly veiled disguise of segregation in order to keep the minorities out. "Another said we should spread the 100,000 population out over the entire township," said Greenstein. But Greenstein said he thought the discrimination that would result from large lot sizes needed to incorporate only 100,000 total population would be worse.

Greenstein said the county planning commission had "complimented us in our thoroughness."

"Their only criticism was on those parts that were missing," he said. "the land use plan is only one of six parts of the plan, including public facilities, roads and other things. Mike (Manore) is working on them now."

Wayne County Planning Commission Chairman Donald Juchartz said he felt those speaking out against the plan "aren't so much against the plan as against the possible value loss on their properties. I think the opposition would evaporate if they knew they would receive fair equity on this," he added, "The people who voted for the master plan need realize this is the concern of those who own the land."

Juchartz said the commission will make its final recommendation on the land plan on Wednesday, June 16, at the City County Building.

"Between now and then we will be looking at things and talking with the planners and Canton citizens," Juchartz said.

"Our final recommendation will be done in terms of whether or not it is good professional planning. And our responsibility has a county wide basis."

Comments from local citizens on the Canton Master plan may still be directed for the commission's consideration by June 6 to the Wayne County Planning Commission, City County Building, Detroit.

Waiting for the train...

DESTINATION, JACKSON STATION — was the theme of the day when 130 Bird School second graders prepared to leave for an AMTRAK trainride from Ann Arbor to Jackson last week. Teachers Dorothy Smith, Evelyn Marchio, Sandra Wilcox, Nancy Malecki and Kathy Bosman "engineered" the day's events, which followed a study of trains by the students. Here several of the pint sized passengers anxiously await what was for many their first train ride.

Huron Valley Scouts to review policies

At a recent meeting, adult and girl delegates representing the seven area associations of the Huron Valley Girl Scout Council voted to establish two policy review committees.

JoAnn Morse was elected to

City cited for good design

BARRIER FREE DESIGN at Plymouth's Cultural Center has earned the city recognition from the Easter Seal Society of Wayne County. Eileen Cook (left) of Plymouth, presented Recreation Director Chuck Skene with a certificate acknowledging the city's efforts to make life less inconvenient for handicapped residents. The lowered height of one of the Cultural Center's telephones is one example of barrier-free design. Meijer Thrifty Acres in Canton also received recognition from the Easter Seal Society. ## Lunch with LOMAS

Next Wednesday at Isbister something 'Uniquely U.S.A.' will be dished out. I wasn't really surprised at the choice (a toss-up between hamburgers or hot dogs, I was sure) and hamburgers — with fries, of course — won out. And milk.

But no apple pie! What will Mom and a certain auto company think?

Will everyone play baseball after lunch?

After Wednesday everything returns to normal at the schools. Just the usual 'foreign' foods - like hamburger gravy, peanuts, pizza casserole, spaghetti, beef-a-roni, — exotic stuff.

I don't know — somehow my uniquely U.S.A. menu would have included red pop. Or at least a taco and coke.

One, two, three...HEAVE!

MEMBERS OF THE SALEM HIGH TUG-OF-WAR team show the strength and skill that pulled their Canton High opponents into Willow Creek between the two schools last week. Salem won the best two out of three in the traditional battle held yearly during Michigan week. Salem social studies teacher William Gretzinger (in fringed jacket) lent a helping hand, while many Michigan history students offered their moral support. (Crier photo by Robert Cameron)

Briefcase

Doug Crewes, formerly with Marriott Inn in Ann Arbor, has been named general manager of the Plymouth Hilton Inn.

The Hilton has also appointed a new food service manager, John Thigpen, formerly second steward on the S.S. Emerald Seas cruise ship. An Executive Chef, Robert Hillman, was also hired. Hillman was with the Troy Hilton for nine years.

"Everything is still in the formative stages, but we have been receiving a lot of cooperation and there is a good attitude among all the employees here," Crewes said, "We hope to begin serving a continental menu soon."

Although officials of Great Scott and Wrigley supermarkets have announced the acquisition of 66 per cent of the stock of Great Scott by Allied Supermarkets, parent company of Wrigley, and plans for combining the stores' names and advertising programs, negotiations to complete the acquisition restrict news on the fate of the two firm's Plymouth stores, a Wrigley spokesman said.

Both chains have stores in shopping centers at Sheldon and Ann Arbor Road in Plymouth Township.

THE PLYMOUTH COMMUNITY CREDIT UNION wound up a recent "savings rally" by drawing names for several gifts for shareholders. The three-month campaign resulted in a $550,000 increase in share accounts. Taking part in the drawing are (from left) employe Pat Helin. Among those taking home prizes were William Kane, who won a weekend for two in Toronto, and James Mellis, who won 100 gallons of gasoline.

William M. Ross DO of Plymouth has successfully completed the 150 hours of continuing medical education necessary to maintain membership in the American Osteopathic Association.

Trash not Canton's fault

A picture of overflowing trash bin behind the Canton Meeting Hall which appeared in last week's Crier was reported to have been in that condition for a week.

According to Canton employes, the trash bins have been emptied daily since they were placed next to the recreational field at the beginning of May Clean up Month in the Township.

A spokesman in township hall says the messy condition shown last week was the result of the failure of some township residents to put trash inside the bins rather than on the ground next to the containers.

Correction

The Crier last week incorrectly reported that the Canton Planning Commission has scheduled a public hearing last Wednesday on the rezoning of a parcel to the south side of Joy Road between Haggerty and Lilley.

The hearing is planned instead for Tuesday, June 15 at 8 p.m. in the Canton Meeting Hall.

Soroptimists' incentives spark courtesy in kids

A three-year old program at Starkweather School designed to teach youngsters self-discipline and self-respect may soon earn national recognition for the ladies in Plymouth's Soroptimist Club.

The local Civic group has presented the story of its Starkweather project before the international membership of Soroptimists in Boston, and it may inspire similar programs elsewhere.

With the help of Soroptimists usually in the person of Alta F. Moore, an honorary member and herself a retired teacher Starkweather principal John Howe says his youngsters are caring more for themselves, and as a result, for those around them, their school and their country.

Soroptimist's Golden Key awards in school honors assemblies. It is an honor they strive for.

In third grade, youngsters are asked to look beyond the Golden Key to writing poems or stories which discuss their love of country.

The efforts pay off, Howe says, in a spirit of cooperation which pervades the school. "They (the students) feel the program is something unique," he said, "at least for the Old Village area. We do have a reputation of living on the wrong side of the tracks. We're still trying to live down that stigmatism."

"We're always striving to involve the community as well as students. When I have disciplinary problems, they know they have to pay. The Golden Keys give more meaning to handling discipline."

As Ms. Moore put it, "These are qualities that are hard to describe." While the Golden Keys are designed to get youngster to start thinking early about courtesy and respect for others, patriotic poetry aims to make students in the upper elementary grades ask, Ms. Moore says, "Am I a good citizen?"

Teachers say youngsters are thinking more about an answer to that question, and with the Soroptimist's help, their answers seem likely to come up "yes."

Administration not top-heavy, officials maintain

Critics who say the Plymouth School District is top heavy with administrators are on the wrong track, school officials say.

They note that the district actually has nine fewer administrators now than it did five years ago.

Gone are assistant superintendent for instruction, a director of language arts, superintendent of operating employes, supervisor of building and grounds, administrative assistant to the superintendent, administrative assistant to the superintendent for business, supervisor of the the drug abuse program, supervisor of the safety program, supervisor of the vocational guidance program, supervisor of adult education and director of education for DeHoCo inmates studying in Plymouth.

Historic landmarks recognized

The Baker House, built in 1875, and Liberty Street in Old Village have been designated Plymouth landmarks for the Bicentennial year by the Plymouth Branch of the American Association of University Women.

Bronze plaques were presented on Heritage Day (Tuesday last week) to Thomas and Connie Lee, current owners of the Baker House, and Harold Guenther, owner of the building at the corner of Liberty and Starkweather, by Marilyn Carl, chairman of the landmarks group of AAUW. The Plymouth Branch of the American Association of University women has been presenting bronze plaques designating historic landmarks since 1973 in an effort to encourage the preservation of these landmarks and to stimulate interest in local history. To date, 10 Plymouth landmarks have been selected, including Geer School, the Wilcox House, and the Tyler-Scharman House.

The cost of each plaque has traditionally been donated by local businessmen and realtors. The Baker House plaque was given by Stewart Oldford and Sons in memory of Stewart Oldford, Sr., a longtime builder in the Plymouth Canton Community.

Henry Baker built the house that still carries his name in 1875. The high Victorian style Gothic structure was built with two layers of brick on the outside and a solid brick wall running the width of the inside for durability. The house has beautiful doors, woodwork and trim; a marble and tile fireplace; and even a secret panel in the stairway. The Baker House also claims a number of firsts — an English kitchen on the lower level, indoor plumbing and the first telephone in town.

Liberty Street was built in 1971 by George Starkweather, the first white child born in Plymouth. Starkweather believed that with the coming of the railroad, the area near the station would become the new business center.

He built the first buildings on Liberty Street, then moved the location of his general merchandise store there from its Main Street address.

He also opened a road north from Main Street, known today as Starkweather, on which he built his home.

The area never did become the hub of Plymouth, but the buildings are among the oldest existing here today. The Old Village Association has been working to preserve their charm and has made the area an inviting place to visit.

Booklets with illustrations by Marilyn Carl and a brief history of each Plymouth landmark will be printed by AAUW and will soon be available for purchase.

Members of the landmarks committee are: Marilyn Carl, Irene Truesdell, Coralyn Riley, Elaine Kirchgatter, Mimi Settles, Florence Hasenau, Emily Kemnitz and Dee Winter.

Smith seeks fifth term

State Rep. Roy Smith (R-Ann Arbor) has announced that he will seek a fifth term in the state House of Representatives.

Smith was first elected to the House of Representatives in 1966 and served through 1972. He was returned to the House in 1974. He currently serves on Committees on Urban Affairs, City Government, State Affairs and Roads and Bridges.

A geologist, Smith is a graduate of the University of Michigan.

The 52nd District includes part of the city of Ann Arbor, the cities of Saline and Milan and Townships of Ann Arbor, Augusta, Pittsfield, Salem Superior and York in Washtenaw County, as well as the City of Plymouth and Plymouth Township.

Flood insurance available in Twp.

Federal flood insurance is now available for Plymouth Township residents, according to Clerk Helen Richardson.

"It was really issued to us last year, but through a mix-up, the city received it," said Ms. Richardson. "We have to have flood insurance, especially by Hines Park, even though Hines Drive is a natural drain."

Insurance applications are available at Plymouth Township Hall.

'Inequity in tax'

There is no equality in the Way Washington spends gasoline tax money, says Wayne County Commissioner Royce Smith, who is leading a campaign to get federal funds for what he terms "shamefully neglected gravel roads in Wayne County that can be life-threatening." While attending a Municipal Official's Conference May 12-13 in Washington sponsored by Congressman William Ford's office, Smith met with the three highest officials in the Federal Highway Administration.

"The purpose of the meeting was to plead for federal highway monies for the improvement of county roads, some of which could have been declared disaster areas this past spring," Smith explained.

"But what really burns me," Smith stated, "is that people who use county roads pay the very same federal gas taxes as those who travel well-paved state and federal highways — and yet not one cent of that tax money goes toward improving the roads that go to their homes, schools or place of work."

Smith said that current guideline earmark the gas funds, now set at four cents a gallon, for state trunklines and interstate highways, with a very small portion for county primary roads.

But stay in 1st place Parson ill-Chiefs fall to Harrison

BY DENNIS O'CONNOR
With pitching ace Bill Parson sitting on the bench with a headache and possible flu, the Canton baseball team lost a Western Six League game to Farmington Harrison 3-0 at Central on Monday.

The loss, the second Canton has suffered to Harrison this season, dropped the Chief's overall record to 13-8.

In conference play, the Chiefs hold a 5-3 record, but still maintain first place position thanks to losses by Churchill and Northville on that same Monday. Canton travels to Walled Lake to play Western today at 4 p.m.

John Young's torn cartilage and all, went the distance for the Chiefs, suffering the loss in the seven-inning effort.

But the real problem behind the Canton loss was another dismal performance at the plate.

"I would have liked Parson to pitch and give them a ballgame, but I have no gripe against John He threw seven innings with a torn cartilage," said Fred Crissey.

"It wouldn't have mattered anyhow," Crissey said about Parson being sick. "If we're not going to hold the ball we're not going to win."

Young gave up single runs in the first, second and sixth innings, while Canton offense mustered three hits by Rob Mandle and single safeties by Kevin Randazzo and Steve Morman.

The Chiefs managed only two runs against Windsor Assumption in a Saturday doubleheader, but still came out with a split, losing the first 5-1 and winning the nightcap 1-0.

Márk Perkins, Young and Parson all teamed up for the second game shutout, with Perkins picking up the victory.

Salem stifles Allen Park, 6-3

The Salem softball team won a Suburban Eight league game against Allen Park Monday by a 6-3 score.

The Rocks now hold a 7-2 overall record and a 5-2 conference mark.

Debbie Pitera and Diane Goodrich shared the mound duties, with Pitera picking up the vic-

Pitera also supplies the offensive punch of the game, a two-run single in the fourth. She collected three hits on the day.

The Rocks won two non-league games last week, 3-1 over Ypsilanti and 10-1 over Franklin.

Debbie Pitera gave her best performance of the year against Ypsilanti, hurling 15 strike outs and yielding only four base-on-balls.

The Goodrich sister's Diane and Donna, each contributed two hits in leading the offensive attack.

The big blow of the game came in the seventh, when Venus Jeter blasted a game winning two run homer into center-field. It was the second of Jeter's two hits on the day.

Salem started quickly against Franklin, scoring eight runs in the first two innings and adding a final two in the seventh.

Diamond action galore

It's predistrict time for both Salem and Canton softball and baseball teams with all the action slated for this Saturday, May 29.

After surviving the qualifying round in the baseball tourney, both the Rocks and Chiefs travel to their designated pre-district sites.

Salem tried to take another step in its defense of the state championship of a year ago when they square off against a very respectable Garden City East team. Starting time is set at 10 a.m. at GC East.

The Chiefs travel to Livonia Franklin against the equally tough Patriots. Game time is 10 a.m.

The winners of these two contest face each other in district semifinal action at Dearborn the following Saturday.

A doubleheader is scheduled at the Centennial Park to start the state softball tournament play. Canton faces Brighton in the first game at 10 a.m. while Salem meets West Bloomfield in the nightcapper.

Top golfers tie again

The first season of girls high school golf here ended last week, as the Centennial Park rivalry saw the Salem Rocks top Canton 231-255.

The Rocks finished the regular season with a 6-5 record. The Chiefs ended their year winless. For the third straight time, Salem's JoAnn Szilagyi and Canton's Kristi Sommerville tied for medalist honors with identical scores of 52. Szilagyi had to tie Sommerville the hard way, chipping a shot into the final hole of play.

The Rocks closed out their season two days later against Willow Run, losing 240-252. Szilagyi placed second with a 57 score at the Green Oaks golf course.

Chief Gray shoots for finals

Canton Veronica Gray was the only girl thincad to qualify for the state track meet after regional competition at Ypsilanti last Saturday.

Gray ran her best time of 26.4 seconds in the 220-yard dash for a fifth place finish, good enough to qualify for the state meet.

Sherry Gates, Lyne Rudolph and the Chiefs' three relays also recorded their best times.

The Rocks didn't qualify any girls, but had four fifth place finishers, four notching their times and three setting school records.

Linda Agardy, Jean Sellman, Sandy Exxo and the 330 relay took the fifth place finishes.

Champs start title defense Wolcott quiets Edsel bats, 5-0

BY DENNIS O'CONNOR

The Salem High baseball team opened its defense of the state championship it won a year ago with a convincing 5-0 victory over Dearborn Edsel Ford in a qualifying game last Saturday.

The Rocks now advance to pre-district action against Garden City East this Saturday May 29, at Garden City.

In Suburban Eight League action, Salem split two games, losing its first conference contest against the same Edsel Ford team on Thursday.

The Rocks overall record is 14-3, and they are 10-1 in the league, not including yesterday's game against Dearborn.

Salem avenged that league loss against the Thunderbirds thanks to Brian Wolcott's 13th victory without a defeat and another Rock 1-hit attack, three of which came off the bat of designated hitter Bruce Gerish.

Wolcott was superb in going the distance for the victory, striking out 15 while walking just three. He allowed a meager two singles, one in the first and another in the seventh.

Bob Smith reached base in the second inning on a call of a catcher's interference, and raced home with the first Rock run after Gerish and Corky Norman singled.

Charlie Johnson laced a triple his first of two hits, in the third inning and scored on the same play on a throwing error. Gerish scored Howard Inch later in the stanza with a two out single.

Dave Pierce raced around the bases in the sixth and was safe on a close play at the plate in recording a two run homer that completed the scoring. Gerish who had doubled crossed the plate in front of Pierce.

The Rocks had a chance to wrap up the Sub 8 title two days earlier, but fell 7-6 to the T-Birds.

A 14-hit attack couldn't save hurlers John DenHouter and Gerish, as the Rocks fell for the third time this season. They still hold a two game margin over Edsel.

Gerish, who replaced a struggling DenHouter in the sixth, gave up four runs in that innings to give Edsel a 7-3 lead and the eventual victory.

Salem came back with three runs in the top of the seventh, and had runners on second and third when Mitch Symonds, the team's leading hitter, struck out to end the rally.

Salem had a golden opportunity to break a 3-3 tie in the sixth and give Gerish a cushion on the later innings. The Rocks put together three straight singles, but sloppy running one the part of Inch and Symonds left them trapped on the basepaths for a rally-killing double play.

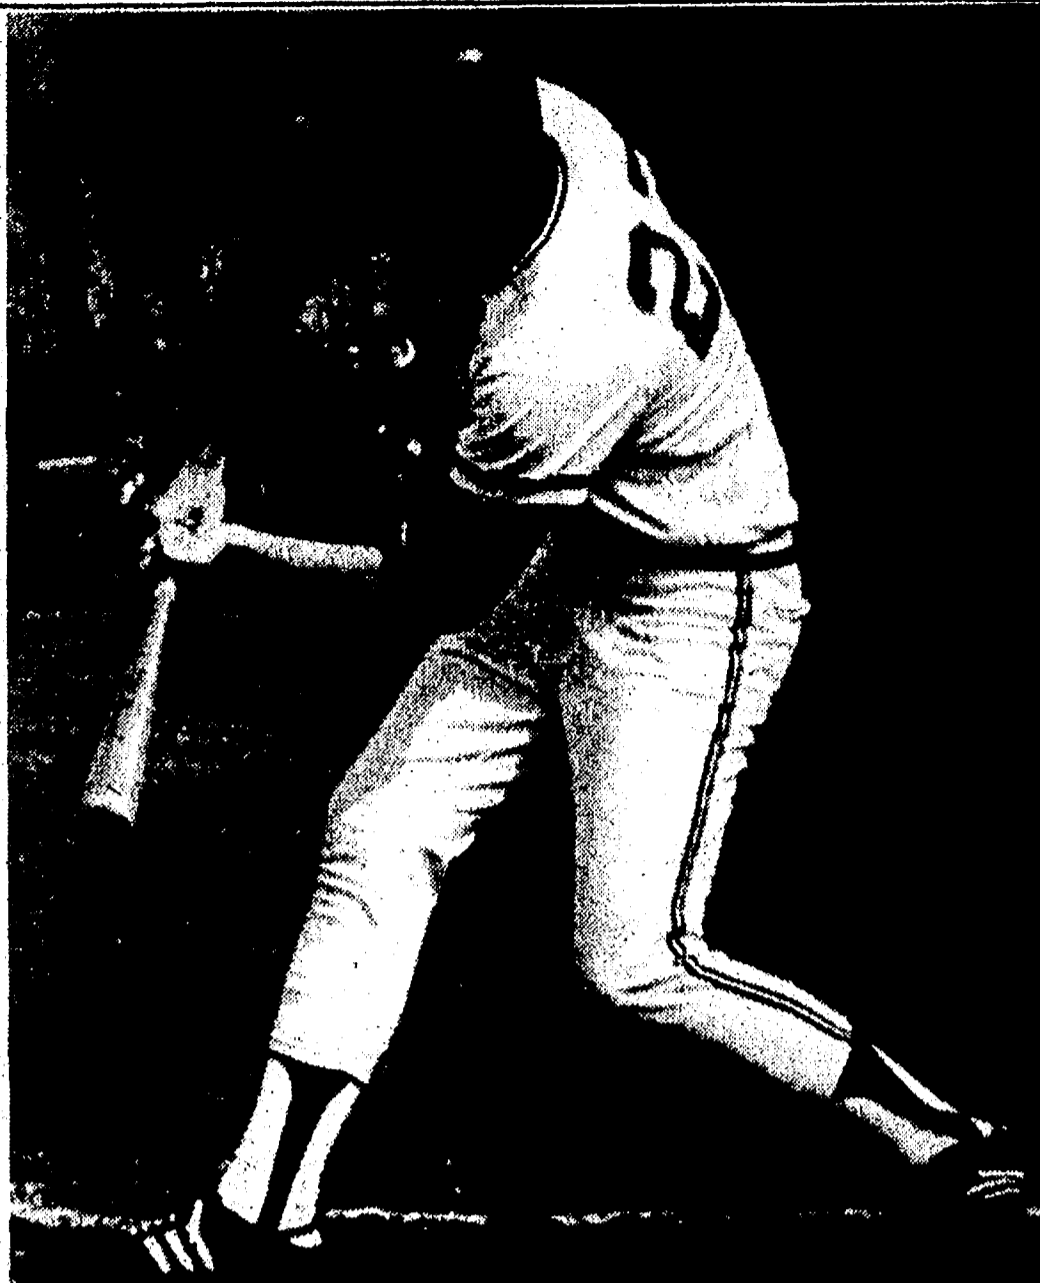

A fire up Edsel squad then came out and scored the deciding runs for the victory.

Smith and Pierce collected three hits each and Mike Stevens and Johnson added two each in the setback.

Salem beat Trenton last Tuesday in an easy 9-3 victory that saw Wolcott win his 12th in hurling five innings. Tom Chiatallis finishes up on the mound.

The Rocks once again started quickly, with five runs in the first two innings, and the game was downhill after that.

Pierce had a great day, with three hits, three RBIs and two stolen bases. Johnson added a homer and a double with three RBIS while Inch added two safeties.

Regional routs racers

Neither Salem or Canton high varsity track teams qualified athletes for the state meet last Saturday in tough regional competition at Ypsilanti.

"It was like a mini-state meet," coach Gary Balconi of the Rocks said, "it was just too tough."

Salem totaled only three points in the regionals, while the Chiefs were held scoreless. Ypsilanti won the meet with 51 points, followed by Adrian and Jackson Park-side.

Sophomore Bob Dasher placed fourth in the discus throw at 131'9 1/2", while Jerry Basierbe was fifth in the 220 dash at 23.2 seconds. These were the only two places to score points for Salem.

The Chiefs Brian Bennett was the only Canton runner to come close to scoring, as he ran a 2:02 in the 880-yard run.

The Rocks Tom Kindree ran a :23.1 in the 220 preliminaries, and Gregg Davis raced a 10.2 in the 100 for other Salem highlights on the day.

Chief softballers eye loop title

The Canton softball team took two giant steps toward a Western Six League title last week, with victories over Churchill and Northville.

The Chiefs faced a test yesterday afternoon, playing a doubleheader against Farmington Harrison. A double victory against the Hawks would have assured the Chiefs of at least a tie for the crown.

Canton's conference record is 6-1, and the Chiefs are 6-3 overall.

Solid hitting combined with improved defense were the keys to the Chiefs' two wins last week, as they forced their opponents into several fielding errors.

The Chiefs sent 11 girls to the plate in a seven run fifth inning that broke wide open a close game against Churchill last Thursday.

The 15-7 victory saw Canton score in all but the fourth inning, as freshman Lucy Howe went all the way on the mound for the victory.

Singles by Cathy Verduce, Sue Rekuc and Cindy Krieg along with a triple by Kim Zoladz, sparked the big fifth inning. The Chiefs were helped in that stanza by seven Churchill errors.

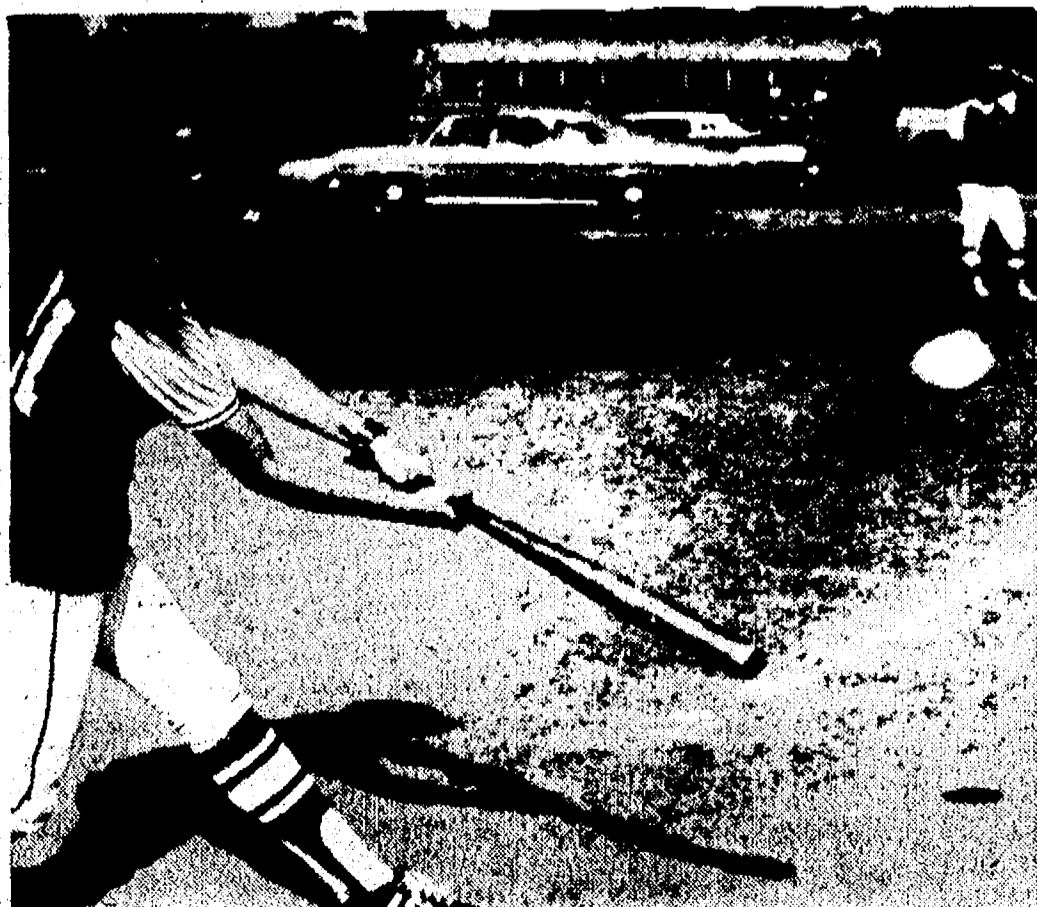

Canton's nine-hit total saw Cathy Peck, Krieg and Verduce collect two hits each.

Six catches in centerfield by sophomore Kathy Sochacki marked the best defensive effort of the day.

A three run seventh inning broke a 10-10 tie against Northville, as the Chiefs won another game two days earlier.

Jan Haarer led a six hit surge which was helped by seven base on ball. Freshman Laura Butler, in relief of Howe, was winning pitcher in that contest.

JUDY FREIMAN, a sophomore outfielder, was the Chief softball team's leading hitter in an easy 15-7 victory over Churchill last Thursday afternoon. (Crier photo by Dennis O'Connor)

All 13 elementary schools, which saw fourth and fifth grade boys and girls compete against each other. Some 45 youngsters from each school were chosen to compete.

"One of the main objectives of the meet is to give as many ribbons out as possible," explained Candy Gilles, a teacher at Fiegel School.

Close to 220 ribbons were given to children who finished with the top five times or distances.

Eight new records were set in this year's meet, which included three field events, three running events and one relay.

Farrand, Fiegel and Allen School were the top three team finishers.

Chief gals lose close one

The Canton girls track team lost another close meet, this time to Waterford Mott, falling 59-55 in Western Six League last Wednesday.

The Chiefs won only four of 14 events, but made the meet close with nine second-place finishes and eight more thirds. "I though we were going to beat them" said coach Barb Winn, whose squad couldn't overcome illnesses to many key runners.

Anne Lattin ran a school record two mile with a first place finish at 14:19.8 Veronica Gray topped all high jumpers at 4'8" but lost a race in the 220 dash, finishing second to a state contender.

The other two first-place times were in the 880 and mile relays. Meagan Ford, Jennifer Tregembo, Beth Richardson and Gray teamed up in the 880, while Lynne Bigelow, Karen Sweeney, Sherry Gates and Richardson won the mile relay.

Prueter, Bloom reach semis Rock netters place third

BY MATT NORRIS
Canton and Salem high schools co-hosted the Michigan's regional XI tennis tournament Friday and Saturday, but both squads came away emptyhanded, as first singles players Steve Prueter of Canton and Ken Bloom of Salem were eliminated in separate brackets of the semifinals.

Prueter and Bloom had easy first, second and third round matches on Friday, and both coasted into Saturday's semifinals. As the CEP netters then faced two players who weren't in last year's Plymouth Regional who seeded in this year's tournament.

Bloom played well, but was crushed by Dave Epstein of North Farmington, 6-1, 6-1. Prueter lasted three sets, but Southfield's Rob Gendelman played steadily enough to win, 6-3, 4-6, 6-3.

Salem tied with Northville for third place in the ten team regional due to the success of all three doubles team in the first round. Craig Stevens, Steve Braun, and Ed Thomas, Fred Andrews took their first matches, but lost their second matches by close margins. Jeff Bearup and Chris Saxton had a bye in the first round and won in the second, but lost to Sheldon Kreitman and Howard Tischener (who finished second in the doubles tournament) in three sets, 6-4, 0-6, 1-6. Kurt Schultz won two matches before bowing out to Gendelman from Southfield and Bill Cook dropped his first match.

After defeating Bloom, Epstein of North Farmington beat Gendelman 6-3, 6-4, in the finals. Dan Green and Bob Malite from Farmington Harrison, beat Kreitman and Tischner of Southfield in the doubles final, 6-0, 6-3. All six finalists will play in the state tournament, regardless of their first or second place standings.

The Canton squad finished seventh in the Regional, behind Prueter' three victories. Steve Pasley chipped in a first round win, but was edged in the second round, 6-4, 2-6, 5-7. The remaining Chief singles and doubles players were smothered in the first round.

Only Southfield and North Farmington placed ahead of the Rocks, who accumulated nine points.

Doc's corner

BY DENNIS O'CONNOR

City of Plymouth and Canton recreation departments opened their regular seasons for men's and women's softball last week.

And with the opening of the season, a familiar problem cropped up at two of the Plymouth fields — use and abuse of alcoholic beverages.

In accordance with city and Canton ordinances, alcoholic beverages are prohibited at the fields, which are operated by the respective recreation departments.

And yet in the very first week there were two instances, one at Massey Field and the other at Central, of jerks who didn't give a damn about the law.

In both cases, the scorekeepers (paid by the city park department) were threatened after they asked the law breakers to dispose of the beer they were drinking.

At Massey, police were called to the field, and at Central the umpire had to hold the game up until the offender got rid of the beer.

At Canton, no such instances have been reported yet.

These softball leagues not only offer good hardnosed competition for fans, but also a lot of fun for the people involved.

It's a shame a few fools have to disrupt games like they did last week.

I hope this law-breaking won't continue. It puts a damper on the competition and the fun for everyone who participates.

Salem striders beat Bentley

It came down to the last relay again, and for the second straight week the Salem Rock High track team pulled out another close victory, this time a 69-93 decision over Livonia Bentley.

The 440 relay combination of Greg Davis, Tom Kindree, Larry Rightler and Jerry Basierbe raced 45.3 seconds only one-tenth of a second faster than the Bentley foursome, to win Salem's second meet of the season.

The Rocks won only seven of the 16 events, but took 11 second place finishes.

Bob Spisich was a double winner in the high and long jump in the leading the Rocks to a 25-20 advantage after the field events were over. The Rocks increased that lead with an 880 relay victory thanks to Davis, Kindree, Chris Ritchey and Basierbe.

Mike Cristie has a good day placing first in the 180 low hurdles and grabbing second in the 120 high hurdles and the high jump.

Basierbe and Davis won the 220 and 100 dashes with times of :23.4 and :10.5 respectively.

Chiefs lose twice in loop

BY MATT NORRIS

The Canton High track squad finished a winless season of dual meets last week, losing to Western Six opponents Churchill and Walled Lake Western. The final league meet was held yesterday May 25 on the CEP track.

The Chiefs won only three first places against reigning league champion Churchill enroute to a 93-39 drubbing. Senior Brian Bennett won the half mile run, while Jim Tiller and Gerry Durrocher excelled in the 100 and 220-yard races, springing to 10.8 and 24.2 second clocking respectively.

Bennett and sophomore Brent Eckels took the only Canton second places, in the 440-yard run and log jump. Chief runners captured the 440 and mile relays. The mile relay team took its fourth consecutive victory going against Churchill, but lost two days later to Walled Lake Western.

Tiller sparkled in Wednesday's meet, taking first in the yard dash and running legs on both winning relay teams. Scott Pederson and Scott Gray turned in winning leaps in the long jump and pole vault, but the Chiefs fell short, 50-82.

 through 911 will go directly to the Plymouth Police Department for police, fire or rescue response.
 Wilson said Michigan Bell is talking weekly and sometimes daily with city officials to plan installation of the system, publicity and other details.
 Although use of 911 will not cost customers anything on their regular bill, the process of installing and modifyin equipment is a costly one, he added.

 "It's very expensive for us and we don't make money on it, but we think it's a good service for our customer," Wilson continued.
 The system will work for any of the three telephone exchanges within the city, so residents calling from 453, 455 and 459 exchanges in Plymouth will be put directly in contact with the police dispatcher.

Rock girl thinclads top Trojans

The second win of the season for the Salem High girls track team was an easy one over the Trenton Trojans, 69-44.

Cheri Livelle led a clean sweep of the two mile run with a 13:44 clocking. Jean Sellman won the 220 dash at 28.5 and Linda Agardy high jumped 5'0" for a first in that event.

Netters snapped

BY JOE PIERCE
 The Salem High tennis team had its four-match winning streak snapped by suburban Eight foes Trenton and Edsel Ford last week.
 In the match with Trenton, the Rocks were beaten 5-2. Freshman Bob Braun, playing at the number four singles spot, was the lone winner, downing his opponent 6-4, 7-6. Greg Andres and Ed Thomas provided the only win in doubles play winning 7-6, 1-6, 6-1.

 Co-Captain Ken Bloom lost for only the third time this season, 6-4, 6-2. Curt Schults was beaten in his match, Bill Cook won the first set easily but came out on the short end of his match, 1-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Chris Saxton and Jeff Bearup were beaten in first doubles, 6-1, 6-4. Craig Stevens and Curt Lewis also went down to defeat, 6-2, 6-2.

Against Edsel Ford, the Rocks lost a close one, 4-3. Bloom was victorious in his match, 6-4, 7-5. Schultz was the only other singles winner outclassing his opponent 6-2. Braun and Stevens teamed up in third doubles and won 7-6, 6-3.

The Rocks play host to Dearborn yesterday, and battle Bentley tomorrow. Salem currently boasting a 5-7 mark. will play in the Suburban Eight League meet next Wednesday at Dearborn Edsel Ford.

Chiefs split

 pitched five innings in the first game, allowing just two runs but suffering the loss. Smith knocked home the only Canton run of that game.

In qualifying round action in the state tourney, the Chiefs made it look easy against Dearborn Heights Crestwood on Thursday, winning 7-1.

They totalled nine hits and four stolen bases as Parson and Randazzo each tallied two run singles. Tom Close and Morman also picked up run producing hits. Morman and Young combined their efforts on the mound, with Morman recording the victory.

Canton drops pair

Canton netters dropped two lopsided matches last week, winning only three matches of the 14 they played. The Chiefs fell 6-1½ in a drizzle last week Monday at Northville, and lost to Churchill 2-5½ last Wednesday.

Steve Prueter beat Greg McFadden of Northville but lost his first match of the season to Churchill's Fred Bayoff Wednesday in three sets.

Second and third singles players Steve Pasley and John Herron won their first set against Northville opponents but slipped away on the following sets and lost both matches. Pasley and Herron turned in three set victories against Churchill two days later.

Stuart Sobczynski lost two matches last week, one of them in a nine-point tie breaker in the second set.

The first and second doubles teams, consisting of three sophomores and a freshman (Paul Arndnowski, Tim Wise, Doug Hetu and ninth grader Dan Schmidt), were handled by strong Northville and Churchill pairs in straight sets. Matt Norris and Don Perchard lost a close match to Northville and were waylaid by the third double steam from Churchill.

CAPSULE EDITION

To commemorate the 200th anniversary of our country and the rich history of the Plymouth-Canton Community, we will print a special Bicentennial issue on June 30.

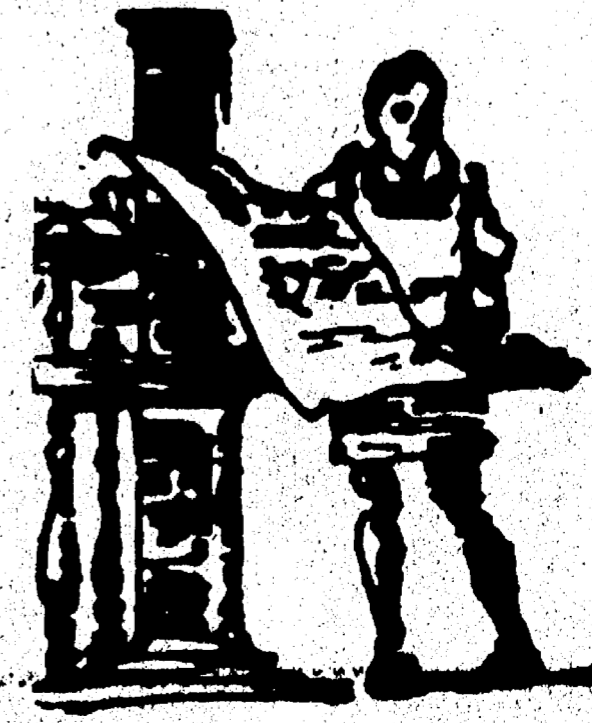

A copy of this special red, white and blue edition will be buried in a time capsule behind the cornerstone of the new First National Bank of Plymouth building on Main Street. The time capsule will be opened in 100 years.

In order to include as much historical data as possible, we have started early to assemble the paper. If you have any information or early photographs on our community and its history, please submit it as soon as possible. (Extreme care will be taken with old photographs - they will not be marked or damaged in any way.)

Since this edition will be a real collector's item, we are also taking orders for extra copies in quantities of 100. (Call The Community Crier office to place your order - 453-6900). Thus this issue will feature expanded circulation in addition to our usual 15,000 home delivered and news stand copies.

An advertisement for your business will be of interest to our readers in this special edition, particularly if it includes some history or early photograph.

EARLY ADVERTISING DEADLINE: Since this special issue of The Crier will take extra time to prepare, the deadline for advertisements will be 5 p.m. June 23. If you have a regular Crier advertising representative, he or she can help you plan your contribution to the Bicentennial edition. Otherwise call The Community Crier (453-6900) and we'll have a representative visit you at your convenience.
