Did politics drive Canton chief out?

BY CHAS CHILD

Following an argument with former Supervisor Harold Stein, Canton's police chief, Walter MacGregor, may have resigned.

MacGregor went on vacation Friday after the argument with Stein and could not be reached for comment. He is reportedly trying to decide whether to stay with the department or resign.

According to Noel Culbert, who succeeded Stein as supervisor on Monday, Stein asked MacGregor to prevent Robert Greenstein from being sworn in as trustee.

Reportedly upset over the political nature of the request, MacGregor flatly refused to carry out Stein's request, according to a member of the Canton police force.

Stein denied that he ordered MacGregor to do anything. "I just asked him to inform Greenstein that it is against the law for him to be a township employe (police reserve) and an elected official (trustee) at the same time," he said.

Greenstein, who is a volunteer reserve for the Canton police department, said that he is not technically an employe of the township, rather a volunteer, and thus exempt from the state statute.

The question had come up earlier when Greenstein was a member of the Zoning Board of Appeals, he said. "The attorney general ruled then that I am not an employe of the township," said Greenstein.

"After the argument, we (the new officials) tried to get MacGregor to stay," said Greenstein, who was sworn in as trustee Monday. "At first he was going to quit because he thought the next two years would be more political hassle with Stein."

Rather than resigning immediately, MacGregor decided to take a three week vacation to think it over, said Greenstein.

A member of the police department said that MacGregor may have been thinking about resigning before the incident with Stein on Friday, however.

MacGregor took command of the force in August, 1977. The department's first chief, he has been credited with reorganizing the force and providing leadership as it went from part-time to full-time.

City offers free parking for Yule

Free parking will be offered in downtown Plymouth during the Christmas season.

Aimed at encouraging shoppers to patronize Plymouth merchants, the City Commission voted 3-2 Monday night to open the East Central and Central lots to free parking.

Heidt heads bond group

Charles Heidt of Plymouth was elected chairperson of the Plymouth-Canton schools Bond Advisory Committee at its first meeting Monday night.

The committee, recently formed at the suggestion of the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education, will consider the distribution and size of a bond proposal and will assess community attitudes toward such an issue. Written recommendations to the board are expected by February, 1979.

A previous request by the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce to bag street parking meters was rejected by the commission as too costly.

Bagged meters would also encourage persons to park all day in the choice spots, the commission said.

Commissioners Beverly McAninch and Mark Wehmeyer voted "no" on the free parking from Dec. 11 through 25, and Mary Childs, Dave Pugh and Bud Martin voted "yes."

However, McAninch and Wehmeyer voted "yes" to offer free parking for a shorter time prior to Christmas, from Dec. 15 to Dec. 25.

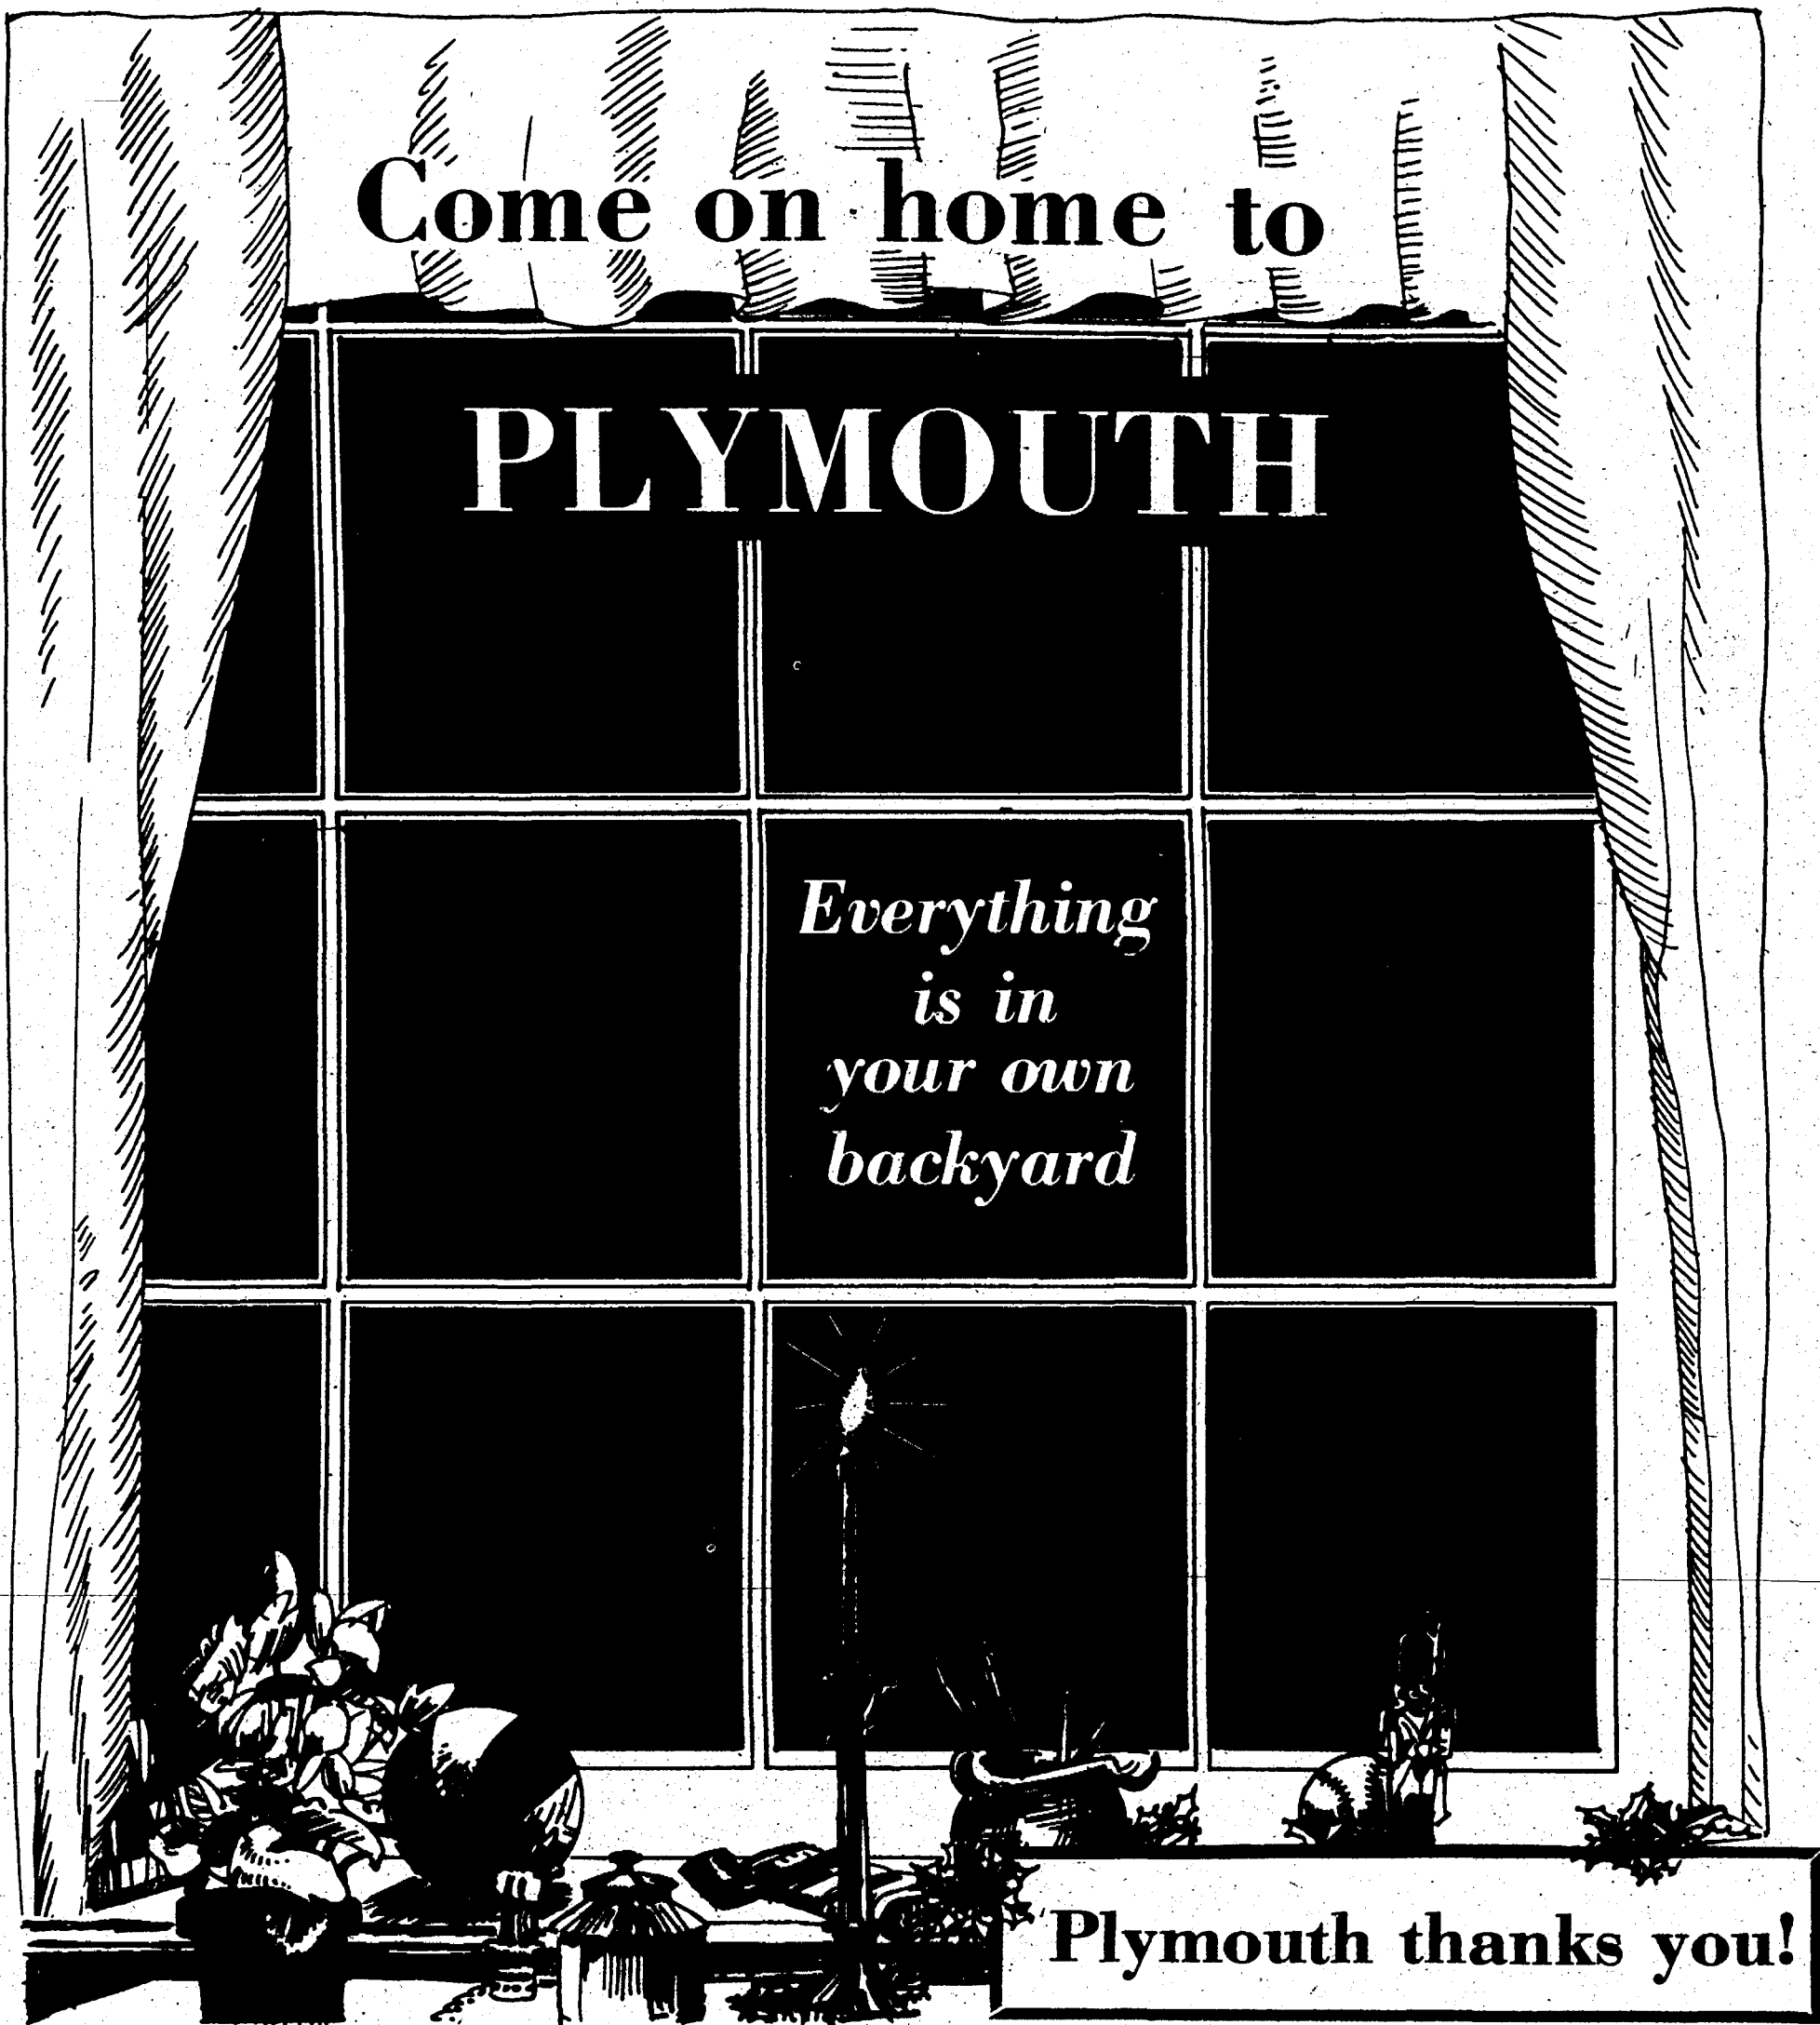

"The chamber should contribute to the city some money for the revenue lost from free parking," said Wehmeyer.

Martin said, however, that business and residents should not be pitted against each other. "There should not be a price tag on everything we do," he said.

Tree crushes house; misses sleeping girl

COLLEEN O'HARA, 19, escaped with only a bruise on her leg Friday evening when a large cottonwood tree crashed through her sister's bedroom and barely missed her as she slept on the bed. "I thought it was thunder," she said later, after instantly waking up to splintered timber, scattered insulation and falling plaster. The damaged house at 614 S. Evergreen in Plymouth belongs to Beverly and Russ Hoisington who, as the owners of Finlan Insurance in Plymouth, were fortunately prepared for the freak accident. Another oddity: Jim McKeon, who sold the house to the Hoisingtons, said it was the second house he has sold that had been damaged from a fallen tree. (Crier photos by Bill Bresler.)

PLYMOUTH TOWNSHIP FIREMEN have been fighting this fire along the C&O tracks off and on since Sunday. For five hours Sunday, five hours Monday and again yesterday afternoon, firefighters and railroad crews tried to extinguish the blaze which occurred close to a Consumer Power gas main. Although no official cause of the fire has been cited by the township fire department, one firefighter at the scene alleged the railroad had set the fire to burn off debris. C&O Trainmaster James Ward denied that charge and said railroad crews were working to put out the blaze by covering it with sand. (Crier photo by Bill Bresler.)

Don't knock Salem High

EDITOR:

To the lady who complained about the Plymouth Salem-Canton students:

I am a senior at Salem. I frankly find your letter unjust and exaggerated.

In your letter not only did you air your family's for the whole world to see, but you cut down many hard working students. I have been at Salem for four years and know what's going on. I have many friends who are also appalled at the pranks and vandalism they see, but only a small group of people are responsible.

As for the cafeteria boycott, although I am not a part of it, the students were only standing up for what they thought was right. The food is all right, but have you ever tried to eat hamburger with bone chips in it? Who are we supposed to tell?

As for your son who says the girls are pretty wild, I'd like to see the girls he knows. Granted there are a few, but 95 per cent of the girls are not wild. Aren't the proportions about the same as they were in the 1950's?

Salem isn't perfect, but show me a school that is!

As for talking to our parents, I've been talking to my parents for years about anything and everything. I'm sorry you don't have the same kind of relationship with your family.

I have quite a few friends who are civic minded. I don't pretend to talk for the whole school, but in my four years of experience the vast majority of people I've met will probably make it big in this world.

I'm very thankful, that with the judgment you use with your children, that you aren't my mother.

I sign this very proudly,
KAREN A. BROWN

Shop here first

With Christmas just around the corner, many of us are preparing for our biggest shopping effort of the year.

The first question we have to ask ourselves before we begin is, "Where should we shop?"

Our community offers a wealth of merchandise and services which are top quality and competitively priced. It makes sense, therefore, to obtain what we can right here.

But there's something else our merchants offer: the small-town neighborly attitude. That's a quality often lost in these days of neon and plastic, yet it's really part of what Christmas is all about.

We find that shopping in our community is not only practical, but enjoyable as well. Before you shop, check out your own backyard first.

I would like to take this opportunity on behalf of the American Cancer Society to thank the local businessmen, merchants and artists whose gratifying response to our request for donations made possible our recent art auction.

Gratitude also goes to Ruth Rockwell, whose tireless ef-

Child's play

Canton has gone from a rural community to a large suburban town of 38,000 in less than 10 years. Unfortunately, one part of the township has not kept pace with the growth: its government.

The present staff is competent. But there's not a leader to point everyone in the right direction and manage the administration. Canton needs a township manager similar to the Plymouth city manager.

Part of the problem is that the township form of government is a holdover from the horse-and-buggy days. The supervisor is the chief executive of the township, but he's also the political leader. And these two roles don't always mix, especially in the polarized political atmosphere in Canton.

Efficient management by the supervisor has often taken a back seat to politics. With an election every two years, and the accompanying political mudslinging and maneuvering, the supervisor has his hands full.

A professional manager, then, is needed to keep a steady hand on the administrative tiller. Political decisions in a community like Canton are always going to be stormy, which makes it imperative that a manager, at least partly removed from this process, be hired.

The recent problems Canton had with a possible new court is a good example. A feasibility study done a year ago showed that the township could break even on a court. But since then, a number of expenses were added: a second judge was created by the legislature, and through crossed signals between township officials and Judge Dunbar Davis, it was learned Oct. 20 that two more clerks would be needed to staff the new court.

The trouble was, no one at the township was keeping track of the court's progress. The administration didn't realize the problem until Maria Falkiewicz, a candidate to treasurer in the recent election, researched the budget of the proposed court and found it inadequate.

A township manager could have had his finger on the court's expenses from the beginning and planned for it.

The city-manager (township in Canton's case) form of government has proven itself the most efficient method to administer municipalities. In Canton, and in cities with strong mayors (Detroit is a good example) bitter politics have prevented the communities from properly attacking their problems.

It would take some foresight on behalf of Canton's politicians to hire a township manager. Supervisor Noel Culbert, since he would give up some power, must particularly realize the wisdom of the switch.

But if Canton is ever to settle its land-use, planning and administrative problems, it needs a township manager.

At Salem

Homecoming great

EDITOR:

I would like to express my many thanks to everyone who contributed in the Salem 1978-79 Homecoming, which was held Oct. 23-28.

This letter of appreciation would be much too long to mention everyone's name who helped plan this year's Homecoming. But it is with great appreciation that I say a "Big Thanks" to Dr. Faber and Mr. McCoy who made it all happen. Without their persistent interest in student activities, Homecoming would not have been such a success.

Homecoming, believe it or not, requires a lot of time, work and neverending meetings, but Sue . . . we made it! Sue Sparling, the other chairperson, was a pleasure to work with. She always came through with brainstorming ideas when everything seemed to be dimming on us. Thanks a lot, Sue!

In conclusion, I would like to say congratulations to the Homecoming King, Paul Dillion and Homecoming Queen, Karen Haut. Homecoming was a fun and an exciting experience that I'll never regret nor forget.

Twp. man charged with hit-and-run death

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

Michael Kutshaw, 25, of Plymouth Township is charged with leaving the scene of a fatal accident Thursday night by the Wayne County Sheriff Department.

Killed in that accident was 17-year old Jeffrey Allen Little, a senior at Salem High School. According to Detective Larry Patterson, Little was trying to cross Ann Arbor road just west of Haggerty on his bicycle when he was struck by a car.

The accident occurred at

JEFF LITTLE

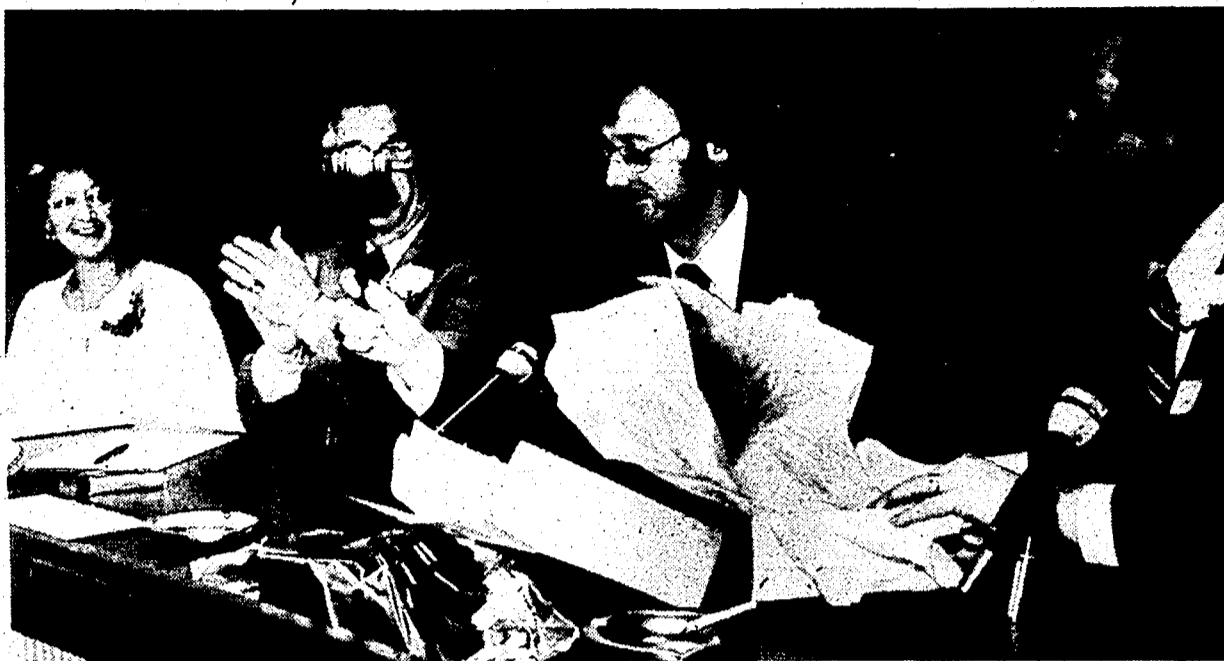

8:40 p.m. Thursday. David Grandin of Livonia witnessed the accident, made a U-turn, and pursued the car until he was able to get a license plate number and description of the car.

According to Patterson, Grandin described the car as a 1967 Ford with a black top and white body. Furthermore, Grandin said he followed the car until it disappeared into a subdivision behind Ann Arbor and Haggerty roads.

Asked why he pursued the vehicle, Grandin said, "It was a hit and run accident and I know the rules of the road."

Jeff Little was a three-year veteran of the Salem High School swim team. He swam the backstroke and freestyle. Coach Chuck Olson called Little a "hard worker who would be missed by the rest of the guys on the team."

Grandin, 39, has owned a driver's training school in Livonia for 15 years. On Thursday night, he was accompanied by Joe Klatt, an instructor at the school, he said.

Goodfellows need Yule volunteers

How can you help make someone happy for Christmas?

If you've asked yourself that question, call Ron Browning at 459-1961 or Paul Sanders at the City of Plymouth Fire Department (453-1234) for the answer.

They're seeking volunteers to help with Plymouth's 40th annual Goodfellow drive.

The Goodfellows, who raise money through a newspaper sale and donations, see to it there's "no kiddie without a Christmas." Last year the Plymouth Goodfellows raised $2,930 and spent $2,899 on clothes, toys and food for families who might otherwise not have been able to celebrate Christmas.

Browning, president of the Goodfellows, said more volunteers are needed to help with the newspaper sale on Saturday, Dec. 9. On that day, the Goodfellows canvass Plymouth and Plymouth Township shopping areas, intersections and industries for donations in return for the local Goodfellow newspaper - this year the 40th anniversary edition.

Employee hurt

An employe of Western Electric in Plymouth suffered a crushed vertebrae in his back after a forklift accident on Thursday.

Henry Fisher, 39, of 17970 Beck in Northville Township, was transported to St. Mary's Hospital in Livonia by Plymouth Fire Department rescuers.

Food feast to aid books

On Saturday, Dec. 4, there will be a chicken or spaghetti dinner special at the Roman Forum restaurant to benefit the Canton Library Fund.

The dinner starts at 11:30 a.m. and continues until 11 p.m. Tickets are $3.75 for adults and $2.50 for children.

Tickets can be purchased at the Canton Chamber of Commerce, First Federal, Bank of Commonwealth, Roman Forum Restaurant, Rick's T.V., Schwartz's Greenhouse, Bill Brown Auto Clinic, and Atchison Ford.

On Dec. 1, and Dec. 2, tickets will also be sold in the lobby at Krogers on Ford and Sheldon roads.

For more information call Bill at 455-5900.

School vandal caught

A 13-year-old boy was caught while vandalizing Smith School in Plymouth Sunday at 4:30 p.m., police report.

The youth pulled posters off the wall, broke into the kitchen, opened locker doors and threw three fire extinguishers on the floor during the spree, police said.

He was apprehended carrying a five-inch knife, said police.

Canton to reassess court

BY CHAS CHILD

Does Canton have a 35th District courtroom in its future?

It may, but probably not at the site originally chosen by the Board of Trustees. Last Tuesday, the board directed Clerk John Flodin to extricate the township from the contract to remodel the old township hall, which was selected to house the courtroom.

The action was taken for two reasons. One, operating a courtroom in Canton will be more expensive than originally estimated. And second, the old township hall may be too small to properly house the court.

Since the first cost study was made last November, the price of operating it has risen in these ways: A second judge was added to the 35th District (James Garber, who was elected Nov. 7); three clerks at the new site, instead of one as originally accounted for; and extra cases shifted from the Circuit Court.

Furthermore, the board learned that it would cost more to remodel the old township hall to house the court than estimated at first, and overall it may be too small. Township officials learned that this after Judge Dunbar Davis of the district court reviewed the plans for the hall on Oct. 20.

In light of these revelations, the board unanimously decided to cancel its plans to remodel the hall at Cherry Hill and Canton Center roads.

"Two decisions must now be made by the board," said Finance Director Mike Gorman. "We must re-estimate the cost of operating the court. If we find out it's feasible, then the board needs to locate a site."

Other than the new Township Hall, Gorman said Sheldon School on Geddes Road, a closed elementary school in the Wayne-Westland School District, has been mentioned as a possible site for the courtroom.

Crier closed

Offices of The Community Crier will be closed Thursday, Nov. 23 for Thanksgiving but will be open Saturday, Nov. 25.

Turkey winners drawn

Free turkeys will make Thanksgiving a little happier for 20 local residents. The lucky recipients are winners in The Crier annual turkey give-away. Merchants participating in the contest reported a surprising number of coupons were clipped from The Crier and returned to their stores.

"I enjoyed going from store to store turning in the coupons," said one local resident. "It was the first time I've been in some of the shops."

Names of the winners and the shops they won them in are: Grace D. Kartje, Put Up-On Shoppe; Jean Norman, Pendleton; Lee Porcelli, Pease Paint; Marge Winkler, First National Bank; Leroy Westfall, Cloverdale Dairy; Emily Gill, The Crier; Robert E. Nelson, Beautiful People; Sue Delonis, Gourmet Galleries; Beth Anmons, Flowers by Margie Rac; Norma West, Harvard Square Jewelers; Edna Gray, Diveto Electronics; Diane Dugas, Kays of Plymouth; Marge Winkler, Plymouth Rug Cleaners; Harry Kroll, Gould Cleaners; Gladys Allen, Cricket Box; Kathy Kalita, First National Bank; Dan O'Connor, Dave Carpet Service; Katie Brink, Mayflower Optical Shoppe; Mary Gladchun, Lent's Custom Clothing; and Carol Schmitt, Cutting Quarters.

The lucky winners may pick up their turkeys at Towne Gourmet Foods on Penniman Avenue in Plymouth.

Thieves nabbed

Five juveniles were arrested in connection with the theft of seven class rings from the display case in the front lobby of Canton High School.

Stolen Nov. 14, the rings are worth about $400 according to the State Police, who investigated the crime and apprehended the suspects.

$500,000 City Hall expansion plans approved

Plans for a $500,000 addition to Plymouth City Hall were approved Monday night by the City Commission, despite the cloud placed over future municipal bonding by the recently approved Headlee proposal.

The addition will provide badly needed room for the 35th District Court, the fire department, the city engineer's department, and other city offices.

Since the Headlee proposal requires a vote of the citizens to approve bonds, funding of the addition is not certain.

City Manager Fred Yockey said, however, that the state legislature has yet to tackle Headlee. "The city doesn't know the complete meaning of Headlee," he said.

Ralls-Hamill, architects of Livonia, presented the plans to the commission Monday night.

Canton chamber may challenge sign law

Canton's Chamber of Commerce may challenge in court the township's present sign ordinance that prohibits free-standing ground signs for businesses.

The law firm of Lippit, Perlove, Freidman and Zach has been retained by the chamber to determine if the ordinance was improperly enacted in 1975.

Mary Perna, president of the chamber, announced the action in the business organization's newsletter scheduled to be mailed to chamber members this week.

According to Perna, research has shown that the township may not have published the ordinance properly in the newspaper prior to its enactment in 1975.

Before any legal action may be made against the present ordinance, however, a new sign ordinance may be in effect. A public hearing on a re-written sign law is scheduled for the Planning Commission's meeting on Dec. 11.

The proposed ordinance allows free-standing ground signs for businesses, as well as billboards along I-275, and large signs on Michigan Ave. and Ford Road for merchants near I-275.

If it is approved in its present form, the ordinance may face tough sledding in the Board of Trustees. Four new members took office Monday who have said they oppose easing many of the restrictions on signs in the township.

Perna said the Chamber of Commerce finds the proposed ordinance acceptable.

Libel server charged

A warrant for the arrest of a 22-year-old woman who allegedly assaulted the wife of former Canton Supervisor Harold Stein was approved Monday, police said.

Gail Meyers of Dearborn Heights allegedly hit Mrs. Stein on the face when she served process papers from a libel suit at the Stein residence.

Meyers claims, however, that Mrs. Stein pulled her into the house when she served the papers, said Robert Greenstein, one of the persons who filed the libel suit against Stein.

Filed by three candidates for the Canton Board of Trustees — Greenstein, Noel Culbert, and James Donahue — the suit claims that Stein and his political organization, the United Democratic Club of Canton, damaged their personal and professional reputations with a flyer circulated during the campaign.

Approved by the Wayne County Prosecutor's office, the warrant still has to be signed by Mrs. Stein before further action can be taken against Meyers.

Harold Stein said his wife is out of town, but that she intends to sign the warrant when she returns.

Widening OKd

Widening and reconstruction of a 2.9-mile segment of Us-12 (Michigan Avenue) in the city of Wayne and Canton Township in Wayne County were approved by the State Highway Commission.

The section extends east from Haggerty Road to one-tenth mile east of the C&O Railroad tracks.

Bids for the project, estimated to cost $4.6 million, are scheduled to be taken in June, 1983, with construction to be completed a year later.

The project calls for widening from four to eight lanes for 2.4 miles between the C&O tracks and I-275 freeway; and from four to six lanes from I-275 to Haggerty.

Burgers coming

A new fast-food restaurant is coming to Ford Road in Canton.

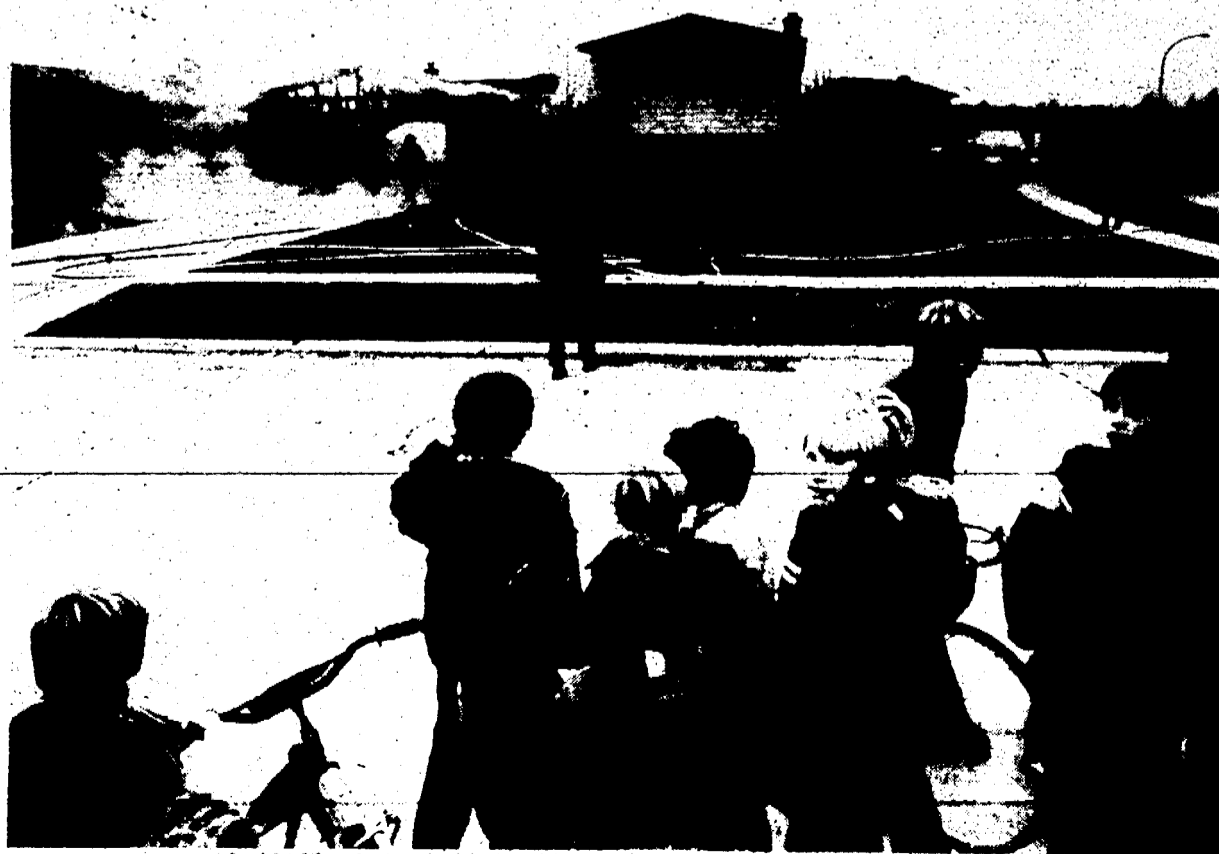

The Canton Board of Trustees approved last Tuesday a Burger Chef to be located on the north side of Ford between I-275 and Haggerty.

First Methodists celebrate 150 years in Plymouth

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD
Two candlesticks, two offering plates, and a cross remain to confirm the founding of the First United Methodist Church in Plymouth 150 years ago. These artifacts, which were carved from the original walnut altar rail of 1848, have defied fire, remodeling committees, and the whimsical urges of persons ready to toss out the old.

On Sunday, Nov. 26, church ministers and members will gather to celebrate special sesquicentennial (150) services at 9:30 and 11 a.m. Senior minister Sam Stout will be joined by associate ministers Frederick Vosburg and Frank Lyman, Jr. who will deliver the sermon, to commemorate the occasion.

Ironically enough, the year 1828 — 150 years ago — does not mark the actual construction of the First Methodist Church in the area.

It is this 20-year difference between the date of the first membership in the church in 1828 and the actual construction of the church in 1848 that causes some confusion, said Sanford Burr, a local church historian.

After all, Burr said, it was only 30 years ago — in 1948 — that the Methodist Church celebrated its centennial service. And now, in 1978, Burr continues, the church is marking its 150th anniversary.

In 1828, Methodist services were being celebrated in area schoolhouses and private homes by The Rev. Benjamin Cooper. He traveled by horseback to preach throughout the Huron Circuit, of which Plymouth was a part, for about $100 per month, said Karen Ahlgren, chairperson of the records and history committee.

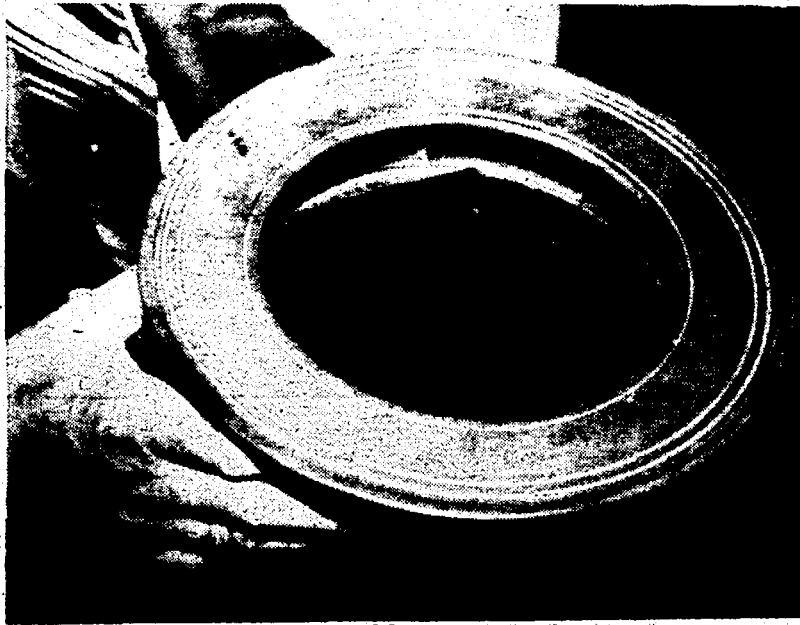

Numbering over 400 persons by 1834, the church purchased a one-acre site on Church Street for $75 from E.J. Penniman. The church continued to grow, and installed a bell in its tower for $213.64 in 1892.

Then in 1916, fire struck. Apparently it started in the adjacent high school, and quickly spread to the church. Only a few books, altar rails and other small articles could be salvaged from the fire.

After that devastating fire, the Methodists considered merging with the Presbyterian Church across the street, but there was more impetus to rebuild, said Burr.

On Easter, 1917, a new church was dedicated. It cost $20,000 and the Methodists remained there until 1972 when they moved to North Territorial Road for more facilities and more parking.

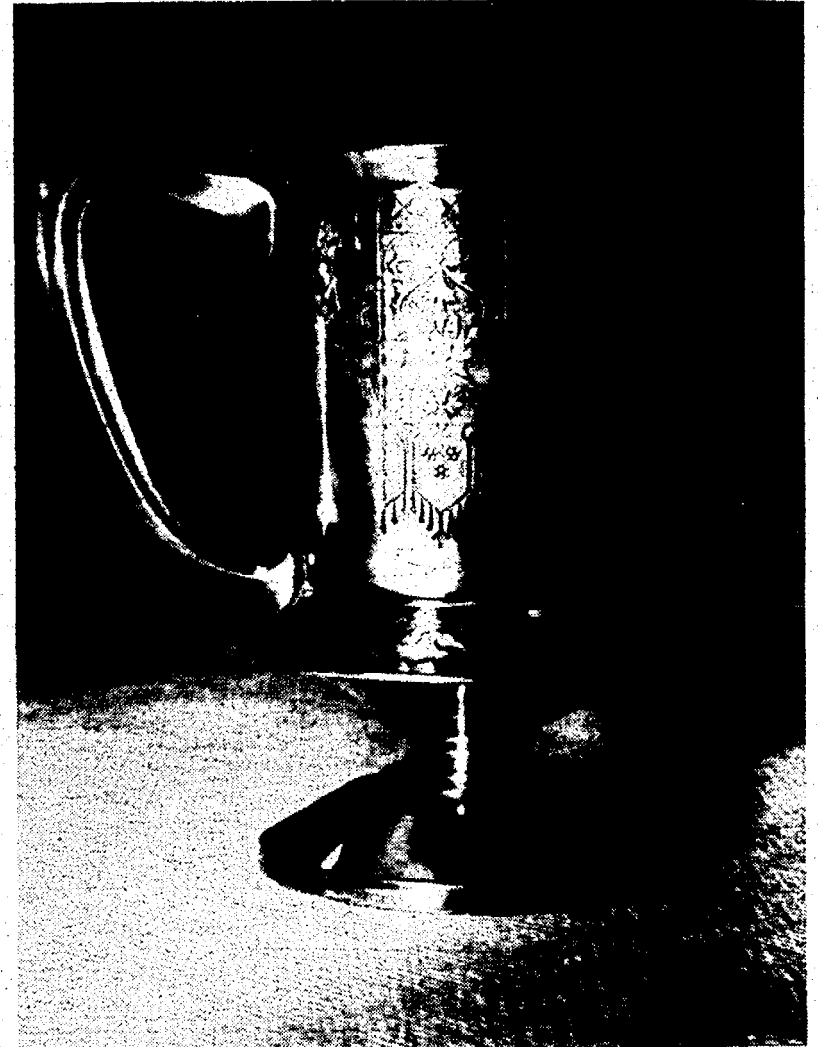

However to provide continuity in the future, Karen Ahlgren said the next celebration for 200 years will probably be held in 2028.

Write it better with a turkey quill

TURKEYS AND WILLIAM Shakespeare. Story-teller Aiden Broderick helps fourth-grader Kelly Carkeek brandish the turkey quill for writing at Gallimore School. Earlier

Broderick told the kids a story called "Will's Quill" in which Shakespeare used turkey quills to pen his famous plays.

Seniors step out

PG. 11

Canton Senior Citizens will star in "Canton Capers II," a musical review. All the seniors are members of a senior citizen group in Canton and will perform at John Glenn High School on Friday, Dec. 1 at 7:30 p.m.

A highlight of the Friday night performance will be the "Canton Senior Rockettes," who will perform the "cancan" routine under the direction of Bette Potts. Bette has also helped in the development of various entertaining skits which will be included in the evening's fare.

For more information, please call the office of senior citizens at 397-2777.

Cookbook sells out

From the Older-really-is-better file:

The Plymouth Symphony League Cookbook, published only 12 years ago, is regaining its popularity and may sell out this year.

This prediction was made by book distributor and league member Jan Quick after explaining, "the cookbook just never caught on a few years ago."

However, since inflation hasn't swelled its original $1 price tag, Quick reports book sales are livelier than ever.

"It's a real bargain now," said Quick. The book was compiled from favorite recipes submitted by league members a few years ago.

For those still interested in purchasing the cookbook, call 453-8189.

Turkeys are dressed up in schools all over town

What does Thanksgiving mean to first and second graders at Eriksson Elementary School in Canton?

"It's when Santa first comes to town," piped up Mike Hoffman.

"It's going to grandma's" said first-grader Matt Giese. Meegan Olesky chimed in her agreement. "It's going to grandma's," she said.

Meanwhile, blond-haired Erin Ryan seemed to have understood her history lessons when she said, "it's when the Indians taught the Pilgrims to share food."

"We're trying to teach the children that Thanksgiving is more than just eating," said Debra Endicott, first and second grade teacher there.

Parents, teachers, and about 165 kids combined ingredients, pots and pans, and Indian and Pilgrim costumes to share a traditional Thanksgiving dinner together on Thursday afternoon.

Principal Ron South donned Indian feathers and paint to carve the bird, but the rest of the feast was prepared by the students, assisted by room mothers and teachers Cheryl Hunter, Connie Jacobs, Colleen Mohacci, Marguerite Haar, and Debra Endicott.

In preparation for the feast, the teachers focused on how the idea of Thanksgiving evolved. First-grader Mike Gorzen remembered the date 1620. "That's when the Indians - oooops, I mean the Pilgrims - first came," he said.

Eriksson was one of many schools throughout the district celebrating Thanksgiving in class.

At Geer School, the only one-room school still operational in the district, the fifth graders sent invitations to parents and alumni in the Indian language of Choctaw to a potluck dinner on Nov. 15. Teacher Rita McClumpha said her class studied regional Indian tribes and emphasized "getting rid of the stereotype of Indians."

Their feast started with an Indian mask parade and included singing songs for different occasions, a fashion show, rain and corn festival dances, and a canoe celebration.

About 200 persons attended the dinner which was held at Hulsing Elementary School.

At Field Elementary School, five classes of students prepared dinner and directed and performed in a Pilgrim skit. Participants in the skit were: Diana Weaver, Tracie Robichaud, Jason Kuchmay, Julie Ellenwood, Kelly Adams, Jay Willard, Kathy Alfinito, and Timmy Hance.

Yesterday (Tuesday, Nov. 21), the fifth graders at Starkweather invited the Crediters, a senior citizen group, to share a Thanksgiving meal.

Beaming

"I JUST COULDN'T BE HAPPIER." That's what third-grader Kyle Fisher seems to be saying during Thanksgiving dinner at Field School last Wednesday.

Donning traditional garb

THIRD-GRADER RENEE Johnson looks very thankful as she prepares to eat traditional turkey dinner at Field School last Wednesday.

tell it to phyllis

Whiff that aroma!

Hurray, It's turkey day again! I can't wait to get to grandma's house tomorrow and walk through the warm, cluttered kitchen. Ah, the smells of turkey, dressing and pumpkin pie. I'll make the fruit salad again this year - just keep my stupid brothers out of the way. I do not look like Rudolph with a glob of whipped cream on my nose.

Thanksgiving is the one time each year when the whole family gathers around two tables. All the children sit together in the kitchen while all the big people sit at the "big table."

I can remember, when I was little, wanting so badly to sit at the big table. Now I'd give anything to be able to sit with the kids in the kitchen. Besides, if mom's not looking, you can trade your squash to the cousin who likes it, for half of his mashed potatoes and gravy.

Thanksgiving is also a time to think about all the things you are thankful for. Among other things, I'm grateful for all the friends I've made, both in Canton and Plymouth. Whether or not you always agree with me, it's nice to know you're there.

A "Taste for Charity" and "Mini carnival," sponsored by Delta Delta Delta sorority alumnae of Dearborn-Western Wayne County will be held Tuesday, Dec. 5. The project is put on to raise funds and collect toys for the Children's Leukemia Foundation.

The event will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Molony, 27450 Sunnydale, Livonia. Admission is one wrapped toy per couple for a leukemia patient. The toys are used for Christmas and for cheering up children following bone marrow tests. Everyone is welcome.

Growth Works recently held a fashion show and continental breakfast at the Cultural Center. Chairperson for the show was Pamela Carlson, and narrators were Virginia Reynolds and Claire Kelley.

Modeling the latest in fashions were Pat Evans, Stephanie Cooley, Peg, Planik, Sharon Jackson, Betty Utter, Denise LaRue, Nancy Petrocelli, Bettie Carlson, Nick Aran and John Gibson. The fashions were provided by Nawrat Pendleton Shop, Claire Kelley's and Little Angel Shop. The models new hair styles were the compliments of Beautiful People Hair Forum.

Kim Krause, an admissions counselor for Cottey College, Nevada, Mo., will visit Plymouth on Wednesday, Nov. 29 to meet with young women interested in learning more about Cottey. For further information call Margaret Baude at 453-1473.

CHRISTMAS IN PLYMOUTH would not be complete without the lighted tree in Kellogg Park. This year's tree-lighting ceremony is scheduled for Friday, Nov. 24 at 7:30 p.m.

Parade to kick off Christmas season

Step out this Saturday to the annual Christmas parade which will wind its way through Plymouth to start the holiday season.

The parade's special guest will be Santa Claus, accompanied by his helper, Christmas Carol, and they'll both be ready to listen to Christmas lists in Santa's House in Kellogg Park.

The parade will start at noon near City Hall. It will continue on Main Street, take a left on Ann Arbor Trail and wind around Kellogg Park on Union Street.

Parade participants will be: Salem High School Rockettes, Cub Scouts, Brownies, Girl and Boy Scouts, and various hamburger characters from the area.

Sharon Seifferlein of the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce also said the Corvette Club may drive in the parade — if the weather is good.

Santa to land in Canton

Is it a plane? Is it a jet? No, by golly, it's a helicopter! And, sakes alive, isn't that Santa Claus getting out?

With a merry "ho ho ho," Santa Claus will officially begin the whirlwind of Christmas festivities when he gets off his helicopter at Griffin Park in Canton on Friday.

The bearded, red-suited fellow will arrive at the park at 1 p.m. and during the holiday season he'll visit with the kids at Harvard Square on Saturdays from noon to 4 p.m. and at New Towne Plaza from 1 to 4 p.m. on Sundays.

After his gala landing at Griffin Park, kids and their parents are invited to enjoy refreshments at the fire hall in Canton.

Griffin Park is located at Canton Center road just north of Cherry Hill road.

City to light Yule tree

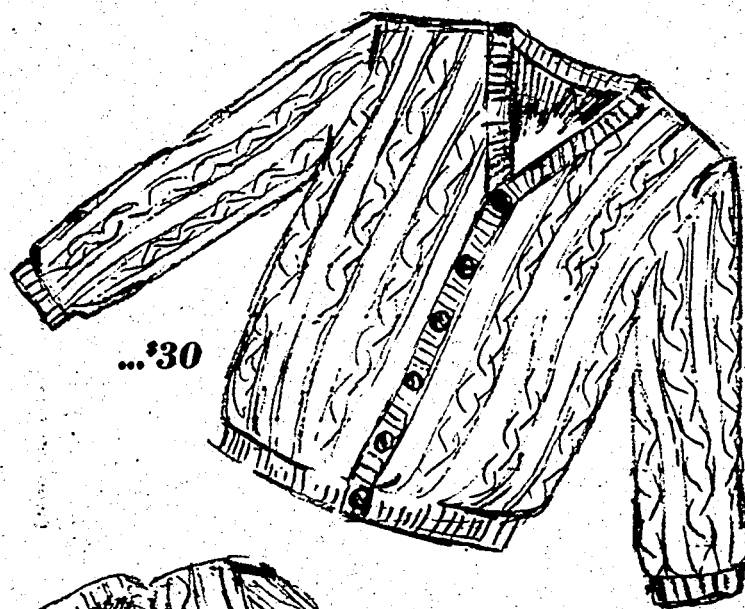

Once again area residents will gather in Kellogg Park on Friday, Nov. 24 to watch the Christmas tree lighting ceremony which will begin the holiday season.

Fred Nelson and his brass and choral groups will lead those gathered in the park in a traditional sing-a-long of favorite songs at 7:30 p.m.

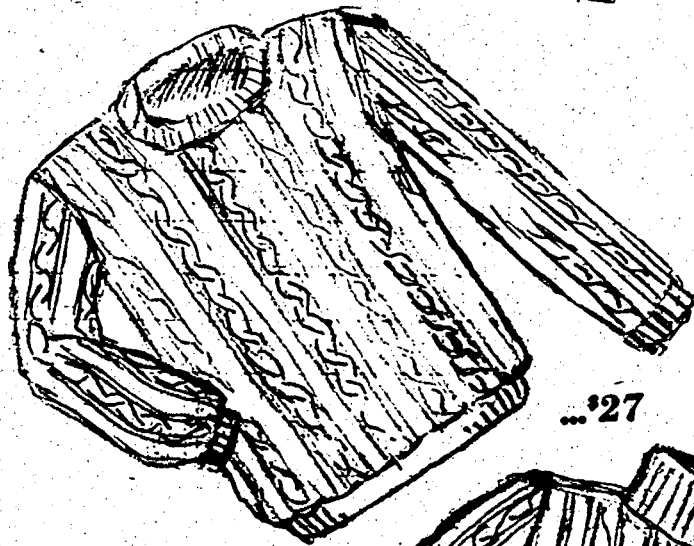

Following the songs, merchants in downtown Plymouth will offer cordial refreshments to passers-by as they stroll from store to store.

Museum recaptures Christmas of old

BY PHYLLIS REDFERN

Christmas is a time for memories. Remember those golden years as a child, when everything was magical and glittering? Christmas was a time filled with excitement, dreams and the thrill of seeing all those bright colored decorations and toys in the store windows.

It's easy to let your mind wander back a few years while strolling down Main Street at the Plymouth Historical Museum. All the shop windows are decorated for the holidays and you can almost hear those sleigh bells jingling.

The museum's theme this year is "Christmas is for children — of all ages." The gazebo has turned into Santa's workshop, where all the little elves are busy making toys. Since the "real elves" are busy at the North Pole, the museum is using stuffed elves in their decorating. The toy shelves are filled with old toys. There are china dolls and stuffed rag dolls and wooden trains.

Main Street in Plymouth many years ago was like many small towns throughout the country, where everyone knew everyone. Christmas greetings echoed down Main Street as friends and neighbors met each other while shopping for the holidays.

The train depot is buzzing with activity and excitement as family members return home for the holidays. You can tell it's Christmas by the way everyone is bundled up with mufflers and mittens and loaded down with gaily wrapped packages.

In the corner of the village hall stands a brightly decorated Christmas tree. Next to it is a little wooden church with a candle glowing.

The village church has once again set up the nativity scene. If you listen very carefully, maybe you can hear the choir in the background practicing for the special Christmas eve service.

Holly and greens decorate the lobby of the hotel, while old, iron, children's banks decorate the windows of the bank. The village law offices have wreaths and greens with bright red bows.

Peeking through the parlor windows, you can see the glow of

Christmas radiating throughout the room. There is a roaring fire in the fireplace and Christmas stockings hanging from the mantel. The tree with all its sparkling ornaments has presents stacked beneath it. "Gee, I wonder what's in that big red one from grandma and grandpa."

In peeking through the back parlour window, you can see a small bed and dresser that salesmen used years ago as furniture samples. Tiny Christmas trees decorate the top of the dresser, and the children "are snuggled all tight in their bed while visions of sugar plums dance in their heads."

Then there is the general store — a bit different from the big fancy department stores we shop in today. It has red and green trim decorating the shelves, and the counter is well stocked with candy canes and that old fashioned, hard Christmas candy.

There are big juicy apples and oranges — what would Christmas be without an apple or orange in the toe of your stocking? The window of the general store is aglow with a candle and little play stoves that would warm the heart of any little girl.

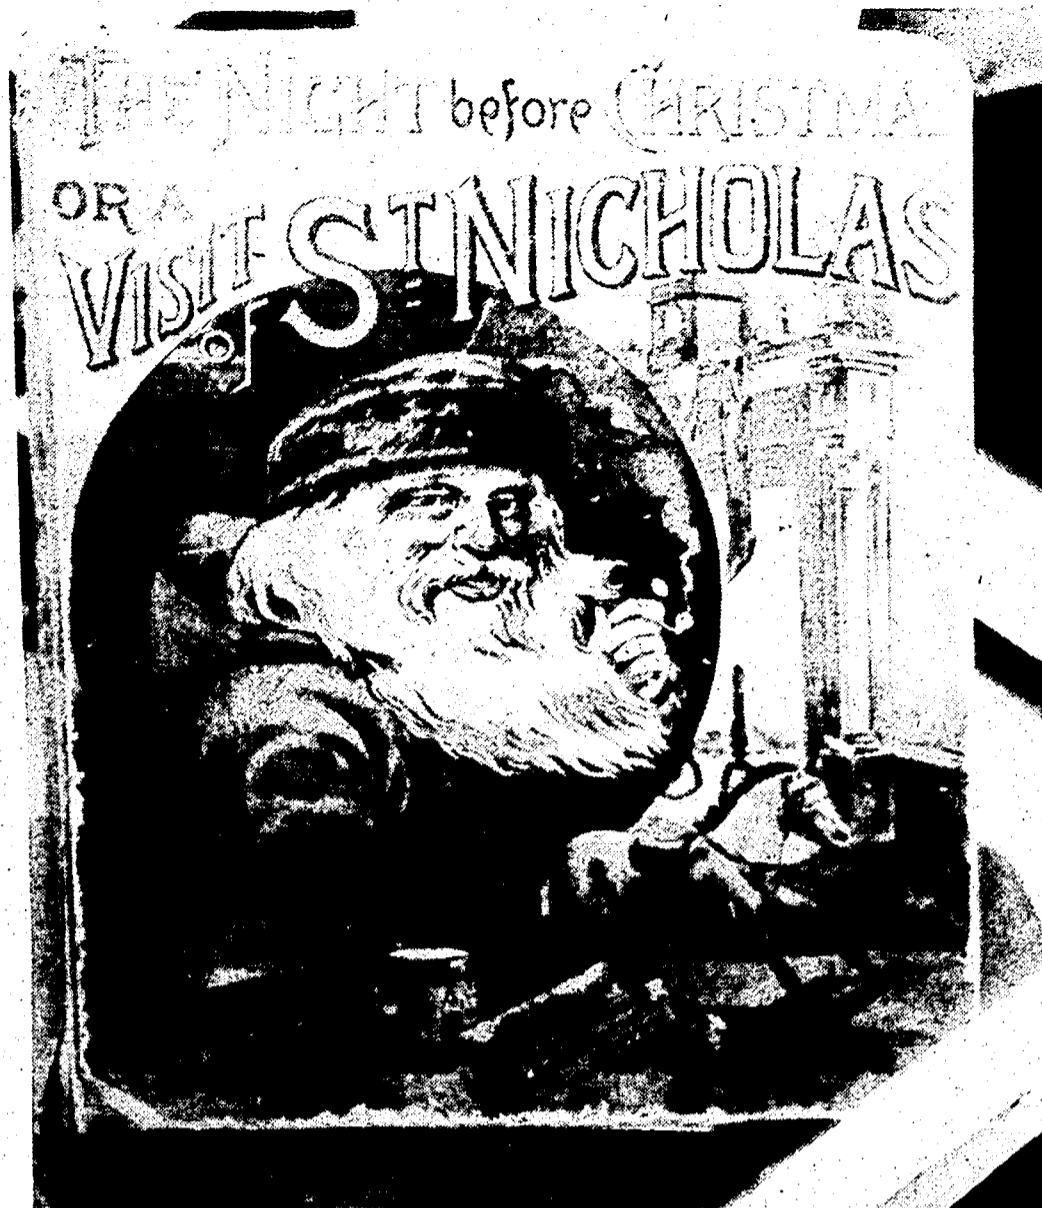

Candles decorate the tree in the floral and china shop. There is a basket of pine cones in amongst the holly, greens and wreaths. Even the dentist office is decorated with greens and packages, with a well loved, old teddy bear in the window.

No old time street corner would be complete without a caroler standing beneath a street lamp singing carols.

The old one-room school house at Christmas time brings back many memories, even to those of us who just remember it through books. All of us, no matter what age, made red and green paper chains to decorate the room. Strings of popcorn decorate the tree, and red bows, seasons greetings and wreaths are everywhere you look. There is also a little pile of presents for the teacher.

The township print shop has homemade gingerbread cookies in the window surrounded by some of the best loved children's books. The dressmaker shop is a flurry of activity as everyone is getting

EVEN THOUGH ITS PAGES ARE yellowed and the cover is tattered, this Christmas tale will never be too old to retell. The book is the "The Night Before Christmas" and it can be seen in the doll and toy shop of the Plymouth Historical Museum.

Old time toys deck museum halls

fitted with their new holiday apparel.

A very special place this time of year is the doll and toy shop. Arranged on the shelves are china dolls, dolls from other lands and a wooden doll sled. Santa's boot is filled with holly and candy canes, and the big bowl of popcorn on the counter sure looks tempting. In the window is an old version of a book we have listened to, read and most of us have memorized. "The Night Before Christmas or a Visit of St. Nicholas".

The harness shop has a jar of Christmas candy sitting on the counter and a clown puppet, old toys and books in the window. Surrounding the piles of sawdust at the cabinetmakers is a doll house, doll furniture and wooden blocks spelling out Merry Christmas.

After peering through the shop windows along Main Street, visit the Victorian kitchen, dining room and parlor at the front of the museum.

Mom is busy in the kitchen rolling out and decorating cookies, and all the good smells drift through the house. On a shelf are jars of preserves and canned fruit with red and green bows to be distributed to friends and neighbors.

A lace tablecloth with cranberry glasswear is the setting for a festive Christmas dinner. The tree is decorated with antique ornaments and strings of popcorn. Most of the toys under the tree taught a lesson of some kind — they were things the children would use as adults.

It was a custom back then for neighbors to go from house to house visiting each other on Christmas day. Many times the women stayed home to receive visitors and serve them cake and wine, while the men went out visiting.

Downstairs at the museum are displays of old metal trucks, airplanes, fire engines and a steam shovel, and a section of electric trains.

No matter how old (or young) you are, there are things along Main Street and throughout the museum to remind you of your childhood Christmases. Whether it's a favorite book, red and green paper chains, a candy cane or a warm holiday greeting — the best things never change.

MITE-SIZED GIFTS FOR A MITE SIZED DOLL. This little lady at the Plymouth Historical Museum seems ready to open her gifts. She is also waiting for visitors at the Doll and Toy shop of the museum.

DON SCHNEIDER demonstrates how easy it is to make the perfect Christmas tree ornament. All you have to do is keep the glass turning at just the right angle.

Local artist creates tree ornaments

BY PHYLLIS REDFERN

Like Santa Claus, the busiest time of year for Don Schneider is getting ready for Christmas. Don is a glass blower who earns a living making Christmas ornaments.

Don started blowing glass as a hobby about five years ago, and since then has worked at Greenfield Village for a year before going into business for himself. A native of Detroit, he supplements his income by playing trumpet in a band. He is a former music teacher at Friends School in Detroit.

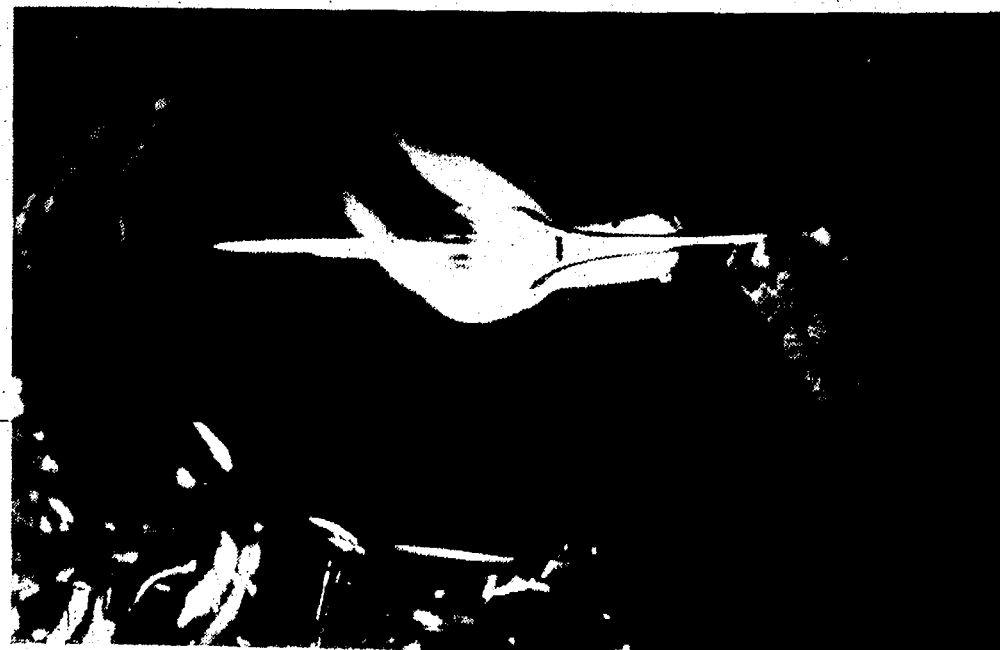

In explaining his technique for making the glass ornaments, Don said he uses a hard, pyrex glass. He wears special glasses which filter out the bright light caused from the gases when the glass is heated.

He starts with a four foot piece of tubing, which is stretched and broken down into smaller pieces. He then heats the glass, turning it constantly to heat it evenly on all sides. When the glass reaches a certain temperature it turns a bright red and is ready to be blown.

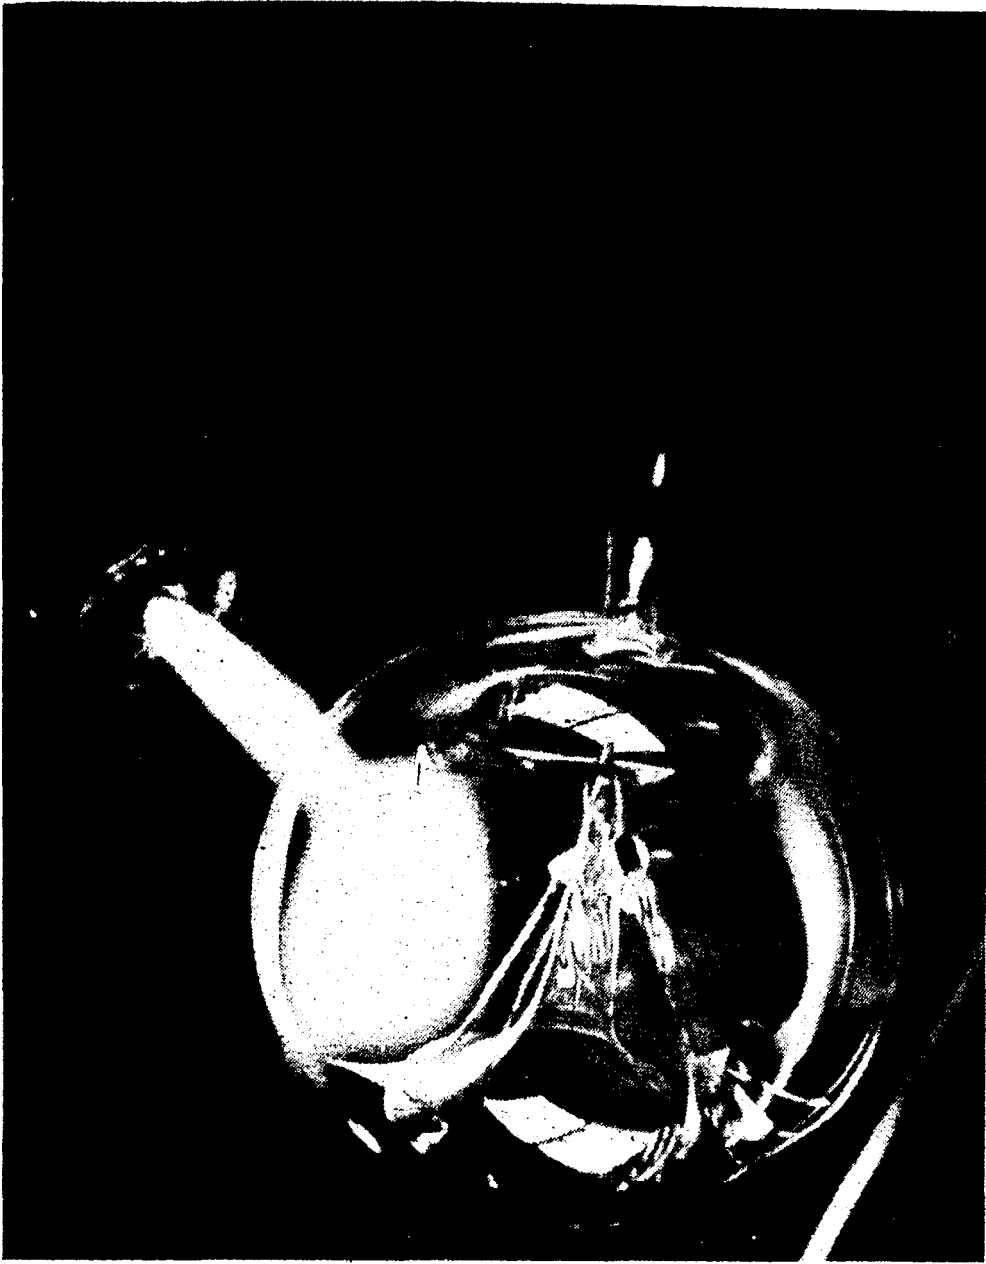

Blowing glass is not as easy as it looks. It's awkward to keep the glass turning while you're heating it with the torch, and it's even more awkward to keep it turning when you're trying to blow it. Don does it quickly and gracefully, and makes it look easy.

Once the glass is blown, he uses a special tool to poke designs

HEATING THE GLASS is essential to make it soft enough so that it can be blown, shaped and molded. Here, Don rotates a section of glass in front of the flame to get it ready for blowing.

THE ORNAMENT. From plain glass is created a delicate bulb for the Christmas tree. Here, certain spots on the ornament's surface is reheated. Graphite rods are then gently pushed into the hot spots to form stylish indentations.

Phyllis makes an ornament

BEGINNERS LUCK. In her first try at blowing a Christmas-tree ornament, Crier reporter Phyllis Redfern produced a credible bulb. At top, Phyllis heats the glass in front of a gas flame, and at left, she blows into the cool end of the tube to inflate the hot, semi-melted center into a bulb. The tube is then clipped off at the top and bottom to create the ornament. (Crier photos by Bill Bresler.)

Glass ornaments are delicate, but really hard glass.

into the reheated glass. "I like to make every ornament different," said Don.

"Glass blowing tools are hard to come by and very expensive," said Don. He explained he got his tools from a place in Canada that was going out of business. He uses a water cooled torch and says he uses less gas making 500 ornaments a month than the gas pilot on his stove.

For other types of glass blowing, Don has a large furnace stored in his garage. It weighs one and a half tons and has four and a half inches of insulation brick and another four and a half inches of fire brick around the outside. He has made many types of glasswear in many designs and colors.

Don's work is available locally in the Odyssey Galleries and is shipped to 17 different states. "Of the 1,400 ornaments I've shipped, only one has been broken," said Don. He added that his work is insurable because, "even though it looks delicate and light weight, it is really a hard glass."

Glass ornaments offer a different variety in a time when hand made ornaments are the "in" thing. I even tried my hand at it, and after four tries, my ornament came out a little crooked (well, maybe a whole lot crooked), but it is unique.

OOOPS, an ornament it's not, but Phyllis just created a new kind of design for something. Chalk this up to experience, as she learns the ancient art from Plymouthite Don Schneider.

PERFECTING THEIR PERFORMANCES of "Amahl and the Night Visitors" are: (from left) Dave Varesh and Gary Temple as the kings; Gary Harris as the page; Carrie Dibble as Amahl; Linda Radionoff as his mother. The show will be on Sunday, Dec. 3 at 4 p.m. at the First Baptist Church, 45000 N. Territorial Rd.

The Christmas play, "Amahl and the Night Visitors," will be presented by the First Baptist Church on Sunday, Dec. 3 at 4 p.m.

The story revolves around a crippled boy who is visited by wise-men traveling to Bethlehem. Through his faith in the Messiah, the boy is healed miraculously.

The cast of the play includes: Carrie Kibble as Amahl; Lida Radionoff as his mother; David Veresh, Gary Temple and Leonard Radionoff as the wisemen; and Gary Harris as the page.

A community orchestra of musicians from the Plymouth-Canton area as well as the University of Michigan will accompany the performers.

The opera was written by Gian-Carlo Menotti and directed by Cheryl Kaye. The church is located at 45000 North Territorial Rd.

Let there be music

To listen to some traditional Christmas music, go to one of the concerts produced by our own area musicians during the holiday season.

They include: Plymouth Centennial Educational Park Concert and Varsity Band, Tuesday, Dec. 7 at 7 p.m. at Salem Auditorium and the Plymouth Symphony, Sunday, Dec. 10 at 1 p.m. at Salem Auditorium.

Also on Dec. 10, the Schoolcraft College Choir will perform at Salem Auditorium at 7 p.m.

The Canton Vocal Music Concert will be at the Canton Little Theater on Tuesday, Dec. 12 at 7 p.m. and the Salem Vocal Music Concert will be at the Salem Auditorium on Wednesday, Dec. 13 at 7 p.m.

The Plymouth Centennial Educational Park Symphony Orchestra will play on Thursday, Dec. 14 at Salem Auditorium at 8 p.m.

Yule arts, crafts at Center

The fifth annual Plymouth Christmas arts and crafts show will take place on Dec. 1, 2 and 3. The hours for this show of exhibits are Friday and Saturday from 11 a.m. to 9 p.m. and Sunday from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the Plymouth Cultural Center.

The public is invited to attend this free holiday show which is sponsored by the Plymouth Department of Parks and Recreation.

VILLAGE

Villagers plan for Clauses arrival

BY FRAN HENNINGS

"Buzz, buzz, yak, yak . . . I don't think so, but it will . . ." Voices rose and fell as the door of the room where the Old Village Association was holding its regular monthly meeting. "Regular," but special because this was the night that plans were to be made for the annual Old Village Christmas Walk.

With the meeting opened by President Pat Nardone, ideas flew thick and fast. The successful visits of Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus in previous years were difficult to improve upon, and yet it should have a new twist because Old Village was never old on ideas.

"Ho, ho, ho," snickered Santa outside the door, for he and Mrs. Claus had slid silently into Old Village on the glistening new blanket of snow and were eavesdropping well, really just listening - to the Old Village planners.

"I'd like the Clauses to know all we have available for Christmas giving. We could really be of real help to them in setting up their gift lists plus all their holiday entertaining," said Pat Nardoni. Her story continued like this:

Now just take the delicious food! You'd always have to mention Jerry's COLONIAL PIZZA. While BILL'S MARKET always has a fine choice of boxed cookies and of course, Milton's baked beans.

PERK, BREW & CASHEW has a variety of teas, coffees, and nuts, the FISH BARREL will have the finest fish, especially the shrimp for cocktails, and Roger will always have the best meat loaf at OLD VILLAGE RESTAURANT. I wonder if Connie and her mother of OLD VILLAGE SAUSAGE SHOP realize how happy they make

Walk through Old Village

An old-fashioned walk on Nov. 26 through Plymouth's Old Village will kick off that area's Christmas season.

The tour will include historical points, buildings and stores in Old Village. Santa will be there and refreshments will be served. Also, Christmas carolers will be singing. Tourers should meet at Mill and Spring streets from noon through 5 p.m.

everyone with their special catering, and Bill of HEIDE'S with his lovely floral arrangements. I might add I hope CORNER CANDY STORE will soon be open for stocking stuffers.

Well, on with the meeting and everyone wanted to give a gift to Santa and Mrs. Claus.

Ronnie from ACCENT BIN insisted on one of those special silver hanging candle holders, while Pat and Bill of HOUSE OF GLAMOUR gave her the Total Image Look.

Would you believe the lovely macrame hanger which charming Pottery Tom and Margaret gave from WILDWOOD IMPORTS, plus the marvelous vacuum from Jerry at AUSTIN VACUUM and the exquisite copper candle holders from Joanne at FOREVER YOURS.

Amy and Rose from NEW GAL IN TOWN decided on a lovely long gown. While Jean from VAN DAMS felt a pale blue nightie would be a nice treat. Quite often Santa neglects himself so George from B & F AUTO and Tom from TOM'S CUSTOM AUTO got together and gave his sled a complete overhaul and while Ben from PLYMOUTH RUG CLEANERS put all new carpeting in it.

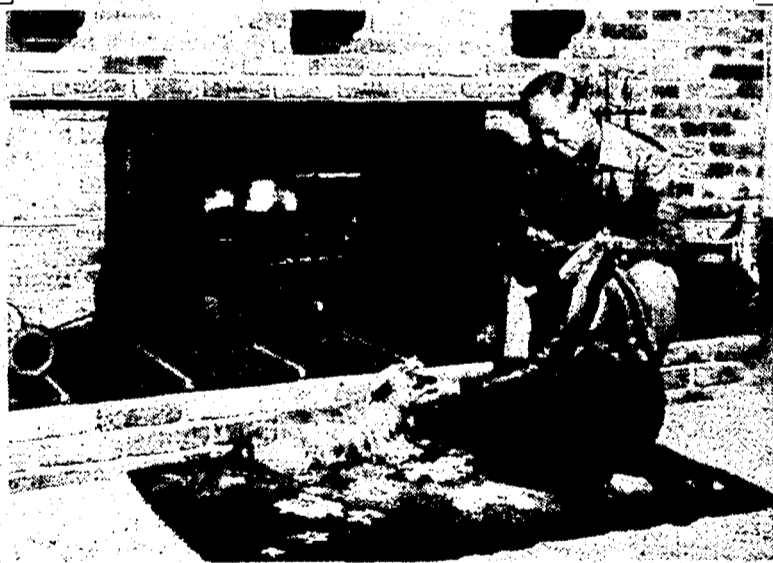

Have you seen the new paintings at the WINDMILL GALLERY. Well, Tom brought his nicest picture and Pat insisted on a one-half year's supply of books from VILLAGE PAPERBACK EXCHANGE. I'm sure Mrs. Santa would enjoy Eula's HAIR STATION. The new name and new exterior surely pleased her and also the gift certificate, while Sol from WISHING TREE brought a lovely selection of jewelry.

Bonnie from WICKER WAREHOUSE felt a picnic hamper would be appreciated and Bill from the MEN'S ROOM brought a unique carving. The great outfits for the North Pole children from THE CLOTHES TREE were a generous gift from Marda and Gail, and the unique pottery lamp made by Barb at the POTTERS WHEEL will bring so much pleasure.

We must have art, and Pat from OLD VILLAGE GALLERY and Ed from EDON GALLERY will take care of that.

I think Dick from DICK'S PINE CRAFTS made the dry sink especially for Mrs. Claus and Bob from PUCKETTS inserted no charge when he made his yearly trip to the North Pole to check Santa's furnace.

Glenn and Steve from SKYBOUND LEATHER made Santa a new belt and Muriel and Janet from THE FINISHING TOUCH made Mrs. Santa a dried flower arrangement for the top of her piano.

Mary and Gorden from WOODEN HEAT STOVE WORKS took care of the new free heat machine to be installed in the Claus's recreation room and Rus from PLYMOUTH KITCHEN AND BATH decided to do all new kitchen cupboards and Ann from JUST ANN'S offered the most attractive paper. Would you believe the brunch certificates from the PLYMOUTH HILTON, and John's kindness in making them for them after the holidays?

Wouldn't it be easier for Lorraine from LORRAINE'S DOLLS to make a nice selection of clothes and dolls too, while Cary and Cynthia from FURNITURE REJUVENATION did over Santa's fireside chair.

LADONNA'S was open to suggestions and offered purses and shoes for Mrs. Claus. While Craig from GRAMPA'S MUSTASH offered to trim Santa's whiskers for the holiday.

Did you hear Dave from DAVE'S CARPET was completely carpeting Santa's house in downtown Plymouth so the children could enjoy it for the holiday.

A nice touch for Santa's study would be the lamp given by Tom at GRANATA FURNITURE, while Dave from OLD VILLAGE UPHOLSTERY did over his swivel back chair. Did you know Santa during the summer took his metal detector out for treasures from PLYMOUTH METAL DETECTORS? Well, he does and so everyone had brought gifts - and how pleased they were with their proposed gifts for Mr. and Mrs. Claus.

The Claus' slipped silently away so as not to spoil the surprise, while the whole group felt the meeting was a success and all resolved to give Mr. and Mrs. Claus their gifts at the regular Old Village Christmas Walk on Nov. 26 from noon to 5 p.m.

The meeting was adjourned at 10:30 p.m. after the group wished Merry Christmas to one and all.

Greens for Christmas

Hurry for Symphony League Ball tickets

There are only a few tickets left for the 23rd Annual Plymouth Symphony League Ball on Dec. 2.

The evening event will begin at 7:30 p.m. at the Mayflower Meeting House with an open bar, following with dinner and dancing until 1 a.m.

Tickets can be purchased by calling Judy Morgan at 453-6099. They cost $43 per couple.

Banish winter's cold fingers by knitting a pair of mittens to hang on the Christmas tree in the Detroit Edison building in downtown Plymouth.

"We're depending on members of the community as well as members of the Plymouth's Women's Club to donate their mittens to the tree," said M.J. Wyllette, club director. She said the tree will go up during the first week in December.

The mittens hung on the tree will be given to the Salvation Army to be included in baskets distributed to various families throughout the community.

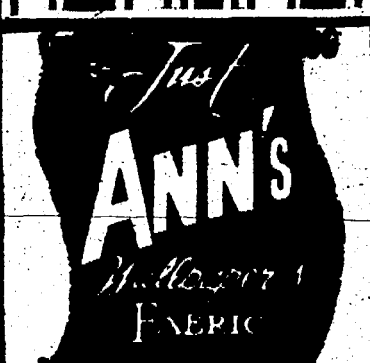

The mitten tree has been a traditional Christmas activity since it was started eight years ago by the Women's Club of Plymouth.

Yule bazaar coming Dec. 2

The women of Saint John Neumann Parish are organizing a Christmas bazaar on Saturday, Dec. 2 from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

Items on sale will include: dried flower arrangements, baked goods, religious articles, and lunch. Also featured will be a tasting center, children's only shop, and a Christmas crafts shop.

The parish cookbook will also be sold, and proceeds of the bazaar will be used to equip the kitchen of the new church currently being constructed on Warren road. There is no admission charge and if you have any questions, call Cynthia Drobot at 455-6852.

Plymouth Chamber says my stores will be open longer, some on Sundays

Stores in Plymouth will be open longer and more often during the Christmas season.

Beginning Friday, Nov. 24, stores in the central business district will be open Mondays through Fridays from 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. and on Saturdays to 6 p.m. On Sundays, the stores will be open from noon to 5 p.m.

In Old Village, stores will be open from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Thursdays and Fridays, merchants will be open until 8 p.m. On Sundays, stores will be open from noon to 5 p.m.

Stores in the Ann Arbor-Sheldon roads area will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 9 p.m. beginning Nov. 25 and on Sundays from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m.

The Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce said some stores may be open on Sundays, but others may not be. Check with the Chamber by calling 453-1540 before shopping on Sundays.

Santa Claus will help open the Christmas season in Old Village on Sunday, Nov. 26. A brunch with Santa will be held at the Plymouth Hilton from 10:30 a.m. to noon. Afterwards, Santa will go to Old Village to help shoppers and visit with kids until 5 p.m.

Santa Claus will also be in his house in Kellogg Park beginning Saturday, Nov. 25. His hours are: Mondays through Fridays from 4 to 7 p.m. and Saturdays from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The Plymouth Santa will be financed primarily by the retail committee of the Plymouth Community Chamber of Commerce through the proceeds from the Chicken Flying Contest in the fall.

WELCOMING SANTA to Canton will be Reid Chakrabarty who will present a key to the children's hearts on Nov. 24 with Amy Tortora. Santa will land at 1 p.m. at Griffin Park via helicopter.

'Shop here first' urges local bank

An area-wide program to encourage residents to shop at home this Christmas was announced today by First National Bank of Plymouth. According to Kenneth D. Currie the program theme is "Christmas Shop Plymouth," and will be featured by merchants throughout the area.

Merchants will receive buttons for their employees to wear picturing a happy Santa suggesting "Christmas Shop Plymouth." Each store will also be given a door sticker, window posters, and counter cards all suggesting "Christmas Shop Plymouth."

According to Currie, "Our stores right here in Plymouth are carrying more and better merchandise every year. Virtually everything available in large cities can be purchased right here in Plymouth."

Currie said the First National Bank of Plymouth is committed to the future of Plymouth and stated the many benefits to the local economy of shopping at home, mentioning the value of keeping dollars in our community.

Specifically mentioned were the additional jobs and development of new stores as well as expanding the amount of merchandise available.

Currie concluded, "It's not necessary that people shop only in Plymouth, but because our dollars really work harder when they're spent at home, we encourage everyone to 'Christmas Shop Plymouth.'"

How volunteers helped Santa's house

Santa's House, located in Kellogg Park, got a new coat of paint, clean walls, and recarpeted floors this year, thanks to the efforts of Hazel and Jim Gibson of Plymouth and the women of the Pilgrim Garden Club.

"It's 2,000 per cent better," said Hazel Gibson as she explained what the job included. "I just wish we'd started in the summertime when the weather was warmer," she said.

The House, stored in the Dept. of Public Works Yard located off Arther Street, was completely washed down — both inside and outside. Then the cracking, peeling paint on the doors was taken off and they were sanded, and repainted bright red.

The letters identifying the house as Santa's headquarters were taken down, stripped and repainted. On Saturday, Nov. 19, Jim Gibson hauled his ladder to the DPW yard and nailed them across the top of the house.

Inside the house, Dave Rotarius, of Dave's Carpet, donated a cheerful red-and-white, candy-striped carpet to install on the floor after members of the Garden Club stripped off the old carpet.

With the Christmas tree and various ferns and decorations put up on the walls, Santa and his helper, Christmas Carol, should have a lovely place to listen to all those Christmas lists recited by kids.

THE WORKS OF CHRISTINE THEODORE, Betty Manthey, and Wendy Wheeler, are currently on display in the showcase of the Detroit Edison building in Plymouth. Manthey teaches art lessons to area students. Other tutors can be found by calling the Plymouth Community Council of the Arts.

Local art students display work

If you've got a child who seems interested in art or music, why don't you direct their instincts under the supervision of a tutor?

Betty Manthey of Plymouth tutors eight area students in painting and drawing. "I start the students out slowly in pencil drawing and then we continue with charcoal and ink and then ink and pastels. Toward the end of the class we start working with water colors," said Manthey.

Wendy Wheeler and Christine Theodore are both working with Manthey now. Their Swimmers can improve

Special awards and trophies will be given to handicapped students who swam in the "I Can Aquatics Program" sponsored by the Plymouth-Canton community schools.

The awards will be presented on Dec. 18 at 7:15 p.m. at Central Middle School, and the students, teachers and parents have been invited to attend.

paintings and artwork are on display in the Detroit Edison showcase.

Such tutors are available from a list provided by the Plymouth Community Council of the Arts which includes tutors in: art, clarinet, cello, oil, organ, piano, music therapy, violin, viola, and weaving.

Local students currently working with Manthey are: Carol Kavel, Janine Bologna, Christine Theodore, Shawna Adams, and Marc Zagorski, all of Plymouth.

For more information about this program or a list of tutors, contact the council at 455-5260 on Mondays through Thursdays from 9 a.m. to noon.

The class costs $20 for 10 weeks of instruction and you must register and pay in advance with the Canton program at 1150 S. Canton Center Rd. or call Barb Abdo or Connie Flynn at 397-1000 extension 212.

Gardeners spruce up

Sprucing up your home with Christmas decorations made with natural articles such as pinecones, thistles, nuts, ferns and other plant life will be the focus of a workshop for members of the Trailwood Garden Club.

The evening program will be presented by Lucretia Luttmann and Betty Manthey and Mickey James made samples of wreaths, and trees to demonstrate their craft to members of the club.

Jan Elston will be the hostess and Marlene Lloyd, Judy Darlington and Jan Larston will be the co-hostesses.

The program will be on Monday, Nov. 27 at Bird School beginning at 7:30 p.m.

Tests reviewed

Schools in the Plymouth-Canton district are moving toward standardization in testing students at various grades, said Mike Homes, assistant superintendent of instruction, at a Board of Education workshop Monday night.

Homes said standardized tests are used to establish progress toward learning goals or to measure a group of students' scores against a national norm.

Board member Joe Gray asked if the high school committee was still considering requiring a competency test before graduation.

Bev Winkelmann, fifth grade teacher at Isbister, said many teachers did not know how to use the test scores in the classroom. She recommended an in-service workshop for teachers on using tests scores to evaluate the student's progress and weaknesses.

Bill seeks builder warranty

A bill sponsored by State Rep. Thomas H. Brown, whose district includes Canton, to require construction and materials warranties on newly built homes has been positioned for house debate and vote.

However, Brown said he will propose a substitute version of the bill which would include giving home builders the option of providing homeowners insurance as a method of complying with the warranty requirement.

Under the Brown bill the home builder would have to guarantee during the first year that the dwelling would be free of defects caused by faulty work and defective materials due to non-compliance with building standards.

During the first two years of the warranty the home would have to be guaranteed to be free from defects caused by faulty installation of plumbing, electrical, heating and cooling systems.

During the first 10 years of the warranty the dwelling would have to be free of major construction defects, which are spelled out in the bill.

"With the tremendous number of new homes being built in the metropolitan Detroit area and elsewhere in Michigan, there is more need than ever before for legally-defined protections for their buyers," Brown said.

community deaths

Little

Jeffrey Allen Little, 17, of Plymouth, was killed in a hit-and-run accident on Nov. 16. Funeral services were held on Monday, Nov. 20 at the First United Methodist Church of Plymouth with The Rev. Samuel F. Stout officiating. Burial was at Washtenong Cemetery in Ann Arbor.

Funeral arrangements were made by Schrader Funeral Home.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Karl (Darlene) Little; grandmother, Mrs. Maude Little of Clearfield, Penn. and Mrs. Hilda DeWitt of Wayne; brother Leonard J. Little; and aunts and uncles.

Jeffrey was a senior at Salem High School and a member of Explorer Post 1533 and the Salem High School swim team. He was a member of the First United Methodist Church in Plymouth. He was also a Community Crier carrier from March, 1976 to February, 1978.

Memorial contributions can be made to the Salem High School swim team.

Strohl

Lucille F. Strohl, 68, of Plymouth Township, died on Nov. 17 at St. Joseph Hospital. Funeral services were held on Monday, Nov. 20 at the Schrader Funeral Home with The Rev. Henry J. Walch, D.D. officiating. Burial was at Riverside Cemetery.

She is survived by her husband, Max; son, Fred of Plymouth; daughter, Mrs. James (Marcy) Blackburn of Canton; and five grandchildren.

She came to the community in 1958 from Beaver Falls, Penn.

Rizza

Carla Joan Rizza, 35, of Plymouth Township, died on Nov. 15 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Ann Arbor. A memorial service was held on Friday, Nov. 17 at the Divine Saviour Catholic Church in Westland. Arrangements were made by Lambert Funeral Home.

She is survived by her husband, Ronald, W.; parents, Carl and Ann Marz of Dallas, Tex.; brother Michael; and sister, Jodi.

She came to the community 11 years ago and was a teacher for several years at Edsel Ford High School and Religious Education coordinator at St. Mary's of Milford. She was a member of the Divine Saviour Catholic Church.

Manners

Katherine A. Manners, 93, of Plymouth, died on Nov. 15 at Botsford Hospital. A funeral service was held on Nov. 17 at Riverside Cemetery in Plymouth with The Rev. Ted Taylor officiating. Arrangements were made by Schrader Funeral Home.

She is survived by her great niece, Sandra Davis of Plymouth; nieces, Mrs. Edith Tibbatts of Plymouth and Mrs. Richard Shipley of Riverton, N.J.; and nephew, Dr. Robert Christianson of Kingport, Tenn.

Mrs. Manners was an elementary school teacher who came to the community from Chicago in 1938. She was a member of the Eastern Star, Plymouth Chapter No. 115.

Canton bd. delays shop center

BY CHAS CHILD

A shopping center planned for Joy and Sheldon roads was delayed by Canton's Board of Trustees last Tuesday.

And considering the opposition voiced by newly elected board members, the center may be derailed permanently.

Taste yule

A Christmas-candy tasting center will be among the various specialties offered at the Saint John Neumann Parish Christmas bazaar on Saturday, Dec. 2.

The bazaar, open from 9:30 a.m. to 3:30 p.m., will also feature Christmas crafts, dried flower arrangements, a children's-only shop, religious articles, and grandma's attic.

The parish cookbook will also be sold and proceeds will be used to equip the kitchen of the new church under construction on Warren Road between Sheldon and Canton Center roads.

The bazaar will be held at the Miller School gym in Canton.

Jim Donahue, waiting to assume the treasurer's chair, said that sales at the present shopping centers in the township were not good, and that this new one would drag them all down.

However, one of the developers, Cal Jabara of Plymouth, said "I've dreamed of setting a new standard of shopping centers. If ours is better, these others will have to improve their services. This is how business goes."

Trustee-elect Robert Greenstein and Supervisor-elect Noel Culbert also spoke against the project, which prompted Donahue to tell the board that it had a moral obligation to either refuse or delay the project until the new members took office.

The board then voted 4-2 to table the request to approve the shopping center which would contain a food market among other stores and a bank.

Canton Planner Jim Kosteva, said the proposed development's design was good, and recommended approval.

Ending their terms at the meeting were Supervisor Harold Stein, Treasurer Anne Bradley, and Trustees Brian Schwall and Robert Myers.

Salem sprints to Sub-8 crown

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

Continuing its flawless performance record, the Salem girls basketball team defeated Redford Union, 50-44; Allen Park, 55-22; and Trenton, 63-27, this week.

These victories boosted their won-loss record to 19-0 as well as capped the Suburban Eight conference championship. This is the third time in the past four years the Rocks have claimed the title.

Monday's non-league game against Redford Union proved to be the most strenuous game of the three for the Rocks. Using a man-to-man full court press throughout the game, Coach Bob Blohm praised the offensive maneuvers of sophomore Eileen Moore and junior Nan Horwood.

Even though Redford Union had taller players, the Rocks dominated the scoreboard during the first half of the game. At the end of the first quarter, Salem led, 13-9, and at the half, led by 10 points, 32-22.

During the second half the Rocks were hampered by the absence of co-captain Erin Moore who sprained her ankle during the second quarter and then Patti Weidman fouled out, making the Rocks more vulnerable to Redford's attack.

During the second half, Redford Union scored 22 points to Salem's 18, but was unable to pierce the Rocks' lead. High scorers during the game were Nan Horwood with 15 points followed by Weidman with seven, and Doris Hoelschner with eight points.

Both Trenton and Allen Park proved to be little competition for the Rocks last week. "We just played better ball than they did," said Coach Bob Blohm after the games.

In Tuesday night's game against Trenton, Salem and Trenton seemed evenly matched during the first quarter, both teams scoring an even 14 points. But during the second quarter, the Rocks moved out to score 18 points and the Rocks left Trenton behind for the rest of the game.

Center Weidman scored 16 points during the game, with guard Peg Somers contributing 14 points, Erin Moore tallying 13, and forward Cheryl Sobkow shooting 12 points.

On Thursday night, Allen Park barely appeared on the scoreboard, tallying only three, eight, four and seven points in the first, second, third and fourth quarters respectively.

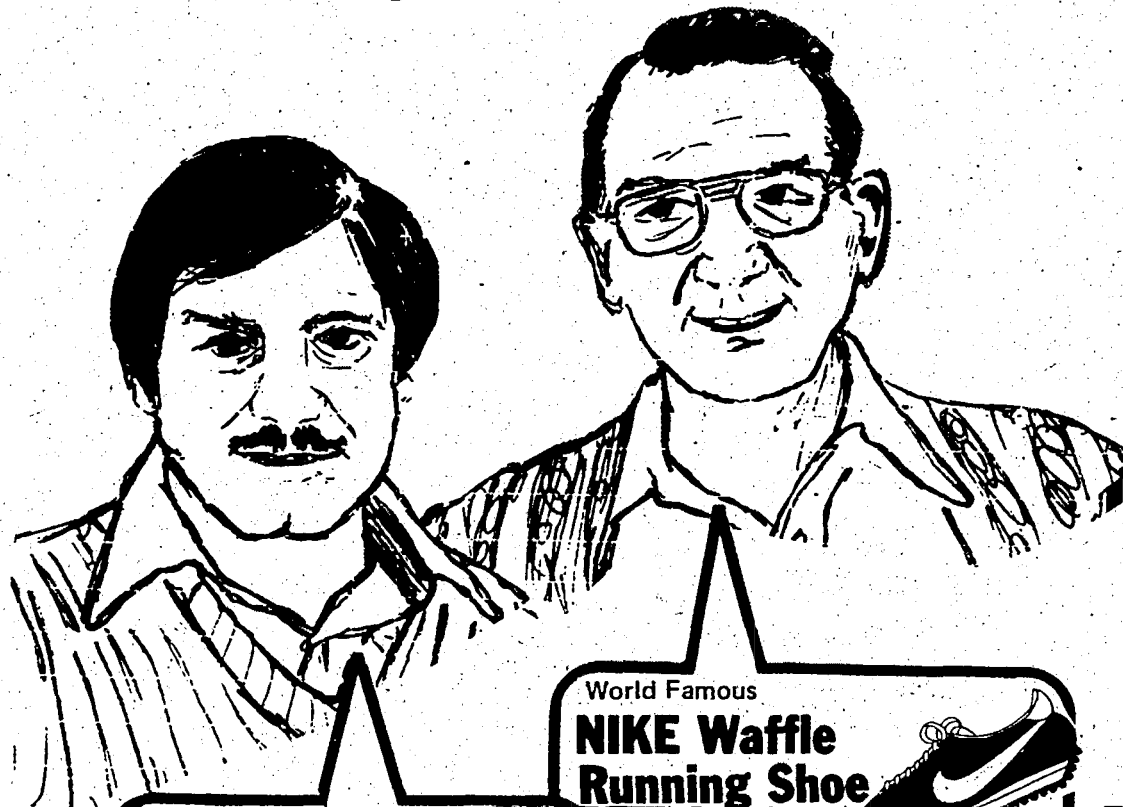

It was the last home game of the season for seniors and they all scored during the game. Co-captain Erin Moore is also the first girl in Salem history to earn a basketball letter for all four years of high school. Forward Diane Goodrich was also back into the Rock line-up following a knee injury at the Bentley game a week ago.

Rounding out the Rock roster is: Peggy Somers, Sara Marks, Joy Gornick, and Jan Boyd.

Canton cagers take Western Six

SALEM'S ERIN MOORE

Two in a row. That's what the Canton girls basketball team did last Tuesday when they trampled the Northville Mustangs, 70-24. The victory gave the Chiefs the Western Six conference title for the second straight year.

Using a pressing and trapping defense Canton jumped to an early 18-7 lead after one quarter of play.

In the second period the Chiefs outscored Northville 12-8 to hold a 30-15 advantage at the half. And in the third quarter Canton put the game out of reach as they ran off 18 points to just one for the Mustangs.

Kathie Peck paced the Canton attack as she netted 12 points, while Jill Pedersen who had 10 points was the only other Chief to score in double figures.

Kelly Heaton, Evie Pasek, and Reggie Ruggiero all added eight points for Canton.

On Thursday the Chiefs dumped Walled Lake Western 73-41 to finish undefeated in the Western Six with a 10-0 mark. Their season mark stands at 17-2.

Swim club wins by seven points

By seven points, the Plymouth-Canton Swim Club beat Belleville, 367-360 on Nov. 13 at home.

Nine and 10 years old first-place winners were: Beth Scheafbauer, Gail Chelian, Cindy Elliott, and Kathy Kennedy in the 100-yard freestyle, in 1:13.8; Kennedy in the 25-yard butterfly in 17.8; and Elliott, Chelian, Lisa Mather and Kennedy in the 100-yard free relay with a time of 1:05.

Boys and girls who are 11 and 12 year old winners were: Tim Collins, Bob Bowling, Jeff Hancock and Joe Shevlin in the 200-yard medley relay with a time of 2:37.4. In the same event, female winners were: Sallie Weimer, Kim Elliott, Laura Wockna and B.J. Bing with a time of 2:33.3.

Other winners in the same age group were: Bowling, 50-yard butterfly, 38.4; Bing, 50-yard fly, 31.8; Collins, Shevlin, Jeff Hancock, Bowling, 200-yard freestyle relay, 2:10.6; Dina Tobin, Kim Elliott, Wockna, Bing, 200-yard freestyle relay, 2:16.8.

In the medley event, 13 and 14 year old boys who won were: Bryan Capnerhurst, Tom Davis, Vince Tobin and Greg Schnurstein with a time of 2:13.8.

Tobin also took the 50-yard butterfly in 29.2, and the team of Schnurstein, Davis, Capnerhurst, and Tobin took a first place in the 200-yard freestyle relay with a time of 1:59.1.

Next meet for the club will be on Nov. 27 at Ypsilanti.

Hewlett Rock MVP

Rich Hewlett was named the Most Valuable Player on the Salem football team for the second straight year at the team's banquet last Tuesday at the Plymouth Elks Club.

Other players who received awards were: Mike Prchlik who was named the Most Improved Player; the coaches award for the player who gives 100 per cent all the time went to Scott Miller, and Scott Piper and David Wilcox shared the award for the best lineman.

Jim O'Brien won a new award, for outstanding play on the specialty teams.

Captains for next year's team will be Craig Stack and Jeff Powers.

Chief wrestlers hope to improve

BY ERIC OLSON
Last year the Canton wrestling team posted its first winning record ever, 6-5, and placed third in the Western Six.

Dan Chrenko is excited about the team's chance of improving on last season's record marks. "We could be really tough," said Chrenko, "this has been the best first week of practice we've ever had here while I've been the coach." If the Chief grapplers stay healthy Chrenko believes the Chiefs can challenge Farmington Harrison and Walled Lake Western for the Western Six crown.

Harrison is the defending conference champion, but Walled Lake Western won all previous Western Six wrestling titles since they joined the conference.

With 10 seniors gone from last year's team Canton has four returning regular starters: Dennis Howell (155-165 lbs.), Tom Harreld (105), George Hamblin (165-178), and Steve Pender (112).

Howell, who posted a 18-16 record a year ago, will serve with Harreld, 22-11 last year, as co-captains.

Others who will play major roles for the Chiefs are: Tim White at 119 to 126 lbs., David Vaughn at 165 lbs., Mike Cannon, and Jay Lee.

"We will be strong at the light and middle weights, but our lack of depth and inexperience at the heavy weights might hurt us," said Chrenko. "There just aren't that many guys at Canton who can fill the heavier divisions."

Chrenko concluded by saying that before the season is over his team will win its share of meets.

They open the season on Tuesday, Nov. 28, at home against Bentley. The meet begins at 6:30.

Swimmers third

Canton girl swimmers captured a third place in the Western Six conference meet last week, but failed to qualify in any individual or medley events for the state competition.

"We were lucky to earn a third place," said Coach Anne Massey after the rounds. "We were fighting against two of the best teams in the state," said Massey referring to Northville, which captured a first place, and Harrison, which swam to a second.

Massey admitted that she had hoped to send two Canton swimmers on to state competition — Kim Massey and Cindy Shelanskey. Massey managed to capture a second in the 500-yard freestyle and third in the 200-yard freestyle, but lacked the endurance to pare her time down enough to qualify.

Co-captain Shelanskey earned a second place in the 100-yard backstroke and an 11th place in the 50-yard freestyle, while co-captain Robbie Bennett took eighth in the 100-yard backstroke.

Senior Jenny North also placed ninth and tenth in the 200- and 500-yard backstroke respectively.

Salem tankers capture Sub-8 title

BY PATTY RADZIK

The trophy for the Sub-urban Eight Champions belongs to the Salem Swimmers again.

Falling 16 points behind Dearborn after Thursday's preliminary round, the Rocks came back on Friday and won the Sub-8 league meet by 30 points.

"Everyone who had to do it, did it," said Coach Chuck Olson. Sarah Stanwood "did it" by breaking a record previously set by her older sister Marion.

The 100-yard freestyle record stood at 56.3 seconds before the meet began. The younger Stanwood actually broke that record in the preliminaries with a time of 56.120 and then the finals, she placed first with a time of 56.201. Mary Ryznar of Belleville finished behind her in second, with a 1:00.72 timing.

Immediately following Stanwood's act, Pam Currie of Edsel Ford swam to a record breaking time of 5:12.03 in the 500-yard freestyle. This record was previously set at 5:15.76 by Shannon O'Connell of Edsel Ford in 1974. Rock Kim Coates finished second in the 500 with a time of 6:06.74.

Friday night's finals began with Karen Koehler, Sue Sparling, Renee Lakatos and Sue Evans swimming to fifth place in the 200-yd. medley relay. Edsel Ford won this race with a 1:59.941 time.

Salem had at least three swimmers in every event, except in the 50-yard freestyle and diving. Second, fifth and eighth place were gained by the Rocks in the 200-yard freestyle. Sharon Ross came in second with a 2:07.285 time, behind Edsel Ford's Pam Currie.

Stanwood won the 200-yard medley relay with a 2:20.572 time with Plymouth also taking 10th and 11th place.

Jill McCann finished fourth in the 50-yd. freestyle, and teammate Linda Frazee placed 11th. Brenda Muldowney won the event in a time of 26.524.

The fifth event of the night saw Natalie McClumphia tally 299.3 points and a fifth place in the diving competition. Lisa Migoski of Trenton won the event with a total of 366.65 points.

McCann won the 100-yard backstroke with a time of 1:06.068. Renee Lakatos placed fourth, Linda Wochna came in seventh and Terri Eudy ended up in 12th.

The meet ended on an up note for Salem when Stanwood, Ross, Coates and McCann won the 400-yard freestyle relay in a time of 3:59.067.

"I'm really pleased with the effort we gave, Olson said. "We swam much better in the finals, and that made the difference. If, in the finals, everyone had stayed in the same spots we were in, we would have lost by at least 16."

Jill McCann, Sarah Stanwood, Sharon Ross and either Kim Coates or Renee Lakatos, will make appearances in the state finals.

"I hope all of them get in the top 12," said Olson. "We have the potential and we've got a shot at it."

Natalie McClumphia also qualified for the diving regionals. The final points standings of Fridays meet were: Salem 251, Dearborn 221, Bentley 199, Edsel Ford 170, Trenton 162, and Belleville 117.

Fruit on sale

The Salem and Canton wrestling teams have begun to sell fruit to help both wrestling programs raise funds to buy better equipment and to help with other expenses.

Fruits included in the sale are grapefruits, oranges, and tangelos. Members of the respective teams are taking orders now and the fruit will be delivered by Dec. 17.

Coaches Dan Chrenko of Canton and Ron Krueger of Salem agree that the fruit would make an excellent Christmas gift and that the community gets something back for its contributions.

The grapefruit is of the Red Ruby variety from Texas, while the navel oranges and tangelos are from Florida. All the fruit is fresh as it is delivered within five days after it is picked.

For more information please call the Salem and Canton high schools at 453-3100.

All the profits from the sales will be divided between the two teams evenly.

Rocks to host cagers

Salem High will host the girls basketball district championships beginning Nov. 27 and running through Dec. 2.

On Monday, Nov. 27 Livonia Churchill will play Canton in the girls district basketball tournament at the Salem gym at 6:30 p.m.

That same night, the Salem team will play John Glenn High School.

The winners of those two games will compete against each other on Thursday, Nov. 30 at 7:30 p.m. for the district crown.

The teams in the tournament are Westland John Glenn, Churchill, Canton, and Salem.

REALTOR

APPRAISAL METHODS
Comedian Buddy Hackett put it nicely: "If everybody had the same opinion, every man would want to marry my wife." So goes the art of appraising the value of property. In the final analysis, every piece of property is different. Basically, there are three methods of arriving at a value estimate.

1. Comparison. A comparison is made as to price, value, and location in relation to other properties in the same neighborhood.
2. Reproduction Cost. How much would it cost to reproduce the structure? Add to this the value of the land and deduct for depreciation.

3. Capitalization. This is used for income property. The value is established by consideration of the present and future income value of the property.

Frequently, the appraiser will use all three methods. No single method can always be depended upon to produce reliable estimates by itself.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at REALTY WORLD, Wm. Decker, Inc. Realtors, 670 S. Main St. Plymouth. Phone: 455 - 8400. We're here to help!

WHEREAS, Title I of the Federal Housing and Community Development Act of 1974 provides that urban counties may receive entitlements for community development funds, and

WHEREAS, the County of Wayne, Michigan may qualify as an urban county as specified in the Act, and

WHEREAS, Act No. 18, PA 1933, Ex. Sess., as amended being Section 125.651 et. seq. of the Michigan Compiled Laws Annotated and Act No. 344 PA 1945 as amended, being section 125.71 et. seq., of Michigan Compiled Laws Annotated is the basic State legislation authorizing the County of Wayne to undertake essential community development and housing assistance activities within its boundaries provided it has an intergovernmental agreement with the specific community, and

WHEREAS, the CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF CANTON wishes to join with the County of Wayne in the planning and implementation of this program, now, therefore, be it

RESOLVED, this 8th day of November, 1978, that the CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF CANTON hereby agrees to participate in this program under the auspices of the County of Wayne for the period of one year from the time of approval of the County's 1979 program application by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development, and be it further

RESOLVED, that the CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF CANTON agrees to allow the County of Wayne to use its population and other demography as specified in the Act and Administrative Regulations governing the use of funds under Title I of the Act for qualification to participate in the program, and be it further

RESOLVED, that the CHARTER TOWNSHIP OF CANTON agrees to cooperate with the County of Wayne in undertaking, or assisting in undertaking, essential community development and housing assistance activities, specifically urban renewal and publicly assisted housing, as contained in the 1979 application.

A motion was made by Flodin and supported by Myers and unanimously carried to adopt the following Addendum to the "Folker House" community development contract:

WHEREAS, Contract 78-16-a-52(4) has been executed between the County of Wayne and Canton Township for the provision of services under the Wayne County Community Development Block Grant Program, and

The Township of Canton has been allocated $12,825.00 under the Special Needs Program of the 1978 HUD grant (B-78-UC-26-0003) and has elected to program these dollars for activities listed in the above contract,

It is hereby agreed by the undersigned that contract 78-16-a-52(4) be increased by $12,825.00.

A motion was made by Flodin and supported by Schwall and unanimously carried to award the bid for the repair of the roof of the Recreation Building to Ducky Roofing Co. in the amount of $1,650.00 as recommended by the Building Department.

A motion was made by Goldsmith and supported by Flodin and unanimously carried to table the request of the 7th Day Adventist Church to solicit funds.

A motion was made by Myers and supported by Goldsmith and unanimously carried to adopt on a trial basis the program of hiring part time water meter readers as outlined by Mr. Gorman.

A motion was made by Myers and supported by Goldsmith and unanimously carried to adjourn at 9:20 P.M.
