School election tomorrow

Vote to decide fate of CEP, grades

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

Thousands of residents in the Plymouth-Canton school district are expected to cast their ballots at the polls tomorrow. The districts 14 polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

On the ballot are three proposals, two bonding propositions for 29 years each and a request for a half-mill increase for an ongoing maintenance program in the school district.

Proposition I asks voters to approve $14,623,000 for building improvements and installing energy-maintenance systems in school buildings throughout the district.

The centralized system, designed to conserve energy, would control heating and air conditioning operations in all buildings. School officials have said the proposed program would pay for itself within five to seven years by reducing energy costs.

Passage of Proposition I has been called "absolutely essential" by members of the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education.

Proposition II, for $7,277,000, is for building additional space at the Centennial Educational Park (CEP) and refurbishing and remodeling Central Middle School for high school students. The school board has not decided for example, which students would attend classes at Central or whether it would be considered a high school annex for special programs or a comprehensive, third high school.

Proposition III asks voters to OK a half-mill increase for 10 years for a district-wide maintenance program.

Depending on the outcome of the election, the school board has said the school district will undergo a number of changes in order to house the district's burgeoning student population. The accompanying chart outlines the effects for each proposition as it relates to various issues such as the expansion of the Extended School Year (ESY) program, grade alignment, and Central Middle School.

The board plans to rent Lowell Junior High School from the Livonia school district in order to increase Plymouth-Canton's housing capacity. Students would attend classes there beginning in the fall of 1981.

Voters will also decide the school district's future grade alignment. If Proposition I passes, but Proposition II is defeated, the grade alignment will change to K-6, 7-9, and 10-12 starting in the fall of 1981. This move would eliminate ninth grade classes at the CEP.

If both Propositions I and II pass, then the Inspector says mail was inadvertently dumped

BY W. EDWARD WENDOVER

About six per cent of the recent Schoolcraft College class schedule mailing was not delivered properly in the Plymouth-Canton Community, say U.S. Postal officials.

In response to a story in last week's Crier, U.S. Postal Inspector Greg Hannah was dispatched to investigate why more than 1,600 Schoolcraft fliers and several handfuls of pamphlets from U.S. Rep. Carl Pursell were found in the dumpster behind the Plymouth-Canton Post Office.

Hannah said his official report, based on discussions with individual mail carriers, post office management and other sources, will say:

*1,604 Schoolcraft class schedules that should have been delivered were "inadvertently" thrown away out of a total mailing of just over 28,000.

*227 Pursell pamphlets "that should have been delivered and were not"

Twp. eyes five plans for police protection

BY CHAS CHILD

Plymouth Township's Board of Trustees heard final arguments on four proposals to provide police protection to the township at a study session Monday night.

But it appears a fifth plan -- prepared by Trustee Maurice Breen -- is now in the running.

The four proposals under consideration are:

1) A contract with the Wayne County Sheriff's Department. For a first-year cost of $261,610, the sheriff's department would provide two full-time patrols minimum, 24 hours per day, seven days per week.

2) A contract with the City of Plymouth's police department. First year estimated price tag: about $230,000 for response service with some subdivision patrols by minimum of three cars.

3) A proposal by Northville Township Lieutenant Kenneth Hardesty to form Plymouth Township's own police force. For $270,000 Hardesty plans to hire nine officers and two police cars. This force would keep one car on the road 24 hours per day, with a second on 20 hours per day.

4) A plan submitted by Michigan State Police Sergeant James Belcher to start the township's own force. Similar to Hardesty's plan, Belcher's proposal calls for hiring 10 full-time officers. The estimated seven-month cost (May 1 through Jan. 1, 1981): $142,449.

Trustee Breen's plan, submitted to the board Monday night, calls for starting a "non-traditional" police force.

The first step would be to hire a full-time police chief. This person would then form a force, in phases, that would use volunteers, reserves, and full-time personnel, as well as perhaps contractual services from, for example, the City of Plymouth's force, said Breen.

The chief must be someone "whose personal philosophy would accept the theory that a police department need not be structured along traditional lines," Breen wrote the board of trustees.

Trustee Lee Fidge said Breen's proposal was "very constructive and meets the needs of the township. We can develop the force to meet our needs as time goes on."

"The concept is great," said Clerk Esther Hulsing, "but where do you get such an administrator-police chief?"

"I've been told such people exist," replied Breen.

With the township's own force, "You can control where you're going," added Breen. "We will be able to stay within our fiscal limitations. And service will be still available from other departments (Michigan State Police and Wayne County Sheriff's Department)."

Supervisor Thomas Notebaert asked the board to be ready to decide how to proceed with providing police to township residents at next Tuesday's board meeting.

THE PROPOSED unified 35th District courthouse would be a copy of the 34th District building in Romulus, above. An advisory committee recently proposed the courthouse be built in the City of Plymouth.

Courthouse plan sent

BY CHAS CHILD

A recommendation to build a unified 35th District courthouse in the City of Plymouth has been forwarded to the five district municipalities.

All five -- the cities of Northville and Plymouth, and the townships of Canton, Northville, and Plymouth -- must approve the plan before the courthouse can be built.

The new building, with an estimated cost of $3,632,775, would house all court, probation, and other district court functions under one roof. Currently, the district's two judges, Dunbar Davis and James Garber, hear cases in three courthouses, in Canton Township Hall, and the city halls of Northville and Plymouth.

According to Garber, a unified court would eventually save considerable money by reducing such operating costs as clerical help, utilities, and others.

A 35th District advisory committee, comprised of one member from each district municipality, considered three sites for the new courthouse: in Canton, at the corner of Joy and Morton-Taylor; in Plymouth Township, at Joy and Haggerty; and in the City of Plymouth, at Plymouth and Haggerty.

Primarily because of its lower cost, the advisory committee recommended the five municipalities choose the city's site. Plymouth Township's proposal has a slightly higher price tag, $3,824,700, while Canton's would cost $4,912,600.

The committee agreed that the new courthouse should be a reproduction, with minor changes, of the 34th District courthouse in Romulus.

Practical Homes made the bid on the Canton plan, while Robinson Rental bid on the Plymouth Township project. The City of Plymouth will arrange its own contracting, said City Manager Henry Graper.

According to Garber, the project could be financed like this: the five district municipalities would form a corporate body, which would issue the bonds necessary to fund construction.

"There is some urgency in moving ahead because of the volatility of the bond market," said Garber.

The Northville Township Board of Trustees reviewed the advisory committee's recommendation Friday, while the board of trustees of Canton and Plymouth townships were expected to consider the proposal at their meetings last night.

Flag flyer gone

The burglar struck again Friday night. The State of Michigan flag flyer at McDonald's restaurant, 220 Ann Arbor Rd., Plymouth, was stolen around 10 p.m. Friday, police report.

On the previous Friday, the restaurant manager told police that the McDonald's

Police hurt, cruisers damaged in chase

Two Plymouth police cars were damaged during the chase and arrest of two robbery suspects last Tuesday.

The chase started when patrol officer Joseph Kahanec spotted a two-door Plymouth in the East Central parking lot in downtown Plymouth about 3 a.m. Tuesday, said the police report.

As he approached the vehicle it immediately drove off, said the report. Kahanec gave chase along with a second Plymouth patrol car.

The chase wound through the city on Church, Adams, Farmer, and Sheldon roads, where the suspect entered M-14, said police. The pursuit ended at the M-14-Gotfredson entrance ramp, where the alleged driver of the car, Gary J. Fanning, rammed both police cars several times, according to the report.

Fanning, of 14121 Washington, Plymouth, was arrested along with a 16-year-old juvenile, said the report.

Found in the suspects' car was a cash box labeled "Growth Works." Sgt. Ralph White of the Plymouth force went to Growth Works, the city's youth center, 271 S. Main St., and discovered the rear door unlocked, police said.

Inside, he found six coin machines had been broken into, several desks pried open, and a calculator worth $100 stolen, said the report.

The damage to the two patrol cars totaled about $1,500, police said.

Canton treasurer to resign

Canton Treasurer Jim Donahue has announced he will resign, probably within two to six weeks.

Suffering from mononucleosis, an ulcer, and stress, Donahue said his doctor ordered him to resign and rest.

He is waiting to leave the job until the Board of Trustees, of which he's a member, passes a new zoning ordinance, now under consideration.

"I don't have a specific date in mind, but I'm sure it won't be more than six weeks and no sooner than two weeks," he said last Monday.

Donahue was elected in November, 1978, to a two-year term.

A political ally of Trustee Robert Greenstein, Donahue has supported farmland preservation, a strict sign ordinance, and township spending limits.

Who will succeed Donahue? Probably Deputy Treasurer Maria Falkiewicz, who lost to Donahue in the 1978 Democratic primary.

"I will be astounded if Falkiewicz is not appointed," said Donahue. "She has done a damned good job."

City manager refines new city budget proposal

BY W. EDWARD WENDOVER

Next year's city of Plymouth budget proposal will be unveiled April 7 at the City Commission meeting.

City Manager Henry Graper has been meeting with city department heads this week to refine details.

Last year, former City Manager Fred L. Yockey proposed a budget calling for a two-mill tax increase which the commission trimmed back to a half mill increase, with another half mill levied as a reserve. Several cutbacks in service were made in that budget.

Graper is faced now with the same pressure between rising costs and the political difficulty of raising taxes. With an expected increase of 17.4 per cent in the city's real property equalized valuation this year however, Graper may be able to hold the budget stable without seeking a hike beyond the 12.243 general operating mills currently levied.

One area which may find some changes in the budget proposed by Graper will be water and sewer rates, which were subsidized in part by a recent sale of the city's former well fields.

The manager said the proposed budget will be formulated on the same basis as Yockey's budgets because there has not been time to change procedures. In the future, Graper said, the city budgets will formulate in a much more simplified manner as he used as city manager in Davolgia.

Former Township supervisor dies

J.D. McLaren, 64, who served two terms as supervisor of Plymouth Township died March 21.

Mr. McLaren owned the longest continuously-owned family business in the Plymouth-Canton Community, the McLaren Lumber & Coal Co., located on 305 N. Main.

Besides his two terms as Plymouth Township supervisor, from 1972-76, he served on the Plymouth Board of Education in the late 1960s.

Funeral services were held March 24 at Schrader Funeral Home with the Rev. Philip Rodgers Magee officiating. Burial was at Riverside Cemetery.

Mr. McLaren is survived by his wife, Willie Jane Kemmerling; his mother, Mrs. Marion L. McLaren, of Plymouth; daughter Cynthia, of Plymouth; son John D., of Hollywood, Calif.; and twin grandsons John D. IV and Charles I. McLaren.

A lifetime member of the community, he belonged to the 1st United Presbyterian Church of Plymouth.

Memorial contributions may be sent to the J.D. McLaren Scholarship Fund, Berea College, Berea, Ky.

If only Prop. II passes, no bonds will be sold

What would happen if Plymouth-Canton voters reject Proposition I at the polls tomorrow, but approve Proposition II?

"(If that happened), it wouldn't look promising for selling the bonds," said Tom Yack, president of the Board of Education. "The school board would be sent back to the drawing table."

Why?

Some of the projects included in Proposition I are considered as stepping stones for projects funded by Proposition II, said Yack.

For example, to expand the Extended School Year (ESY) program, air conditioners have to be installed. The money to install air conditioning equipment is included in Proposition I.

Also the funds to equip Lowell Junior High School with books, chairs, desks, and other supplies are included in Proposition I. The school board has said passage of Proposition I is "absolutely essential."

About $2 million is included in Proposition II to equip Central Middle School for high school students, but that money would probably be diverted to bringing Central up to state-required building codes if Proposition I was defeated and Proposition II passed, said Yack. Funds for the major renovation of Central are included in Proposition I.

If Proposition II alone was passed by the voters, "it just wouldn't fit into our plans," Yack concluded.

Composer unveils 'Passion' in latest work

You might say Robert W. Jones of Schoolcraft College has a "passion" for his art which happens to be the title of his new major work to be premiered in Plymouth next month.

When Bob Jones isn't writing music, he is teaching music or he is performing music.

But when is he not composing? Almost never.

Take "Passion." Originally conceived more than a year ago as a piece for a community chorus, it has been written specifically for the Schoolcraft Community Choir and the Plymouth Symphony Orchestra.

"It has taken a tremendously coordinated effort," Jones said.

"I discussed it with Marilyn Jones (a Schoolcraft colleague but no relation), who directs the choir, and with Wayne Dunlap, then conductor of the Plymouth Symphony.

"Next came funding which we secured through a grant through Dean Ron Griffith of the College's community services.

"Finally, the writing, with the heavy composing compacted into last August, sandwiched between the close of summer music school and the start of the fall semester.

"It's not something you can set aside once you're into it. Concentration is a key factor in composing and you've got to gear your thinking to be able to do it well.

"I've learned my lesson with 'Passion,' no more biggies while school is in session."

Jones's work will be performed April 20 in the Plymouth Salem auditorium. Marilyn Jones will be guest conducting that Sunday.

Other Joneses are involved. Bob's wife, Anne, wrote ten poems for the work based on its biblical text. Dave, Marilyn's husband, did the copying and Christopher, Bob and Anne's 17 year-old son, will be playing string bass with the orchestra.

The Jones "Passion" is based on the Gospel of St. Matthew from the Last Supper through the burial of Christ in the tomb of Joseph of Aramathia. It portrays Christ's passion from the vantage and point of view of the women involved.

Bob Jones joined Schoolcraft as resident composer in 1969. He has produced 30 pieces since then, including "Mass in Motion" in 1974, "Pilgrimage," a Bicentennial opera in 1976, and a ballet, "Burning Tree," written with Schoolcraft English instructor Ralph Kelley in 1976 for the Plymouth Symphony.

Besides composing, teaching, and performing, he is organist at the First Presbyterian Church of Plymouth.

AAA supervisor

arrested, charged

The branch office supervisor of Plymouth's Automobile Club of Michigan (AAA) office was arrested yesterday on charges of embezzling more than $46,000, State Police report.

Arrested was Alison Kase, 52, of 2232 Wilshire, Westland. She was arraigned in 35th District Court shortly after she surrendered yesterday afternoon to State Police at the Northville post.

According to Trooper Dorothy McAllen, Patrick Kelly, an AAA auditor, discovered the missing money in a routine review of the funds of the branch office, located at 44511 W. Ann Arbor Rd., west of Sheldon.

Further details were unavailable at press time.

School board considers demotion

Brian Kidston, assistant principal at Central Middle School may be demoted from an administrator to a teacher.

The Plymouth-Canton Board of Education has passed a resolution saying it will "consider the non-renewal of his administrative contract." Furthermore, it said Kidston, a doctor in education, "has refused and failed to participate in a program of assistance developed for him in accordance with the Plymouth-Canton Administrator's Collective Bargaining Agreement."

"I'd just as soon not go to court," said Kidston. Ann Arbor attorney Ray Bishop is helping Kidston prepare for his hearing with the school board, scheduled for late April.

Kidston said there were "seven or eight issues to be discussed," but declined further comment. "They're trying to paint me as insubordinate and incompetent.

"I have a fundamental commitment to my profession," he said.

Fire cost $15,000

It cost the City of Plymouth some $15,000 to fight the Penniman Avenue Shops blaze on Feb. 16.

Although the fire, which police say was caused by arson, is still under investigation, preliminary figures on the cost of the blaze have been tabulated.

Plymouth Fire Chief Roy Hall estimated the cost in equipment used at the late-night blaze was about $6,300 while reporting that the actual expense in manpower was $4,850.

City DPW Chief Ken Vogras said his department registered $2,700 in the cost of water used on the fire and $1,300 in manpower and supplies (such as salt on the streets and parking lot).

When cooking with wine, keep in mind that most of the alcohol will evaporate during cooking, leaving the true flavor of the wine. Therefore don't ruin your dish by using a so called "cooking wine" or a very poor quality table wine. "Cooking Wine" has salt and other additives which can be uncomplimentary to your dish. The cheap wine will leave it's unpleasant after taste.

Use the wine you plan to drink with your meal in your cooking, or use leftover wine from yesterday or the day before. The result will be a rich, mellow, flavorful sauce. LAND OWNERSHIP PRO AND CON

We have often stated that ownership of raw land is a great way to earn profits when you sell. However, it should be emphasized that there are other financial realities to consider before purchasing. Remember that money is made on raw land only when you sell. During the holding time, there is no income and no cash flow.

A cash outlay is required for property taxes, insurance and mortgage payments. There is no deduction for depreciation.

Does this mean that we are suddenly changing our mind about profit potential of land? On the contrary, let us reemphasize that with very few dollars invested, it is possible to make a small killing on land through the use of land options, leverage and acquisition just prior to change in land-use. And you can sell off the benefit at the lower capital gains rates on the profit. And while you are holding the property, you can deduct the amount of interest and taxes from your taxable income. Also it takes almost none of your time in management.

City police layoff rumors untrue

BY W. EDWARD WENDOVER

The talk of layoffs in the City of Plymouth Police Department appear to be nothing more than misinterpreted instructions.

Faced with ongoing negotiations with Plymouth Township over providing police protection there, an unsettled police union contract (which expired eight months ago) and the requirement to present a proposed city budget for 1980-81, City Manager Henry Graper last week asked Police Chief Tim Ford to evaluate staffing possibilities.

Graper said these included cutting back personnel, switching back to five eight-hour days from the current four 10-hour day weeks and other measures.

"All I'm doing is looking at every plausible alternative," the manager said. "There's nothing being put into effect."

Apparently the police department employees became alarmed when the lieutenants were in turn asked by Ford to draw up a shift schedule with four fewer patrolmen. Photographs of the three newest officers were covered over by their colleagues on the wall in the department office.

Representatives of the patrolmen said the rumored cutbacks were being made to either help sell city residents on providing police service to the township, to scare the police union into settling a contract, or both.

"It was not used for either tactic," Graper asserted.

"I have to present a budget. I have to look at all these prerogatives."

Graper admitted that a signed union contract would make it easier both to plan the city budget and to negotiate a contract for providing police protection to the township.

"We have to have it behind us so I'll have a set figure to work with," he said.

By knowing the salary levels for police officers, Graper said the plan to add seven more patrolmen to the city force in order to expand into the township could then be costed out more exactly.

The city's current offer to the township calls for a set fee with a month-by-month re-evaluation and adjustment, if necessary. One of the adjustments would be for changes in labor costs.

But if that figure were known, Graper said, "you just come out and say this is what it's going to cost. I have to have a signed (police union) contract to do that."

Negotiations between the city and its policemen, who are being represented by the Police Officers Association of Michigan after having dumped the Teamsters, are scheduled to resume in two weeks.

In the meantime, Graper said, no layoffs -- as rumored -- are contemplated. The manager said the police department budget for the 1979-80 fiscal year is currently under projections slightly.

No cop layoff

THE NEWEST PATROLMEN in the City of Plymouth had their photographs covered by their colleagues who believed an administrative look at possible cutbacks meant impending layoffs. The city maintains that no such layoffs are planned but that all staffing arrangements must be examined in light of unsettled police union contract, extending police protection into the township, and developing next year's city budget. School secretaries decide contract Monday

Plymouth-Canton school secretaries will decide whether to ratify a new contract agreement at a meeting Monday, March 31.

According to Cheryl Chance, president of the Plymouth-Canton Association of Educational Office Personnel, the members of the union will vote on the settlement late Monday afternoon.

Chance did not reveal further details about the contract. The union's contract expired last summer and its 90 members had been working under a contract extension.

The school board will vote the new contract after the secretaries vote on it. It may be considered by the school board at its next meeting Monday, April 14.

If the secretaries ratify it, only the bus drivers and teachers will still be left without contract settlements.

Honored police employees collect overtime

City of Plymouth police personnel who were honored with citations at the last City Commission meeting are being paid overtime for appearing to receive their awards.

City Manager Henry Graper and Police

Chief Tim Ford confirmed that some of the six police officers and dispatchers honored for their work at the Penniman Avenue Shops fire had turned in time slips for the overtime appearance.

Vote 'Yes' on propositions I & III; 'No' on II

THE COMMUNITY CRIER: March 26, 1988

Plymouth-Canton voters face a complicated and confusing ballot at the polls tomorrow.

The Crier endorses a YES vote on Proposition I, a NO vote on Proposition II, and a YES vote on Proposition III.

School officials have mapped out sound plans for housing the district's swelling population. We support Proposition I because it includes: renting Lowell Junior High School from Livonia; realigning the grades; renovating Central Middle School; and, installing an energy-management system in the school district.

Renting Lowell Junior High from Livonia is an innovative and creative use of resources. Most importantly, these plans take into account the voters' reluctance to build more schools which, in the future, could prove burdensome.

Because of overcrowded classes at the high schools, we support the move to realign grades. These conditions could be relieved as early as the fall of 1981 by grade shifts.

Even though staunch defenders of middle school say their curricula may be harmed by changing the grade structure, we think putting more and more students at the high schools may prove more detrimental.

It's also wise to sign up for renovation at Central as a middle school now rather than wait until inflation hikes costs up even further. Even though renovation will cost about $6 million, Central Middle School is worth it; the costs of renovating the school could never replace it and repairs are long overdue.

Installing an energy-management system throughout the district may prove to be cheaper in the long run. Like putting insulation in your home, the system could pay for itself within a few years. Such a system would not waste the taxpayer's money; it would help save taxpayers' money.

We are more skeptical, however, of the supposed need to put in air-conditioning units in schools slated for the Extended School Year (ESY) program. Because of recent mandates by the federal government on temperatures in public buildings, school officials may want to hesitate before installing air conditioners in ESY schools. Spiraling energy costs may force all of us -- including teachers and students -- to sweat it out in the summer.

For these reasons, voters should approve Proposition I.

For many of the same reasons, The Crier does not support Proposition II.

Although we support the renovation of Central Middle School, the political issues around its use as a high school are touchy. Which students would attend classes there? Would those students be shuttled back and forth between the high schools and Central? If so, wouldn't that be a tremendous waste of gas and employes' time? Could it possibly be set up as a comprehensive third high school and be respected as an equal with Salem and Canton?

The school board has been decidedly vague on these issues. The board's indecisiveness is a clue to the sparks that could fly.

Voters should also be aware of approving Proposition II without its ally, Proposition I. Although the dollar signs look tempting and show Proposition II is $7 million less than Proposition I, such a vote would be wasted.

This pitfall could have been avoided if issues such as grade alignment had been put on the ballot as advisory questions. We support the idea of putting these issues to a vote of the people; however, by tying the issues in as an intrinsic part of the propositions, the ballot is too confusing.

Tomorrow's ballot has the potential for driving voters away rather than luring them to the polls simply because it is so confusing.

Placing advisory questions on the ballot would have cleaned up the ballot tremendously and residents would have a clear-cut idea of what they voted on. Advisory questions would also help define the central issue in this election -- whether taxpayers will dole out more money for housing more students.

We also support a YES vote on Proposition III, the half-mill increase for a long-term maintenance program in the district. In the past, those funds have been diverted to other, more pressing needs; however, this proposition would assure that schools be kept up for the next 10 years. In fact, with the cutbacks in state aid and the millage rollback due to the Headlee Amendment, the school board may be wise to consider asking for another increase in the June election.

Although the issues on the ballot are confusing, think long and hard. The Plymouth-Canton schools deserve your support at the polls tomorrow. VOTE.

Present self-serve ordinance OK

EDITOR:

As of late there has been a considerable amount of publicity over the self-serve gasoline problem. The Canton Board of Trustees and Supervisor (except for two who shall remain nameless) are beating the issue to death.

If one stands back and looks objectively at the problem, there is no problem at all. Leave the ordinance as it stands.

Why pump your own gas when you can get it pumped in Canton for the same price as self-serve in Plymouth? Wayne has no self-serve ordinance either. We're not alone.

We would be a little "crazy" to allow self-serve to pass.

When the temperature dips to the miserable teens and sub-zero, do you want to stand out there, pump your gas, and then, add insult to injury, by having to stand in line to pay for it, freezing all the time?

Not only that, but recently some self-serve stations have instituted a new policy of pay first, and if you use less gas, stand in line again for a refund. Do you want that?

If perchance, the wife is filling the gas tank and two or three pre-schoolers are in the car, this could lead to disaster.

She may have forgotten to pull the keys. Children love steering wheels and keys. Suddenly the motor starts and there is a possible explosion. Or, very possibly the car might begin to lurch to goodness knows where? Children are very curious.

At times gas pumps do malfunction, and gas has been known to fly backward, drenching the person pumping. Ladies, when you are all dressed up, would you appreciate this?

This self-serve ordinance can do nothing but pour more money into the oil companies' and large chain stores' pockets. It would mean a reduction of gas attendants. Less employees mean more profits. Our teens need these jobs for beginning employment.

I will reiterate my original statement. There is no self-serve gas problem in Canton. Leave the ordinance stand as is. For those of you who wish (possibly) faster service on weekends, go into Plymouth and pump your own.

Crier decides endorsements after staff confab

How does The Crier make its endorsements on election issues? Thursday afternoon the editorial staff held an endorsement meeting, open to all Crier employees, to discuss the three proposals on the ballot in tomorrow's school election.

During the meeting, the pros and cons of each proposal were weighed. Also, the staff discussed other approaches, such as using advisory questions for issues such as grade alignment, that could have been put on the ballot by the school board.

In making The Crier's final endorsement, each staff member at the meeting had one vote. Separate votes were taken on all three proposals. Today's endorsement is a reflection of the ideas discussed by the staff at Thursday afternoon's meeting.

The Crier's endorsement is not intended to be a final answer for any Plymouth-Canton voter. It is one opinion from a staff which has followed the story of the school district's needs and the decision-making process of the school board for months and months. Consider The Crier's endorsement along with opinions from your friends, neighbors, and other residents in the district.

Even more important than how you cast your ballot in tomorrow's election is that you DO cast your ballot. Get out and vote. The polls are open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. A democracy, like a chain-link fence, is only as strong as its weakest link.

'Tis the season -- for political manure spreader

It is that season when mankind pelts itself intellectually and emotionally with clods of dried manure -- election year.

As the politicians begin crawling out from under wherever they hide during the dry season, the tide begins to rise.

Two weeks ago, the Plymouth City Commission voted to install flood warning devices on the Tonquish Creek. Let us hope the mechanisms register more than the spring rain runoff in the ditch and will warn us when the political manure level begins to rise beyond reasonable limits.

This time of year -- with the election of every Plymouth and Canton Township office, U.S. and state representation positions, Wayne County offices and two school board seats up for grabs -- even the smallest, least-important issues take on exaggerated importance because hopefuls are testing the winds.

And the winds, prior to election time, are foul indeed.

Perhaps we of the media are more sensitive to the increased manure spreading . . . after all, a lot more of it gets flung at (and, some say, by) us in the hopes of winning support. But nonetheless, even we wonder if there isn't a better way.

A lottery has been suggested as one possible alternative to the present elective method. The strongest argument we hear for the luck of the draw, however, is that it couldn't be any worse than what we've got now.

Until something better is implemented, the elections will roll on.

So be prepared between now and November to see the tide rising as the manure spreaders crank up to full speed.

'The Music Man' dances this weekend

"The Music Man" will dance across the stage this weekend at the Salem High School Auditorium. The musical, staged by the theater and music departments at the Centennial Educational Park (CEP), will open Thursday night at 8 p.m.

Other performances of Meredith Wilson's story will be staged Friday and Saturday nights. About 200 students have worked on the production of "The Music Man" -- doing everything from designing and painting the sets to practicing in the orchestra.

Set in the quaint town of River City, Iowa during the summer of 1915, the show features the relatively harmless antics of a con artist named Harold Hill.

Hill, portrayed by Pat Collins, steps off the train in Iowa and declares that "there's trouble in River City." After his arrival, Hill changes the lives of nearly every citizen in the sleepy burg.

Hill, or Professor Hill as he prefers to be called, is a music man who promotes boys' bands, complete with uniforms and instruction manuals, as well as his own teaching style which he has dubbed "The Think System."

Hoodwinking River City residents, from the school board members to the ladies' league, Professor Hill turns on all of his charm. His toughest critic is a perceptive librarian, played by Laura Bird. Cathy Handyside portrays the librarian's Irish mother Mrs. Paroo, and Brad Russell is also part of the Paroo family.

Featured during the show will be well-known tunes such as "76 Trombones," "Wells Fargo Wagon," "Marian the Librarian," and "Pickalittle, Talkalittle."

River City townspeople are played by: Randy Lamb and April Lewis as Tommy and Zaneeta, a pair of turn-of-the-century Romeo and Juliets; Michael Davis as the pompous Mayor Shinn; Kurt Schubert as Professor Hill's right-hand man; Sandra

He promotes boys' bands along with his own teaching style dubbed 'The Think System.'

Gottwald as Mayor Shinn's flighty wife; and Kathy Benson, Mary Cleveland, Pam Grimm, and Erika Odom are the ladies' league members.

Bill Clemmons, Tom Page, Mark Funk, and Mike Mitchell are the members of the River City School Band.

Working backstage are Amie Kemezis and Charlotte Cotter assistant directors. April Lewis is the assistant choreographer; Mike Kobylark is in charge of construction; Cathy Handyside led the painting crew; Ann Marie Roberts found costumes; Bill Clemmons worked on publicity; Chris Janovsky and Laura Bird assembled props; and Jim Martin worked on the lights.

Aiding students in their efforts were CEP teachers Betty Weideman, vocal director, Carl Battishill, orchestra conductor, Gloria Logan, director and choreographer, and Jim Kaiser, master electrician. Assisting as costume designer is Linda Dwyer Gianatti.

Tickets, at $3 each, are on sale at the door. Curtain times for Friday and Saturday performances at 8 p.m.

Come to the animal fair

"Come to the Animal Fair" is the theme for the Dunning-Hough Library's Spring Storytime.

Registration will be Wednesday, April 2nd at 10 a.m. Parents must come in person to register their child for either the Wednesday or the Thursday session.

Storytime will begin April 9 or April 10, (depending on which session is chosen) at 10:15 a.m. and will run for six weeks. Each session lasts about 30-40 minutes.

Children must be 3½-5 years old and a resident of Plymouth, Plymouth Township, or Canton Township. Only those children not in the Winter Storytime are eligible to register April 2. Those in the Winter Storytime may call the library on Saturday, April 5th to see if there are any openings.

This storytime will feature stories, movies, fingerplays, and songs about animals. The storyteller will be Pam Rawlinson.

Microbes are unseen friends

Harold Rossmore, Professor of Environmental and Industrial Microbiology at Wayne State University, will lecture at Schoolcraft College's Waterman Campus Center, 18600 Haggerty Road, Livonia at 8 p.m. on April 14.

Rossmore's subject will be the title of his book, "Microbes, Our Unseen Friends," in which he describes these minute life forms as friends and asserts it is time the public becomes aware that, while they can indeed cause disease, life would be tough without them.

The lecture is free and open to the general public.

LOUISE AND FRED SMITH

Smiths herald 70 years

BY JACQUELYNN BOYLE

Fred and Louise Smith have seen a lot of changes over the years. But one thing hasn't changed. Married in 1910, the couple has been together ever since and will mark their 70th wedding anniversary March 28.

The couple plans to celebrate the occasion with a quiet family gathering -- as quiet as can be expected with two children. Beatrice Gardner of Plymouth and Lillian LaLonde of Sault Ste. Marie, seven grandchildren, 21 great-grandchildren, eight great-great-grandchildren and their respective families.

Louise says the reason their marriage has been so successful is that both she and Fred have kept busy. Fred retired from American Motors 22 years ago and Louise has held down the fort at home.

"Time has just passed," she said. "These past few years have gone by so fast."

Fred and Louise were married 70 years ago in her home in Sault Ste. Marie. Shortly after that they moved to Detroit and then to Plymouth, where they have lived for almost 50 years. Louise said they've owned two farms, the last one located on Joy Road where the Calvary Baptist Church now sits.

Don LaLonde, one of the Smiths' grandchildren, said some of his happiest childhood memories were of times spent on the farm.

"We always came down from Sault Ste. Marie and spent time on the farm during the summer," he recalled.

Although both Louise and Fred have suffered serious illnesses in the past few years, they still manage to keep abreast of the times. Louise said that she hasn't felt well lately, but her granddaughter, Miriam LaLonde, says this isn't true.

"Don't let her fool you -- they don't let any grass grow under their feet," she said. "They are both avid sports fans and can tell you any fact about hockey or baseball. Grandpa also has a garden, where he grows beautiful roses.

"Grandma always keeps up on the latest fashions. Even though she's got a closetful of clothes, she's still buying new ones. She's very sharp," she said.

Does Louise have any advice for young married couples today?

"We just enjoy life -- our home and our children," she said. "You just have to live each day as it comes."

Rock musical opens Friday

"Godspell," the musical version of the Gospel According to St. Matthew, will be staged by the Plymouth Theatre Guild March 28 and 29 and April 4 and 5 at Central Middle School. All performances will begin at 8 p.m.

The rock musical version of the Gospel stories will center on Jesus, portrayed by tenor Michael Dixon. The story is particularly well-suited for Easter because many of the stories are on the trials of Jesus; says Vi Roberts, publicist.

Featured during the show will be music by the group, Freeway. On electric guitar are Tom Kasza, Bill Wrobel, Tim Augustyn, and John Bargiel. Playing percussion is Paul Larsen and Bruce A. Scudder is on the piano.

Scudder, who is also the director, has participated at honor seminars at the Oberlin Music Conservatory and the Julliard Music Conservatory.

As the director, Scudder stresses audience participation. Because the audience is an integral part of the production, he says, no curtains will be used during the performance. Actors and actresses will enter and exit through the audience and they will be invited to join by clapping hands with some of the songs. Also, before the show, players will entertain the spectators with instrumental selections in the lobby.

Jeff Wilson, 13, and Janai Stepp, 10, will also be appearing as clowns in "Godspell." Jeff is a student at Central Middle School and has appeared in "Tom Sawyer" and "Velveteen Rabbit" at school.

A fifth grader at Gallimore School, Janai has performed with the Saline Area Players.

She also wrote a play, "Count Miro's Secret," which was produced by the Wayne State University Speech Department on the radio.

Other players in the cast include: Sandy Kinkead as Socrates; David Higginbotham as St. Thomas Aquinas; Melody R. Harris as Martin Luther; Dave Dixon; Nichele Pilon as Gibbon; Nancy Sievert; Karen Groves as Jean-Paul Sartre; Mark Brzezinski; and Jim Crawford as John the Baptist and Judas.

Working behind the scenes on "Godspell" are Producer Clemie Cyburt along with Kelly Hannah, assistant director; Helen Lilgergren set designer; Chuck Miller, set construction; Kirsten Noomey, make-up; Robyn Holley, costumes; Vi Roberts, publicity; David Ide, posters; Robin Galick, programs, Ed Neumer, props; and Roscoe DeMars and Martin Keasel, lights.

Tickets are $3.50 for adults and $2.50 for students under 18 and senior citizens. Groups of 20 or more will receive a reduced price.

Tickets can be purchased at the door on the night of the performance or at the Plymouth Cultural Center or by calling, 455-2133 or 261-2875.

Knights aid mental health

The fifth annual fund drive to assist Mental Health Week locally and in Michigan will be conducted by the Father Victor Renaud Council of the Knights of Columbus on March 28, 29 and 30, Donald German, council Grand Knight, announced.

Under the program, which is carried out in most of the 202 K.C. councils in Michigan, people are asked to donate money to the mentally retarded and are given a Tootsie Roll candy in appreciation of the gift.

Eighty per cent of the net income from the donations is retained by the local council for distribution to area groups and agencies.

Last year, about $6,000 was collected and donated to the Plymouth Opportunity House. The rest is forwarded to the State Council of the Knights of Columbus to meet expenses and make donations in behalf of all the 65,000 Knights in Michigan.

Citizens will be able to recognize the Knights and Plymouth-Canton Area National Honor Society Students and their helpers during the drive because they will be dressed in colorful hats, carrying cannisters resembling a Tootsie Roll candy and wearing yellow aprons emblazoned with "K of C Help the Mentally Retarded."

Tee off for spring Y classes

Plymouth Community Family YMCA has opened registration for its spring and summer classes. Several new classes are being offered, such as finger calculating, assertiveness training and golf leagues, in addition to many other classes.

Golf leagues, open to adults 16 years and older, will play at Brooklane Golf Course. The women's league will meet on Mondays beginning May 5 for 16 weeks at 9 a.m. This session cost $9 for members and $14 for non-members. The men's and women's league will meet Thursdays beginning May 8 for 18 weeks at 5:30 p.m. Fees for this session are $10 for members and $15 for non-members.

Finger calculating, the Korean math system also known as Chisanbop, is being offered during three sessions beginning April 16. The eight-week sessions, open to third through fifth grade students, will meet from 4 to 5 p.m. The two six-week sessions, one open to seventh through ninth grade students and the second for adults, run from 5 to 6 p.m. and 7 to 8 p.m. Fees are $11 for members and $13 for non-members for the six-week session and $13 for members and $15 for non-members for the eight-week session.

An assertiveness training session, meeting one day on Saturday, May 3 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the Geneva Presbyterian Church, will provide an opportunity for role-playing and sharing ideas. Taught by a practicing therapist from Ann Arbor, the seminar costs $12 for members and $15 for non-members.

For further information on times and schedules, call 453-2904.

School board sets trustee election date June 9

Two trustees will be elected to the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education on Monday, June 9.

Monday night the school board passed a resolution setting the election date. The terms of Vice-President Richard Arlen and Trustee Flossie Tonda will expire at the end of June. Both have announced that they will seek re-election.

Any registered Plymouth-Canton voter can apply for one of the four-year posts. Petitions can be picked up at school board offices, 454 S. Harvey St., Plymouth, weekdays from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. They must be turned with the signatures of 26 other registered voters from the community.

The filing deadline is Monday, April 7 at 4 p.m.

School vote tomorrow

grade structure would remain the way it is now at K-5, 6-8, and 9-12. Included in Proposition II are funds to build approximately 40 additional classrooms at the CEP.

Funds to expand the ESY program are also included in Proposition I along with money to purchase buses, renovate roofs at some schools, buy 20 portable classrooms, and renovate Central Middle School to state-required building code standards including plumbing, wiring, heating, and roof repairs.

The accompanying chart includes the tax increases for a $70,000 home, assessed at $35,000. The costs do not include about 1.32 mills to be rolled back because of the tax limitations imposed by the Headlee Amendment.

Because of the rollback, school officials have estimated the district will lose about $1,098,000 in expected revenues based on the current SEV (state equalized valuation).

In addition, because the SEV per pupil increased so fast based on projected enrollments for next year, state aid will decrease. This means that local taxpayers will pay higher school district taxes because of increased assessments on their homes.

The figures on the chart do not include the increases in assessments because the SEV has not been announced yet by county and state officials.

The tax increases were estimated by Ray

Hoedel, assistant superintendent for business in the school district.

For information on where to vote, call school district offices at 453-0200.

Hospitalized second grader transferred

Matthew Klepack, the seven-year old boy who fell about 17 feet from a stairway bannister at Starkweather School, has been transferred from St. Mary Hospital in Livonia to Mott Children's Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Florence Beier, a Plymouth-Canton schools' spokesperson, reported he is "fully-conscious, alert, and he speaks and smiles."

Doctors are continuing to perform tests to determine damage, she said. Beier also reported that Matthew "has little use of his left side."

Matthew, a second grader, is the son of George and Kathleen Klepack of Plymouth. He accidentally tumbled over the bannister on the second floor at Starkweather and fell to the first floor in late February suffering fractures on the right side of his skull.

According to the principal, Matthew returned to the second floor to get his coat to go outside after lunch and jumped up on the bannister to slide down.

4-H leader attends conference

Alan Stuart of Plymouth was among seven Wayne County 4-H leaders who attended the 1980 4-H Leadermete conference held at Michigan State University, Feb. 29-March 2.

The purpose of the conference was to recognize 4-H leaders for their years of service to the 4-H program and acquaint them with new or innovative 4-H programs and activities they can utilize on the county or local level.

Census forms mailed this week

Don't forget to return those census forms.

The U.S. Post Office will be mailing census forms to every address in the Plymouth-Canton Community this week. And Bureau of Census officials are asking all persons to return them promptly on April 1.

Since many federal grants are allocated according to a municipality's population, local officials are especially urging persons to fill out the forms and return them.

Moreover, the census figures will also determine the balance of power in Wayne County representation. Suburban officials believe the balance will shift to the out-County areas after the count is taken and the county is redistricted.

Have census questions? Call Canton Twp.

Canton residents who have questions on filling out their census forms may want to call Canton Township Hall this weekend.

Jaycees will answer questions on Saturday and Sunday, March 29 and 30, from noon to 5 p.m. Residents can call 397-1000 for help.

Residents should receive their census forms in the mail on Friday, March 28, said Tim Orbacki, a member of the Canton Complete Count Committee and a Jaycee.

Twp. hunting ban may include farm season

Hunting in Plymouth Township may be banned from March 1 through Oct. 19 each year to protect farmers during planting and harvesting seasons.

Township trustees were expected to approve this additional ban at last night's meeting.

Hunting is currently banned east of Ridge Road, south of the M-14 expressway, and in a triangular area south of Ann Arbor Road and west of Ridge Road.

The hunting ban was extended from east of Beck Road to east of Ridge Road about a month ago, however some residents have favored extending the ban throughout the township.

The Hunting Area Control Committee has recommended one exclusion to the proposed seven-month ban on hunting. It suggested trustees allow shooting at target ranges, such as the nearby Conservation Club on Napier Road, throughout the year.

New fire truck 'broken in'

THE CITY OF PLYMOUTH'S new fire truck, a $240,000, 100-foot aerial platform, was paid for Friday. Although it had arrived a week earlier, the city couldn't use the machine pending final payment and insurance coverage clearance. That was finalized Friday and the following evening, in response to a request for mutual aid from the City of Northville, the truck rolled for the bakery fire there. Plymouth Chief Roy Hall said the aerial wasn't needed after all once it got there, but noted how close the timing was. (Crier photo by Robert Cameron)

Mailbox disappears from post

U.S. Postal authorities report that a mail box was stolen from Brougham Manor apartments last Friday.

According to U.S. Postal Inspector Greg Hannah, the box was taken off its post.

He said the theft of federal property could result in a prison sentence and asked the person (s) responsible to return the mail box and its contents, even if anonymously.

Mail dumping 'inadvertent'

were replaced with extra copies in all but 40 instances "after the article came out."

"Four out of 62 routes had either Schoolcraft or Pursell mailings shorted because the custodial staff "inadvertently" threw away deliverable mail and that "carriers had not registered the problem with management."

"The investigation into complaints with delivery is "not through."

Hannah's report will be filed with regional authorities for the post office in Chicago and was implemented by a request from Pursell's office. Both Pursell and Schoolcraft were alerted to problems with their mailings by The Crier which was itself tipped to the dumpster contents by an anonymous phone call.

Schoolcraft's director of college relations, David Heinzman, said this was not the first time mailings from the college had been found in the dumpster behind the post office.

Plymouth-Canton Postmaster John A. Mulligan said last week the mailed pieces in the dumpster were "extras" delivered in excess of the number of postal patrons.

Heinzman said postal authorities supplied the number of postal patrons and that the class schedule was bundled by routes with each route getting the exact number required.

One of the bundles photographed by The Crier in the dumpster was still wrapped with the original plastic strapping and bore a route sheet indicating the route number and number of pieces for the route.

Mulligan said last week after being shown the photo and checking on delivery that route "had full coverage." But Hannah said he found that was not the case.

That route, like the others, had either part or all of their Schoolcraft and/or Pursell fliers thrown away. "I don't think there was an intentional dumping of deliverable mail," Hannah said. "It was an inadvertent mistake."

"I don't think it was planned by the management or the custodian," he said.

One carrier who called The Crier after the story appeared said the custodian was being treated unfairly. "I'd hate to see an innocent person fired," he said.

Mulligan declined to discuss the situation until Hannah's report is completed and officially filed. He did say, however, "Our carriers do an outstanding job and they are interested in protecting the mail and seeing every piece gets delivered correctly."

Hannah said that although he found the Schoolcraft mailings were dumped, it was up to the local postmaster to decide whether the mailing fees would be rebated.

"I don't have any comment on that," Mulligan said.

Shot records needed

Immunization records of elementary and middle school students in Plymouth-Canton schools must be turned in to school nurses by April 14, officials say. High school students have met the state requirements for immunization records.

This week's tally shows about 2,640 elementary and middle school students who still have deficient records with the schools. Notifications of deficiency were sent on Feb. 21 to the parents of 4,400 students.

Procedures for elementary and middle school students are somewhat different than those for high school students, although the younger students also face exclusion from school if they do not meet the state requirements, say officials. Elementary and middle school parents must have records signed by a physician, public health nurse, or other health provider say officials. They may not reconstruct early records themselves or get records from a school nurse, officials add.

Salem tracksters eye league title

Salem's 1980 boys track squad may be lacking a few key performers from last season but coach Gary Balconi still thinks his squad has a lot of potential to do as well as that team did.

Last year the Rocks were second in the Suburban Eight League which has been dominated by Dearborn schools for many years.

"We lost some outstanding performers but we have some quality people and the guys are really working hard," said Balconi. "We are waiting for the weather to break so we can get the clock on the team."

"We are a large team but small at top with just about a dozen seniors," continued the coach.

Right now the squad counts near 100 but Balconi said 35 of those are freshman and the rest are fairly young.

"I guess we have an awful lot of unknown quantities," said Balconi.

The team's tri-captains this year are Greg Lipka, a sprinter and relay specialist, John Forzan, a strong shot putter, and Paul Hess a distance man.

"John (Forzan) has improved tremendously from last year and Paul Hess is the leader of all our distance people. Two mile is his best event," Balconi said.

Other seniors for Salem include Phil Anderson in both the high and low hurdles, Greg Stack in the sprint events and Jeff Haertel in the mile. Rob Neu, senior, will continue in both the high jump and long jump for the team. He is the defending league champion in the high jump.

There are also some untested seniors on the team. Mark Ross and Jeff Spencer are in their first year of track but still look good. Ross will run the half mile and Spencer will throw the discus.

In the 120-yard high hurdles juniors Steve Shafer and Rob Hanschu will back up Anderson.

Other Salem sprinters include senior Dave Argonis and junior Jim Spooner. Balconi also likes the way sophomore Scott Bublun looks in the sprints.

Todd Curtis and Chris Whittaker will run the mile and two mile respectively. Curtis is a senior and Whittaker a junior.

Juniors Ron Brewer and Chris Kopeck will be among Salem's half milers, while sophomore Pat Tortorra and junior Leigh Langkabel will run the 400-yard dash and various relays. Both runners had strong seasons last year and Balconi is counting on another good year for both.

In the low hurdle Gary Tsiang, Mike Sharp and Yuong Cho are also competing for positions. All three are juniors.

Other additions to Salem's field event crew include junior Bob Pittaway, regional champion in the discus as a sophomore. Also

Rounding out the team will be sophomore high jumper Scott Fuller and sophomore long jumper Brian Azelborne.

"With that group and several unknowns we will find out what we can do. Our discus looks very strong along with our other field events," said Balconi. "Traditionally we have been strong in the field events and I hope we stay that way." Balconi thinks the Suburban Eight race could be a real dog fight. "Since the Dearborn schools (Dearborn and Edsel Ford) have come into the league one of those two have won the track championship every year. We placed second last year and I think we can be in there again. There are five good track schools in the Suburban Eight."

Chief diamondmen set to regain league title

BY MIKE HENSHAW

The Canton baseball team did something last year it hadn't done since its second year of competition -- it failed to win the Western Six League championship, placing second. And the team and Coach Fred Crissey want the title back this year.

"There are three things we have set as our goal -- to win the Western Six championship back, win 20 or more games, and do well in the state tournament," said Crissey. And with the success his teams have had over the past six years, they are very realistic objectives.

There can be little argument that Canton has asserted itself as one of the area's top teams. In 1974, the team's first varsity season; the Chiefs finished second in the league, and then ran off a string of four consecutive league championships, going to the state semi-finals in 1978, before being upended last year twice in league play by Livonia Churchill (which finished 10-0) to finish second at 8-2. Over the six seasons the teams compiled a 119-35 mark.

With nine returning seniors, Crissey feels his team is once again ready to challenge for the league crown.

"Last year was disappointing to us, we felt we let it slip away from us," he said. "This group of kids is the hardest working I have ever had -- they are all very dedicated baseball players."

One of the concerns Chief enthusiasts might have this year is the strength of the 1980 Canton pitching staff. Last year the duo of Scott Dawson and Brian James combined to win 44 games for the Chiefs while losing only seven. James, now playing at Michigan State, was 26-2 and Dawson, now playing for the University of Michigan, was 18-5, statistics very difficult to replace. Crissey feels, however, that this year's staff is also very good.

Seniors Dan Funkhouser and Guy Kannanen will see the most work on the mound for the Chiefs.

"Dan really came into his own this summer in Mickey Mantle league play," said Crissey. "Guy is a very hard thrower."

Key to Salem baseball--pitching and hitting Pitching and hitting look to be the strong part of the 1980 edition of Salem baseball at this moment according to coach Brian Gilles.

The squad is young but Gilles thinks his team looks strong on paper. "On paper I think we look really tough but you never know. We are young and we won't know about our defense until the season starts," said the coach. "We also look like a strong hitting club on paper. We have key hitters back and if every one stays healthy things should go good."

Two keys to Salem's hitting will be first baseman Jim Anderson and third baseman Mike Woodard. "We expect those two guys to do a lot of our big hitting," said Gilles. Both Anderson and Woodard are seniors and produced strong statistics last year for the Rocks.

In the pitching department, Gilles will be using the arms of seniors Jeff Primeau, Paul Stevenson and Pat McNamara.

Also in that all important pitching department, Gilles will use the arms of juniors Greg Etienne, Ken McDonald, John Penders and Jim Jimmerson.

"We will work those guys in where we need them be it as starters or long relief," said Gilles.

The team is still pretty much wide open according to Gilles with several positions still up for grabs. "We will know more in the next two weeks when we get outside," said the coach.

"We have a lot of juniors and a good looking freshman in Dave Slaven and I think we can be as good as last year. But again we will have to wait and see," continued the coach.

Salem turned in a 19-6 overall record last season and won the Suburban Eight League. The squad then defeated Canton for the district title before getting knocked out of the running.

In the league, Livonia Bentley and Allen

Park have been the two teams that Salem has had to beat to win the league crown. Bentley is always tough said Gilles but the Rocks still seem to beat the team the majority of the time.

The Rocks have won that league crown four years out of the past five and this year Gilles is again very optimistic about his squads chances.

"We would certainly be disappointed if we don't win the league this year," Gilles said.

Canton baseball seniors lead team

Jerry Norgren, and Sean Hopper, Sophomores Dan Smith and Jamie Chilcoff, with help from senior shortstop Al Lipinski, currently makes up the rest of Crissey's pitching staff.

The other end of the Chief battery is firmly established. Senior Frank McMurray, a three-year letter winner, hit .295 last year as the designated hitter while backing up graduate Rusty Mandle behind the plate.

"I have been the most pleased with Frank's improvement over the years," said Crissey. Senior Tim Racer and juniors Brian Ebmeyer and Eric Flavin are competing for the backup position.

The Chief infield is also pretty well set, with the exception of third base.

Dave Meador, a senior, is Canton's first baseman. He hit .355 as a sophomore and .305 last year, despite having to go through arm surgery and therapy.

"Dave is as good as there is around," said Crissey. "He works hard all the time and has all the tools."

Junior Steve Schumacher won the second base starting job this summer. "Steve is just an outstanding defensive player," said Crissey. "He was the tower of strength on our summer team in the infield."

With senior Al Lipinski, the Chiefs may have their second all-state shortstop. Scott Collins, a 1978 graduate who gained all-state recognition, formally overshadowed the efforts of Lipinski, but now it is Lipinski's turn to establish himself.

"Al has all the tools required to be all-state," said Crissey. "He is a good hitter and has a strong throwing arm."

Senior Steve Gray and junior Jeff Stemberger are vying for the third base position vacated by Don Dreher. Other Chief infielders competing for playing time include senior Carl Lambert, junior Paul Dobry, and sophomore Billy Hanis.

The Canton outfield has senior John Matthews in right, junior Keith Stone in center, and either Racer or Gray in left. Malek, Smith, and juniors Dave Brass and Jeff Koranec are also hoping to see action.

Canton boys tracksters improved from last season ready for this year

BY MIKE HENSHAW

With two of last year's tri-captains returning this season, Canton track coach Mike Spitz has high hopes that the seasonal improvement the program has made will continue in 1980.

Last year the Chiefs won the first dual meet in the school's four-year history by beating Thurston.

Two of the team members that helped Canton record the landmark victory were John Tarr and Dan McGlenn, junior tri-captains, and will be expected to lead the team again this season. Spitz is confident they will handle the responsibility admirably.

"I can't say enough about John and Dan," said Spitz. "They have been here every year I have and have helped the program progress. John is a hard worker and team leader, and Dan is very reliable, never misses practices."

Tarr and McGlenn, along with Randy Lee, also a senior, will be the Chiefs' top sprint (100, 220, 440 and relays) event runners, with help from senior Mike Michalik, juniors Rob Fleisher and Mark Kwolczyck, and freshmen Brian Rodgers, Don Sherry, Rod Schote, and Jim Croteau.

In addition to the sprint events, Tarr will compete in the long jump, along with Kwolczyck. McGlenn is also Canton's top 330-yard high and 120-yard low hurdles man, and competes in the high jump with freshmen Ron Rienas and Jay Malin. Lee is the Chiefs best pole vaulter, backed up by freshman Rick Tarr.

In the other field events, senior Ted Toll and juniors Keith Vitoratos, Jeff Calagea, and Scott Brookhouse will be the discus and shotput event competitors.

Juniors Steve West and Dan Inloes figure to be the team's best distance (1/2 mile, mile, and two mile) runners, both having run cross country in the fall. Mike Talaga, also a junior who ran cross country, is out with a knee injury.

"Dan is a very strong runner and Steve is a very fierce competitor," said Spitz. "(Cross Country Coach) Jim Hayes did just a super job with them this year."

Along with Inloes and West, seniors Phil Simon, Al Barker, and Dan Simmons, junior Jack Pacente, and Malin will also compete in the distance events.

"The team has a good attitude," said Spitz. "Many of them have worked hard during the off-season to prepare for the season. They have a lot of desire."

Spitz feels the team has a good chance at winning their first-ever Western Six meet. He expects defending champ Churchill to be the top contender for the crown again this year.

Canton's first meet is April 15 when they host Livonia Bentley, and the Chiefs open league competition April 17 at home against Churchill.

Rock runners ready for track success

BY KEN VOYLES

Last year Salem's girls track squad compiled a poor 1-7 duel meet record. This year Salem coach Scott Kurtz expects his contingent to do much better.

"The problem is that we usually don't have enough girls. We usually have 20 girls and you need 35 to be able to compete," said Kurtz. "This year we have 42 girls right now and hopefully we will get down to a solid 30. If we have 30 we will be in good shape."

Kurtz is in a better mood about the upcoming season because he knows he has more experience than last year.

The team's three co-captains are senior Ann Meixner, Diane Perpich and Beth Hoerner. Meixner runs sprints and hurdles for the Rocks, while Perpich is strong in the field events and Hoerner runs distance and some middle distance.

"All three of those girls held school records for us at one time," said Kurtz.

Two other seniors will add depth to the squads field events. Carin Ford reached the state meet last year in the shot put and looks strong again this season, while Lisa Miyazaki will also add depth in such field events as high jump, long jump, shot put and discus.

Kurtz also thinks highly of sophomores Ruth Sample, Linda Lybarger and junior Rochelle Baltes.

Sample made the state event last year as a freshman and will run distance events for the Rocks. Lybarger is strongest in the 440-yard dash which, according to Kurtz, she is determined to win at the league meet at the end of the duel meet season.

Baltes is a half miler and a potent member of Salem's mile relay team.

Also sophomore Lori Grissom will run distance and mile relay for the team. "Lori has all kinds of potential," said Kurtz.

As for new members of the team Kurtz has a large group of freshman sprinters including Carol Lindsay, Jannie Gray, Judy Davis, Beth Delbeke, Carol Lewis, Cindy McSurely and Marcy Granger.

Lindsay, McSurely and Meixner look the strongest for Salem in the sprint events but Kurtz added that all the girls mentioned look impressive.

"We expect to win quite a bit with them," he said. "I think we are strong in every event. We think we can score good in every event. We couldn't do that last year because we didn't have the people. Actually it's never been this way before."

"I like having a few more bodies so that our freshman don't have to run more events. We want to keep some of the pressure off them," continued the coach.

As for the Suburban Eight League Kurtz said that its always tough but that he does not like to speculate because the league championship comes down to one day.

"The league comes down to who is best on that one day. The biggest team usually wins the league meet," Kurtz said.

"It's hard for me to get excited about winning meets. That's something I don't do. My concern is that the girls feel good about their performance be it first or third. If the girls are happy with what they do that's all that counts."

Nonetheless the Rocks have some tough competition this year. After a quick start with Allen Park and Canton, Salem then faces Livonia Bentley, Trenton and Dearborn all of the Suburban Eight League.

That first meet with Allen Park is home on April 2 at 3:30 p.m.
