

14 posts in townships up for grabs; file by June 3

Here's your chance to get involved in township politics.

All seven seats on the boards of trustees in Plymouth and Canton townships are up for grabs this year. To run for a township post, you must be a resident of the township in which you're a candidate and a registered voter. Terms are for four years. The filing deadline for both Plymouth and Canton townships is Tuesday, June 3 at 4 p.m.

Seven posts will be listed on the Aug. 5 primary ballot in Plymouth Township. Four trustees will be elected along with persons to fill the jobs of supervisor, clerk, and treasurer.

To be placed on the primary ballot, candidates must gather at least 56 signatures from registered voters who live in Plymouth Township.

In Canton, a total of seven seats will be on the ballot, four trustee posts and the jobs of supervisor, clerk, and treasurer. Nominating petitions must have the signatures of at least 89 other registered voters from Canton be placed on the ballot.

In both Plymouth and Canton townships, candidates must declare their party affiliation when taking out petitions. After the August primary, the final run-off will be slated for November's general election.

Petitions can be picked up from the clerk's offices in either Plymouth or Canton township. For more information, call Canton Clerk John Flodin, 397-1000, or Plymouth Clerk Esther Hulsing, 453-3840.

Meanwhile, clerks from both townships said some residents have picked up petitions. In Canton, no one has returned them to become a certified candidate; in Plymouth, Tom Notebaert, currently the township supervisor, and Andy Pruner, a resident, have filed petitions. Notebaert is running for supervisor; Pruner is making a bid to become a trustee.

This year marks the first time that all township posts are listed on the same ballot. Last year, the state legislature passed a bill requiring all township posts to begin at the same time; formerly, the posts had been staggered.

The bill also lengthened the terms of the three administrators -- supervisor, clerk, and treasurer -- from two to four years.

Michigan week is May 17-24

Schools OK June bond, millage bids

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

A millage proposal and an $11 million bond proposal will be on the Plymouth-Canton school district's ballot June 9.

Monday night the Board of Education formally approved of the wording of the propositions. Proposition I asks voters to let the schools levy the authorized millage rate of 35.26 mills without regard to the Headlee Amendment. Its passage would mean about 1.69 mills would not be rolled back for the 1980-81 school year.

According to Ray Hoedel, assistant superintendent for business, its passage would not mean an increase in taxes for homeowners. "It would let the district maintain the current tax levy. It wouldn't increase taxes," he said.

Proposition II asks voters to let the district borrow $11 million in bonds for energy management projects and renovation and maintenance projects throughout the district.

In March, voters defeated two bond proposals totalling $21.9 million.

The bond proposition, if OK'd, would mean about a 1.07 mill increase during the first year of the levy. For a homeowner with a $60,000 home (assessed at $30,000), the increase in taxes would be about $32.10 per year; the homeowner with a $90,000 house would pay about $48.15.

What will happen if voters don't approve the proposals? In an almost-somber session lasting until well-past midnight Monday, the board looked at a series of cuts proposed by administrators in the district, if both are defeated.

Many board members and officials said a

Semi-unified court moves ahead without Canton

BY DAN BODENE

A semi-consolidated 35th District courthouse will apparently become a reality.

At a Plymouth Municipal Building Authority meeting Thursday, City Manager Henry E. Graper, Jr. said the Court Committee had given the green light for the project. The committee is comprised of delegates from Northville, Plymouth and Canton townships, and the cities of Plymouth and Northville.

Final approval from the city commissions and township boards is still needed to begin the project.

Currently, judges from the district must work out of separate offices in Northville, Plymouth and Canton. Problems have arisen due to travel time between offices, phone bills and court scheduling, according to the committee.

To be constructed near Massey Field in Plymouth, the unified courthouse will serve the district with the nearly certain exception of Canton, which has proposed maintaining a separate facility of its own.

According to Graper, the project will take approximately one year to be approved, designed and constructed. The courthouse will be built to district judges' specifications and will be consistent with the city's architectural style, said Graper.

Funds for the project will be generated from a $1.3 million bond issue, to be paid for with anticipated court revenues.

Revenues from the court may be divided differently when the unified courthouse is built. Presently, money from violations of state statutes is returned to the state, with court costs remaining locally. Money from ordinance violations is divided among the five communities in the district under a statutory formula which takes into account where the violation occurred.

For example, if an ordinance citation was written in Plymouth Township, one-third of the fine would be returned to the township and two-thirds would go to the city.

A cold dunk

AFTER A LEISURELY SWIM in Wilcox Lake in Plymouth, a 1972 Camaro was hauled out of the drink late last Tuesday night. After State Troopers spotted the nearly-submerged car, a trooper dived in to search for occupants. After determining the car was unoccupied, Wayne County Sheriff's Department divers were called to begin recovery operations. About 15 feet from shore in five feet of water, the car was then secured with a chain and winched out of the lake. Found to have been piloted by a large cinder block, the car was apparently stolen before it was dunked, according to Sue Murray, senior detective for the Sheriff's department. There were different license tags on the front and back of the vehicle, said Murray. No other information is available pending completion of a Sheriff's department investigation. # Twp. OKs site for fire station

Plymouth Township's Board of Trustees authorized the purchase of land at the corner of Beck and N. Territorial roads as a site for a township fire station.

The third fire station will probably be built within the next five years, depending on the pace of home building in the western half of the township, said Clerk Esther Hulsing.

A recent study by the planning commission and the township planner, Jim Anulewicz, said the township could "get by with three fire stations instead of five if we had that location," said Supervisor Tom Notebaert.

The 2.8-acre parcel, at the northeast corner of Beck and N. Territorial, was offered to the township by the state Department of Transportation.

Originally, the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMATA) had proposed a park-and-ride lot on the site. After the township opposed this plan, said Notebaert, SEMATA started looking elsewhere, and the DOT offered it to the township.

SEMATA is currently negotiating for a park-and-ride lot on Ann Arbor Road near Denny's Restaurant, said Notebaert.

The price of the land is $48,000. The township put about $21,000 down at its meeting last Tuesday and will pay the remaining amount off on land-contract terms.

The $21,000 came from unspent interest earned on revenue-sharing funds.

Student overflow sent to other schools

To house an overflow of students at some schools, the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education transferred about 400 students to other schools at its meeting Monday night. The reassignment will be effective this fall.

Generally, at the elementary level, those students who will be reassigned have not moved into the school district yet, said Dave Rodwell, a researcher at the school district. In addition, at the middle school level, those students transferred do not have older brothers or sisters in middle school yet, he said.

Fifth graders with an older brother or sister will still be assigned to the same school as their siblings, he said. However, fifth graders without brothers or sisters in middle school may be transferred, he added.

Various schools throughout the district reported an anticipated overflow by next fall. They include: Smith, Gallimore, Hulsing, Isbister, East and Pioneer.

The board OK'd the recommendation from administrators.

Candidates speak

Five out of seven candidates for two posts on the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education will answer voters' questions Tuesday, May 27 at Pioneer Middle School at 7:30 p.m.

The Candidates' Forum, sponsored by the local League of Women Voters, is geared to acquaint voters with the candidates before the June 9 election. Glenn Schroeder, Richard Arlen, James Steffen, Dennie Holyoak, and Flossie Tonda will participate in the forum; James Sinclair, who is not attending, has said he will send a statement to be read at the forum. The seventh candidate, Emil Hagopian, will not be attending the forum.

At the forum, each candidate will be asked to speak for three minutes on a topic related to his or her candidacy. After these presentations, questions will be taken from the audience.

In addition to sponsoring the Candidates' Forum, the league has also sent questionnaires to the candidates asking for biographical information and answers to issues relating to the school district.

The league does not support any candidates, but aims to distribute information about them and provide a forum for voters to choose from among them, said LWV spokesperson Cynthia Fanslow.

Mayors exchange Monday

Next Monday, Warren Mayor Ted Bates and his wife, Eleanor, will arrive in Plymouth to participate in Mayor Exchange Day, part of the city's involvement in "Michigan Week."

Bates, accompanied by his chauffeur and Warren Police Commissioner Charles Grosebeck and his wife Irene, will be met by Plymouth Mayor Pro-tem Eldon Martin on May 19. The group will tour City Hall.

Breakfast at the Plymouth Historical Museum will follow, including a tour of the museum after the meal.

Beginning at 10:30 a.m., an hour will be devoted to touring the community and its facilities. Stops include the library, Cultural Center, DPW yard, high schools and cemetery. A visit to the Opportunity House is also scheduled.

Stopping for lunch, Mayor Bates will hear city department heads explain the functions and duties of their divisions.

Afternoon activities will begin with a tour of Old Village, where Mayor Bates will be greeted by Old Village Association President Loraine Waun. From there, the group will proceed with tours of the business districts.

A drive through Hough Woods will precede a visit to Tonquish Manor, where the entourage will take tea with some of the residents.

Cocktails will be served beginning at 6 p.m. prior to dinner. At dinner, the City Commission will be introduced to Mayor Bates, and the invocation will be read by Judge James Garber. Dinner activities will conclude with addresses by Plymouth Chamber of Commerce President Len Evans and City Manager Henry E. Graper, Jr.

Self-serve gas approved

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

Self-service gas stations are no longer banned in Canton.

By a 4-3 vote last Tuesday night, Canton trustees decided to permit self-serve gas stations provided that two conditions are met.

First, a licensed attendant must be at the station when gas is being pumped; second, an attendant must be at the station to serve gas to customers who don't want to pump their own.

This new ordinance ends a five-year ban on self-serve stations in Canton. Trustees Carol Bodenmiller and Robert Greenstein and Treasurer Jim Donahue dissented in the decision.

Fueling the drive to oppose the new ordinance, Greenstein said, if self-serve stations are permitted, senior citizens and handicapped persons would be forced to leave the township to buy gas.

At least two persons, however, disagreed. Norman Hyman, an attorney for Total Petroleum, Inc., said local markets have shown that even if self-serve stations are permitted, some customers prefer full-service stations.

"I go to Plymouth Township to buy gas (at self-serve stations)," said Ralph Alloway, a Canton resident and senior citizen. "Why can't we have both types (of stations)?"

Greenstein also said the ordinance would increase the price of gas; however, Hyman said there's a two-cent-per-gallon difference now between self-service and full-service gas stations.

Canton attorney Dave Berry said the ordinance banning self-serve stations was "definitely not valid, however that's only one lawyer's opinion."

"It's unlikely that the ordinance (banning self-serve stations) would stand up in court," he added.

Hyman was not entirely pleased by the new ordinance, however, saying, "It would be difficult to defend an ordinance requiring service on demand; but if we had to live with such a policy, we could."

Fall Fest urges all to plant marigolds soon

Plymouth will become a "city of gold" this fall -- marigolds. That is the wish of the Fall Festival Board, who adopted marigolds as the visual theme of the 25th Annual Fall Festival.

Residences and businesses throughout the Plymouth-Canton Community are asked to plant marigolds this spring in anticipation of a colorful fall. Awards will be given for creative use of marigold plantings.

Garden clubs are asked to cooperate with the theme and to participate in a flower arranging contest using the marigolds as a theme. The city and township governments will be asked to use the marigold in planting their flower beds.

Hanging pots of marigolds, furnished by the Fall Festival board, will decorate lamp poles, and the theme for business window display will be "An Old Fashioned Garden."

Twp. refuses to widen Joy-Sheldon

BY CHAS CHILD

Plymouth Township's Board of Trustees has refused to contribute funds to widen the clogged intersection of Joy and Sheldon roads.

The board's refusal to chip in $20,000 to the paving project means the intersection will remain a traffic bottleneck at least until the summer of 1981.

Robert Larson of the Wayne County Road Commission, which proposed the widening, said the township was asked to contribute the funds for two reasons.

First, the road commission is strapped for road-improvement funds, he said. Second, the widening would relieve the flow of traffic through nearby township subdivisions, particularly Mayflower sub, trying to avoid the Joy-Sheldon intersection, he added.

The total cost of the project, which would have added one lane to all four "legs" of the intersection, is $70,000, said Larson.

"We receive no road funds -- the road commission does," said Trustee Maurice Breen, speaking against the proposed contribution. If the board grants these funds, "How do we address ourselves to the next people who want road improvements?" he said.

"Once we start, the door would be wide open," added Trustee Lee Fidge.

"Sheldon is scheduled to be widened soon, anyway," said Treasurer Joe West.

Larson said that Sheldon Road, in conjunction with the opening of the new M-14 freeway, was scheduled to be widened this year. However, due to cutbacks in federal highway-construction funds, the widening has been tentatively delayed until the summer of 1981, he said.

The road commission itself is low on funds because its prime sources of revenue -- state gasoline and weight taxes -- are drying up, said Larson.

Vehicles are getting lighter, thereby lowering the funds derived from weight taxes, and gasoline sales are declining, thus lowering gasoline taxes, he said.

From City jewelry shop

Pair steals diamonds

BY CHAS CHILD

Using a well-thought out plan, a well-dressed man and a woman accomplice stole more than $30,000 worth of diamonds from a Plymouth jewelry store last Tuesday.

The robber, apparently of Middle Eastern descent, escaped from Jer Richard Jewelry Store with three diamonds of more than two carats each and $6,500 in cash, police said.

"I suspect this is not the first time they've worked together," said Plymouth Police Chief Timothy Ford. "They knew what they were about."

Richard Detata, manager of the store in Forest Place Mall, told police the suspect visited his shop about a week before, and asked to see diamonds.

After looking at what was in stock, the suspect asked if Detata had any larger diamonds, said police. Detata said he could get larger stones in about a week, the report said.

The day of the robbery, the suspect called the store and received word that the larger diamonds were in, police said.

At about 5:30 p.m., the man entered the store with his accomplice, dressed in a t-shirt and dungarees, with three gold chains around her neck, and also apparently of Middle Eastern descent, the report said.

"Do you have the diamonds?" the suspect asked, according to police. Detata said "yes" and fetched the three gems from the store safe.

The suspect proceeded to take the diamonds and expose a gun in his coat pocket, although he didn't withdraw it, and forced the store manager to hand over $6,500 in cash from the safe, said police.

After ordering the store manager and an employe to the shop's bathroom, the pair left the scene, said police.

On the way to the bathroom, the store employe managed to trip a silent alarm connected to the Plymouth police department, said the report. Officer Curt Hill arrived at the scene within three minutes, said Chief Ford, but the pair had fled.

The thefts are under investigation, said Ford.

Judge recovering

Judge Dunbar Davis, of the 35th District Court, was reported resting comfortably Monday in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after suffering an asthma attack last Wednesday.

Although he was placed in the hospital's coronary unit for observation, the judge did not suffer a heart attack, said court administrator Connie Barnes.

"He said he is feeling fine and breathing easily," said Barnes on Monday. Davis is expected to be released today, she added.

Visiting district-court judges from Livonia, Wayne, and Romulus, as well as Judge James Garber, Davis's 35th District colleague, have filled in for Davis during his absence.

Twp. operates with lax accounting procedures

BY CHAS CHILD

Plymouth Township's government operates with many lax accounting procedures, says its accounting firm.

Some checks are written without proper invoices, and in some cases, without proper authorization, the township's auditing firm, Post, Smythe, Lutz and Ziel, said.

Moreover, purchase orders are not used in some cases. And invoices are not always marked "cancelled" or "paid," which "could lead to the possibility of double payments," said the accountants.

"We need a better system of checks and balances (in the accounting department)," said Trustee Barbara Lynch during the board's discussion of the auditor's report at last Tuesday's meeting. "We should listen to any of Mr. (Henry) Salla's suggestions."

Salla, representing Post, Smythe, Lutz and Ziel, reviewed the audit and his firm's recommendations at the meeting.

"I think we've accomplished a great deal in the last year," said Treasurer Joe West, referring to the township's accounting procedures. "And I think you'll see great improvement."

"I agree," replied Salla. "We've made progress."

To ensure that checks are properly authorized, the auditors recommended that each department head at the township approved all invoices for payment.

"We suggest the entire cash disbursements questions be studied and sound procedures developed to achieve the objection of strong internal control," said the audit report.

"How about requiring two signers for each check?" asked Lynch.

"With the right control system, you don't need two signers," said Salla.

Procedures covering the township's purchase-order system should also be reviewed, the auditor said. Most of the purchase orders checked showed that they were "confirming," that is, prepared after the goods, services and the related invoice were received," said the report.

As for the township's handling of trust and agency funds, the auditor found lax procedures there also. For example, balances kept in the treasurer's office did not balance with those in the accounting department, said the accountants. And "an overall verification with the building department for bonds and the other deposits is not being done."

Other problems found by Post, Smythe include:

*"Interest earnings are not recorded timely in the accounts";

*"Tax collections were not reconciled at Dec. 31, 1979";

*"Cash register voids on misings are not always clearly identified and approved by an official of the township";

*"Daily cash reports are not signed by the preparer"; and

*"Many personnel files are incomplete."

Trustee Lee Fidge asked Salla when the township's accounting department will have these problems cleared up: "We hired you to fix these errors. You've worked for one year. When will the umbilical cord be cut?"

Salla said progress is being made, adding, "We hope to have it functioning without help."

Lynch, however, asked Salla how much more time he will be spending in Township Hall. He replied, "We've stopped. We finished the audit and are not authorized to do more."

After the audit review, Lynch moved that the township administration seek bids from other auditing firms. "It will give us an opportunity to compare prices," she said.

The motion was OK'd, and accounting firms have 45 days from last Tuesday to submit bids.

State decision on Ford boulevard due this month

BY CHAS CHILD

An initial recommendation from the state Department of Transportation (DOT) on whether to build a boulevard on Ford Road in Canton is due at the end of this month.

Bill Schins, an engineer for the DOT, said his departmental task force studying the Ford widening plans will make a recommendation either next week or the week after.

The recommendation will take into account the comments heard at a public hearing on the proposed widening on April 24 at a Canton Township Hall, said Schins.

Under consideration are three plans for Ford between Sheldon and Haggerty roads: a five- and a seven-lane widening, and a boulevard. The Canton Board of Trustees favors a boulevard, as do many persons who spoke at the public hearing.

Schins said, however, that a boulevard has some drawbacks: its more expensive than simple widenings, some businesses along Ford might be removed or their parking may be cut back, and left turns onto Ford might be removed or their parking may be cut back, and left turns onto Ford from businesses would be restricted by the boulevard's median.

Suggested at the public hearing was a plan to build a boulevard with a thinner median, which is under consideration, said Schins. Despite this, Schins said it's still "hard to justify the extra expense" of a boulevard.

He added that the seven-lane alternative has been more or less eliminated from consideration.

After his group writes its recommendation it then goes to the director of DOT. He then forwards it to the state transportation commission, which will make the final decision, said Schins.

The matter will probably be before the commission in August, he said.

Rail building may be renovated

BY DAN BODENE

Plymouth may be able to enjoy an "intermodal" transportation system featuring a modern terminal that could service bus and rail lines.

City Commission members voted last Monday to approve an application for an Innovative Projects Program grant of $85,000. The program funds local projects which solve a community problem in a new or different way, and can be used by neighboring communities.

Plymouth's proposal could accomplish both. The grant would fund renovation of the Golden Spike building in Old Village, presently owned by C&O Railroad. The structure would then become a local transportation center. Used in conjunction with the Southeastern Michigan Transportation Authority (SEMTA) plan, the terminal could eventually service bus and rail lines linking several communities.

The immediate use for the building, as planned by the city, would be a terminal for a Dial-A-Ride system to service the needs of senior citizens and low-income residents.

Although under the SEMTA plan such a system would not be implemented until 1982, Federal Programs Coordinator John Behman said he hoped that if Plymouth provided a facility and demonstrated a need, SEMTA could provide the bus system. City Manager Henry Graper, Jr. has corresponded with SEMTA on the need for such a system.

Longtime legal secretary Florence Gableman dies

Florence Ann Gableman, 80, a longtime legal secretary in Plymouth, died May 9 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Miss Gableman, whose "job was her life," said a friend, never retired.

She was City Attorney Charles Lowe's secretary at the time of her death and before that had worked for 35th District Court Judge Dunbar Davis until he was elected to that post in 1968.

She also worked for Nandino Perlongo, who later became Plymouth's municipal judge.

Born and educated in New Jersey, she moved to Plymouth in 1943 from Pontiac.

Funeral services were held May 12 at Schrader Funeral Home with Dr. William M. Stahl officiating. Burial was at Roseland Park Cemetery.

She is survived by sisters, Eleanor Meyer of Romulus, Kathryn Geyer of Clawson; brother, Frederick of Royal Oak; and several nieces, nephews, grandnieces, and grand-nephews.

Miss Gableman was a past treasurer of the Plymouth Business and Professional Women's Club and was instrumental in founding Northville's chapter of that club 25 years ago.

Memorial contributions can be sent to the Plymouth Business and Professional Women's Scholarship Fund.

Schools borrow cash

To meet cash-flow needs, the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education OK'd borrowing $11.7 million.

The funds are needed for the first half of the school year from July 1 through Dec. 31 because the school district does not receive tax collections until the last part of December each year.

The board authorized bids, which will be opened and awarded June 23. According to Supt John M. Hoben, the bids will probably be at 9 or 10 per cent interest rates. "If anything, the problem will be getting bidders this year," he said.

Last year the school district borrowed $9.6 million at 5.7 per cent interest. The schools' payroll every two weeks is about $1 million, said Hoben.

County should pave roads

After many years of supporting Wayne County-wide paving programs, Canton is now considering seeking a millage to pave some main roads.

The argument in favor of the program is that Wayne County is in such financial disorder that it cannot afford to undertake what is clearly the responsibility of the county at large. After all, our taxes paid for similar programs in other areas.

Granted, the condition of the roads in Canton has not kept pace with growth.

But it is unfair to add the paving burden on top of the many other services out-county taxpayers provide for others.

The Canton board's move to put the road millage on the ballot is well intended and driven by the obvious need for the projects. However, it is clearly the duty of the Wayne County Road Commission to bring its paving programs to the county's edge.

A similar situation exists in Plymouth Township where the county's foot dragging on paving Canton Center between Joy and Ann Arbor Road poses safety hazards for nearby paved roads through subdivisions.

Rather than tackle these projects ourselves, let's demand our due from the Wayne County Road Commission.

Bartold ya'

by Patricia Bartold

Names are funny. Take my own, for instance. My byline reads "by Patricia Bartold," but I introduce myself as Pat. My name simply changed from Patty to Pat when I was 12 or so; I suppose I looked like a "Pat" instead of a "Patty." It must have been puberty.

One of my friends is in the midst of a serious name change. He's going from Bill to William, Wm. when he signs letters or formal documents. Because he's not a newspaper person, I don't know what he'd choose for his byline. When I'm funny, I call him Wim. He gets annoyed.

But I want to ask him: What does it mean when you change from a "Bill" to a "William?" Is it an identity crisis? Or as trite as parting your hair on the right instead

I don't know, but when I broach the subject, I unconsciously throw in so many smart remarks that we never get down to the meaty identity questions involved. I laugh so hard at my own quips that soon we've launched into a new topic altogether.

Identity questions are, after all, hefty subjects. They're best discussed in muted tones with a dash or two of respect thrown in at the proper moments.

So, after giving it hard thought, I've come up with the reason that I use my full name in my byline (minus my middle and confirmation names): I don't want to be mistaken for a "Patrick."

To me, that would spark a real identity crisis.

City police layoffs will diminish protection

EDITOR:

I feel the city has made a serious mistake in the termination of the two full time police/fire dispatchers and assigning such duty to command officers on duty. We are being shortchanged on police protection and the patrol men are being shortchanged with the availability of a command officer on the road or at the scene of an incident should he be needed.

Also these dispatchers are well trained in the use of the equipment they are operating and the police officers, I think, only have superficial training with some of it, so we the taxpayers would have to pay for their complete and intensive training which these dispatchers already have behind them.

From an economic stand point, I don't see how you justify an officer trained in police protection, investigation and so forth and earning a higher salary giving equal return, sitting at a dispatcher station and answering phones and directing radio-traffic, on the dollar value scale.

Another point that seems odd is why the only two persons terminated are full-time. Part-time persons are still going to be working, but these two full time people were not given an opportunity to drop to part-time.

There are also other incidents that lead me to believe things are not on the up and up with this decision to terminate two qualified people yet hire secretaries, and cut back one-half mills we are already paying anyway.

The citizens and taxpayers of Plymouth are not getting the full service we should be without proper dispatching coverage at city hall. We need all the dispatchers we currently have and on some days more! (It is not easy.)

With Malice Toward None

W. EDWARD WENDOVER

Within the period of three months, two Plymouth Police dispatchers received both merit citations for action above and beyond their duties and pink slips.

It's the latest development in the City Hall vs. the Police brouhaha.

Reportedly, the two dispatchers had signed cards to form a union for some currently non-union City Hall workers. Were their pink slips a retaliatory move?

Without even asking, City Hall officially would say, "No way," of course.

But is that so?

Two weeks ago the city manager sent a letter directly to all police department union members to discuss negotiations' details -- implying that that union officials have been less than straightforward with their membership. Whether or not the Plymouth Police Officers Association (PPOA) leaders look at things from their own perspective and may even get carried away on occasion, was it cricket for Henry Graper to send out that memo? If city administrators scream like stuck pigs about city employees going directly to city commissioners, doesn't that shoe fit on the other hoof?

This can hardly be described as a pattern of enlightened management. It's more like the Dowagiac Dark Age.

The repeated antics at City Hall -- threatening layoffs of the newest policemen or calling the cops "immature" -- and those of the policemen -- not writing tickets on an on-again, off-again basis to further confuse management -- are threatening to lessen the overall quality of our police protection.

Arbitration between the city and the PPOA appears to be the next step -- although both sides say that could take up to a year to complete.

Either the two sides should accept that fact and return to life as normal, or look for a speedier solution.

Plymouth-Canton Schools and their teachers' union agreed to pick a neutral intervening negotiator to get things on track during the 1977 contract talks. (Irv Rozian performed yeoman service to the community by accepting that impossible task.) Perhaps, the city and the police should consider that idea too. (Although Irv's contributed enough.)

The effort required to present the respective cases to the arbitrator would, at the very least, be more productive than the back-and-forth games currently being played.

And as to those two layoffs: cut back on the self-serving, plaque-presentation stagings instead. Why pay overtime for some police department members to receive the nicely-engraved, city-paid plaques at a time cost cutting is needed?

It certainly makes it look like the cost-cutting isn't needed.

Ford boulevard needs help

Now's the time for Canton officials to start twisting some arms in Lansing to get a boulevard built on Ford Road.

After the recent public hearing on whether to construct a boulevard on Ford between Sheldon and Haggerty, the state Department of Transportation is due soon to make its recommendation.

Considering the comments of a state highway engineer in today's Crier and the state budget cuts, it seems the chances of a boulevard are dimming.

Therefore, the boulevard plan, supported by Canton's Board of Trustees and many Cantonites, may need an extra boost from the township's legislators. Seeing how the November election is drawing near, the legislators should be happy to bring home this political plum to their constituents.

A few phone calls from Canton's administrators are in order to get the ball rolling. A boulevard on Ford would not only be safer, but esthetically pleasing, as well.

Blind couple's 'conviction' removes life's shadows

'If a person becomes blind, life doesn't stop,' says George

BY DAN BODENE

They sit in chairs in the office of Starkweather School, chatting with the woman behind the counter. He appears to be concentrating, wearing almost a frown. She looks over the counter, to a place on the wall. "I see a flag," she says. "No, there's no flag," says the woman behind the counter. "It must be a shadow."

To most people meeting George and Sue Illingsworth, who are both legally blind, it must seem that their lives are composed of shadow. Not true. "We talk to a lot of school classes, and one of the first things we point out is that if a person becomes blind, life doesn't stop," says George. He speaks with conviction.

Principal John Howe steps in and informs the pair that the assembly is ready. He leads the way down dark halls to the gymnasium, which is considerably brighter. Pupils are arranged in a semicircle of chairs, and they immediately hush themselves when Howe enters the gym with the Illingsworths.

George, a native of Detroit, is a clerk-typist for American Community Mutual Insurance Company in Plymouth. Sue works to rehabilitate recently-turned-blind adults for the Michigan Commission for the Blind, formerly a division of the state Social Services bureau. Both live in Redford township and commute to their jobs. They also speak many times a year to schoolchildren like those gathered in the Starkweather gym last Thursday afternoon.

Quiet, while their principal introduces the couple, the students applaud as George and Sue walk to the center of the semicircle. George begins by explaining some of the programs sponsored by the Lions Club for blind persons. He adds a short profile of his life, as does Sue.

They both speak naturally, very much at ease before the group. Although George does most of the explaining, Sue adds her personal touch to the dialog. Neither speaks as if from a script, but both have an uncanny ability to compliment each other's talk.

Children are beginning to ask questions: "Why don't you have a seeing-eye dog?" "How do you handle money?" Two other pupils ask more questions about money.

A dog, to George, is a matter of personal preference. "It would only be in the way at my job," he says. "My office is small enough as it is."

Sue, who is visually impaired, wears glasses and has little need for a dog or a

LIFE DOESN'T EVEN SLOW DOWN for Sue and George Illingsworth (from left), shown with Starkweather School Principal John Howe. They often speak to school groups, in addition to working at their jobs. staff, which George has unfolded for the audience. He demonstrates its use, playing it back and forth as he walks forward, until it touches the shoe of a giggling boy in the front row. He also shows the students an electronic sensor designed by a man from New Zealand.

George explains that money is a question of creasing. Bills are placed in his wallet with a certain number of folds for each denomination. Sue adds that change is counted out loud by a cashier at a store, for example, to get the right bills folded correctly.

More questions are being asked, as fast as George and Sue can field them. "How do you eat?" "How do you get dressed?"

The Illingsworths, who are used to such questions, both smile broadly. "We eat with a knife and fork," they say, "and get dressed just like you." There is no trace of sarcasm in the answer. They explain that they think of a dinner plate as a clock. Food is arranged around the plate and memorized, so that each bite isn't a total surprise.

Clothes are bought with a particular feel to the material, and the color memorized. George adds that he places certain neckties with corresponding suits. Sue helps by sewing braille -- the blind alphabet system of raised dots -- tags into some clothing.

Some children are still asking questions: "How do you stop burglars?" "How do you find stores?" A few furtive looks are aimed toward the clock, which is about to signal recess.

Sue tells the assembly that burglars are handled the way everyone should handle them -- with a call to the police. Their doors are locked at night, but intruders are not given any special thought in the Illingsworth home.

'How do you eat?' 'How do you get dressed?'

Stores are often located according to scent, explains George. A particular store has its own odor. "For example," he says, "a shoe store doesn't smell anything like a bakery." Several children are delighted by the comparison, and laugh at the thought.

Shopping malls prove to be a little more difficult, according to George. Both explain that the trick is to find stores where they are familiar with a clerk, who knows more what they might want.

The bell rings. Principal Howe thanks the Illingsworths, and the children applaud loudly before filing out the door behind their guests. As George and Sue walk up the long hall toward the street, none of the children stare, or make jokes, or in any way give a sign that they could not understand how life could go on for blind people.

Perhaps that's the most important lesson to learn at the assembly.

Thanks, Doc, for nothing

A visit to the doctor's office is never fun. Whether you're there for a routine check-up, a shot, or because of a problem, there's always a certain feeling of apprehension.

I love watching a mother explain to her kids, "there's nothing to be afraid of, the doctor is a very nice person." Ha, that's easy for her to say, she's not the one about to get a shot.

Watch the same mother when it's her turn to see the doctor. I was cool, calm, and collected -- until I got to the parking lot. The attendant gave me such a horrible glare, I was sure I had done something wrong. I guess he didn't like it because I forgot to take a ticket when I entered the lot.

The nurse is always friendly as she takes my blood pressure and jots down my weight. It must have been an allergic reaction to the scales that caused me to dump my purse upside down. Quickly I scooped everything back in, and followed the nurse to the examining room. Actually I considered crawling, since I felt about two inches high.

My height shrank rapidly when the nurse returned a few minutes later and handed me a paper clip and dime that must have fallen out of my purse. OK, I admit I'm a clutz, but do you have to keep reminding me?

Finally, I took three deep breaths and tried to gain my composure, which isn't all that easy clad only in a paper sheet. After giving myself a stern lecture on how to cool it, I was ready for the doc. After all, not much more can go wrong so let's get this thing over with.

Just then the nurse came in instead of the doctor, saying, "you won't believe it but the doctor was just called into delivery.

She was right, I didn't believe it. It was like being granted a stay of execution for two weeks. Have you ever gotten dressed so fast you put one leg of your pantihose on backwards? Don't say it's impossible (almost but not quite). My legs felt like the plastic twist on a loaf of bread.

Just think, it still isn't over. I have to go through all this again in two weeks. Whoopee, I can hardly wait.

Candidates answer League questions on school

FLOSSIE TONDA

FLOSSIE TONDA

39846 John Dr., Canton. Plymouth-Canton School Board Member -- appointed, Jan. 1976, elected, June 1976-1980; Director to Executive Board of Wayne County Association of School Boards, appointed 1978-1980, elected 1980-1983; Member; Citizen's Advisory Committee - Oakwood Hospital; Member, Eastern Star.

1. Evaluate and research the effectiveness of our programs in relation to costs. Higher priority on preventative maintenance, prompt maintenance of repairs and replacing of equipment.

2. Difficult - Should encourage the parents to participate and become involved, stress importance of their role in their children's learning process. Assuring parents that the schools do care about them and their children.

3. Principals may become more creative and motivated with new surroundings or they may become frustrated and ineffec-

To help voters prepare for the Plymouth-Canton school district's June 9 election, the local League of Women Voters has submitted questions to the seven candidates in the race.

Each candidate was asked to give a brief biographical sketch and then reply to these four questions.

1. Discuss specific areas in which you feel the school district could be more fiscally efficient.
2. How can a public education system provide a quality education in an era of "parental apathy?"
3. Please comment on the practice of rotating elementary and middle school administrators every three to five years.
4. State your position on the June ballot proposals. What alternatives would you favor if the proposals do not pass?

Each candidate was limited to a total of 200 words in responding to the league's questions.

Six candidates sent their replies to the league. No response was received from Emil Hagopian, a Plymouth Township resident.

The league is a non-partisan organization. It does not support any candidates, but seeks to help voters become informed before the election. Here are the candidates' responses, except that of Emil Hagopian, who did not respond.

tive with the added responsibility of learning the roles and relationships of a new staff, students and community every three to five years.

4. Yes - Why did it fail? We must try to find out due to the economy before making a decision on the alternative. Possibly half days, no ESY at all levels. Reduce millage and bond proposals.

JAMES L. STEFFEN

7693 Admiralty, Canton. Married; three children; University Michigan, B.S. 1967; WSU Law School, J.D. 1970; Newburgh United Methodist Church, Board Trustees, '76-'78; Westland Planning Commission, '74-'76.

1. Changing conditions dictate the need for schools to review administrative alignment, eliminate duplicate functions, materials, facilities and staff to promote sound funding for the future. Sale of unneeded real estate, fewer school elections and maximizing investment income are areas where action should be taken to operate at maximum efficiency.

2. Grooming students for future responsibility will provide present and future deterrents to public apathy. Developing better parent-school rapport through friendlier day-to-day contact between teachers, secretaries and administrators, together with advisory parent groups, student achievement recognition and positive media exposure, are fundamental.

3. Does broadening of administrative perspective justify disruption of school administrator relationships? We should get the former without incurring the detrimental effect of the latter. Contact programs between administrative levels should provide vision and continuity while still preserving existing stability. A good administrator's rapport with a school community should not be destroyed.

4. The bond proposal should not be on the ballot, since it was defeated in March. I favor the second proposal. Our expanding school population necessitates present funding until alternative school financing is implemented. If forced, I would consider expanded ESY, grade realignment and/or split sessions.

JAMES SINCLAIR

JAMES SINCLAIR

11449 Terry, Plymouth Township. Attended college 1979, 1980. Carried a 3.62 grade average for 34 credit hours also maintaining a full time occupation. Through youth activities, helped 29,000 children from 1973-79. President of the Plymouth-Canton Junior Athletic Association, 1976-79. Youth Activities Director, Plymouth Elks 1977-78. Three children attending Plymouth-Canton schools.

1. A. Centralizing existing school bus garage within district. B. Getting all municipalities to collect taxes semi-annually. This would eliminate deficit spending during school year. C. Less administrative positions. D. Quicker conversion to ESY.

2. A. Mutual understanding between administrators, board members and parents must exist. B. Being more simplistic in presenting ballot proposals. C. Holding parents more responsible for their children's actions.

3. A. Rotation in business is healthy. Fresh ideas evolve. Holding the same positions, administrators can become stagnant. Also gives the opportunity to widen intelligence of total district capabilities.

4. The June ballot gets a negative vote, from me. A. The timing is very poor. 1. Announcement of administrator's salary and fringe raises between ballots is untimely. 2. That the monies asked for ($11,000) is not needed at this time. Per media article stating "$11,000 could be drawing $1,200,000 interest until the money is needed." 3. State of the economy is poor and money is tight.

Will CEP band go to Vienna?

The Centennial Educational Band has been invited to travel to Vienna, Austria in July, 1981 to participate in the International Youth and Music Festival.

The band, however, isn't sure if they'll be able to go, according to band director Jim Griffith. "We're very flattered to have been asked," he told the school board Monday night.

According to school board policy, the band can travel out-of-country if 90 per cent of the 80 students and their parents in the CEP band agree to the trip.

Estimated cost is about $1,200 for the seven-or-eight day trip, said Griffith. "We want to go, but may not be able to because of the state of the economy."

He added that he will talk to band parents and students about the idea further.

9630 Pino, Plymouth Township. Graduate of Michigan State University, resident of Plymouth area for approximately 20 years. Career with Ford Motor Company includes 25 years in Corporate finance. Member of Citizens Bond Advisory Committee. As active attendee of board meetings, am knowledgeable and interested in current problems facing board.

1. Extend ESY in elementary schools to maximum extent possible. Rent or lease additional schools from Livonia School-District. Reduce non-teaching staff to absolute minimum level and devote tax dollars to basic education of children.

2. To combat "parental apathy," an aggressive program by the administration and the teachers is necessary. Through better public relations, the parents must become more aware of the education process and to play a larger part in this process. Parental involvement is a must through PTO organizations and as volunteers in board committees, such as the Bond Advisory Committee.

3. It must be recognized there are both advantages and disadvantages of rotating administrators. Rotation allows the skills of good administrators to be exposed to a larger group of teachers. Conversely, it could effect continuity of programs and lessen the close contact of parents and children that can be accomplished through longevity. These close contacts can offset parental apathy that currently exists.

4. Recommend passage of both issues to be placed on June ballot. If both proposals fail, would recommend a reduction of program offerings in middle and high schools. Would also recommend returning to taxpayers for millage increase in fall.

ning of replacement items. For example, the board just voted to buy replacements for all the typewriters in the district. They should be replacing them on a rotating basis, not all at once; b. Put sixth grade back with the elementary level; c. Make everyone in the district very energy conscious to reduce energy costs.

2. Public education is only a tool to assist parents in educating their children. If parents do not care about their children's education and become involved; the system can't work as it should. Every effort should be made to involve parents in all the functions of public education.

3. I think it is advantageous to rotate administrators so they don't become stagnant.

4. I am in favor of the ballot proposals and I recommend the public be informed on the facts so they can vote knowing the consequences. If the proposals are defeated, cuts will have to be made.

Currently teaching accounting at Schoolcraft College, co-authored an accounting textbook, served as faculty president for eight years and chief negotiator for 10 years. Four years experience on the board, have knowledge of finance and education, able to handle the job.

1. The district could use a general tightening up. But things have greatly improved over the past three years.

2. It is most difficult. That is why evaluation of management's ability to assess classroom interaction between teacher and student is critical to being able to give adequate support to classroom activity.

3. There is presently no such practice in operation. However there are times when it would be valuable to all parties concerned if managers could have the opportunity for a change of scene. A new position offers the change to bring a fresh view, a new outlook, take on new challenges. A chance to clean out and stir the thinking of both management and employe. It is easy to stay in a rut.

4. We must be able to keep our present millage level. Any rollback will mean the cutting of staff and more classroom crowding. The bond issue is still a bread and potatoes issue, only less of it. There will always be some things that some people will not agree with always. But the district needs the maintenance money.

Canton tables new diamonds

A proposal to build more softball diamonds was tabled by Canton trustees last Tuesday night.

Canton Recreation Supervisor Mike Gouin had submitted two plans for board consideration at the meeting. For about $10,000, two youth fields could be developed at Flodin Park, at Saltz Road and the Morton-Taylor right of way. The new fields would have shifted some baseball games from the lighted diamond at Griffin Park to allow more playing time for adult leagues.

A second plan, for about $40,000, called for lighting another field at Griffin Park. About 10 to 12 additional teams would be able to play, said Gouin.

The board of trustees, however, didn't support either plan. Trustee Robert Greenstein made a motion, supported by Trustee Steve Larson, to simply shut off softball registration when the quota was filled.

"I don't think we should invest township money in softball when the economy is facing a serious decline. We may need it elsewhere," said Greenstein.

Providing more diamonds -- even $6,000 worth -- would not "be money poorly spent," said Gouin. About 80 per cent of the players who sign up are Canton residents, he added.

Greenstein's motion was defeated by a 3-4 vote with Clerk John Flodin, Supervisor Noel Culbert, and Trustees John Daley and Carol Bodenmiller dissenting.

A second motion to table it was OK'd. Providing more diamonds will be considered when the board secures the funds to seed Flodin Park, the board said.

About 10 teams who had the entrance fee, but missed the sign-up deadline were turned down in Canton this year, said Gouin.

County to ask for 3 mills

Voters from throughout Wayne County, including Plymouth-Canton, will be asked to increase county taxes by three mills Aug. 5.

The additional revenue, which would mean $3 more for each $1,000 of assessed valuation, if passed, would be used for the county's general fund, townships, school districts, and Wayne County Community College.

The increase would add about $19 to $22 million in revenue for the general fund along with increases for other funds.

The proposal was OK'd by the Wayne County Tax Allocation Board Friday by a 5-2 vote based on a recommendation from the Board of Auditors. The auditors have projected a deficit for the county this year, saying that "revenues . . . are insufficient to fund essential ongoing programs at an acceptable level."

Schools propose cuts if election fails

defeat in June could begin "an erosion of the quality of education in Plymouth-Canton over the next few years."

A defeat could add up to a series of cuts in various programs and levels throughout the district. For example, if defeated, new teachers may not be hired for new students; forensics and other after-school activities may get cut; sixth-grade camp fees may go up in order to make the program "self-sufficient;" and, roofs may not be repaired.

"It's late," commented John M. Hoben, in reference to both the late hour and the fact that there is less than a month before the election. "We've got to reach some conclusions. We've tried conscientiously to preserve programs as much as we could."

Depending on the outcome of the election, school officials are looking at deficits ranging from $600,000 to $2.5 million in the 1980-81 school year. When the cutbacks in state aid are added in, the total deficit could be as high as $3.5 million, said Hoben.

Other cuts would reduce money allocated to the school farm, WSDP radio, TAG programs, transportation, legal services, librarian substitutes, management development, and Growth Works.

These cuts were proposed by administrators based on the consensus of five groups, special education, top-level administrators, and elementary, middle, and high school principals.

At some point, voters will have to realize that a good school system means high property values, said Hoben.

Such cuts "could add up to a snowball effect," said Board President Tom Yack, adding that the bleak budget picture for the 1980-81 year isn't "just one bad year."

The cuts proposed by administrators were considered to be a starting point for the board and they depend on the election results, Yack added. "I wouldn't disagree with most of them."

A $32,000 reduction in Growth Work's budget was objected to by many members of the board. "We shouldn't cut alternative programs for high school students," said

Carol Davis.

"If parents want to keep programs, they'll have to pay for them," said Board Member Steve Harper.

Safe looted

A safe containing $850 worth of lottery tickets and an undisclosed amount of cash was stolen from the Stopover Party Store, 39420 Schoolcraft Rd., Plymouth Township, State Police report.

The robbery occurred sometime late Sunday, May 4, or early Monday the next morning, said police.

The safe was removed with help from a dolly used at the store, police said. The robbery is under investigation and there is at least one suspect in the case, added police.

Court moves

where the court is located. If the citation was written in the city, the entire fine would remain there.

Northville and Plymouth townships and the cities of Northville and Plymouth divide their ordinance fines according to that formula. Canton retains all fines, since a court is located there.

Under a consolidated court, each fine could be tagged according to where the citation was issued. Therefore, revenues from the fines might be more equitably distributed among the communities.

Last year the court rebated $648,331 after expenses to the five district communities. This year, first quarter revenues amount to $196,264.

Kids dance

Sponsored by the National Honor Society, a Dance-a-thon will be held May 16 and 17 at Canton High School to benefit the Muscular Dystrophy Association.

National Honor Society members have recently been collecting door-to-door and from local merchants for the benefit drive. Their goal is to raise $10,000, which could finance leg braces, wheelchairs and comprehensive diagnostic workup equipment for 25 patients, or fund a research project for one year.

Members of the Dance-a-thon committee are: Kathy Jennings, chairman; Barb Mahin, entertainment; Lisa Duynslager, publicity; Jill Pedersen, decorations; and Sandy Gottwald, food.

Canton softballers put it together--beat Northville

BY MIKE HENSHAW

"We are really starting to put it together. Our hitting, base running, pitching, defense -- everything has been super these past two games."

These were the words of Canton softball coach Max Sommerville following his team's easy victories over Northville and Redford Thurston last week.

Last Wednesday, the Chiefs crushed Western six league foe Northville, 14-4, to raise its league record to 4-0 for the year.

Marianne Pink pitched the first five innings for Canton to raise her record to 5-1 on the season. Pink gave up the four runs on only four hits, walking three and striking out two Mustang batters.

Cindy Sovine relieved Pink in the sixth and shutout Northville the rest of the way, giving up no hits, two walks and striking out two.

Northville scored three times in the top half of the first to pull out to their only lead of the game, a lead that was quickly overcome by the Chiefs when they picked up five runs in their half of the first.

Canton added one more run to its total in the third and then lashed out for eight more tallies in the bottom of the fourth to put the game away.

Joni Sommerville lead the way offensively with three RBI's on two singles and a double in five at bats, with help from Cindy Stevens, Jean Krashovetz, and Pink, who each accounted for two runs batted in.

The next day it was Sovine's turn to start the game on the mound for Canton, and she went the whole seven innings for the Chiefs in an easy 18-1 rout of Thurston.

Sovine gave up just three hits and five walks while striking out two Thurston batters to up her record to 2-0 on the year.

Sommerville and Pam Schipani each knocked in three runs for Canton, which had a total of 14 hits on the day.

Stevens, Krashovetz, and Pink once again batted in two runs each, joined this time by Vicki Skeen who also knocked in a pair of runs.

As in the Northville game, an eight-run fourth inning put the game away for the Chiefs, picked up three in the first, two in the second, and four more in the fifth to raise the team's overall record to 7-1 on the year.

"We were just ripping every pitcher we faced," said Sommerville. "Our defense was also very good in both of the games. I'm very pleased with the way we have been playing."

Canton couldn't have picked a better time to start playing well, as they begin state playoff competition tomorrow when they play Thurston again, at Thurston, in a pre-district game beginning at 4 p.m.

Salem girls run hard at Stevenson Invitational meet

Salem's girls' track squad used the Stevenson Invitational and a Suburban Eight League meet against Trenton this past week as warm-up matches for the upcoming regional competition.

"We scored in a couple of events but the competition was tough. Anybody who is anybody in girls' track around here was at Stevenson," said Salem coach Scott Kurtz. "We tried to set the meet up as a pre-regional meet for the girls."

Salem has one more meet before the regionals, scheduled at Livonia Churchill. The Rocks will face Dearborn today at Dearborn beginning at 3:30 p.m.

That regional fight at Churchill will have many of the teams that were at the Stevenson competition and it will be run as a double regional. Both boys and girls squad will start competing at 10 a.m. for field events and 12:30 p.m. for track events.

Salem's best finish of the day was fourth in the high jump relay. Diana Perpich, Cindy McSurely and Jeanne Gray combined to clear 14 feet one inch for the Rocks.

The shuttle-relay team of Ann Meixner, Perpich, McSurely and Carol Lindsay finished fifth with a time of :72.5 seconds.

"We only had one other good time that day, in the mile relay our girls knocked several seconds off their best time this season," Kurtz said.

Salem ran in the second of two heats in the mile relay and, although they won their heat with a time of 4:15.8, the Rocks were shut-out of the final run of that event.

Meixner, Laurie Grissom, Linda Lybarger and Lindsay combined in that event for the Rocks.

Earlier, Trenton had beaten the Rocks 74-49 in a league dual meet.

Carin Ford scored two first by winning the shot put and discus. In the former, she tossed 35 feet half inch and, in the latter, she hurled 85 feet one inch.

Liza Mryazaki was third in the discus for Salem with an effort of 75 feet four inches.

Perpich was first in the long jump with a leap of 14 feet five inches. She also finished third in the high jump at four feet 10 inches.

Meixner was first in the 220-yard low hurdles with a time of 31.6 seconds. She also finished second in the 110-yard high hurdles with an effort of 16 seconds.

McSurely did not place in the 110-yard hurdles but clocked a strong 16.6 seconds.

Lybarger placed second in the 100-yard dash with a time of 12.3 seconds, after winning the 440-yard race and the 220-yard dash.

In the 440 -- a race that Lybarger has not been beaten in this season -- the Salem runner clocked 63.2 seconds. She clocked 28.6 seconds in the 220-yard event.

Beth Hoerner was third in the mile with her best time this season, 5:47, while Marcy Granger was second in the half mile, 2:48, and Ruth Sample was third in the two mile, 13:12.

Meixner, Lindsay, McSurely and Gray combined for second in the 880-yard relay. They turned in a time of 1:53.5.

April McCall, Judy Davis, Liz Carlson and Gray were second in the 440-yard relay for Salem. The all-freshman crew had a time of 56.3 seconds.

Rocks win 4 Suburban League softball contests

Salem's girls' softball team put together four Suburban Eight League victories last week placing the team squarely in second place in the conference.

Not all the victories were easy, but the Rocks used solid pitching and sometimes-heavy hitting to beat its opponents.

On Friday, the Rocks edged Dearborn, 5-4, behind the effort of pitcher Jill Goodrich and Denise Zonca.

Goodrich held Dearborn to two hits, gave up seven walks and struck out four.

Zonca had two hits in three trips to the plate and collected four stolen bases.

Salem scored three runs in the second inning when Zonca scored on an overthrow during Laura Arnold's bunt single. Sue Evans was then hit by a pitch and Stacy Nicolin was safe on an error with Arnold scoring.

Goodrich then singled and Evans finally scored on a passed ball to complete the inning.

Zonca walked, stole second, went to third when Evans was safe on an error, and scored on a passed ball for Salem's third inning tally.

Zonca then singled home Patty Weidman in the fifth inning for what proved to be the winning run. Weidman had singled and stolen second base.

"Zonca was our big story offensively and Chris Brennan made two fine defensive plays," said Salem coach Livi Way.

In the second inning, Brennan threw a runner out at home after taking an overthrow and then she caught a line drive with the bases loaded that ended a Dearborn rally.

Earlier, the Rocks, defeated Dearborn Edsel Ford in both games of a doubleheader. Salem won the first game, 7-6, and the second, 17-9.

In that first contest, Goodrich again pitched for Salem. She walked eight batters and struck out four.

Salem scored one run in the second inning, one in the fourth, four in the fifth, and one in the seventh. Edsel Ford allied three runs in the first inning and single runs in the third, fourth and sixth frames.

Cathy Gardner was the big story for Salem. She had three hits and two RBIs including the winning RBI. Weidman had three hits and one RBI, while Zonca had two hits and Kelly Strautz had one hit, one RBI and scored the winning run.

"We were hitting real well in both games. Our defense had a few holes in it at the start of the first game but they settled down," said Way.

The Rocks went on a 16-hit barrage in the second game and Goodrich held Edsel Ford to five hits as Salem won, 17-9.

Zonca also hurled three innings for the Rocks.

Salem scored one run in the first inning when Gardner singled home Horwood. Gardner had a total of five hits in that second game and three RBIs.

Salem added four runs in the second inning. Jenny Papa tripled and scored when Horwood was safe on an error. Horwood then stole second and moved to third on a sacrifice and scored when Gardner tripled.

Weidman then walked and stole second. Zonca brought home Gardner with a single and Weidman scored on a passed ball.

Arnold smacked a three-run homer in the fourth frame for the Rocks.

In the fifth inning, Salem scored five runs. Goodrich walked, went to second on a bunt and scored when McDowell doubled. Gardner then brought home McDowell.

Weidman singled and Zonca hit a bunt that brought in Gardner.

The Rocks finished their scoring with six runs in the sixth inning. Goodrich walked, Horwood singled, McDowell walked, and Gardner hit a three-run single.

Weidman then doubled in Gardner. Zonca walked, Arnold walked and Nicolin singled for the final run after Weidman had already stolen home for the 16th run.

Against Trenton, the Rocks had 10 runs on four hits, while Trenton had five runs on five hits.

Goodrich again pitched the entire game. She walked eight and downed three batters.

Salem scored single runs in the first, second and seventh frames, three runs in the third and four in the fourth. Trenton tallied two runs in the first, one in the fourth and two in the sixth.

Gardner had a triple and two RBIs and Weidman paced the attack with three hits and one RBI.

"We need to keep hitting. Belleville is still undefeated in the league and we don't want to let up," said Way.

Canton tracksters downed

BY MIKE HENSHAW

Farmington Harrison captured every relay race event Thursday in handing Canton a 78-54 Western Six league boys' track loss, lowering the Chiefs' record to 1-2 in the league.

Canton squads were disqualified in both the 880- and 440-yard relays, largely due to the layout of the Hawk track.

"Its straight aways are longer and the curves are sharper," said Canton coach Mike Spitz. "Our runners did not exchange batons in the zones, which were also barley marked."

Chief runners picked up five individual first-place finishes.

John Tarr, co-captain for Canton, won the 440-yard dash and the Chiefs' other co-captain, Dan McGlenn, placed first in the 330-yard low hurdles.

Mike Kowalczyk won the 100-yard dash for Canton, and Jack Pacente in the two-mile run and Ted Toll in the shot put also emerged victorious for the Chiefs.

Capturing second place for Canton were: McGlenn in the 120-yard high hurdles; Pacente in the mile run; Randy Lee in the pole vault; Toll in the discus; Keith Vitoratos in the shot put; Scott Hand in the 880-yard run; Tarr in the long jump; and Dan Malin in the 330-yard low hurdles.

Pacente in the mile run, Dan Inlos in the 880-yard run, Malin in the high jump, Scott Brookhouse in the 330-yard low hurdles, Steve West in the mile run, and Vitoratos in the discus gained third-place honors for Canton.

"We just had a bad meet," said Spitz. "We had some people hurt and as a team we were pretty tired."

Canton, 2-4 overall this year, hosted Walled Lake Western yesterday afternoon and will compete in the regional competition Saturday afternoon.

Golf tournament coming

Area golfers are invited to enter the Canton Open Golf Championship on June 7 and 8 at Fellows Creek Golf Course.

The tournament is sponsored by the Canton Township Parks and Recreation and will be 36 holes with players divided up into flights after the first round.

Entry fees are $25 and must be sent to the Canton Recreation Department by June 5.

Entry forms may be picked up at the recreation office or Fellows Creek Course located at Lotz, half mile north of Michigan.

For further information, contact the recreation office at 397-1000.

Chiefs beat CC at Windsor tourney

The Canton baseball team picked up two wins in the Windsor tournament Saturday, over defending state champion Catholic Central and Catholic League champion Birmingham Brother Rice, but were unable to remain in first place in the Western Six league race by dropping games to Northville last Wednesday and Churchill Monday afternoon.

Against Catholic Central, Canton struck for six runs in the opening inning before two were out and went on to beat the Shamrocks 7-3.

Al Lipinski pitched the first four innings for Canton, giving up two runs and picking up the win before being replaced by Dan Funkhouser for the final three innings.

Against Brother Rice, the Chiefs got a fine pitching performance from sophomore Dan Smith, who gave up just one unearned run in six innings of work as Canton won 10-5. Jerry Norgren pitched the seventh inning, giving up four runs before retiring the side.

Canton received a team trophy for being champions of the annual tournament.

Against Churchill, a team the Chiefs beat 3-1 earlier in the year, the loss was doubly costly.

Canton gave up four unearned runs to the Chargers in a 5-2 loss, and also lost the services of firstbaseman Dave Meador and right-fielder John Matthews for at least today's important league doubleheader with Farmington Harrison after they were injured after colliding in the third inning while chasing a short fly ball to right.

Meador suffered a severe concussion and Matthews a chipped cheekbone and a sore knee on the play, in which Meador was somehow able to hang on to the ball.

Against Northville last Wednesday the Chiefs built up a 3-1 lead before the Mustangs rallied to win 6-4, revenging an earlier 18-6 lashing by Canton.

The league losses lower the Chiefs record in the Western Six to 3-2; with an 8-7 overall mark.

Canton blanks Churchill in league tennis competition

The Canton tennis team swept Livonia Churchill for the second time this season Monday afternoon, 7-0, in Western Six league action.

At first singles, Bob Young of Canton beat Dean Nascimben 6-3, 6-3, while at the No. 2 singles position Greg Kinnel was shutting out Churchill's Pete Diamond, 6-0, 6-0.

Kevin Johnston won his No. 3 singles match with Tim Irons 6-2, 6-2 and the Chief's Bob Adams did away with Kenn Laundroche 6-1, 6-1.

Canton's No. 1 doubles team of Pete Lee and Mark Roberts ousted Craig Beramble and Paul Gothard, 6-1, 6-3 and in the only three set match the Chief's Drew Hosey and John Hurley defeated Dan Yaske and Ed Brombas 6-2, 4-6, 8-6.

At No. 3 doubles, Tom Pasely and Grant Crago of Canton swept Chris Slaherty and Jeff Meyers 6-0, 6-0.

The Chiefs did not fare so well last Wednesday against league foe Northville, dropping a 4-3 decision to the Mustangs.

All of Canton's singles players went down to defeat, while the Chiefs swept the doubles competition.

At No. 1 doubles, Canton's Jeff Garity and Curt Crocker beat Jim Herbel and Les Neal 7-5, 6-4, while at the No. 2 position Lee and Roberts defeated Russ Gans and Dale Fisher 7-5, 6-1.

Dale Fisher 7-5, 6-1.

Crago and Steve Jones won their No. 3 doubles match with Rick Marshall and Russ Horst 6-2, 2-6, 6-2.

Thursday afternoon the Chiefs beat non-league foe Livonia Bentley, 5-2.

Kinnel, Adams, Johnston, Crago and Jones, and Garrity and Crocker each won their matches.

Canton faces Farmington Harrison this afternoon at 4 p.m.

McNamara, Primeau pick up victories

Salem diamondmen triumph

Salem's baseball squad enters a big week in Suburban Eight League action with a victory over Dearborn and a split with Dearborn Edsel Ford under its belt.

The Rocks tripped up Dearborn 5-2 on Friday with five hits and the steady pitching of Pat McNamara.

McNamara hulked the entire game, struck out eight and walked seven. He also held Dearborn to three hits for the day.

Salem scored two runs in the fifth inning after Dearborn had opened with two runs in the first inning.

McNamara started Salem's fifth with a bunt single. Greg Etienne then doubled and scored on an overthrow.

The Rocks added the three winning runs in the seventh inning when Jim Anderson walked, McNamara walked, Etienne singled in one run then Brian Lewandowski singled in the other run.

Joe Garcia then hit a sacrifice fly bringing in the final Salem run.

Against Edsel Ford, Salem won the first game 6-2 but dropped the second 7-6.

In that first tussle, Jeff Primeau was the winning pitcher for the Rocks. He pitched the entire game walked nine and struck out 10.

Salem scored three runs in each of the first and fourth innings.

In the first inning, John Hetkowski singled, Mitch Wilcox singled. They both moved up on a ground out and Anderson singled scoring the runners. McNamara then tripled home Anderson.

In the fourth, Mark Kitz tripled and scored when Hetkowski hit into an error. Wilcox then tripled home Hetkowski and crossed the plate when Dave Slavin hit a single.

Wilcox was perfect at the plate with four hits in four trips, one RBI and two runs scored, while Anderson had two hits and two RBIs.

Jim Jimmerson, John Penders and McNamara pitched for Salem in the second Edsel Ford contest which they lost 7-6.

The Rocks scored two runs in the first inning, one in the third, two in the sixth and one in the seventh.

Hetkowski was the big hitter with three and one RBI, McNamara had two hits along with Etienne.

"This is the biggest week for us," said Salem coach Brian Gilles. "Here it is our whole season in the next two weeks."

The Rocks are 6-1 in the Suburban Eight League and hold command of first place.

Salem will play tomorrow home against Allen Park and on Friday at Northville in a pre-district contest. Game times are both 4 p.m.

Rock golfers beat Canton

Salem's golf squad came away with two Central Six League victories last week beating both Brighton and Canton. Against Brighton, the Rocks shot a combined score of 191 as compared to Brighton's 207.

shot 226.

Marino was again low for the day with Salem. She turned in 47, while Stevens shot 51, Ross, 54 and McGee, 49.

Janis McClone shot 56 for Canton and Cindy Sochacki shot 55. Debbie Nurmi with 58 and Debbie Dickinson with 57 rounded out the Chief's scoring.

The Rocks will face Saline today at Saline. Match time is 3 p.m.

Canton tracksters gear for regionals with wins

BY MIKE HENSHAW

With league dual and tri-meet victories last week, the Canton girls' track team seems to be gaining momentum toward Saturday's regional competition and the May 28 Western Six league meet.

Thursday afternoon, the Chiefs upended Western Six foe Farmington Harrison, 72-51, at the CEP track, lead by six individual first-place finishers and victories in both the 440- and 880-yard relay events.

The 440-relay team of Judy Purpura, Jill Pedersen, Diane Durocher, and Leslie McDowell outraced the Hawk squad with a time of :60.7, while the Chief tandem of Mary Fideler, Lori Shufeldt, Liz Gorecki, and Durocher won the 880 relay with a time of 2:00.9.

Gorecki and Michelle Perrot each won two individual events for Canton.

Gorecki placed first in the discus with a toss of 92 and the shot put with a 30 feet seven inches throw. Perrot emerged victorious in the mile run with a time of 5:54 and in the two-mile run with a 12:44.6 clocking.

The Chiefs' Brenda Bigelow won the high jump event by clearing 10 four feet inches and Kathy Brophy leaped 14 feet six inches to win the long jump event for Canton.

Geri Shufeldt captured three second-place finishes and Mary Fideler two for Canton, which had a total of eight in the meet.

Shufeldt finished second in the mile in 6:04 and 880-yard in 2:42.1 and tied with teammate Colleen Crissey for second in the long jump at 14 feet.

Fideler finished second in each of the hurdle events, with a time of :17.9 in the 110-yard lows and a :35.2 clocking in the 220-yard lows.

Brophy finished second in the 440-yard dash in :67.5, McDowell in the 100-yard dash in :12.6, and Durocher in the shot put in 29 feet.

In addition, Crissey in the 880-yard run, and two-mile run, Pedersen in the shot put, Gorecki in the 220-yard dash, Lori Shufeldt in the 100-yard dash, Fideler in the high jump, and Durocher in the discus, all placed third for Canton.

Last Tuesday the Chiefs beat Thurston and Northville in a tri-meet held at Thurston. Canton totaled 68 points to Thurston's 48 and Northville's 39.

Canton placed first, second, third, and fourth in the shot put and first, second, and third in the discus, good for 21 team points in those two events alone.

Lisa Bundarin was first in the shot for Canton with a toss of 29 feet two inches followed by Gorecki at 28 feet nine inches, Durocher at 28 flat, and Pedersen at 24 feet nine inches.

Gorecki was first in the discus with a toss of 99 feet two inches, with Durocher second at 83 feet and Pedersen third at 70 feet nine inches.

Also gaining first-place honors were Michelle Perrot in both the 1600 and 3200 meter runs, with times of 5:50.2 and 12:41.6, respectively, and Brophy in the long jump with a jump of 14 feet two inches.

Canton picked up another first place, in the mile relay event, with Fideler, Crissey, Charlotte Thomas, and Brophy combining for a time of 4:35.8.

Canton wins softball game Monday night

After a fine performance earlier in the week, the Canton softball team came up a little flat against Livonia Churchill Monday, but still had more than enough to beat the Chargers, 5-0.

Marianne Pink raised her pitching record to 6-1 on the year with a two hitter, giving up five walks and striking out three Churchill batters.

Canton scored one run in the third when Vicki Skeen singled and scampered all the way home when the ball eluded the glove of the outfield.

In the fifth the Chiefs scored their last four runs.

Marlene McKinley singled and Janet Nostrant was safe on an error to lead off the inning. Skeen bunted and all three runners were safe. Vicki Cavallaro followed with a two-run scoring single and the final two runs came home on sacrifice flies by Joni Somerville and Cindy Stevens.

Canton is now leading the Western Six league race with a perfect 5-0 record, while being 8-1 overall.

Chief golfers improve scores

BY MIKE HENSHAW

With each match last week the scores of the Canton girls' golf team improved, but it wasn't enough as the Chiefs dropped three in a row to stand at 2-5 on the season.

Brighton gave Canton its first loss of the week last Tuesday by compiling a 215 score to the 234 Chief total.

Kathy Regan of Brighton was the low scorer, shooting a 49 over nine holes.

Janis McGlone was Canton's best finisher, at 52, followed by Kathy Sochacki at 55 and Debbie Nurmi and Karen Mullens, both at 64.

The following day the Chiefs took on CEP counterpart Salem at Hilltop, with the Rocks winning 201-226 behind medalist Meg McGees 49 total.

Canton was lead by Sochacki at 55 and McGlone at 56, followed by Debbie Dickenson with a 57 total and Nurmi, who shot 58.

Canton rounded off a hectic week Thursday, when they were knocked off by Central Six league-leading Pinckney, 195-224.

Chris Wines of Pinckney shot an impressive 44 to capture medalist honors, with McGlone the Chiefs' low scorer with a 55 total.

Sochacki carded a 57, and Nurmi and Mullens 58s to round off the Chief scoring.

"We've improved each week," said Canton coach Ann Buie. "We are just about where we expected to be with our team scores, we just are not capable of contending for first place in the league."

Pinckney leads the league after beating second-place Salem, while Canton is in fifth place ahead of last-place Willow Run, who the Chiefs beat via a forfeit April 29.

Canton, which had a rematch with Salem Monday afternoon, hosts Willow Run at Hilltop today at 3 p.m.

Runners beat Dearborn

won the mile relay with a time of 4:22.5. That foursome has yet to be beaten in the mile relay in dual competition.

"We will go hard against Dearborn before the regionals," said Kurtz. "The meet will give the girls one more chance to warm up for the regionals."

Rock runners compete at invitational regional is next

Competing against 15 other top boys' track teams in the area last weekend, the Rocks turned in a seventh place finish at the Stevenson Invitational.

"We finished seventh against some real tough competition. The teams at the invitational provided us with a picture of what our regional might be like, said Salem coach Gary Balconi.

That regional will be held May 17 at Livonia Churchill. Field events start at 10 a.m. and track kicks off at 12:30 p.m.

"We are in an exceptionally tough regional. The thing we want to do is qualify as many boys for the state meet later on," Balconi said.

All the Livonia schools plus Ann Arbor Huron and Pioneer and Detroit Redford, Detroit Cooley and Ypsilanti will be among the teams in the regional.

At Stevenson, on Friday, the Rocks scored one first when Bob Pittaway hurled the discus 155 feet. Rob Neu tied for third in the high jump with a leap of six feet.

Also, in field events, Mike Perkowski was fifth in the pole vault with a personal best of 12 feet six inches.

On the track, Salem's sprint medley team broke a team record in that event by clocking a 2:30.1, beating the old time of 2:31.4. Leigh Langkabel, Greg Lipka, Scott Bublin and Pittaway combined in the event for the Rocks.

Lipka, Pittaway, Jim Spooner and Bublin teamed for a third place in the 440-yard relay with a time of 45.9 seconds for Salem's only other place at Stevenson.

Earlier in the week, the Rocks faced Trenton in a Suburban Eight League meet and won, 81-51.

Neu's tying of the school record in the high jump was the highlight of that meet for Salem, according to Balconi. Neu cleared six feet four inches, while teammate Scott Fuller was third at five feet 10 inches.

Dave Argonis was second in the long jump with a leap of 18 feet while Spooner was third at 17 feet 11 inches.

Dave Skone won the pole vault for Salem with a 10 feet six inches leap. Perkowski was second. "The high winds that day kept the height way down," said Balconi.

Pittaway won the discus, 154 four inches, Mark Tanzki was second, 132 feet nine inches, and John Froozan was third, 132 feet two inches.

Froozan was also second in the shot put. On the track, Pittaway lead Salem's sweep of the 100-yard dash with a time of 10.3 seconds. Lipka was second, 10.4 seconds, while Tom Kelliher was second at 24.01 seconds.

In the 120-yard high hurdles Phil Anderson was second for Salem with an effort of 17.1 seconds. Skone was third at 20 seconds.

Mike Sharp was third in the low hurdles with a time of 44.5 seconds.

Langkabel won the 440-yard race with an effort of 52.8 seconds. Pat Tortorra was second with a time of 56.6 seconds.

Jeff Haretell was second in the mile race for the Rocks. He clocked 4:55, while Chris Whitaker clocked 5:01.6 for third place.

Chris Kopach was third in the half mile with a time of 2:13.2 and Paul Hess was second in the two mile with an effort of 10:30.

Salem also swept first place points in all the relay events. Craig Stack, Steve Schafer, Spooner, and Argonis won the 880-yard relay, 1:39.9; Lipka, Pittaway, Kelliher and Bublin won the 440-yard relay, 46.1 seconds; and, Schafer, Ron Brewer, Neu and Pittaway won the mile relay, 3:44.5.

Salem will run again today at home against Dearborn. Meet time is 3:30 p.m.

Salem's tennis team enters regional competition this Friday and the Rocks sort of prepared for that day with a defeat to Dearborn and a victory over Dearborn Edsel Ford.

The Rocks were defeated by Dearborn 6-1 last Friday.

Blake Lundberg and Craig Baker at first doubles were Salem's only winning points. They defeated Orris and Jiacma 6-0 and 7-5.

Dick Cooke was defeated at first singles by Dave Summerville 6-2 and 6-0, while Scott Crispo fell for Salem at second singles. Crispo lost to Andy McKenna 6-2, 2-6 and 9-7.

Jeff Howell was defeated at third singles for the rocks. He played Steve Johnson and fell 6-1 and 6-3.

Dave Goodsir lost fourth singles to Brian Proctor in three sets 6-4, 4-6 and 5-7.

Bob Jarvis and Doug Baker were defeated at second doubles 7-5 and 7-6 by Fitzgerald and Butler, while John Wimmer and Jack Thomas were defeated at third doubles 6-0 and 6-4 by Ronney and Matthews.

"It was an extremely tough match for us," said Salem coach Tom Williams.

The Rocks defeated Edsel Ford 4-3 earlier in the week on a windy day at Edsel Ford.

Cooke was defeated at first singles by Amici 6-4, 2-6 and 1-6, while Crispo won second singles over Waldren, 6-4 and 6-3.

Howell was defeated at third singles by Davies and Goodsir won fourth singles over Chuck Davis in what coach Williams termed a nice win, 1-6, 6-4 and 6-3.

Lundberg and Craig Baker defeated Paputa and Ruffus 4-6, 6-4 and 8-6, while Jarvis and Doug Baker defeated Sample and Sopper 6-3 and 6-3 at second doubles.

Wimmer and Thomas lost at third doubles to Cornell and O'Leary 6-3 and 7-5.

Salem will play Allen Park at home tomorrow at 4 p.m.

Basically by Ken Voyles

As homework duty at Eastern Michigan, I recently read an article in Applied Psychology, Aug. 1979, that studied the impact of coaching on children or young adults.

"Scrutinizing the Skipper" was the title of the piece which dealt with a field study performed under the supervision of Bill Curtis, Ronald Smith and Frank Smoll, also the authors of the article.

With the large number of junior sports teams around this area -- from baseball to soccer -- and the need for coaches for all kinds of teams, I thought the article might have some bearing on the local situation.

The coaches impact toward the children he commands has always been quite a controversy, but, according to the authors, little has been written or done in a scientific way to study the issue closely.

Curtis, Smith and Smoll put together a field study and sent trained observers to log behavior patterns between the coach and players.

The observers had to work with a set number of 12 behaviors a coach may exhibit in a real-game situation from encouragement responses to punitive-technical instruction or punishment.

The authors thus propose that "the effect of coaching behaviors on team attitudes is determined by how the players perceive these behaviors.

"For instance, players may respond not only to the informational content of technical instruction but also to some message the coach unwarily communicates."

With that in the mind, the researchers also interviewed the players to gather some information that would correlate to the other information.

The content of the study is narrow but it is still interesting. Seattle was the chosen during 1976-77.

Some 51 coaches and 542 players in the Minors, 8-9 years old, Majors, 10-12 years and Seniors, 13-15 years, were used in the study.

Data for the coaches was collected during regular season games from the first pitch to the final out and by interviewing the players. The coaches also had a post season interview but the authors said that coach self-evaluations proved generally weak.

The behavior most observed proved to be that of technical instruction, encouragement and reinforcement. Negative behaviors such as punishment, nonreinforcement or punitive instruction were recorded less.

As for the boys, it was concluded that two factors emerged reflecting the players feelings.

The first was his attitude to the coach. They referred to attitudes such as Do you like your coach? Or do you like playing for your coach? Or do you think your coach likes you?

The second, obviously, was the boys' attitude toward the team. They asked: Do you like your teammates? Do you think your teammates like you?

The interviewers asked quite a few questions through several interviews with a boy.

And yet that conclusion is not unique. It's almost obvious.

"Keeping control correlated negatively with attitude to the coach during both years," the authors say. The boys pick up their attitudes (from the coach) and from a number of other factors such as peer reaction, they said. It was generally noted that players perceived coaches of losing teams as more punitive and less supportive than winning coaches.

Losing coaches react more often to a player's mistakes and misbehaviors such as ignoring what is going on in the field or just goofing around.

At the end of the article, the authors leave the reader with a question. As a possible solution they offer inter-action training for the coaches in addition to training in other areas such as conditioning and technique.

The authors said, however, focusing on the training of coaches implies their behavior is a casual factor in team performance and morale. And no doubt it is, but to what degree?

The other view is that some studies indicate characteristics and performances of players can, in turn, exert a casual influence on the behavior of a leader.

This leaves the whole question just hanging. It also fails to help answer the question of must-win attitudes by some players and coaches.

I've never coached a team but the relationship looks to be very important at the personal level. Not personal, as individuals, but as a team or team members should the coach interact with his team.
