Twp. can't explain $1 million discrepancy

©1980 P-C Community Crier, Inc.

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

Discrepancies -- of as much as $1 million -- in Plymouth Township accounting reports have been found and blamed on lack of internal communications and proper procedures at township hall.

The largest discrepancy is a $1,050,481 difference between the general tax account of $2,751,055 on Feb. 29 and $3,801,536 on March 1.

That difference, probably attributed to property tax collection deposits, could not be explained Monday by Township Treasurer

Joe West, Township Clerk Esther Hulsing, the township's auditor Harvey Ziel, or township bookkeepers Barbara Pray or Pat Messer.

Township officials laid the confusion to lack of coordination between the three principal parties involved in compiling the monthly reports -- West and Pray in the treasurer's department and Messer in the clerk's department.

When similar problems were found with the township's books a year ago, Ziel's firm was asked to help township hall employes in establishing new procedures to clear up the confusion, but one township official involved said the changes were never properly or fully implemented.

Monthly cash reports for various accounts show numerous discrepancies between balances at the end of the month and at the beginning of the month.

For example, the March 31 balance in the general government savings account was $79,075, however the balance on April 1 was $80,037.

Pray said accumulated interest accounted for the difference. When asked why the figures were different, Harvey Ziel, of the township's auditing firm of Post, Smythe, Lutz, and Ziel, CPA, said: "I've no idea why they don't show the same balances. I'm sure no funds are missing . . . They're just clerical errors."

Ziel works with township officials on financial matters, although he said he doesn't prepare monthly reports.

Treasurer Joseph West, who supervises the preparation of monthly cash reports to the Board of Trustees with Clerk Esther Hulsing, attributed the discrepancies to employes "who follow improper procedures."

Tonda, Schroeder elected; Arlen bounced

Millage approved by 46-vote margin

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

In Monday's election, Flossie Tonda and Glenn Schroeder were elected to the school board, Proposition I was narrowly approved by 46 votes, and Proposition II was soundly defeated.

Proposition I allows the district to levy its full millage rate without the 1.26 mill roll-back imposed by the Headlee Amendment. Proposition II asked voters to approve a $11 million bond issue for building improvements and energy management.

Based on unofficial results, a total of 6,289 votes were cast, representing about 14 per cent of the district's more than 44,000 registered voters.

Incumbent Richard Arlen, currently the school board's vice president, was third in the seven-candidate race. According to unofficial results, Tonda tallied the highest number of votes with 2,826, followed by Schroeder with 2,484. Arlen was third with 1,608.

James Sinclair, who was making his second bid for a school board seat, was fourth with 1,447 votes followed closely by Cantonite James Steffen with 1,423. Placing sixth was Emil Hagopian with 365 votes; he was trailed by Dennie Holyoak with 304 votes. These figures are based on unofficial results.

Arlen said he had "no reaction" to his defeat. "I'm taking it fine." Asked if he would run again next June, he said, "Who knows? We'll have to wait and see."

Schroeder and Tonda were both pleased by the election results. Tonda is currently a board trustee and Schroeder was making his first bid for a board seat. "I'm pleased and looking forward to working with the board and administration," he said.

Although he said he was happy to see the millage pass, he added that he was "disappointed by the defeat of the $11 million bond proposition. 'It's indicative of our economic times,'" he said. "Hopefully they'll improve and we can come back to the voters in a year or so."

Tonda and Schroeder will begin their four-year terms July 1.

In the millage race, Proposition I was approved by 46 votes, according to unofficial results, which showed 3,147 in favor of it compared to 3,101 against it. It was defeated in the following precincts, Central Middle, Gallimore, Starkweather, Allen, Farrand, Bird, and by absentee voters.

These precincts generally represent voters in the City of Plymouth. In comparison, voters in Canton approved of the school board's request and it was OK'd in precincts at Iebister, West, Fiegel, Miller, Hulsing, Eriksson, Field, and Canton High.

Voters rejected Proposition II by 875 votes, according to unofficial results. The total vote was 2,675 in favor of the proposal with 3,550 against it. The proposition was defeated in all 15 precincts except two -- Eriksson and Fiegel schools.

Even though Proposition I was approved, Supt. John M. Hoben estimated that the district will face about a $1.7 million deficit during the 1980-81 school year. This figure does not take into account the district's reserve funds.

School Board President Tom Yack said a third try at a bond issue would probably not be attempted by the board. Two issues, totalling $21.9 million were defeated by the voters in March. "I doubt that there will be another election," said Yack.

Meanwhile, Yack said the board will work on planning ahead for the coming school year. Cuts, he said, will probably come up for board consideration in July.

CAROLYN SELLMAN Plymouth gets 2 GOP delegates

Plymouth will be well represented at the upcoming Republican National Convention in Detroit.

U.S. Congressman Carl Pursell, of Plymouth Township, and Carolyn Sellman, of the City of Plymouth, were chosen as part of the Michigan delegation at last weekend's state convention.

Pursell was chosen as an at-large delegate, while Sellman was picked as one of three delegates from Michigan's 2nd Congressional District.

Sellman, the Plymouth-Canton Board of Education's stenographer, has been active in local and state GOP politics for 15 years.

Both Sellman and Pursell are pledged to former Ambassador George Bush.

Twp. studies erecting water building

Construction of a new building for the Water and Sewer Department in Plymouth Township will begin this summer, according to a proposal from a subcommittee of the Board of Trustees.

Currently the department is located in a separate building behind township hall, however the department needs more room, according to township officials. Also, more storage space is needed for records, officials add.

At last Tuesday night's meeting, the board OK'd a motion to develop a plan for the architectural work and construction of the new building.

To be located on Mill Street, beside the township hall Mill Street driveway, the dimensions of the proposed building are 80 by 40 feet. The board is considering adopting a method known as "a turn key operation" for its construction.

A turn key operation building means that bidders include both the architectural work and actual construction fees in making their bids for the project. In opening the project for bids, township officials would merely map out the size and room specifications of the building with the rest of the design and construction phases left to the bidder.

Usually when a new building is constructed, the township would first bid for architectural services and then ask contractors to bid on the architect's plans.

One benefit of using a turn key operation is that it's done quickly by one firm, said Trustee Maurice Breen.

"I pooh-poohed the idea at first," commented Clerk Esther Hulsing, "but then I went home and talked to Ken (her husband). That plan is used by GM and other large corporations."

"We might as well give this method a try," said Trustee Barbara Lynch.

The board's subcommittee, which includes Breen, Tom Notebaert, supervisor, and Michael Bailey, township engineer, will draw up guidelines for the project. About $270,000 has been set aside for the new building from the Water and Sewer Department funds, said Hulsing.

Hitchhiker ripped-off Robbery suspect arrested

BY CHAS CHILD

A 21-year-old Canton man was arrested for allegedly robbing a hitchhiker of $7 and a watch, State Police report.

Arrested was Robert D. Stanton of 40072 Eaton Rd., #101, who was released on $10,000 bond after his pre-trial examination in 35th District Court Monday.

The hitchhiker, Tom Virtue, 20, of Wheeling, W. Virginia, told police he was picked up by a man near Pontiac on May 29. After riding to downtown Detroit, the suspect headed back to the western suburbs and stopped at I-96 and I-275 at 10 p.m. police said.

The suspect then pulled out a pistol and removed and replaced its clip to show Virtue that it was loaded, police said. "There's one left so don't try anything," the man told Virtue, according to the report.

After searching Virtue's wallet (which was penniless), the suspect robbed him of $7 worth of pocket money and his watch, ordered Virtue out of the car, and drove off, said police.

Virtue was then driven to the Westland Police Department by a driver.

Virtue's description of the man and the vehicle led State Police troopers Mark Warner and Duane Avery to arrest Stanton at about 3 a.m. on the next morning.

Stanton faces arraignment in Wayne County Circuit Court on July 11.

City faces $10,000 bill to fix dump

BY CHAS CHILD

The City of Plymouth may spend up to $10,000 to repair a landfill it owns in Salem Township that is leaking pollutants into nearby groundwater.

The state Department of Natural Resources (DNR) has ordered the city to stop the seepage of contaminants from the landfill at Five Mile and Chubb roads.

Originally, the DNR gave the city until June 1 to make the repairs, but city officials, after a meeting last Thursday with the DNR, asked for a 90-day extension. City Manager Henry Graper said there is little doubt this extension would be granted.

Leaking from the landfill, which was closed about 10 years ago, is what is called "leachate." Residue from the garbage that dumped at the site for about 15 years, the leachate apparently does not contain any heavy metals or industrial waste, said a DNR official.

Although a Washtenaw County drain runs through the dump site, no leachate is seeping into this covered drain, said Larry Aubuchon of the DNR.

Originally, Graper said a $5,000 performance bond posted by the company that closed the landfill would probably cover the cost of stopping the seepage. At last Thursday's meeting, however, Graper said he learned that the bond was in effect for two years after the landfill was closed.

The cost of the repairs, which now must be met entirely by the city, said Graper, would probably fall somewhere between $5,000 and $10,000.

Parts of the landfill must be graded and seeded, and the points going out on bids for the work soon," said the city manager.

Well-behaved pupils to see Tigers

BY PATRICIA BARTOLD

About 300 students from Central Middle School are eligible to see the Detroit Tigers play baseball Saturday under a new disciplinary code adopted at the school. Their good behavior is being rewarded because these students didn't get a demerit for a month.

Dubbed the Central Middle School Responsibility Code, the pilot program was started in January by a group of teachers to quell some students' unruly behavior yet offer a way of reinforcing good behavior.

The code also offers a consistent way of disciplining students so that students know what to expect from each teacher at the school. "Kids want limits," says Central Principal Gus Gorguze. "If they know the boundaries, students will watch their step within those limits."

This is how the code works: For example, if a student is caught running down the hall, instead of walking, the student is given a demerit. Under the code's ground rules, the adult issuing the demerit must explain the reason for giving it to the student. Three demerits during the week from Monday through Friday mean a student has to go to detention, a supervised half-hour session after school.

The code also says that after three groups of demerits, then the student is sent to an administrator and a school psychologist or social worker can be called to help the student.

Also, under the ground rules, a student has a fresh chance to begin each week with no demerits.

The responsibility code also has a way of supporting good behavior, too. If, at the end of a month, a student hasn't been given any demerits, then he or she is eligible for a treat, such as an ice skating party, a movie, or a Tigers baseball game. The tickets for the Tigers game are being paid for by the Parent-Teacher-Student Organization.

The responsibility code is "a variation of the golden rule," says Dolores Forman, a seventh grade social studies and English teacher at Central.

"My concern with disciplining a student is that if one kid takes up classroom time, it's not fair to the other 29 who also need a teacher's attention."

Furthermore, she adds, "this system takes the anger out of the process of discipline. We need a simple disciplinary procedure that was without emotion and simply set parameters for kids' behavior."

"The system really works," she says, adding that the teachers want to use it next year, too.

Meanwhile, Gorguze has observed the school's overall atmosphere is "more settled and stable. It's a feeling I've picked up from both the students and the staff."

Lynch pulls out of treasurer race in Twp.

Barbara Lynch has withdrawn from the treasurer's race in Plymouth Township and Harold Stein is no longer running for the Wayne County Charter Commission.

Both had filed for two posts. Lynch also filed to retain her seat on the board of trustees while Stein filed to run for Canton Township Supervisor, too.

However, both withdrew one of their petitions by Friday's deadline at 4 p.m.

Why did Lynch withdraw? "I was under the impression that West (the current treasurer) was going to retire. I'd told West that I wouldn't run against him."

"I'd like the job, but I think I can be effective as a trustee," she said.

Stein filed for both the Wayne County Charter Commission and Canton Township supervisor. He withdrew his petition in the charter commission race. "There are many responsible candidates running in the charter commission race," he said.

"Bearing this in mind, I feel my energy should be focused on the race for Canton supervisor."

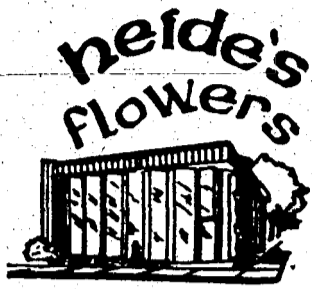

Wine, cash stolen

Six bottles of wine and $300 in cash were stolen from Pizza Hut, 1425 Ann Arbor Rd., between 1:45 and 9 a.m. Monday morning, Wayne County Sheriffs report.

Thieves apparently entered by breaking the glass at a side door entrance and then took the money from a floor safe, said Detective Tim Glaab.

The incident is still under investigation, he added.

Twp. residents warned to cut overgrown weeds

Plymouth Township landowners whose property is vacant may be given a fine -- if they don't cut their weeds down.

At last Tuesday night's Board of Trustees meeting, Trustee Barbara Lynch proposed adopting a weed ordinance.

"I have already received several calls from citizens asking that weeds be cut on lots where they create a hazard for traffic turning onto main roads. In many cases these lots are owned by persons not residing in the township and there is nothing we can do to force these people to cut the weeds.

"Other communities have effective ordinances to control this problem. I suggest we adopt an ordinance which would force the owners to take better care of their property. We could cut the weeds ourselves and add the cost to the tax rolls or find some means of fining negligent lot owners," she wrote to trustees, in making the proposal.

The new ordinance, if approved, would impose a fine on landowners who don't maintain their property. And, if the property owner doesn't cut the weeds down, the township's Building Department will be given the authority to mow the property and then bill the owner.

"The Building Department doesn't have enough clout to do anything about it (unmowed lots) now," commented Lynch.

If weeds on lots create a traffic hazard because drivers can't see approaching cars at intersections, residents can report the hazard to the Wayne County Road Commission. It's their responsibility to prevent weeds from hindering a driver's vision, said Don Morgan, township attorney.

The board gave Morgan the go-ahead to draft a weed ordinance for the board to adopt.

Cantonite seeks office

Cantonite Darlene Olson is a candidate for the Wayne County auditor's post held currently by Richard T. Kelly. She is running on the Democratic ticket in the Aug. 5 primary.

In addition to Kelly, two other Democrats have filed as candidates, one from Westland and the second from Detroit.

Fate of mall walls still undecided

BY CHAS CHILD

The fate of two fire-damaged walls still standing after the Penniman Avenue Shops will probably be decided within two weeks.

The City of Plymouth has cited the owners of the brick walls for violating the city's building code. City officials say the walls are dangerous and should be razed.

William Morrison, owner of the east wall of the former mini-mall, said his insurance company is still trying to determine whether the wall can be repaired.

When various engineering tests are completed and examined, said Morrison, then the decision on whether to tear down the wall can be made.

Meanwhile, City Engineer Ken West said he has turned the building-code citations over to City Attorney Charles Lowe for possible court action.

The owners of the burned-out mini-mall are David Pugh, a city commissioner, and Rod Cannon, police chief of the City of Northville. They own the west wall of the Shops and Morrison's wall rests on their property.

Morrison heads the Plymouth accounting firm Morrison, Stanwood and Polak.

Plan to dissolve Canton's merit ordinance fizzles

An attempt to dissolve the Township Merit Commission was apparently killed before it reached the Canton Board of Trustees last night.

Procedures for hiring and firing township employees are covered in the Merit Commission ordinance.

Treasurer James Donahue, who originated the request as an agenda item, said Monday, "I've rethought my position on this, and will ask that the item be removed from the agenda." He also commented that he had received information concerning the matter that he had not previously been aware of.

The issue apparently came up at last Tuesday's board meeting, when procedures used by the Merit Commission to hire a Fire Department mechanic, subsequently fired, were questioned by board members.

Connie Carman, head of the township's clerical union, said, "The ordinance takes politics out of hiring and firing. I'm afraid if they try to get rid of the Merit Ordinance they will try to get rid of the personnel director. We need a personnel director."

Plans for Canton Country Festival aired

John Schwartz, first vice president of the Canton Chamber of Commerce, has unveiled plans for the annual Sweet Corn Fest, which has been renamed this year to the Canton Country Festival.

Speaking at the Canton Township Board meeting last Tuesday, Schwartz detailed proposed activities for the fest, scheduled the weekend of August 8 to 10.

Beginning Friday, area merchants will hold sales in connection with the event to try to increase business participation, according to Schwartz. Saturday's activities will include a Rotary Breakfast, pet show and Fire Department Spaghetti Supper.

Sunday's festivities will feature a chicken dinner sponsored by the chamber, various children's games, a Muscular Dystrophy ballgame, homerun derby, hayrides, finals of the tug-of-war competition, a performance by the Senior Citizens Kitchen Band, a moon-walk and a dessert booth.

Several area clubs and organizations will participate in the event, including the Canton Rotary Club, Fire Department, Canton Lions Club, Canton Historical Society, Plymouth Cadet Squadron and Michigan Bell.

Schwartz stated that proceeds from the Festival will stay in Canton to help various community projects, with the exception of money from Fire Department activities which will be donated to the Ann Arbor Burn Center.

Bag it, carpetbaggers

A number of politics-watchers were surprised to learn last week that a candidate for U.S. Congress need not live in the district in which he or she is running.

That's right. A lumberjack from Menominee could run for Congress in downtown Detroit. Or a Plymouth gift-shop owner could represent farm country in the Thumb.

The U.S. Constitution, as interpreted by the Michigan legislature, permits no restrictions on who can run based on districts.

This all came up when Helen Gotowka, a long-time activist in conservative Republican politics, filed to challenge incumbent Congressman Carl Pursell in the GOP primary. Gotowka lives in Dearborn Heights, outside the 2nd District.

It would be somewhere on the far side of ridiculous for us to call for a change in the U.S. Constitution. But we'd like to say that out-of-district candidates are ridiculous, anyway. It's only logical that a U.S. Congressman should represent his or her district. Why have districts in the first place if your Congressman can live elsewhere? Local representation ensures that all voices will be heard in Congress.

It's not that we have anything against Helen Gotowka. In fact, we welcome challengers in all primaries. But not from outside the district.

EDITOR:

We have gotten money from a group called Canton Jaycees and Cantoh Goodfellows. I was wondering if you would print a thank you note in the paper.

Gary Jagoda and Jerry Bodenmiller gave Salem High School enough money so that a class from Salem could go to Boblo Island. The students who are going are associated with two people that have helped students a lot. Their names are Tish Reese and Steve Foley. Steve Foley is a social worker. Tish Reese is a psychologist. Thank you for taking time to read this.

Child's play

Strap on your seat belt folks, here come the elections.

In Canton, two former supervisors, Harold Stein and Robert Greenstein, and the incumbent, Noel Culbert, will battle for the Democratic nomination. It will be an interesting race. Can Greenstein recharge the "Greenstein family," a well-organized group that put him in the supervisor's chair in 1974, but which faltered two years later?

Or has Culbert solidified his position sufficiently to hold off Greenstein's challenge? Stein, in fact, could be the deciding factor. He will probably take votes away from Culbert, tilting the race to Greenstein.

But then it has been said that Canton's Republicans plan to switch to the Democratic ticket and vote en masse for Culbert in order to deny Greenstein the nomination.

Since there are no crucial races in the Republican primary, this switch seems likely. The Republicans who do make this switch will miss a chance to whittle down the six Republican trustee candidates to the four who will advance to the November general election. But this will be a small price to pay, they figure, to stop Greenstein, whose contentious style has created many enemies over the years.

I'm happy to see the six Republicans in the trustee race, which, over the years has been a one-party (Democratic) contest. Since Canton usually votes overwhelmingly Democratic in a general election, especially in a presidential year, they face an uphill battle to win in November.

Yet if Ronald Reagan grabs the public's fancy (God forbid), the local Republicans could ride his coattails into office.

For a change, Republicans have mounted a serious candidate to run against veteran Democratic Congressman William D. Ford, whose district includes all of Canton. He is James Caygill, public safety director of the City of Woodhaven.

Unfortunately, State Rep. Thomas Brown, a Democrat, whose district includes all of Canton and a few precincts in Plymouth Township, has no opponent in either party.

As for the other U.S. Congressional race in the Plymouth-Canton Community, the 2nd District, incumbent Republican Carl Pursell should have a tougher challenge on his hands than two years ago when he easily thrashed Ann Arbor City Councilman Earl Greene. Pursell faces Democrat Kathleen O'Reilly, an articulate consumer advocate. Both reside in Plymouth Township.

Finally, Plymouth-Cantonites shouldn't overlook the nine-man race for election to the Wayne County Charter Commission. The charter commission will attempt to reorganize Wayne County's government. If done properly, this could go a long way towards improving such vital services as road improvements in our community.

Bartold ya'

by Patricia Bartold

They've tossed their hats into the ring.

Yes, it's election time and candidates had to turn in their petitions last week in order to be placed on the ballot.

In Plymouth Township, incumbent Supervisor Tom Notebaert, a Republican, faces two challengers, Maurice Breen, a Republican, and Carol Levitte, a Democrat. Whoever wins the Aug. 5 primary -- either Notebaert or Breen -- will face Levitte in November's general election.

Breen's candidacy was expected. A long-time township resident and former township supervisor, Breen has been involved in township politics for years. Currently he sits on the Board of Trustees. He's also been a frequent critic of the current township administration and a leader at board meetings.

On the other hand, Levitte's candidacy caught many devotees of township politics by surprise. Although she was expected to file for a seat on the board, many didn't realize she was aiming for the supervisor's post until she filed. Obviously, assumptions can't be made, particularly at election time.

By filing on the Democratic slate, Levitte may be able to tap votes from township residents who are ready for a change from the long years of a Republican administration. She may prove to be a formidable foe or she could be like a duck out of water in this Republican-oriented township.

I'm pleased to see both Breen and Levitte running against Notebaert. Active campaigns with plenty of candidates to select from will make this election year memorable. Their candidacies give voters a choice on the ballot as well as make this race for the top post an authentic three-ring circus.

In other administrative races, Treasurer Joseph West and Clerk Esther Hulsing are unopposed. Trustee Barbara Lynch, who had filed for both her trustee seat and the treasurer's post, withdrew her petition in the treasurer's race.

That is an unfortunate move. A frequent critic of the township administration, particularly the treasurer's office, Lynch had laid the groundwork for the race. Her candidacy needed to be developed further if she was going to unseat West, but she had started. It's a shame to see her withdraw now, because it looked as though it would have been a good race.

It's still far too early to support any candidates, but I think it's always a good sign of a thriving community when local issues surface in active, issue-oriented campaigns. Sleepy campaigns are indicative of sleepy communities and that's one description that doesn't apply to Plymouth Township.

Street closing was frustrating

EDITOR:

This letter is written in the interests of justice. Your paper, when reporting on the street closings, via barricades on Mayflower Drive in Plymouth Township, has been one-sided.

We, the residents of Gregory Lane, also have a traffic problem, compounded by the illegal closing of Mayflower. When Parkland Meadows was built there was no thru street from Joy to Ann Arbor Road. What is now Mayflower Subdivision was then woods. Four years later when construction of Mayflower Sub was on paper, Mayflower Drive was made a thru street by the recommendation of the Plymouth Planning Commission, so we the residents of Gregory did not have to bear the burden of Mayflowers residents seeking access to Joy.

In August, 1979, we heard via the grapevine, that Mayflower Drive was being barricaded. We, who would be directly affected by this closing, were not notified, violating Public Act 51, which states -- The County may only close a road for purposes of construction and or public safety; and a hearing to determine if public safety is being served must be held.

However, we understood Mayflowers' traffic problem and undertook to settle ours without removing Mayflowers' barricade. We requested the township and Wayne County Road Commission to close Albert at Gregory with a barricade, thereby prohibiting cut throughs to Ann Arbor road via Gregory Lane.

Mr. Notebaert, supervisor of Plymouth Township, informed us we must first consult with the spokesman for Mayflower Subdivision, Mr. John Los, which we did. Los and our spokesman attended a meeting at the township hall in September, 1979 and agreed on the closing of Albert. Consequently, both sent substitute spokesmen to a meeting with the Board of Wayne County Road Commissioners, and recommended the previous stated action. Wayne County agreed and set up a barricade at Albert. This is all on record at Wayne County.

Five months later we happen to see a notice in the paper stating Notebaert has recommended the removal of the barricade at Albert to Wayne County, due to a petition signed by the residents of Mayflower Subdivision. While the petition gives many reasons for the removal of the barricade, the only one affecting all 53 residents who signed is article 4 which states, "We on Albert Dr. and surrounding homes on Baywood and Mayflower Streets are having great difficulty getting in and out of our subdivision." Note that again Notebaert failed to notify us of this action, although we were instructed by Notebaert to inform Los when we took action. Subsequently, we sent a letter to Wayne County recommending the removal of both barricades and leaving both subdivisions with their original traffic problems.

In April, 1980 Notebaert informed the two spokesmen for Gregory Lane that the township would hold a closed meeting at which time Wayne County would state their solution to the problem. It was stressed to our spokesmen that this was to be a closed meeting and only they were invited. They attended the meeting, as did most of the residents of Mayflower Sub, and were informed by Wayne County that both barricades would be removed.

On May 30, 1980, the barricade on Albert was removed and Mayflowers' left standing. A call on June 3, to Mr. Kinville at Wayne County revealed that it was not coming down due to Notebaert's recommendation. When residents of Gregory Lane called Notebaert they were told by him, that the township had not say in the matter and it was Wayne County's decision, when in fact Mr. Galecki, Wayne County Road Commission Secretary, has in his possession a letter signed by Notebaert recommending the permanent closing of Mayflower Drive and the opening of Albert.

We, the residents of Gregory Lane, have been deceived and frustrated at every turn, and we are extremely unhappy with the entire handling of this matter. Our only recourse is to take legal action and steps to replace the present leadership of our township.

In addition

by Dan Bodene

This, by way of introduction, is my debut on the editorial pages of The Crier.

Although I only recently moved to the community, in a sense I'm not really new to the area, having grown up down the road in Livonia. After the Army and Central Michigan University, I worked for a magazine in Mt. Pleasant for a year before joining the staff here in March.

Using that infinite wisdom only reserved for publishers, W. Edward Wendover (a regular on these pages) assigned me to begin work on a new project -- the Community Guide. Consequently, I received a crash course on the community and how it has changed since I used to patrol it on my Schwinn.

Now that I work here, I'll be covering the area as a newspaperman -- "just the facts, ma'am." But since the facts don't always tell the whole story, from time to time my smiling face will show up here when I have something to say not in the who, what, why, where, when and how much of straight coverage.

It may be the only chance I get to get an opinion in edgewise around here.

I'll be looking forward to hearing from you, because you have a right to space on these pages, too. That's one of the things this newspaper and I are here for.

Postcards capture Plymouth's ambiance

ONE OF THE POSTCARD ART series is this pencil drawing by Gordon Eddy of "Main Street Crossing." Each of the artists was asked to contribute a work that best exemplified Plymouth to them. Proceeds of the sale of the series will go to the Carol Decker Memorial Fund.

AN INK AND WATERCOLOR WASH by Barbara Bray is one of 10 examples of the Postcard Art series, a project of the Plymouth Community Arts Council. Printed on heavy cream paper, the suggested price for the set is $3, or 30 cents each.

To raise money for the Carol Decker Memorial Fund, the Plymouth Community Arts Council tried an idea from Kansas by way of Traverse City.

In late January, the PCAC decided to commission local artists to produce a work that typified Plymouth to them, for reproduction on postcards. The idea was used as a fundraiser by the Traverse City Arts Council, who borrowed it from a council in Kansas.

The artists, who were chosen because they usually do not participate in other PCAC projects such as Fall Festival Artists or the Craftsmen Show, were paid a commission for their work.

They include Pam Wehmeyer, who did a photo entitled "Pink House"; F. Erick Carne, who submitted a pen and ink drawing, "Gazebo"; John Graham, who produced a pencil drawing entitled "Kellogg Park"; Barbara Bray, who provided an ink and watercolor wash entitled "Tonquish Creek"; and Gordon Eddy, who submitted pencil drawings entitled "Main Street Crossing" and "Untitled."

Also represented were Gary Caskey, who provided the photo "Miller Woods"; Tivador Balogh, who did pen and ink drawing called "Growth Works"; and Demaris, who submitted a grease pencil drawing entitled "Plymouth Symphony."

The postcard series, printed on heavy cream paper, will be available in selected stores.

'Fantasy' planned

"Fantasy 80" is the theme of this year's Canton Senior Graduation Party on June 18 following graduation ceremonies in the Physical Education building.

Cost is $9 per ticket in advance and $11 at the door. Tickets will go on sale in the Canton High lobby during lunch until June 11, and at the graduation rehearsal.

Featured will be hypnotist Lee Darrold, a palm-reader, handwriting analyst, photographer, horoscope reader and musical entertainment by the band "Magazine."

Chairmen of the party are Pat and Jack Mahin, assisted by committee members Eleanor Rivard and Marilyn Nitchman, decorations; Betty Kitti, tickets; Gloria and Bob Butzow, prizes and favors; Barb and Jack Carpenter, security and chaperones; Bob and Judy Shuman and Carolyn and Derald McKinley, entertainment; Sandy Gaggi and Peg Jennings, food; Sue Visser, publicity; Derald McKinley and Ed Basar, pool supervisors; and Harry McCourt, special. For $5, fair-goers can enjoy all rides for as long as they want. The Jaycees, the sponsors of the fair, will host free kids from the Plymouth Center for Human Development on rides and drinks on Thursday. Here are the fair's hours: Wednesday and Thursday, 3-10 p.m.; Friday, 3-11 p.m.; Saturday, 11 a.m.-11 p.m.; and Sunday, 11:30 a.m.-10 p.m. The Canton Jayettes are sponsoring during the festivities a free blood-pressure check and well as a duck pond booth to benefit funds for Reyes Syndrome research. Also, the Canton Police Department will have its crime-prevention unit on hand to advise citizens on home security. Participating Canton merchants, meanwhile, will be flying flags in front of their stores and will be holding sales on June 13, 14, and 15. Flyers detailing the sale are being distributed throughout the community by Canton Boy Scouts. For every one of these flyers returned to a participating merchant, a donation will be given to the Jaycees. The coordination between the merchants and the Jaycees has called for some special efforts by persons from both groups. Lori Roberts, of Canton Vac & Sew, spent many hours on the phone organizing the event, as did Marily Eddy, of Community Reproductions. "We wanted to get involved to help the merchants," said Tim Orbacki of the Canton Jaycees. "We want to show our support for the community. A lot of people are getting excited about this."

MARK I

Fri., Sat., & Sun. Only

PROBLEM:

How can you save heating costs in your fireplace-equipped home? An ordinary fireplace wastes fuel and energy, almost all of the heat goes up the chimney.

SOLUTION:

The Mark I fireplace furnace is an efficient wood heater that fits into your existing fireplace without special modifications to your home. One load of wood burns for hours and very little heat goes up the chimney. You get the warmth that wood heat provides, right in your own home.

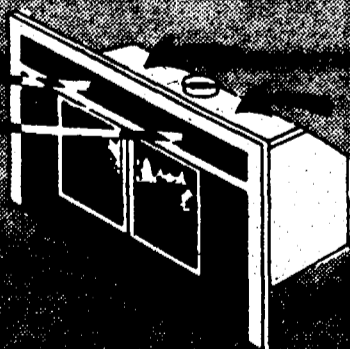

UNIQUE HEAT TRANSFER SYSTEM

Room heat circulation is provided by an electrically operated blower fan which takes cool air from the room, warms it around the outside of the enclosed Mark I firebox and returns the warmed air back into your home. With the Mark I you enjoy your fireplace's radiant warmth with the added safety of tempered glass doors. A special air vent is even included that works to keep the glass doors clean... less work for you.

SAVING HOME HEATING COSTS

With the Mark I fireplace furnace you can reduce your conventional heating bills significantly. Let wood do the work... turn down your home thermostat and set the Mark I heat controls for maximum room comfort. With the Mark I you save home heating costs while using one of nature's finest renewable energy resources.

tell it to Phyllis

What do you do when the phone rings as you're getting out of the shower? You grab a towel and go sliding across the floor, stub your toe on the floor molding, and drip water all over everything along the pathway to the phone.

As I breathlessly gasped out a hello, all I could hear on the other end of the line was some muffled whispers. "What? Please speak louder, I can't hear you."

Now, how many fools do you know who have ever asked an obscene phone caller to speak louder? I'm not sure who was more surprised -- he with my response or me with his. Anyway, after I hung up, he called back again.

The third time he tried calling, I left the phone off the hook, and listened to the nasal toned recording tell me I must dial a one before dialing the number. Since I was the callee not the caller, I knew Michigan Bell must have crossed its lines of communication. I know better than to argue with a recording -- it never seems to understand my side of the story.

Finally after listening to the recording squak for so long, I hung up the phone. When it started ringing, I just let it ring. I pretended I wasn't hearing a thing. My nerves soon overcame my imagination and the fifth time the thing started ringing I grabbed it and said, "police department."

There I was trying to explain to a friend why I had answered the phone like that. It's very hard to explain something to someone when they're offering to send over little men in white jackets to carry you away.

JULIE TOBEY

Julie Ann Tobey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Tobey of Northport, Florida (formerly of Plymouth) graduated from Venice High School with honors. As the outstanding senior student, she received the Century III Leadership Award, Venice Nokomis Rotary Interact Scholarship, Good Citizen Award, and the Chiquita Gordon Memorial Award. She also served as vice president of the senior class. She plans to attend St. Leo College in the fall.

sports

FRED THOMANN (RIGHT) and Bob Blohm (left) will be conducting a summer basketball camp at Salem High through the first four weeks of summer. The camp is open to both boys and girls in grades four through 10 and will stress individual and team skills in a sport that is dependent on such skills.

Summer basketball camp

Salem High's gym will be the scene of a four week summer basketball clinic conducted by the school's coaching staff.

The sessions will stress the ideas of improving an individual's skills and learning to develop the necessary team skills.

Salem boys' coach Fred Thomann along with Salem girls' coach Bob Blohm and assisted by Bob Brodie have set this camp up for boys and girls in grades seven through 10 and grades four, five, and six.

The four weeks -- five days each week in one hour and a half sessions -- are an attempt to give maximum basketball exposure at minimum cost.

The cost is $20 for the full four weeks but it is possible to enroll on a one week basis at $5 a week.

The team of coaches hope to fulfill a simple preamble facing the registration form which reads, "again this summer the Salem basketball coaching staff will be running a basketball camp for girls and boys. The purpose of the camp is to provide each person with an opportunity to improve their individual and team basketball skills.

"The off season, especially the summer months provides an excellent opportunity for each player to improve both individual and team skills. (We) think its important for basketball players to understand that although they improve a great deal during their playing season, its during the off season that the real individual development takes place.

"So with this thought in mind, (We) think you'll find the Salem camp, an excellent opportunity to get your game together for the coming season."

The sessions will run from June 23 until July 18 each day of the work week.

Boys in seven through 10 grades will start at 8:30 a.m. and run to 10 a.m. Girls in the same grades are next, from 10:15 a.m. until 11:45 a.m.

From 12:15 p.m. to 1:45 p.m. boys and girls in grades four, five and six will take over the gym.

Register at Continuing Education Office, room 130, at Canton High. The office is open 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

For further information call Thomann or Blohm at 453-3100 ext. 247 or Orlean Baker at 453-3100 ext. 372.

All-leaguer

In last week's Crier, Canton softball player Jean Krashovetz was not mentioned in the article regarding the Western Six all-league team.

A senior outfielder, Krashovetz was selected to the second team by the league coaches.

"Jean got off to a slow start this year, but as the season progressed she really went on a hitting tear," said Canton coach Max Sommerville. "She was one of our top clutch hitters."

Krashovetz lead the Chiefs in extra-base hits while hitting well over .300 for the year.

CANTON HEAD basketball coach Craig Bell is also conducting a summer cage program at Canton High for seventh through 12th grade students.

Tournament golf results

Some 27 local golfers competed in the first Canton Open Golf Championship at Fellows Creek Golf Course last weekend and through rain, wind and cold temperatures Kevin Ryan came away with top honors.

Ryan won the championship flight when he fired an even par 72 on Sunday morning then completed his rain delayed round from Saturday for a 76. His 148 total gave Ryan a six stroke victory in the flight over runner-up Matt Wiley, who fired a 75 and 79 for 154.

The 19 year old Ryan produced two eagles on the par five third hole and par five 13th hole. His two under par 34 was also the low nine-hole round of the competition.

Jeff Harrison and Terry Lemieux were close on Wiley's heels with a 76-80 for a total of 156 and a 77-84 for a total 161, respectively Lemieux also won the closest to the pin contest with a four wood shot on the 15th hole landing six inches from the pin.

The first flight was won by Rick Francis who struggled with an 85 before recovering to card a 78 and a 163 total.

George Dawson followed with an 84-81 combination for 165 and Thomas Odorcich was third with 81-85 for 166. Odorcich gained that position when in a sudden death playoff he bogeyed the 11th hole while Nunzio Marino had a double bogey on the hole.

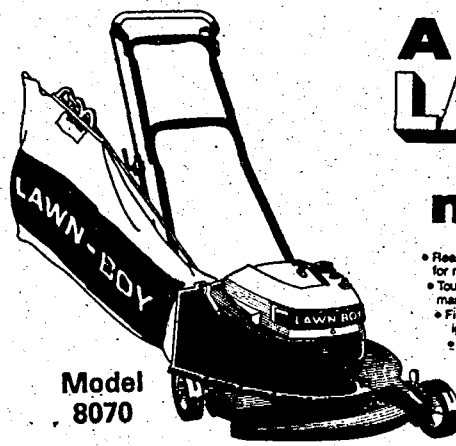

The second flight was won by Bob Koers with a 94-86 and a 180 total. Robert Greenfield was second, 91-92 for 183, and Ed Drerup was third, 92-93 for 185.

Monday's vote

O'Neil unjams machine, calls the election

While Plymouth-Canton School observers waited Monday night for the outcome of the millage election, R. J. O'Neil was quietly rolling up his sleeves and going to work.

The millage -- Prop. I -- was leading by a mere 44 votes across the school district while everyone was waiting for the jammed voting machines at Pct. 3's Isbister School to report in.

But try as they might, the precinct workers under the leadership of Louise Tritten, couldn't unjam the one machine with 239 votes on it to see how the results came out. The election ladies called for help and could do nothing but sit back and watch the mouse who lives behind table number 2 of the Isbister cafetorium, and wait for the voting machine repairman.

Enter R. J. O'Neil, the repairman. First he fiddled in the front, then he took off his coat, fiddled in the back, then he took off his tie and climbed up on top and fiddled around there. After 20 minutes, he was able to trip the lever and the results were in -- Pct. 3 carried the millage 260 to 258.

Cable TV politics to be aired

"The Politics of Cable TV" will be discussed at a meeting at Nicky's on Five Mile Road, just east of Levan, Livonia, on Thursday, June 12. The social hour begins at 7:30 p.m. with the presentation and discussion starting at 8:30.

Charles Ruffing, the guest speaker, will talk about the process of designing a cable TV ordinance and selecting a franchise. He is a cable consultant to Miami Dayton Cable Consortium and New Orleans Cable Commission.

The event is sponsored by the Michigan Women's Political Caucus, Second District Chapter. For ticket information, contact Pat Rzetelny, 33463 Vargo, Livonia.

4 hailed as good citizens

Soroptimist International's Plymouth Chapter recently presented its annual Youth Citizenship Awards to four area high school seniors.

Mrs. Leo Trower, chairman and only charter member of the group, presented the awards May 21 at Napoleon's in Plymouth to Sharon Moody, who received $100, Kathryn Davenport, who received $75, Michael Henshaw, who also received $75, and Pamela Bingley, who received $50.

Guest speaker at the gathering was Judge

Gladys Barsamian of the Wayne County Juvenile Court.

Bake and craft sales were held to raise money for the club's on-going citizenship award program.

Jazz tonight

On Wednesday, June 11 the student-operated radio station WSDP (88.1 FM) will present a special feature, "Jazz Through the Years" at 7 p.m.

Twp. financial discrepancies

"(Those balances) are not right," he commented. "It should have been caught (before the reports were completed)."

West said the differences in balances are probably due to the interest picked up in the accounts. "It looks like the interest figures were included in the beginning of the month figures."

Pat Messer, an accounting supervisor who helps prepare the monthly reports, said the balances were different because different sets of figures are used to compile the two balances.

The end of the month balances are computed from records in the treasurer's department, she said. In comparison, the beginning of the month balances are computed from bank reconciliations, she added.

General procedures in the township are "loose," said Pray. "A year ago, Harvey laid out the format for me to follow for the cash reports and investments and I follow that."

"If there's an improper procedure, I don't know what it is," she said.

Furthermore, she added, "there's a lack of cooperation between those who prepare the reports. Communication is very poor there (in township hall)."

Hulsing and West are directly responsible for the preparation of the monthly reports of cash. Messer works under Hulsing's supervision in accounting for money which the township owes; Pray works under West's supervision in accounting for money received by the township.
