

To keep school farm running for one year

School board rejects Rotary offer

BY DAN BODENE

A proposal by the Plymouth Rotary Club to take over operation of the school farm was rejected by Plymouth-Canton School Board members Monday night.

Kenneth Hulsing, a representative of the Rotary, told board members the club's plan would be to rent the farm from the district for $1 per year and that a tenant, "a husband-wife team, either young and just getting started in farming or a retired couple" would be found to occupy the facility.

Rotary, he said, would supply the farm with animals and feed and cover repair costs up to $50. The tenant would in turn pay Rotary $100 per month in rent, pay utilities and maintain the grounds.

Revenues from rental of the farm's acreage would also go to Rotary.

The farm was originated years ago with a $20,000 donation from Rotary, Hulsing said, and under the new proposal, the organization might be willing to donate from $2,000 to $3,000 per year for its operation.

Administration concerns, said

Superintendent John Hoben, were based on maintenance, operation and supervisory costs, and that the district has no funds available to aid in the farm's operation. The Rotary proposal, he said, was also for only one year. Treasurer Glenn Schroeder also was hesitant to accept the plan. "I don't think we should

CANTON SUPERVISOR Jim Poole prepares to take his turn at the inaugural Cow Chip Fling during Canton's Country Fest on Friday, Saturday and Sunday. Canton Country Fest draws large crowds

If the number of chicken barbecue dinners served is any indication of the success of the Canton Country Fest, then it can be said the event was the best ever.

According to Fest committee president Flossie Tonda, more than 1,700 chicken dinners were served - 500 more than last year. In fact, she says barbecue organizers are considering building another cooking pit next year.

Prior to the eating and contest festivities, however, was the Fest parade, first-eyer for the event.

Far surpassing expectations, the parade contained nearly 70 units, in a procession so long the lead unit was nearing the end point just as the last group was preparing to begin the march. Township supervisor Jim Poole says the actual route may have to be lengthened

Plymouth township to vote on fire millage issue

In 13 days there will be a special election in Plymouth Township to decide the fate of the township fire department.

On that Tuesday (Aug. 25) township residents will vote for or against a one mill increase-renewal.

Township officials are gearing up their campaign this week for the increased millage issue. Besides an information pamphlet being released throughout the township, trustees will be conducting a workshop Aug. 18 to discuss the upcoming budget and the millage.

Supervisor Maurice Breen said Monday that an information package will be made available at that meeting concerning the fire millage. That meeting starts at 7:30 p.m. at Township Hall on Ann Arbor Road.

The one ballot election will give voters a chance to vote against the increase without voting against the renewal or to vote against both increase and renewal. Another half mill renewal is scheduled for 1982.

Currently fire department costs reach $516,000, part of which is paid for by the one mill now used to cover costs. That one mill generates $280,000 this year and would generate over $315,000 in 1982.

If residents vote down just the increase the township will be able to make up $140-170,000 difference from recreation, library and police funding until the 1982 renewal, said Breen.

"Even if this passes it might not be necessary for us to levy the full mill," said Breen, adding that it is very difficult to make residents understand that point. "There have been times when we have not levied what we asked for."

Canton board says 'no' to commercial zoning

BY DICK BROWN

Developers and owners of Kennedy Plaza, a shopping strip on the north side of Ford Road just west of Canton Center Road have run into a roadblock in their plans to expand the commercial development westward on land they already own.

Canton's planning commission and Wayne County planners had rejected a request by George Onusko, Mario DeSantis and Vincenzo DiDomenico to rezone 1.9 acres with 200 feet of frontage on Ford Road from R-1 Single Family Residential to C-2 Commercial.

At last Tuesday night's board meeting the township trustees voted 4-3 to reject the zoning request with Trustees Steve Larson and Bob Paget and Treasurer Maria Falkiewicz voting against the motion to deny the rezoning.

Edward Draugelis, Plymouth attorney, presented the developers side of the argument.

He pointed out that the developers of Kennedy Plaza paid a commercial price for the property when they purchased it in 1979.

"At that time 151 feet of the 200 feet of frontage on Ford Road was zoned commercial," he said, "But the 1980 land use plan changed the commercial portion to residential."

In addition to the cost of the land the Mettetal gets gas

Gasoline is flowing once again at Mettetal Airport.

A new flight service operation, Renaissance Air, has replaced Plymouth Aero for operations, the flight school and plane maintenance at the local airport. Since it began selling gasoline, reports Renaissance Manager David Browning, the exodus of planes based at Mettetal has reversed and there is now a waiting list for hangar space.

City firemen battle home blaze

PLYMOUTH FIRE units prepare to enter 635 Fairground Friday morning to put out a blaze that fire department officials are blaming on an improperly vented clothes dryer. According to Chief Roy Hall the home was the scene of an electrical fire July 21st when a nail was driven through aluminum siding into electric wiring. Friday's fire started in the same part of the building. Fire officials determined Tuesday that the dryer did not have any venting to the outside due to repair work going on from the previous fire, and overheated the wood surrounding its enclosure. Firefighters had the fire under control within 20 minutes, said Hall. (Crier photo by Robert Cameron)

Plymouth Twp. studies neighborhood watch

Helping to watch over neighborhoods for suspicious actions and to relieve some of the burden on regular Plymouth police units in times of special events are just two of the possible duties for a soon to be formed "Eyes and Ears" program for Plymouth Township.

The program centers on the work of local persons interested in watching out for their subdivisions and the use of the Plymouth Area React Team 3877 under the command of Chuck VanVleck, which currently includes over 60 men and women manning emergency radio equipment, a Sky Warn program, safety classes and classes on neighborhood watching.

Tuesday night Township Board of Trustees were expected to be requested by Supervisor Maurice Breen to authorize the drafting of an ordinance that would make it possible for the township to contract with React for the service.

Crier ink color matched real chip

To insure that the brown color used in last week's Community Crier promo of the Canton Country Fest cow chip fling was accurate, The Crier sent a color sample to the Jackson Citizen Patriot, our printers.

Flossie Tonda supplied a sample cow chip from the Country Fest board to The Crier, which in turn neatly packaged the malodorous object and passed it on.

"This is typical of the kind of stuff we're always getting from you guys at The Crier," guffawed one representative of the Jackson daily paper. "But we matched the color."

The program would involve vehicle patrols by React personnel at appointed times. They would be on the lookout for suspicious actions, vehicles, persons, etc., but, according to Breen, would have no police power beyond reporting what they saw.

They would also possibly assist traffic problems and in other control areas during special events such as Fall Festival.

Breen, however, added that another element to the overall project would be the eventual addition of a reserve, or auxiliary, police group to augment both the React and the regular Plymouth units.

As for the "Eyes and Ears" program presented to trustees, Breen said Monday that he has been in discussion with VanVleck for several months now and that VanVleck feels React can handle the task.

However, React will be only one area the township searches for patrol members. The township also wants to encourage other residents to get involved in one way or another.

If trustees authorize the ordinance wording the township would then contract with React. Breen said a preliminary cost figure for the township would be close to $6,000 annually. The township currently pays approximately $25,000 a month for Plymouth police service.

"They have the machines to call police if something is noticed. They would call in anything they see, which leaves police in a more flexible position," said Breen. "This is something I wanted to see get going."

Breen says he has had "conceptual" talks with the city about the various programs currently in the works, plus discussions with React, and Plymouth Police.

The ordinance, when written, will be in a similar line with Ordinance 205 of Redford Township.

One of Breen's campaign statements in last year's election dealt with more resident involvement in an auxiliary program.

Plymouth commission eyes 2-day beer tent OK

Plymouth's City Commissioners will discuss the possibility of a liquor license for one or two day beer tents at Massey Field on Plymouth Road at their next regular meeting Aug. 17.

Commissioners discussed the idea at the last regular meeting during a committee-of-the-whole study session. City Manager Henry Graper Jr. said that if the commissioners desired such a license for the field it could be put on the Aug. 17 agenda. An amendment to the city's parks and recreation ordinance would have to be approved by the commissioners to put the plan into affect.

There were no objections to the idea from commissioners during the study session.

The license would be similar to the current one-day licenses now available in the city and used for events at the Roadside stands bump into problems with Canton code

California producers are faced with the Mediterranean fruit fly-Canton produce growers are faced with a problem with Canton's ordinance book.

Canton's Farmers Market, along with many other produce stand operations in the township, are in violation of township ordinances.

That was the word given Canton Township trustees last Tuesday night.

The debate started when the township board got to the item on the agenda labeled "Closing the Farmers Market."

Under a township ordinance, produce stands are limited to selling only those things produced on a particular piece of land and must be offered for sale by the producer.

In addition roadside stands are limited to 85 feet from the centerline of the roadway, which, as Supervisor Jim Poole pointed out, "would put the stands back in a field in some cases."

When it came to discussion of the possible closing of the Farmers Market which operates from the middle of July until October, Poole said, "As long as I am here, I will try to keep it."

in a move in that direction the township board gave approval to issuing an extended special event permit to go along with the previously approval by the board of liability insurance for the Farmers Market.

The Canton Farmers Market is operated by the Canton Vegetable Growers Association, a non-profit group.

Township trustees also moved to have the township planning commission take a look at sections of the ordinance with the idea of doing some re-drafting of sections in question.

Cultural Center.

Only beer and wine could be sold and only at major baseball or softball events. Costs to sponsor major tourneys at the field run anywhere from $800 to $2,200. It is hoped that a beer tent could recoup some of the funds used for sponsoring events.

Plymouth Parks and Recreation Director Chuck Skene requested that the commissioners look into the idea since individuals currently bring alcoholic beverages to the field anyway. He added that the selling of liquor would only take place four or five times a year.

The selling would be handled by local service groups.

To get such a license it would have to be first approved by Michigan's Liquor Control Commissioner and have the consent of the police department.

Canton homeowners want developer to build sidewalks

Canton Country Acres Civic Association wants something done about providing sidewalks along proposed Morton-Taylor Road.

At last Tuesday night's meeting of the township board the position of the residents was outlined. According to a statement from Betty Splatt, president of the the subdivision association, the subdivision developer is required to put in sidewalks along major roads.

She said the developer maintains that that particular section of Morton-Taylor is only a proposed road and that he does not legally have to install sidewalks.

She asked that the township board look into the matter.

"When Morton-Taylor is put in, the homeowners living along the area will be assessed the charges for the county to do the work," the statement said.

"It hardly seems fair that they will have to pay for the work if the developer should have done it according to his agreement with the township," she further stated.

Supervisor Jim Poole promised to investigate the situation and make a report.

Four receive injuries in 2-car Plymouth Twp. crash

Three Plymouth residents and one out-state resident were injured last Tuesday in Plymouth Township when they were involved in a two-car accident on North Territorial at Danbury Court, according to a Plymouth Police report.

Nancy Zylka, 17, of 1240 Fairground in Plymouth was cited for an improper turn, said police, after she attempted to turn onto Danbury from North Territorial and was struck by Ann Bannan, 35, of 42042 Firwood in Plymouth Township.

Zylka and passengers Kathleen Vaughan, 15, of 12455 Fairground and Carla Vaughan, 11, of Scarosough, Cal. were injured as was Bannan. Bannan is currently listed in good condition and Carla Vaughan in fair condition, according to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital sources.

Crier reporter gets revenge for slur

In a duel the weapon is all important. During the recent WSDP (88.1 FM) auction I happened to see an item that interested the irrational, revengeful side of my otherwise demur self. It was the chance to purchase the right to smack Canton Trustee Loren Bennett in the face with a pie.

WSDP is a good cause, and besides, I had a minor score to settle with the trustee for some remarks made about The Crier as a newspaper.

It was during the 1980 election finale in November. It was a hectic day and night at the office. At one point, in the afternoon, I spent four hours as a volunteer passing out political literature at the Canton Recreation Center precinct. It was an easy job, just hit every voter that went into the center to cast their ballot, say something if possible, smile, etc.

At different points that rainy Tuesday community politicians filtered through the precinct to pass out material.

Bennett was one of those candidates. There were 12 to 20 of us giving voters literature. We kept each other company when it was slow, which seemed often enough. After a brief shower dampened the gravel lot we were milling about waiting for voters when I overheard most of Bennett's conversation with another candidate.

A Rag!? I thought indignantly, after he had uttered the slur. I also heard his reasoning - the newspaper had not endorsed him. (It goes to show Crier endorsements are not much of a deciding factor.

I stewed over the remarks, but the storm passed with the day. But when I saw the WSDP item, I thought it a good excuse for dishing out $10 (plus $5 from an unnamed contributor). Besides, WSDP is the community's only means CEP students can voice themselves to the rest of the public.

This past Sunday I got my chance at the Canton Country Festival to hurl a pie in a revengeful one-sided duel. Only one problem. I forgot to bring the most important thing, my weapon. I always thought dueling weapons were provided.

The trustee must have wondered where his foe was while he watched the rest of the Canton trustees get pies in the face. Meanwhile, I was running through Griffin Park trying to find a pie. The booth that had sold them was sold out.

Weaponless, I returned to the Field. Bennett was all smiles as he heard my laughable predicament. I proposed we return to The Crier and I would obtain a pie to complete the deed.

He agreed. So I went for a pie, but worried over prices and unable to find a place to obtain a good weapon, I settled for a semi frozen chocolate pie. As it turned out, the wound inflicted was frostbite, and not whip cream mash. Bennett faced it like a champ and lived to see another board meeting.

So much for pies, duels, and revenge. Next year I'll buy a WSDP t-shirt.

People reject regimentation from local government, too

It has been a tough job for the American people to get through to federal and state elected officials and bureaucrats in general that the people of this country want government off their collective backs.

There are indications, finally, that Washington and Lansing are listening because there is a definite trend toward cutting down on government regulations and government interference in the individual lives of the governed.

Unfortunately, though, there is more work ahead in convincing local officials at the county and municipal levels that proliferating ordinances and regulations are not what the people want.

In Plymouth, for example, city commissioners are toying with an ordinance with accompanying license fee provisions aimed at yard, porch and garage sales.

Plymouth city commissioners and Plymouth Township trustees are in the process of regulating pinball and other electronic games, also with a stiff licensing fee included.

Over in Canton township there is a constant parade of business people and residents before the township board protesting the stringent sign ordinances, fence ordinances, tree ordinances and planning decisions affecting those who live and do business in the township.

Regimentation is just as distasteful at the local government level as it is at the state and federal levels. That's a fact of life that local governmental units should accept.

Writer is unhappy with city fathers over new ordinance

EDITOR:

At a time when President Reagan and Congress are trying to slim down and cut excess government regulations, the City of Plymouth is trying to find ways to make money by way of excess regulations.

I never thought I would see the day when a store owner must pay a $200 fee to the city for having a pinball machine on his premises.

If that didn't get your goat, now the city wants to charge a fee of $20 to hold a garage sale in the city limits. Times are tight and Mom and Pop decided they could make a quick buck so the city commission wants a piece of the action.

Does the city pay a fee to hold its annual auction? I wonder.

Next time the commission meets they just might crack down on the kid who does yard work for the neighbors-another big business.

How about making Main Street a miniature turnpike with toll booths at both ends. The revenue from that would be astounding.

Think on that one, Henry.

Newcomer praises Canton for great festival weekend

EDITOR:

As a newly-arrived resident of Canton Township who attended last week end's Canton Country Festival with no little amount of skepticism, I would like to commend those in charge and Canton residents in general for putting on a good show.

In the various outstate communities I have called home over the last 40 years, a festival was synonymous with a carnival, along with the usual midway boob hoist carnival rides, gambling booths and general fleecing of those attending the affair.

That's what I expected at the Canton Country Festival.

To the credit of Canton, that is not what I got. What I did find was a whole lot of people having a good time, participating in contests and events and entertaining themselves instead of paying big money for rides and midway skin games.

In spite of the uncooperative weather with its accompanying mud and inconvenience, the festival area was filled with people obviously having a good time.

The people of Canton and all those who participated in the festival and the great festival parade are to be commended.

It was an affair I enjoyed attending. That is the sentiment, also, of all the members of my family.

Motorists stopped by police at the railroad tracks at Sheldon near M-14 Thursday morning must have wondered who in those three railroad cars rated more security than the President and Elvis put together.

By several accounts, at least 20 railroad security men backed up by two helicopters flying overhead, plus Plymouth Community Police, guarded that crossing and kept it blocked for 30 minutes.

According to one of my friends, a bulldozer spent much of the day before smoothing out the area around the crossing. Lately, as a matter of fact, I've seen more gandy dancers replacing track and repairing crossings in Plymouth than I've ever seen anywhere else in my life. (We still have frequent delays, but finally crossing the tracks is a little easier.)

Even Plymouth police were amazed by the amount of security surrounding that one short train - one officer said they looked like Secret Service muscle, scanning rooftops and requesting police to keep motorists in their cars at the crossing.

There was some speculation that the train cars may have contained hazardous materials - drums of dangerous waste, or explosives perhaps.

But no.

According to Chessie System Superintendent Jim Ward, the train contained something more important to the railroad than mere hazardous materials. Enconced in those coaches, surrounded by all that ominous security were...THE BIG WHEELS.

Out for a cross-state jaunt were Chessie System president John Collinson, vice president of operations Richard Rayburn, Michigan division general manager Morris Good, division manager Walter VanderVeer and the two grandest poohbahs of them all, Prime F. Osborn and Hays T. Watkins, Jr., chairman and president, respectively, of CSX Corporation, Chessie's parent company.

The group was reviewing railroad properties on a trip from Walbridge, Ohio to Plymouth to Grand Rapids to Chicago.

But why all the fuss about security?

A Plymouth police officer explained it to me matter-of-factly, by asking, "Do you know how many people hate those guys?"

I'm beginning to wonder.

Canton's Country Festival Cow Chip Fling Invitational stunk—and that assessment comes from one of the participants, me.

Cow Chip Fling officials should have picked a drier day. Those of us who did the flinging after the big rain which interrupted the competition, were operating with heavier ammunition but the chips were a little too slippery to get a good grip.

There was foul play right at the start of the contest. Canton Township Clerk John Flodin, who was one of the early flingers, used the power of his office to swipe a choice chip I had culled from the pile. He grabbed it right out of my hand and tossed it 88 feet, a fling mark that stood up until it was bested late in the contest. My second choice in ammunition lacked the proper consistency, weight and aerodynamics and went only 74 feet.

There was quite a lot of cheating going on in the contest. Supervisor Jim Poole sorted through the pile to find a chip wrapped around a stick. There were those who thought he bit a chunk out of the chip just before his throw in order to balance the weight of the stick, but his toss wasn't a winner anyway, so no protest will be filed except by those who engaged him in face to face conversation after the contest.

It was also apparent that some of the competitors weren't going for distance as much as for targets in the audience. Several misfires brought on direct hits in the crowd and one judge was forced to scramble to avoid a salvo.

There were even cheaters in the news media section of the contest where everyone was presumed to be honorable.

It grieves me to report that The Crier's own Mike Carne bent the rules slightly by attaching a cow chip to a dozen helium-filled balloons. His effort was detected by the contest officials so he didn't win but someone in Westland was reported to have taken a direct hit.

My own distance and accuracy was off. I kept thinking about the last time I threw a cow chip.

It happened in my flaming youth during a Saturday stroll through the Miller Dairy Farm pasture back in Mason with the three Bailey brothers. Someone got the idea of inventing the frizbee and started tossing cow pies. The best target we had was five-year-old Maurice Bailey because he cried so easily. By the time Mrs. Bailey got through with the throwees we had all all joined little Maurice in his crying act. Mrs. Bailey swung a mean broom.

In Saturday's competition my concentration was not as sharp as it should have been. I kept thinking that I was going to get a broom in the side of the head.

Saturday's Canton Cow Chip Fling was a success and a lot of fun. If I'm invited next year, I will do some serious pre-season conditioning.

If they do have it next year, I am going to suggest that they have two separate divisions with politicians in a class all by themselves. It's not fair to have us amateurs competing against the professionals.

All in all the Canton Country Festival Cow Chip Fling Invitational was a great experience. I am only sorry that I didn't perform better inasmuch as my wife and Bay City daughter and 3 granddaughters who made a special trip down from the north to see Gramps in action, were on hand. They have maintained for years that anyone who was as good at throwing the bull should certainly be able to win a cow chip throwing contest.

Watershed council initiates program for oil recycling

A new opportunity to recycle is available for residents of Plymouth.

A cooperative program among local business, volunteers, the Rouge River Watershed Council, the Michigan Energy Administration and the City of Plymouth has established a network of used oil collection stations.

Marked by a large yellow sign in the window, the local stations include Doug's Standard, 789 W. Ann Arbor Trail at S. Main and Denver's Gulf, 307 Starkweather at N. Main.

Both stations will take used oil from automobiles, tractors, pick ups, motorcycles and other motorized vehicles, and store it until it goes to a refinery for re-refining and reuse.

Participation is simple. Do-it-yourselfers should transport drained oil in any clean uncontaminated container which should be sealed.

According to the Environmental Protection Agency, over four million gallons are wasted each year from Wayne County alone. Lacking proper disposal sites, oil is dumped on vacant lots, alleys, storm sewers, etc.

To stop the wasting of such a recyclable material consumers can now return the oil to either station.

For more information about the area program contact Mark Hammar in the Plymouth Engineering Department, at 453-1234.

Some interesting and helpful facts you may not know about your phone service.

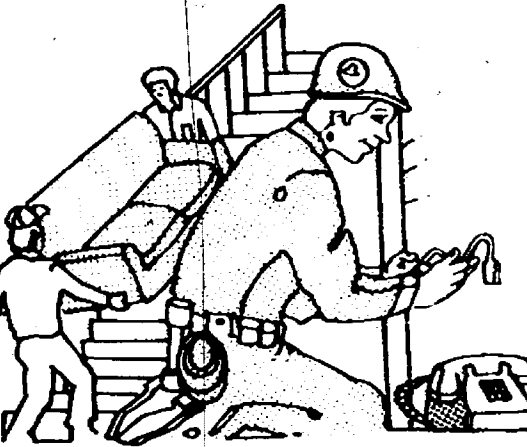

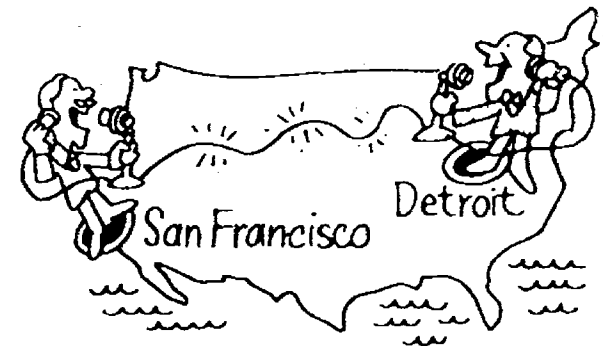

ARTIFICIAL LARYNX: THIS SMALL INSTRUMENT IS FOR PERSONS WHO HAVE LOST THE USE OF THEIR LARYNX. IT SUBSTITUTES ELECTRONIC VIBRATIONS FOR THE NATURAL VIBRATIONS OF THE VOICE. CALL YOUR LOCAL MICHIGAN BELL BUSINESS OFFICE FOR MORE INFORMATION.

800 NUMBERS: Some out-of-town businesses provide an "800" number that you can dial without charge. For example, when you want to call out of town about reservations, look for "800" numbers provided in ads by hotels, motels, resorts, airlines and ground transportation.

MOVING? AVOID UNNECESSARY PHONE INSTALLATION CHARGES. PLAN HOW MANY PHONES AND WHAT KIND OF SERVICE YOU'LL NEED. THEN CALL AND TELL YOUR MICHIGAN BELL REPRESENTATIVE. REMEMBER, ONCE YOUR NEW SERVICE IS INSTALLED, EXTRA VISITS BY YOUR INSTALLER CAN MEAN EXTRA EXPENSES FOR YOU!

IN 1915, Michigan hooked up to the first cross-country long distance line and the first DETROIT-TO-SAN FRANCISCO call was made. It took 30 minutes to set up the three-minute call and cost the customer $16.70!

IN 1877, THE FIRST COMMERCIAL TELEPHONE LINE WAS USED BY A DETROIT DRUGSTORE. THE DETROIT POLICE DEPARTMENT WAS THE SECOND TO USE THE NEW BELL TELEPHONE. A NEWSPAPER ACCOUNT STATED THAT THE "TELEPHONE IN THE POLICE STATIONS CONTINUES TO AFFORD VISITORS AND ATTENDANTS MUCH ENTERTAINMENT."

Making music has no cultural boundaries

BY ANNE SULLIVAN

Fredo Zolzer, 25, and Michael Meyer, 22 are two of the 40-member University of Geissen Orchestra, from Germany, performing in Michigan.

Fredo and Michael performed with the Livonia Youth Symphony July 13, at Churchill High School, and will perform in Blue Lake, Lansing, Ludington and Mt. Pleasant before heading back to Germany.

The German musicians stayed with host families in Plymouth and Livonia while performing at Churchill.

Fredo and Michael were hosted by Ryle and Joan Seay of Parkview Drive, Plymouth, until the orchestra headed for Blue Lake, July 15.

Fredo plays the bassoon and Michael plays the French horn. Michael was invited by the Geissen Orchestra to the U.S. because they had no French horns. Michael studies in Frankfurt.

The musicians met through the orchestra and it is the first time either has been to the U.S.

There are many physical differences between the U.S. and Germany. "Everything is bigger here—the cars and streets," said Michael. "Only the houses are smaller, but more people own homes in America. In Germany it's unusual to have your own home."

Extended families are more common in Germany. Michael said it's not uncommon for grandparents to live in the home, and once you have a home, people don't move.

"Houses are closer together in Germany," said Fredo. The two story home of Ryle and Joan Seay sits on a 60 foot lot at the back of a Plymouth Township subdivision, and both Michael and Fredo thought there was lots of open space.

"In Germany, front yards are fenced in as high as possible. This is not the most important difference, but it shows a way of life," said Fredo. "In Germany, you are saying this is mine—nobody can take this."

Michael's father is a school teacher, and his mother is a homemaker. He has a twin sister, who is studying in Giessen, a younger brother, and his maternal grandfather lives with his family.

His paternal grandparents live in East Germany, and Michael occasionally visits them. He can do this because he has never lived in East Germany. Michael doesn't fear he won't get out. "They let nearly all people out," said Michael. "But some people are afraid they won't get out."

Fredo's family is unlike Michael's. His mother died seven years ago, and his father remarried. He is not close to them, but visits his sister or grandparents who live in Remscheid.

Fredo is fluent in English. He read English journals weekly, "but most of the English I read is far from everyday life," he said. "It deals with radiation, and is not always easy to put into conversation."

Michael studied English for five years, then didn't speak a word of it for three years. In Germany, students must study English.

Fredo and Michael sat down to a grilled hamburger and corn-on-the-cob dinner, before performing at Churchill. "In Germany we feed corn to animals," said Michael. "I suppose it's other corn—not sweet like this," said Fredo. It was the first time either had a grilled hamburger. "I can see why it is a favorite in America," said Fredo.

Michael had some American beer, and crinkled his nose at the mention of it. "In Germany we have different kinds of beer," said Michael. "This is like Bavarian beer (light beer), and I like dark beer."

"I love wine very much," said Michael. In Germany white wine is very popular, and Michael drinks it more than he drinks beer.

Fredo doesn't drink for religious reasons. He is Bahai, his family is protestant, he left his religion because he was "searching for something that would satisfy me more."

Fredo and Michael enjoyed their short stay in Plymouth, and said they'd both like to come back again someday.

Sincock-Light betrothal announced

CRAIG SINCOCK, SUSAN LIGHT

Susan Light of Plymouth is engaged to marry Craig R. Sincock, also of Plymouth.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of Mrs. William J. Light of Plymouth. She graduated from Plymouth High School, and in 1977 graduated from the University of Michigan. She is currently employed at John Smith Clothing Co.

The prospective groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sincock of Plymouth. He also graduated from Plymouth High School and in 1973 graduated from the University of Michigan.

He has done graduate work at Harvard University, and presently works as a financial planner and tax consultant.

Their wedding is planned for January 16, at Our Lady of Good Counsel Church.

There should be a law that every house be built with at least one bathroom per person. It's hard to imagine the luxury of being able to take a bath or shower without being interrupted.

With a teenage daughter, an almost teenage son, a husband plus myself all living in a two bathroom house, it is impossible to schedule shower time. But that's not the only problem. You would think that on a double sink, five foot long vanity I would be able to find the toothpaste or at least a comb.

There is nothing worse than walking into the bathroom two minutes after the kid has dashed out the door in her usual late to school fashion. There are bottles and jars of junk all over, and there's always a cord to either the curling iron, the curling brush or the blow dryer left dangling on the floor for me to trip on.

I'm glad the kid is concerned about her appearance, but the time has come for her to be a little more concerned about the way she takes care of her beauty aids. I tried hiding some of her things, but that wasn't too effective, so I put her in charge of cleaning the bathroom which worked pretty well. But my latest idea works the best, it's called allowance deduction. I deduct so much money every time things are left in a mess. I'm waiting for the day when she owes me money at the end of the week instead of the other way around.

Now if I could only teach the rest of the family to put the cap on the toothpaste and the top on the shampoo, it would make things a lot easier.

A Way to Grow for Tomorrow

Certificates of Deposit are one very real way that Plymouth's Bank can help you plan for tomorrow today. Starting at $500, they pay a highly competitive interest rate and are F.D.I.C. insured. With amounts over $5,000, interest may be paid monthly by check or added to your account.

Money Market and 2 1/2 Year Variable Rate Certificates. Money Market Certificates match the average rate of 6-month U.S. Treasury Bills and require $10,000 minimum 6-month deposit. Variable Rate Certificates (from $500) pay a fixed yield 3/4% below 2-year government securities with interest compounded continuously.

To learn more about Certificates of Deposit or any of the savings programs Plymouth's Bank offers stop by either office. You'll find it a wise investment.

Federal Regulations require a substantial interest penalty for early withdrawal on any time savings or certificate.

rush in and accept a proposal from an organization, that is not on a continuing basis."

"The only reason (Rotary's proposal) is year to year is that we're kind of feeling our way, too," said Hulsing. "If it is feasible, we would be happy to keep on."

Trustee Flossie Tonda said the farm should be "mothballed" until it could be used as a learning lab for all district students. She also questioned maintenance costs, saying, "If a wheel falls off the tractor, I'd rather spend the money on books."

Hulsing said the tenant would supply equipment, since there is none at the facility now to farm with. If the farm is mothballed now, he added, it might not be resurrected. "Our feeling is that if it is dropped, it is the end of it."

Major repair costs, said assistant superintendent for business Raymond Hoedel, would also probably come before the board for payment. Concerns were also raised over shrinking block grant funds to schools to use for transportation to the farm.

"It doesn't matter if one kid shows up at the farm," said Hulsing. "It is there and is available."

All board members agreed Rotary's involvement in community projects over the years was deeply appreciated, including their offer to take over the farm. On a motion from Schroeder, however, the proposal was defeated 5-2, with Vice president Elaine Kirchgatter and Trustee Thomas Yack dissenting.

President Carol Davis said the farm committee, as well as other interested community service groups, were encouraged to work on a new plan for operating the farm next year.

developers have also expended money constructing a bridge to get to the property in question.

In speaking against the rezoning request, Canton Township Assistant Planner David Nicholson argued that the rezoning would constitute an extension of the Community Commercial zoning district west on Ford Road contrary to a decision by the planning commission and the township board that commercial should be diverted, north at the Ford-Canton Center intersection.

He also said that significant residential development has occurred east and north of the proposed site but only scattered development has occurred west and south of the property.

He also argued that Fellows Creek and its flood plain traverse the Ford Road frontage of the property and that soil sedimentation and erosion would be of major concern.

Nicholson also pointed out that extending the commercial development west would not be consistent with the township's farmland preservation goals.

The planner did recommend that the property be designated O-1 Office.

"Such a rezoning would provide a land use that could take advantage of the location near the intersection while also providing a transition area between the commercial and residential land uses adjacent to the property," he said.

Isbister kindergartners will give circus performance

After several weeks of work on a circus unit, the kindergarten classes of Mrs. Sheila Barnes and Mrs. Carolyn Kleinsmith will be putting on their own two-ring circus. Acts include lions, elephants, skating bears, a two-headed lady, tightrope walkers, strong man, clowns and a highwire act.

The performance will be given Wednesday, August 12, at 12:30 p.m. Parents, sisters and brothers, grandparents, uncles, aunts and friends are invited.

The children made most of their costumes and designed the wall decorations.

Weese-Vincent vows said in Minneapolis

Jill S. Weese and Steven R. Vincent exchanged wedding vows June 6, at Douglas Park in Minneapolis, Minn. The Rev. Lawrence Dunnewold witnessed the vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shaper of Minneapolis.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Vincent of Plymouth.

The bride graduated from the University of Minnesota, and attended graduate school at the University of Michigan and the University of Minnesota. She is employed as a banking supervisor.

The bridegroom graduated from the University of Michigan Medical School in 1978. He completed his residency in family practice at the University of Minnesota.

After a three month tour of Europe, Scandinavia and Russia, Dr. and Mrs. Vincent will live in Minneapolis.

In the fall Dr. Vincent will begin his private practice in family medicine in Plymouth, Minn., a suburb of Minneapolis.

Western Wayne coalition sponsors energy week

The West-Wayne Energy Coalition is sponsoring "Energy Week" August 10 through 14 to help area residents fight the battle of rising energy costs.

Teams of representatives from a variety of utility, government, and community programs located at four open houses will give area residents the chance to ask questions about different resources and sign up for any appropriate programs.

Two of the open houses are in the Plymouth-Canton area.

One of the programs will include providing energy assistance funds for low income, unemployed residents of Wayne County who live outside the City of Detroit.

This program has a September 15 deadline, and to register for assistance residents must bring proof of income, personal identification, and their gas, electric, or oil bills. Michigan Consolidated will also be on hand to help make individual payment arrangements.

Another program offers the services of a trained energy auditor who will thoroughly examine and evaluate a home for energy efficiency for a $10.00 fee.

A weatherization program will be available to aid low income families better insulate their homes and conserve on their energy bills. For those who meet income requirements the Wayne County Office on Aging will insulate ceilings and basements, replace broken and missing windows, weatherstrip and caulk free of charge.

The open houses will be at Plymouth Cultural Center, 525 Farmer, on Aug. 10; Westland Friendship Center, 37095 Marquette, on August 11; Inkster Community Center, 29150 Carlisle, August 13; and Canton Township Hall, 1150 South Canton Center Road on August 14. All locations will be open from 10 a.m. to noon and from 1 to 4 p.m.

At the energy open house in Plymouth volunteers from the Plymouth Energy Program will be on hand to show interested homeowners infrared pictures of their homes. Volunteers will interpret these pictures and offer conservation information on other upcoming PEP activities.

For more information call Kurt Brandenburg or John Behman of Plymouth at 453-1234; Mary LaPorte of Westland at 721-6000 ext. 282; Sue Hanson of Inkster at 565-4100 ext. 221; or Jim Kosteva of Canton Township at 397-1000.

This year was best for Canton Fest

next year just to fit everyone in.

On the contest side of the Fest activities, the premier event was the first annual Cow Chip Flinging Contest, won by Bruce McDermatt with a toss of 96 feet, eight inches. Second place winner John Flodin, township clerk, had the contest sewn up with a throw of 88 feet ten inches until he opened the contest up to the public.

The Tug-o-war was won by People's Church, who bested the Canton Jaycees team no. 1 in the finals. Other teams included defending champions from the Canton Fire Department, township officials, League of Women Voters, Canton Lions and a second Canton Jaycees team. A permanent plaque will be inscribed to commemorate the contest.

Sweet corn eating champions included Susan Bingham in the under 7 category, Kathy Alfinito in the 7-12 division, Harvey Jones in the 13-19 category, Larry Swingle in the 20-35 group, and Phil Wood in the unlimited bracket. Township Planner Jim Kosteva, "boss hog" of the event, commented, "There was no shortage of people willing to make pigs of themselves and have a good time."

Children's games were also a popular activity, according to Canton Treasurer Maria Falkiewicz, who said, "so many kids showed up we couldn't close it down in two hours." Games included pumpkin patch fishing, Bozo ball toss, sack race, egg toss, pumpkin drop, scarecrow hoop throw and "country rollers." A treasure chest and island and fortune teller were also popular.

For a look at the athletic side of the celebration, turn to this week's sports pages. There were plenty of other things to do at the Fest, including listening to entertainers, strolling among the organizations' booths, watching the pet show and eating, eating, eating. Food included rib, chicken, spaghetti and steak dinners, hot dogs, drinks and many other culinary delights.

And the whole event will be even bigger and better next year, says Supervisor Poole.

COUNTRY FEST activities were many and varied over the three days of the event. Clockwise, from bottom left, Mary Perna of Security Bank and Trust embodies her company's spirit in the Fest parade; Susan Bingham (right) munches her way to the under-7 corn eating contest crown; Corvette Club members (from left) Fred Floied, Denise and Chris Walis serve up some frosty products of the beer tent sponsored by the Canton Chamber of Commerce; tractor entries cruise in the parade; Candee Walis, 10, with her pet show entry, shows perhaps that a poodle in hand is worth two parents with the Busch; Canton Chamber president John Schwartz does his part for the overall Fest consumption of 1,700 chicken barbecue dinners; and (left) Cow Chip Queen Ruth Thompson rides in style with her entourage during the parade. Above, Flossie Tonda proves there are many duties of a Country Fest president. The center photo says it all about the fun spirit of the Fest -- township clerk John Flodin gets a faceful of meringue from Gary Barnett, while Trustee Robert Padget behind them takes time to enjoy his own plastered kisser. Plymouth Twp. group home eyed Laima Starwas, Director of Community Placement for the Northville Residential Training Center announced to Plymouth Township Trustees that the center has located a house to be possibly used as a group home in the future.

Starwas sent a letter to Supervisor Maurice Breen, last week. Breen said

"they (the center) are following through on this the way they said they would handle it so I've got no problems."

Trustees discussed the holding of a public hearing for township residents concerned over the home at their regular meeting last night. Breen said he would like to integrate a hearing into a regular trustee meeting sometime in the near future.

The home, located at 41141 Ann Arbor Road, is a ranch style with three bedrooms, two full baths, a living room, family room, dining area and is located on a one acre lot with ample parking, according to Starwas' letter.

Starwas added that the Northville Residential Center would like to pursue the home for potential Group Home use for six Wayne County adults who are mentally retarded. In the process, said Starwas, "we would be interested in your counsel on how we should go about working with and informing the community of our intentions."

MESC officemove postponed

Plans for the Michigan Employment Security Commission office move have been postponed to mid September due to construction delays.

The temporary MESC area office is located at 15480 N. Sheldon in Northville Township.

The permanent office will be located at the southwest corner of Joy Rd. and Rhonda Drive in Canton.

The MESC office will work from the Sheldon Road location until the new office opens.

Canton will host waste management educational forum

All those people concerned with the many problems of waste management and landfills will have an opportunity to hear some of the experts explain the problems and some of the solutions on August 12.

That's the date set for the educational forum on waste management being sponsored by the Canton Waste Advisory Group and the Northville-Novi-Plymouth-Canton League of Women Voters.

The forum will be conducted at the Canton Township Administration Building beginning at 7 p.m. for western Wayne County communities.

The program will open with a Department of Natural Resources (DNR) filmstrip on waste management in Michigan. This presentation will be followed by a report from Shirley Axon, member of the State Hazardous Waste Planning Committee of American Association of University Women and the League of Women Voters.

Others on the program will be Marta Fisher, waste specialist with the Environmental Service Division of the DNR; Hakim Shakir, Southeast Michigan Director of Resource Recovery Division of DNR; Lynn A. Corson, Institute for Community Development of Michigan State University; and Tim Westerlake, president of General Oil, an oil recycling and waste hauling firm, who is industry representative on the State Hazardous Waste Planning Committee.

Canton appointments

At last Tuesday's Canton Township meeting of the board of trustees Bart Berg and Mrs. Dorothy West were reappointed to the Canton Historical Commission for three-year terms.

The action came on the recommendation of the Canton Historical Commission.

BEST FOOT FORWARD

FOOT AILMENTS ARE AMONG THE COMMONEST ILLS

The more you know about foot health, the more likely you are to check minor difficulties and to treat them before they become major problems, for foot ailments are among the most common of human ills in modern Western society of industrialized countries.

Believing in the importance of prevention, you can do a lot to prevent foot distress and discomfort. Foot trouble is not constant: it comes and goes throughout one's life. It changes in the individual as the years pass. Fortunately, few people will have multiple problems. Most of us may never suffer from anything more than a corn, a bunion, or a sprain. But it is unlikely that any person will go through daily living without encountering some form of foot problem. The doctor—whether podiatrist, pediatrician, orthopedist, or family physician—is the proper person to attend to your health problems.

Canton trustees back off on security fences

Canton Township trustees found themselves in a no-win situation when it came to deciding the issue of privacy fences along major roads in the township.

After several months of fielding requests from residents with homes backing up to major streets who want to install 6-ft. privacy fences not allowed in the township's fence ordinance, trustees gave the go-ahead.

The action came on a 4-3 vote with Supervisor Jim Poole, Clerk John Flodin, Treasurer Maria Falkiewicz and Trustee Loren Bennett favoring the relaxation of the ordinance provisions and Trustees Carol Bodenmiller, Steve Larson and Bob Padgett voting against the issue.

Last year the board wrote a ban on privacy fences higher than four feet in order to do away with what has been termed the "Fort Sheldon Stockade" look along Sheldon, Lilley and Canton Center Roads.

Over the past several weeks some township residents had appeared before the township zoning board of appeals requesting variances for the fences and the appeals had been rejected. They then took their case to the township board.

During the discussion by the board Trustee Bennett said, "People who back up to major roads have an intolerable situation if they can't put up privacy fences."

That was the sentiment of all members of the board, but Trustee Padgett pointed out that he was concerned about uniformity of height and material in the fences.

Larson added that in some subdivisions there are deed and covenant restrictions forbidding such privacy fences. Mrs. Bodenmiller pointed out that she wanted to see the ordinance tightened for materials and building code procedures on fences and expressed concern that the real problem was poorly-platted subdivisions.

The fence question had been turned over to the planning department several weeks ago. Planner Jim Kosteva had presented his report which offered several alternatives, including leaving the ordinance as it is, allowing six-ft. fences or changing the materials and height requirements.

Plymouth township board schedules budget workshop

The Plymouth Township Board of Trustees will conduct a workshop at 7:30 p.m. Aug. 18 dealing with the township's 1981-82 budget.

The meeting will take place at Plymouth Township Hall, 42350 Ann Arbor Rd.

Administration building gets new sign

CANTON recently received a new sign out in front of the township's administration building at 1150 S. Canton Center Rd. The sign, of carved wood, was constructed and installed by Shinn Sign Company of Redford Township. (Crier photo by Robert Cameron)

Plymouth police nab home prowler in drag

Gary Vonkoff of 160 Amelia in Plymouth awoke early Friday morning to see what he thought was a woman searching through his bedroom dresser, according to a Plymouth Police report.

Startled by Vonkoff, awakening, the suspect fled from the room to the house next door, Vonkoff told police. Vonkoff then gave chase and eventually caught the suspect in front of the Plymouth Landing Restaurant on North Main.

Because Plymouth units were tied up on another B&E in progress Canton units responded and were first on the scene.

Arrested and charged with breaking and entering an occupied dwelling was Gary Wells, 21, of 103 Elizabeth. According to police, Wells has been involved in this type of crime several times before. He was wearing a women's wig, blouse, skirt, pair of panty hose and carrying a purse, said police, when Vonkoff caught up with him.

Wells was charged and arraigned last week. He stood mute and a $10,000 bond was issued.

Meanwhile, at the Ann Arbor Road House Restaurant at 47660 Ann Arbor Road, a pair of 17 year old youths were also apprehended for attempted breaking and entering an unoccupied building.

Keith Kinney of 9149 Bassett Court in Livonia and Mark Mosakowski of 11865 Amherst Ct. in Plymouth were arrested, charged with breaking and entering an unoccupied dwelling and arraigned last week. The pair stood mute and were released on a $5,000 bond.

Police are calling the break-in a "spur of the moment thing." Plymouth officer Tom Zedan was called to the scene on a silent alarm at 4:55 a.m. Friday.

Upon arrival he noticed a knocked out window on the north side of the roof. He parked his vehicle with the spotlight on the window and went around to the south side of the restaurant. While he was looking through another window Michigan State Police units arrived, and thinking Zedan to be a suspect, they put their spotlight on him. The light went through the window, said police, and illuminated the pair for Zedan.

Police searched the restaurant upon the arrival of owner Adam Stoja and found the suspects hiding in the attic.

Police recovered a four handled tire iron and a pair of bolt cutters. Two bottles of Cold Duck were empty and a fifth of Southern Comfort liquor had just been opened. Police said the pair had done little else inside the building.

Canton Peoples church intern calls for discipleship

According to Vern McNear, intern at the People's Church in Canton, "Small discipleship groups are needed if the church expects to meet the needs of the majority of the people in its community."

Each year the church, under the direction of Rev. Harvey Heneveld, invites a senior student from Western Theological Seminary in and to assist in the outreach program and ministry of the church. McNear began his internship with People's Church on June 1.

"The church," he says, "generally finds itself ministering only to those with strong Christian backgrounds. It neglects those who no longer operate within a Christian or Biblical framework." According to McNear, structural change is needed to revitalize the church.

After 12 years with a world-wide Christian organization called The Navigators, McNear began his studies at Western Theological Seminary. At People's Church, his duties include pastoral duties with the youth group, assisting in the worship service, some preaching and various committee activities.

He, wife Dawn and daughter Sonia, originally from Illinois, now reside in Michigan.

People's Church meets every Sunday morning at the Canton High cafeteria at 10 a.m.

Plymouth planning commission post goes to Kappler

Wes Kappler has been named to Plymouth's Planning Commission to fill the unexpired term vacated by Art Larson.

Larson's term will expire in December 1981. Kappler was appointed at the last meeting of Plymouth's City Commission. He is a Plymouth resident and manager with Detroit Edison.

The appointment was made by Mayor Mary Childs and confirmed at the commission meeting.

MSU students intern locally

Michigan State University juniors Jeffrey Bradley and Tom Covington, both of Plymouth, are two of forty-four students in the university's School of Packaging working full-time, paid summer internships as packaging engineers.

Bradley is interning with Classic Container Corporation in Dexter, and Covington is working with Packaging Corporation of America in Plymouth.

Chester Mackson, director of the MSU School of Packaging, says the program is mutually beneficial to the students and their employers who have the opportunity to learn about each other under professional working conditions.

Craiger wins World Series

BY JAY KEENAN

There was a change in the scenery at this year's National Amateur Baseball Federation (sophomore division) World Series.

The tournament, hosted in Michigan for the first year was played out at Canton High School over the weekend and had local Canton Craiger baseball squad as its champion.

It is the first World Series title for Canton's Sandy Koufax team (age 13-14) as the squad stole the show from last year's defending champions, Brooklyn, N.Y. St. Bernard, along with the tournament's four other teams, Riverview Far Associates, Atlanta, Ga. Mustangs, Baltimore, Md. Putty Hill Optimist, and the Cincinnati Midland Bulldogs.

Craiger won the double-elimination tournament with a victory over Riverview in the championship game, 10-4, Sunday afternoon. It was Craiger's fourth win in as many games.

Canton opened the scoring against Riverview in the bottom of the fourth inning. Mark Harbaugh led off with a walk and moved to third on a bunt single by Dom DeBello. After DeBello stole second, Dave Briski delivered an RBI single and went to second on a stolen base.

Tom Morre then dropped a bunt single to bring home Craiger's second run of the inning. Moore went all the way to third after he attempted to steal second, when the throw from the Riverview catcher was

A² man wins Country run

Close to 300 runners participated in Canton Parks and Recreation Department's third annual Country Festival Five-Mile Run, Saturday.

Greg Henry, 23, from Ann Arbor, was the overall winner with a time of 24:23 for the five miles. Henry beat out friend Pete Hallop, 34, also of Ann Arbor. Hallop clocked 24:40.

Last year's champion Gary Wolfram, 30, from Canton, finished third overall with a time of 25:13.

Kim Bruce, 18, from Dearborn was the first woman over the finish line. She clocked 33:28 and was 81st overall.

Peter Ross, of Ann Arbor, clocked 28:09 to win the Mens A division (10-14 year olds), while Craig Hickley was second, 31:15, and John Keros was third, 32:33.

Kenneth DuBois, of Livonia, won the 15-18 year old mens division with a time of 26:19. Scott Hand was second, 27:06, and Steve West was third, 27:15.

Henry won the Mens C division (19-25 years), while Art Kitze was second, 25:22, and fourth overall, and Kevin Kitze was third, 26:02, and sixth overall.

Hallop won Mens D (26-34 years), Wolfram was second and Terry Elsey was third, 25:37, and fifth overall.

William Boyd, of Canton, won Mens E (35-44 year olds) with a time of 27:40. Gary Braley was second, 28:44, and Terry Norman was third, 29:40.

Mens F (over 45) was won by Ken Carman with a time of 30:12. Thomas Arbough was second, 31:01, and Harrison Hensley third, 31:02.

Tammy Cundari won the Womens A (10-14 year olds) division with an effort of 38:30, while Sharon Vardark was second, 44:05 and Sue Bacigal was third, 44:23.

Bruce won the Womens B division (15-18 years old), while Sally Wojtowicz was second, 39:46, and Betsy Moon was third.

Womens C (19-25 years) winner was Melinda Trevino with a time of 33:47. She was second overall women's finisher. Patricia Stephens was second, 46:47, and Sherrie Pickornic was third, 49:09.

Diana Noftz won the Womens D division (26-34 years) with a time of 35:07. Jacki Schamer was second, 36:25, and Donna Swanson was third, 36:58.

Susan Clark won the Womens E division (35-44 years of age) with an effort of 39:21, while Peg O'Flynn was second, 44:46, and Florence Banners third, 44:56.

Melba Hatch won the Womens F (over 45) division with a time of 37:09.

Annual run kicks off Sept. 26

The 2nd Annual Y Run will be held in Plymouth Sept. 26. The event, sponsored by the Plymouth Family YMCA will include a one mile, a three mile and a five mile run for all interested runners.

Runners can start registering now. Applications will be available this week, according to Janet Luce of the Y. Call 453-2904 for further information.

All three runs will start at Ann Arbor Trail and Main Streets in Plymouth and all will end up at the Hillside Restuarant on Plymouth Road.

Hillside is co-sponsoring the event with the Y.

The one mile run will be a 'Fun Run' Luce said, while the second run will head south on Main Street and come back through the city's central business district before heading for Hillside. The five-miler will go south, up through the CBD and through Old Village along Stark-weather before heading for the finish.

The first 200 entries will receive a free t-shirt. There will be medals for the first male and female finisher of each division. Divisions include 13 and under, 14-16 years of age, 16-20, 20-29, 30-39, 40-49 and 50 and over. There will also be six trophies given out for the overall top finishers.

Last year's first run brought out over 250 runners to the streets of Plymouth. Luce hopes to get 1,000 runners this fall.

Luce also added that the Y is still looking for more sponsors and volunteers to help during the race.

Warriors repeat as Muscular Dystrophy softball champs

BY KEN VOYLES

Silverman's Warriors of Westland successfully defended their first place title in the Canton Muscular Dystrophy Tournament this past weekend.

The Warriors won the fourth annual 20-team men's championship with a pair of wins over Rusty Nail of Canton Sunday night, 12-7 and 14-13.

The women's half of the tournament was won by Softball Bar of Detroit besting Air-Tite of Plymouth, 9-8, in the finals.

In the men's division, Rusty Nail knocked off Silverman's 7-5 earlier in the tournament. Jim Yonemura and Jordy Tisdale each had two home runs to pace Nail in the win.

In the finale, the Warriors came back and clubbed 20 hits and Nail collected 19. Chuck and Larry Ruthig had three hits each for the Warriors, as did Bob Ross and Kevin Miller.

Yonemura, Tisdale and Rudy Tamborino each homered for Rusty Nail.

Nail led 12-3 going into the fourth frame, but the Warriors scored 10 runs in the sixth to tie the ball game. They got the winning run in the seventh on a two-out single by Ross.

Other local teams to play in the mens division, which featured teams with a .500 record or less, included St. John Neumann's, Roman Forum, Canton Jaycees, K & C Construction, Magic, Amoco, Oak View and Precision Cold Forge.

The Sportsman Award was given to the Michigan Bell System team that donated over $1,200 to the benefit.

In the women's competition, Air-Tite had suffered a 6-0 loss to Bar in an earlier game, but held an 8-2 margin going into the sixth frame of the finale.

Bar, however, exploded for six runs to tie the score before winning the contest in the next inning on a sacrifice fly.

Carol Cottrell had three hits for Plymouth, while Bev Corp, Dané Linden, Eileen O'Brien, and Margerat Jones each had two hits.

This is the third year Air-Tite has competed in the tourney and the first it has been in the finals.

Other local women's teams included SuperBowl Sluggers, Toms Taveran, St Richard's, Westland Travelers and Flowers by Lee.

Also, for the second year in a row a team of tournament All-Stars defeated the Detroit Red Wings softball squad, winning Sunday, 14-7.

The Wings had been undefeated during their season and had won the NHL title this summer.

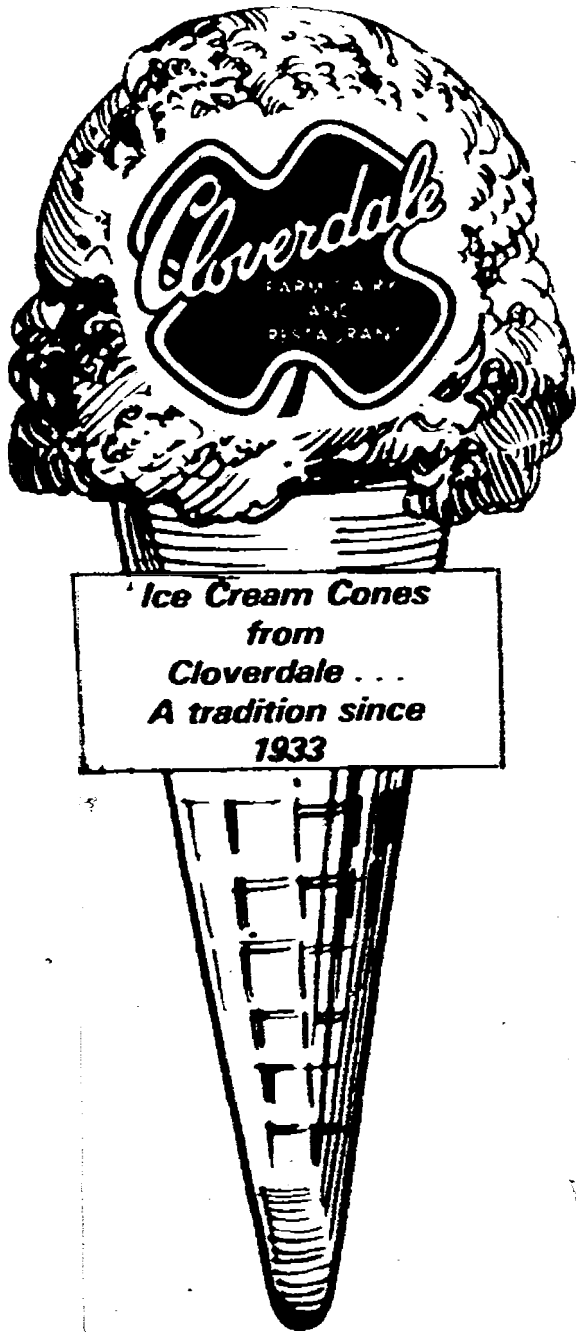

Players Brad Smith Jim Korn, Bill Dea and Head Coach Wayne Maxner each had two hits of the 16-hit Wings attack.

The All-Stars effort was highlighted by two solo home runs from Rusty Nail's Tisdale and a solo home run by Canton Parks and Recreation Director Mike Gouin.

A team of Canton Township Officials played the Little Caesars Women's team later in the tournament and lost to the two time world champions, 20-8.

The township had 17 hits and the Caesars 24. Of those Westland John Glenn graduate Mary Crechiolo clubbed four.

The tournament raised close to $4,000 this year as compared with just over $3,000 last year.

Canton wins 4 games on way to crown

wild. Briski came in to score to make it 3-0.

Mike McKinney pushed across Canton's fourth run with a suicide squeeze bunt.

Far Associates struck back with four runs in the bottom half of the fifth inning off of starting hurler Mark Bennett. Richard Muller, the eventual winning pitcher, then took over with one out and retired Riverview's next two batters on a pop up and a strike out.

Upstart Canton, however, broke the tie when it rallied for five runs in the sixth frame and took a 9-4 lead.

DeBello led off the rally with a walk and went to second when a pickoff attempt went wild. He then went to third on a sacrifice fly by Briski and scored on a double off the bat of McKinney.

Craiger then loaded the bases on a run scoring double by Steve Sobditch, a single by Mike Morrison and a walk to Tim Michalik. Muller pushed across the third and fourth runs of the inning with a base hit. He then stole second base before Michalik came home on the throw.

McKinney iced the game in the final stanza with an RBI double scoring Moore. That made it 10-4.

Canton won its semi final matchup against the same Riverview squad on Saturday, 21-5.

Craiger exploded for six runs in the first frame, three in the third, seven in the fifth and five more in the seventh.

Briski sparked the offense with a three run homer over the right field fence in the fifth inning.

Scott Ford pitched six innings of shutout baseball and got the win. Jim Dillon, who has been hampered by an arm injury this season, yielded five runs in the final inning.

On Friday, Canton tallied four runs in the top of the first inning and rolled to a 10-4 whitewashing over North Atlanta, 10-4.

Craiger tallied its first runs in the top half of the first inning. Briski went the distance for Canton and collected the win.

In the World Series opener Craiger endeavored a nine inning victory over Baltimore's Putty Hill, 7-6.

Baltimore carried a 6-4 lead in to the final half of the seventh inning before Canton bats began to come alive.

Briski started the seventh inning rally of Canton's with a single and scored on a triple off the bat of Moore. Harbaugh's sacrifice fly tied the score at 6-6, sending the game into extra innings.

Both teams failed to score until the bottom of the ninth. DeBello led off with a walk and Morre followed with a bunt single. After an intentional walk to Harbaugh loaded the bases, Sobditch drilled a base hit to left field to drive in the winning run.

Mark Bennett started on the mound for Canton and gave up five runs in one and two third innings of work. Michalik finished up in relief and was credited with the win.

off Putty Hill Optimist 7-6 and later went on to win the entire tournament with a win over Riverview. (Crier photo by Jay Keenan)

Compuware ends season winning Riverview Invit

Plymouth Compuware of the Sandy Koufax Baseball League completed its season last weekend by winning the single elimination Riverview Invitational in the 12-13 year old division.

Compuware, made up entirely of 13 year olds, won four straight games to take the championship.

"Of the 16 teams involved I believe 12 were all-star teams from cities with extremely strong baseball programs," said Compuware coach Al Dawson, whose squad struggled through its Koufax schedule.

Compuware won the tourney when it edged Allen Park, 2-1, in the final game.

Mike Clark pitched all eight innings for Plymouth and got the victory.

Pete Podrasky had a double and a single and Clark had two singles to pace Compuware's offense.

Plymouth scored first in the second inning when Clark singled and Jeff Rummel tripled. Allen Parks scored in the bottom of the seventh inning to tie the score 1-1.

Then in the top of the eighth Chris Ezzo singled for Compuware, stole second base, went to third on a passed ball and scored on Podrasky's two-out single to centerfield.

Plymouth mercied Dearborn Heights 11-1 after six innings in its tournament opener.

Brian Tiller, a draftee from Salem Koufax, allowed one unearned run and got the win on the mound for Compuware. He came on in relief of starter Clark.

In its second game Plymouth bested Walled Lake 7-5.

Hockey sign up

The Plymouth-Canton Hockey Association will hold a final registration on Aug. 24 at the Plymouth Cultural Center, 525 Farmer from 6 to 8:30 p.m.

All children 6-18 years of age residing in the Plymouth-Canton School District are eligible to sign up to play hockey with the league.

Cost is $35 per child. A birth certificate is needed. There will also be registration for a power skating school to be held from Aug. 31 to Sept. 4. Used hockey equipment will also be on sale during the registration.

Winning pitcher Dan Knapp, a draftee from Salem's Koufax team, kept Walled Lake batters at bay through all seven innings. He struck out 18 batters while on the mound.

Compuware jumped ahead 4-0 in the first inning when Duane Bennett and John Lenders each smacked two run homers. Scott Bozyk and Rummel also hit home runs during the game.

In the semi-finals, Rummel pitched a two-hit shutout as Compuware downed Milan 4-0.

Tiller had two RBIs on two singles and Bozyk and Clark each had a triple. Steve Dawson was robbed of another triple with the bases loaded in the first inning when a Milan outfielder made a diving catch.

"We were in over our heads playing in what I consider the best league in the state, but these young men showing willingness to learn and tremendous character," said Dawson.

The rest of the Compuware team include Joe Andrus, Rick Curtis, Al Maloney and Greg Penfield.

MSP to meet Pistons in softball benefit

Members of the Northville Post of the Michigan State Police will take on members of the Detroit Piston basketball team Aug. 25 in a benefit softball tournament.

Game time will be 7 p.m. at Massey Field on Plymouth Road near Haggerty Road. Cost is $1 for adults and 50 cents for kids. Other donations are also welcome and there will be a prize drawing for the kids.

This is the fourth year for the tourney which uses all funds raised to help fight muscular dystrophy. In the past the State Police have played members of area T.V. stations and raised approximately $45,000 in three years.

The Pistons' Classy Chassis cheerleaders will also be on hand.

Bowling meeting

There will be an organizational meeting at 9:30 p.m. Aug. 24 for those interested in bowling with the Senior Citizens League of Canton.

The meeting will be held at the SuperBowl on Ford Road in Canton.

The league will begin Sept. 14 at 9:30 p.m. Canton's Parks and Recreation Department will sponsor the league action. Cost is $1.50 for three games plus $1.10 for future prizes, or $2.60 per week.

All residents of Canton Township, 55 years and over are invited to attend the meeting and join the league.

For further information call the Parks and Recreation Department at 397-1000.

Bulldogs flattened

THE MIDLAND Bulldogs from Cincinnati Ohio were in town over the weekend for the NABF World Series. On Friday, while driving to watch other teams in action the squad was forced to make a pit stop along Main Street in Plymouth Township to change a flat tire. While waiting by the side of the road the team posed for Crier photographer Robert Cameron.

Whiffle ball marathon this Saturday needs donations

Come one, come all to the third annual Whiffle Ball Marathon this Saturday at 4 p.m. to raise money for muscular dystrophy research.

Some 18 to 20 local sluggers will be on hand for 24 hours of non-stop whiffle ball competition. Last year the group raised $900. Orgnaizer John Matthews says this year's goal is $1,000.

Donations will be accepted at the whiffle ball diamond from 4 p.m. Saturday to 4 p.m. Sunday. The diamond is located behind Farrand Elementary School at 41400 Greenbriar Lane in the Lake Pointe subdivision, between Schoolcraft and Five Mile Roads, west of Haggerty Road.

Pledges can also be made by calling Matthews at 420-0752 or contacting any other players involved in the tourney.

Funds will go to the Jerry Lewis Labor Day Telethon.

Last year 20 hitters played over 320 innings of whiffle ball.

Sports Shorts

Saints soccer

The Sportventure Saints, Plymouth-Canton's representative in the Great Lakes Women's Soccer League got a forfeit win over Ferndale Sunday after no referees showed up for the scheduled match at Ferndale.

The Saints went on to scrimmage with Ferndale and won the informal game 7-2.

Senior golf

In the third week of action in the Canton Recreation Seniors Golf League Ralph Deetz scored 15 of 22 points from Ed Buczek to tally 51 total points and hold on to first place.

Louie Seromik got 14 points from Stan Stork to stay in second with 48. Buczek has 27 points and Stork 31.

Deetz' 40 was the best round of the day. John Morgan had a 42.

Mens golf

Gerald Reinke and Gordon Shull swept five points from Joe Argonis and Ed Robinson to move into first place in the Canton Recreation Fellows Creek Men's Golf League after five weeks of action. The pair have 18 points.

Al Martin and Rick Thorne are in second position with 16 and a half points as they scored three and a half points from Brian Hayes and Jim Martin. Hayes and Martin have nine and a half points.

Hayes shot a 38 for the best round of the week.

Salem swimmers

Any Plymouth Salem girls interested in swimming or diving competitively in the upcoming 1981 girls' high school fall season can either report to the Salem pool Aug. 17, at 8:30 a.m., or call coach Chuck Olson at 453-7695, for further information.

X-country runners

Any Plymouth-Canton students attending Schoolcraft College this fall and interested in running cross country for Steve Montgomery's college squad are encouraged to call the college at 591-6400 ext. 480 and leave a message for the coach.

Practice will start Aug. 17.

League golf

After two weeks of play in Division B of the Canton Recreation Men's Fox Hills Golf League, Mike Ryan and Charlie Freece hold first place with 16 points. The pair tallied four points from John Thomason and Lloyd Dibble in last week's round.

Will Jacobs and Harry Walkley are in second position with 14 points. They got three points from foes Art Lawrence and Jim Monro.

Joe Pietryka and Walt McCrea lead Division A with 17 points. They scored three points from Virge Mooney and John SeeWald.

Mike Maggio's round of 34 tied Rick Nadeau for the best score of the summer.

SC soccer clinic

A six-day soccer school for boys and girls will also be conducted at Schoolcraft College beginning Aug. 24.

The program, presented in cooperation with the Canton Soccer Club, is designed for participants ages 7-16. Emphasis will be on individual soccer skills as well as individual, group and team tactics.

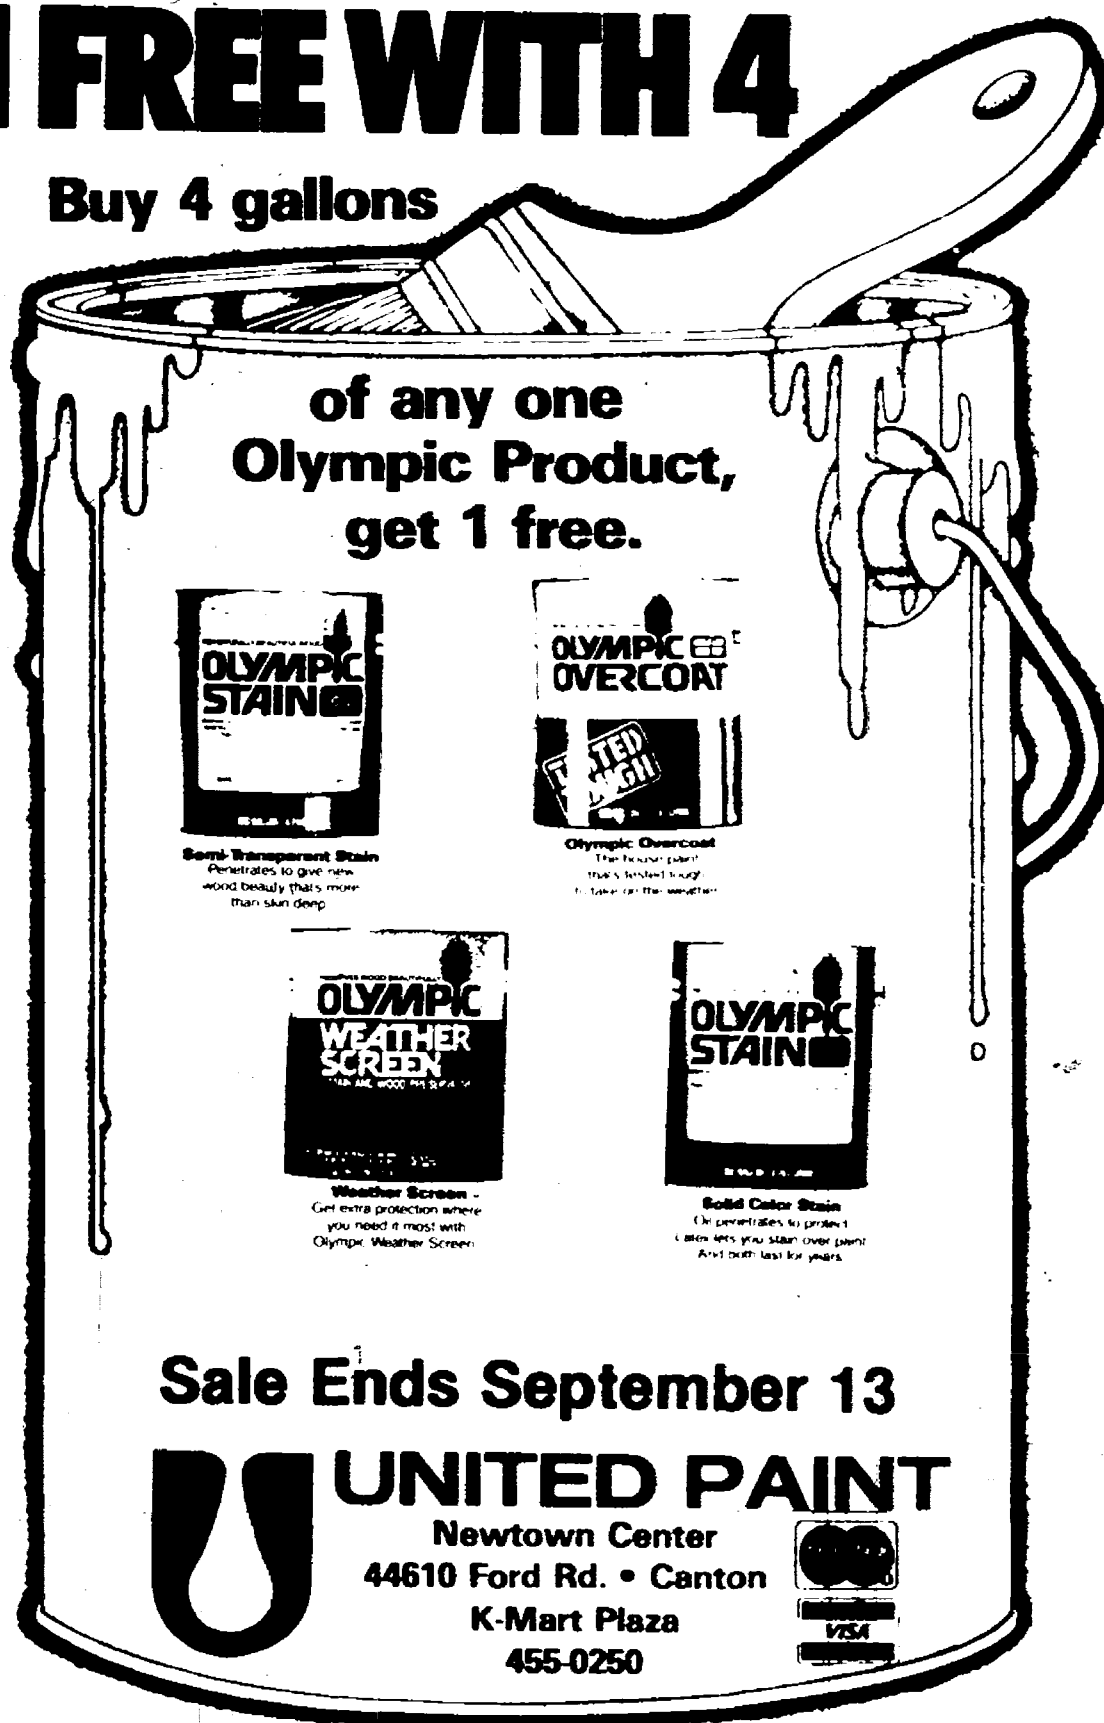

Registration is scheduled for Aug. 24 at 8-9 a.m. Applications are available through the physical education office and must include a $25 deposit. Cost is $50.

The soccer program staff will be headed by Schoolcraft soccer coach Larry Christoff and former University of Michigan-Dearborn soccer coach Van Dimitriou.

Applications or further information is available by calling the physical education office at 591-6400, ext. 480.

B-League all-stars 4th at Milan Tournament

An All-Star team from the B League (9-10 year old boys) of the Plymouth-Canton Junior Baseball Association placed fourth at the Milan Invitational Tournament July 24-26.

The squad won four of its six games for fourth place out of 13 teams at the competition.

All-Stars included Howie Blanchard, Neil Carnes, Brian Coleman, Roger Davis, Mike Gray, Tom Hill, Derek Humphries, Scott Jackson, Chris Johnston, Greg Martin, Tony Martinez, Joe Roney, Scott Sauter, Jeff Sebuck, and Erik Sheehan.

In other B League news, the Browns of the American League defeated the Pirates, representing the National League, to win the B League World Series over the weekend.

The Browns, managed by Jim Stanifor, defeated Dave Stelmaszek's Pirates in two games, 9-2 and 10-3.

Earlier playoff scores included the Browns 18-7 over the Royals and 13-5 over the Tigers, and the Pirates 18-2 over the Cubs and 7-6 over the Cardinals.

The final standings for the four divisions of B League were as follows:

The Tigers placed first in the American League (East) with a 14-2 record. The Brewers were 13-2-1, the Mariners 11-5, the Twins 8-7-1, the Orioles 6-10, the Athletics 5-11, and Indians 5-11 and the White Sox 4-12.

The Browns won the American League (West) with a 13-3 record. The Royals were next at 11-5, followed by the Red Sox 7-8-1, the Angels 7-9, the Blue Jays 7-9, the Yankees 7-9, the Mudhens 6-10, and the Rangers 2-13-1.

The Cubs won the National League (East) division with a 12-4 mark. The Pirates and Astros were next with 10-6 records. The Triplets were 8-7-1, the Braves 7-8-1, the Senators 7-9, the Dodgers 6-10, and the Giant 5-11.

The Padres won the National League (West) with a 14-12 records. The Cardinals were 11-5, the Pilots 9-7, the Expos 8-7-1, the Colt 45's 8-8, the Mets 7-9, the Redlegs 3-13, and the Phillies 2-14.

Wayne 3-some wins Best Ball Golf

A threesome of Wayne Police officers won the Canton Country Festival Best Ball (Scramble) Golf Tourney over the weekend.

B.J. Harden, Ken McKee and Bill Whitworth Jr. turned in an 11-under par 61 at Fellows Creek Golf Course to win the tourney.

There were 26 three-man teams in the tournament. Each squad of three had the chance to play each of its best shots for a best score.

Rick Francis, Matt Wiley, and Paul Massimilla all of Canton won a playoff round over Paul Deedeler, Murray Hole and Tom Bendig to finish in second position.

Both teams had finished the course with 62s. Francis, Wiley and Massimilla bridie the first and second holes of the playoff to win second place.

Open football league meeting

An open league for minimum contact football is being organized through the Royal Oak Parks and Recreation Department and teams are needed from cities throughout Wayne and Oakland Counties.

The league will start Sept. 20 and conduct games every Sunday at 11 a.m. and 12:15 p.m. at Royal Oak's Jaycee Park.

An organizational meeting will be held Aug. 27 at 7 p.m. in the John Linden Arena, 1403 Lexington in Royal Oak.

Cost to enter teams will be discussed at the meeting, said organizer Kurt Yockey, along with league rules for play.

For further information about entering a team call the Royal Oak Parks and Recreation at 456-1000, ext. 280, 453-7310, or contact Yockey at 964-5890.

Womens golf

Lou Skotzke scored five points to continue her hold on the Canton Recreation Women's Golf League after five weeks of competition.

Skotzke has 23 points for first place.

Shirley Young and Silvia Dickinson are tied for second place with 22 points each. Young posted the best round of the day with a 48.

World Series t-ball
