

City seeks solutions to curb cruising

BY T.M. SMITH

With summer quickly approaching, the City of Plymouth is searching for the brakes to slow down cruising on Main Street before the problem gets further out of control.

In fact, the entire city has joined the search for a way to bring the Main Street problem in check before school lets out for summer and the problem likely accelerates even higher.

The city has recently made steps to hire eight additional police officers (see story page 5) at a cost of $65,000, along with implementing its Main Street Program ideas developed over the winter.

Plymouth's Chamber of Commerce is in the process of developing a parental pledge mailer, which would be sent home to make parents more aware of the problem.

And citizens are starting to raise their voices in demand for quick solutions to the growing dilemma.

The problem of teenagers and young adults driving and walking down Main Street of Plymouth during the evening hours began two summers ago. Since that time the seriousness of the nocturnal activity has risen.

Numbers problems, litter, noise and some vandalism has been the nemesis to residents, business owners and the police.

Since Easter weekend of this spring the cruising has been growing steadily.

Growing right along with the cruising has been a level of frustration among residents and business owners.

That frustration was evident in a recent unsigned flier mailed to 14,000 citizens in The Plymouth-Canton Community. The mailer ended with this cry for help:

"We as parents have got to get control of the situation now before our 'city of homes' becomes a 'city of the homeless and helpless.'"

While nobody is claiming responsibility for the flier, it did use the 35th District Court as a return address -- a fact that did not please the presiding

Superintendent put to vote

BY DAN NESS

Canton residents will have an opportunity to participate in an advisory vote on whether or not to have a superintendent run their government.

Trustee Robert Padgett made a surprise move at Tuesday's Board of Trustees meeting by announcing the advisory vote. The vote will be held as soon as the law will allow, Padgett said, which would either be 60 or 90 days.

"It is important that it is implemented quickly," Padgett said. Padgett added that he still felt that a vote was not necessary, however from feedback he had received he agreed to propose the advisory vote.

The vote will end a process that began many years ago, when debate on the pros and cons of a superintendent system came up regularly, especially during township elections.

More recently, the present township board directed an implementation committee to submit a report on the best method of getting a superintendent system in place in Canton. That committee was initiated in September, 1985 and a report was completed about a year after that.

The report included a recommendation that the board act on hiring a superintendent beginning with a search process no later than May, 1987.

Under the superintendent system,

Meijer makes move to Plymouth

BY T.M. SMITH

Plymouth Township could be the site of the newest Meijer stores shopping chain.

An application has been submitted to Plymouth Township's Planning Commission for a rezoning change at Schoolcraft Road and Haggerty. The planning commission will set a date for a public hearing at its regular meeting scheduled for May 20.

Stosh Macomber, the senior real estate representative for the chain of grocery and department stores said that Meijer is looking to turn the 32-acre parcel of land into a 195,000 square-foot building.

Currently the chain has two stores in the area. One at Haggerty and Eight Mile in Northville Township and one at Ford and Canton Center roads in Canton.

Township planner Jim Anulewicz said that the first meeting scheduled for the 20th would simply be to set a public hearing.

The rezoning that is proposed, if passed, would change the area from an industrial zoning to a commercial zoning, he said.

Anulewicz would not speculate if there would be any opposition from the planning commission or himself.

"I don't pre-judge," he said. "We'll just take it one step at a time, look at all the facts, and let them fall where they may."

Macomber would not speculate on any time frame involved with the store or how soon it could be open for business.

judge at the court. "We are upset about it, and we don't appreciate it. We just don't know who did it," Judge John MacDonald said.

He also said that a few replies have been sent to the court in response to the filer.

Police activity has also picked up, especially during the weekend, when traffic is the heaviest downtown.

This past weekend Plymouth Police wrote 132 tickets connected with the cruising, and the city also tried several new approaches.

One of those approaches is the result of the winter meetings where the Main Street Program was developed to find solutions.

A residential parking ban on Plymouth's side streets during night hours is the latest step put into play as a result of these meetings.

Dewey Street, west of Main, was the first street to request the program. Last weekend was the first time the program went into effect, and 12 tickets were issued as a result.

Assistant to the city manager Paul Sincock said that three more streets have signed up for the program, and he hoped to have all the necessary paper work in place to begin with those streets this coming weekend.

Another element used this past weekend, was the blocking off of Penniman Avenue off of Main. Ac-ording to Sincock this was done to reduce the number of cars turning around and heading back Main southbound.

"We feel both programs were a success," Sincock said. "Closing

The trustees have said that they would like to see a "professionally trained" superintendent be hired in Canton, preferably with an education in municipal administration.

No dough for Maria's Bakery robber

BY DAN NESS

A man with a loaded sawed-off 12-gauge shotgun ended up getting ambushed by employes of Maria's Bakery, at Cherry Hill and Haggerty roads, Sunday night in a robbery attempt.

Dwight Errol Finley, 37, of Westland, was arraigned Tuesday in 35th District Court on charges of larceny from a person and use of a firearm in the commission of a felony.

A man walked into the bakery at approximately 6:45 p.m. Sunday, jumped the counter and began taking money out of a cash register, according to an employe of Maria's. Peter Bundarin, Jr., 25, the manager of Maria's, said he was about halfway between the cash register and a telephone where he was going to call the police when a cashier grabbed the man's hand and screamed.

"It happened in a second," Bundarin said. "I was on him almost immediately."

Bundarin said he didn't see the shotgun right away, but that he "knew Bundarin grabbed the man from behind and threw him to the ground. As the man went down, the shotgun fell onto the floor.

During the struggle, customers shouted to Bundarin that the man was reaching for the shotgun, he said. "So I really got mad and started choking the hell out of him. He really put up a fight."

Bundarin was joined by a fellow employe and a customer in holding the man until police arrived. When Canton police officers arrived, the man was being held face down by three people

Drug team makes $140,000 cocaine raid

BY T.M. SMITH

More than $140,000 worth of cocaine was seized last week during a drug raid at a party store on Five Mile Road in Northville Township.

The Northville Party Store, which sits on the Northville and Plymouth Township border was raided by the Western Wayne Narcotics Team and members of the Northville Township police Tuesday afternoon.

Three men were arrested during the raid, and three pounds of cocaine was seized, Northville Township Police Captain Robert Presnell said.

Two men were arraigned Thursday at 35th District Court on charges stemming from the raid. The owners of the party store, Lawrence Awdish and Laith Marrogi Awdish were charged.

Presnell said the raid was the largest cocaine bust in Northville Township in his memory, and "this really shows what the narcotics team can do with a cooperative effort."

He also said the raid was the result of an on-going investigation in drug trafficking in the area.

The store was closed as of Monday.

Racing office negotiates for space

BY W. EDWARD WENDOVER

Will The Plymouth-Canton Community lose the only state agency headquartered here?

The answer to that lies with the State of Michigan Racing Commissioner's office, the state's office leasing arm, and Lorenz Enterprises (which has rented space to the state offices at 485 S. Main St., under the Mayflower Meeting House, for 11 years).

Neither the state nor Ralph Lorenz, the building's owner, would comment on the matter except to acknowledge that negotiations are continuing. The Racing Commissioner's 2,941 square-foot office lease expires on July 31st.

However, Lorenz has begun advertising a 2,500 square-foot space for rent which was eyed for the state office. Apparently, the state was considering moving the Racing Commissioner's offices to Lorenz's under-construction office building adjacent to where the offices are now located.

There was speculation that the E.F. Hutton offices next door would expand into the space currently used by the state.

Some 10 full-time employes work in the state office, but many more use the office of their base of operations at various nearby horse race tracks.

Throughout the year, a number of hearings are held in local facilities — usually the Mayflower Hotel — in conjunction with the state's regulating horse racing.

"This is normal leasing procedure when there has been an increase in the rent," said Virginia Safronoff, supervisor of the state Dept. of Management and Budget's Detroit real estate office. She said the state is advertising too but added, "We do like the City of Plymouth."

To curb cruising

City to hire 8 more police officers

BY T.M. SMITH

In an attempt to ease police related problems caused by weekend "cruising" the City of Plymouth has decided to hire eight new full-time police officers.

Plymouth City Manager Henry Graper said the city is in the process of contacting various publications to place advertisements for the officers, and he is looking to hire them "as quickly as possible."

In a press release issued by the city administration, the city announced that the members of the Plymouth Police Officers Union, and the city agreed to hire the new officers on a "temporary basis."

Graper said the new officers will allow the police department to implement many new police tactics and ideas to help curb the cruising-related problems.

Graper was unsure of how long the officers would be kept on staff.

"We don't for sure, it will probably be a limited period of time -- possibly 16 to 20 weeks."

One of the ideas Graper mentioned for the additional officers would be the use of more foot patrols along Main Street.

"We can staff patrol cars with the officers we have, one of the new things we can do is put together a foot patrol," Graper said.

Graper said the addition of the new officers would cost the city "approximately $65,000," depending on how long the city will be in need of the temporary help. He said the money would come from the city's surplus funds for the time being.

Graper also said he was pleased with the outcome of the meeting with the officers union and the administration, and the agreement that came of the meeting.

"We are very happy to be able to work out a very good gentlemen's agreement with the officers," Graper said. "We sat down and discussed some good suggestions from them, and I think we came up with some possible solutions."

Members of Plymouth's police union have been pushing for some kind of solution to ease tension from too much overtime. In the past they have said more bodies would be one such solution.

When the eight new officers are hired by the department, the total number of officers will increase to 26, according to the press release.

Public hearing to review schools millage levy

BY KEN VOYLES

There will be a public hearing at 7:30 p.m. on Monday, June 1 at the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools Administration Building to discuss increasing property taxes and to review the proposed 1987-88 general fund operating budget.

The district is proposing to levy its full authorized operating millage of 37 mills for 1987-88, the same rate as last year, but a public hearing must be held in accordance with Public Act No. 5, known also as "Truth-in-Taxation Act."

The Board of Education needs to approve an additional levy of 1.67 mills, or the district will be limited to a levy of 35.33 by Public Act No. 5, said Richard Egli, Plymouth-Canton Schools community relations director.

The .37 mills have already been approved by voters, and district officials feel it will be necessary to again levy the total millage this year, said Egli.

Copies of the proposed budget will be available for public inspection at the meeting. Residents may also speak on the proposed budget.

Egli added that the need to seek full authorized millage is not required on the ballot for the June 8 election.

Canton planners to review documents

BY DAN NESS

Canton's Zoning Ordinance, Master Land Use Plan and Sub-division Control Ordinance will come under scrutiny soon by Canton's planning officials.

A special joint meeting with the Board of Trustees, Planning Commission and Zoning Board of Appeals will be held Tuesday, May 19.

"We're looking at changing circumstances for all three documents," said David Nicholson, Canton director of community and economic development.

Nicholson characterized the special session as a "follow up" to the joint meetings between the Planning Commission and the Board of Trustees held during the revising of the Master Land Use Plan last summer and fall.

CEP Band warms up

The Centennial Educational Park (CEP) Marching Band has begun planning for its 1987 marching season.

The band will have new uniforms when it takes to the field in the fall. Uniform jackets for the football games will be red for Canton and blue for Salem with a white sash.

When the band appears in competition it will wear a yellow jacket with a white sash.

Besides playing all of the Canton and Salem home football games, a special performance is planned for the Fall Festival.

The rest of the band's tentative competition schedule includes the West Bloomfield Invite, Sept. 19; Clarkston Invite, Sept. 26; Flushing Invite, Oct. 4; Midwest Regional Championship, Terre Haute, IN, Oct. 10; Durand Invite, Oct. 17; State Championships, Plymouth, Oct. 24; Western Michigan University Cavalcade of Bands, Oct. 31; and National Marching Band Competition, Pontiac Silverdome, Nov. 13-14.

Two fundraisers are also planned for this spring to help with expenses for the upcoming season.

On Saturday, May 2 there will be a neighborhood bottle return collection. Band members will go door to door asking for returnable bottles.

The other fundraiser is a combination garage sale and car wash slated for Saturday, May 16. The garage sale will be held from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. in the Canton High cafeteria.

The car wash locations include the Speedway gas station at Ford and Lilley Roads in Canton; the Shell gas station at Ford and Haggerty Roads in Canton; and Famous Recipe on Ann Arbor Road in Plymouth.

National Steel to build $17 M plant

Canton Commerce Park gets tenant

BY DAN NESS

Michigan Avenue gets a shot in the arm.

National Steel Corp. and Marubeni Corp. announced last week their intentions to build a $17-million steel processing plant on a site west of Haggerty Road, just north of the Conrail railroad tracks.

The announcement will help the newly-planned Canton International Commerce Park get underway. The park is on a 98-acre parcel of land, from Michigan Avenue to the Conrail tracks along Haggerty Road. National Steel will be the first tenant.

Groundbreaking for the steel processing plant -- not a foundry -- will take place sometime in June, according to Robert Toothman, a National Steel Corp. spokesperson. The plant is the first one of its type for National Steel, Toothman said.

The plant will receive rolls of steel and use it in manufacturing for automotive industry clients, Toothman said. The plant will employ between 50 and 75 workers.

The "commerce park," which is owned by Dearborn Real Estate Co., includes 41 additional industrial sites, according to Hal Rosin, broker/owner of Dearborn Real Estate.

"The development of the (industrial) subdivision will take place in stages," Rosin said. "We're anticipating the majority of our users will be auto industry related in some form or another."

The announcement of Canton International Commerce Park's first tenant was welcomed by Canton's director of community and economic development, David Nicholson. "It's a great kick-off for the park," Nicholson said. "This virtually assures the success of the park."

The 110,000-square-foot facility will help revitalize the Michigan Avenue corridor, which Canton's planning officials have targeted for rehabilitation. "As far as where would we like to have this plant? Right there," Nicholson said.

Motorist acts as alarm in fire

Sometimes warning signs are hard to figure out -- even if they work perfectly.

Monday night a smoke alarm performed its job perfectly in Plymouth Township, but according to the township fire department it took a motorist passing by to convince a resident his roof was on fire.

Plymouth Township Fire Chief Larry Groth said that his department received a call at 9:11 p.m. Monday, for a small roof fire at 4635 Barrington Road near Salem High School.

Groth said the fire started when lightning struck the roof of the house, which caused a small isolated fire.

But the odd part of the fire, Groth said, was that the resident of the house was about to call the fire department because his smoke alarm was set off and he could not figure out why.

"The owner was ready to call about the detector, when a resident knocked at the door and told him his roof was on fire," Groth said.

Groth said that the house was a two-story home, with no TV antennae of anything that might normally attract lightning.

"That is a little bit unusual," the chief admitted.

Groth estimated that about $1,200 worth of damage was caused by the fire.

Farmer's Market opens

There is a sure sign spring has arrived and summer is soon at hand.

If we were anywhere but Michigan, that sign might be the weather. But since this is the unpredictable state, a more accurate gauge is Plymouth's Farmer's Market.

This Saturday is the traditional opening day of the Market at 8 a.m. at The Gathering in downtown Plymouth with the annual flower sale.

This is proof positive that warmer months are on the way.

Following the traditional flower sale of the first day, Farmer's Market will open each Saturday at 8 a.m. for fresh fruit and vegetable sales, along with a variety of other goodies. The market is open throughout the summer and into early fall.

Fire strikes Wednesday at Westchester Square

BY T.M. SMITH and MARTY TUNGATE

A fire, sparked by a hand held torch, caused an estimated $70,000 worth of damage at the newest Westchester Square building on Forest Street last Wednesday morning, Plymouth fire officials said.

Plymouth Fire Chief Al Matthews said the fire began when the flame from a hand held propane torch ignited with some insulation around an air conditioning unit being installed.

Matthews said his department was still receiving various estimates of the damage, but that it could be anywhere between $40,000 and $70,000 in damage.

"The fire was very involved when we arrived. It was on the exterior of the south side and through the interior walls," Matthews said. "I would guess that one-third of the second floor of the building will need to be replaced."

Matthews also said that the opening of the newest building will be delayed before businesses can occupy the area.

At least one shopowner, however, was open for business when the fire broke out.

Evelyn M. Smith owner of The Gateway, was moved in to her shop on the ground floor as of last Monday. She had only been in the shop for two days before the fire broke out. She said most of the damage her shop received was due to smoke and water damage.

Matthews said the fire required most of Plymouth's equipment, 12 men as well as one pumper and six men from Plymouth Township.

"This was a very difficult fire to fight, we had to get inside and the fellows did an excellent job to get it out," Matthews said.

The Gateway had been open for two days before the fire, and Wednesday much of the merchandise had to be removed. (Crier photo by Dennis Bakker)

The flier liar

May cooler 'Cruise' heads prevail

Recently a "Cruise In" flier was mailed to some 14,000 Plymouth-Canton addresses by someone calling themselves the "Parents of Plymouth."

It was the emotional result of built-up frustration shared by many business people, residents and frequenters of downtown Plymouth.

The effort falls far short of contributing to a constructive solution. In fact, its deception of using the return address of the 35th District Court makes the flier little more than a pot-boiler designed to fuel emotions at the same time that business leaders, political types, social agencies, service groups and the youths themselves are attempting to diffuse the situation.

Even in by-passing the obvious error of sending the flier out unsigned, the mailing offends the axiom of "two wrongs don't make a right."

The problems with "The Cruise" are undeniably frustrating. But using untruths, exaggerations and "fueling the flame" does not help create a solution. If anything it intensifies the problem by causing over-reaction.

"The Cruising" is not something which began overnight. It has been building in popularity in Plymouth for many years, and has reached a stage of major proportions. Unquestionably, this is not a problem which can be solved overnight.

It is a situation which requires greater communicating by everyone involved. This communication was started over the winter with a few meetings of a few people.

The communication continued with the Plymouth Chamber of Commerce calling for a meeting of many leaders and community members a couple weeks ago. Even the youths themselves met last Sunday -- and much of the talk centered on calming things down.

The unsigned flier, published at considerable expense, cannot be put into the positive contribution column.

In the future much more communicating by many more people will be needed to find some workable alternative for the youths of The Plymouth-Canton Community.

For everyone's sake, communication needs to be sensible, well thought out and effectively transmitted to everyone involved.

This recent flier was just as inflammatory as the flier it used on the reverse side.

The "ultimate" solution to "The Cruise" has been suggested: close Main Street from 9 p.m. to midnight. This may throw the baby out with the bath water, however.

So more moderate solutions are in the best interests of everyone.

On the 'NIMBY' mentality

EDITOR'S NOTE: This letter is written in response to the yellow flier recently mailed in The Plymouth-Canton Community by "Parents of Plymouth."

EDITOR:

Yes, the flier of July '86 is certainly disturbing.

We do agree that it is the parents who are allowing this to happen, we agree it is a big deal and we agree we all should know what's happening in our town.

Frankly, your flier is just carrying on the NIMBY tradition. I don't blame you for saying "not in my backyard" but you really must do more than complain.

Where in your flier is a plan of action?

Where in your flier is a request for cooperation and mutual problem solving?

We have been involved in the organization and operation of dances for 7th and 8th grade students. While the dances are going extremely well, the organization of them was not smooth.

We have found that there is a very poor percentage of parents involved in planning events of this nature for the students.

The school administration would not cooperate and would not allow dances in their facilities.

Many parents don't have enough interest in their children's activities to offer to chaperon for a few hours.

This amazing degree of disinterest in our children is reflected in a town government whose best answer to problems has been to try to ban skateboards.

— "NIMBY" — It's the easy way out. It is the people in the community who must set the tone of discipline and respect. Please accept these comments as a call for involvement in community development by everyone. The children are our future.

We've lost OUR civil rights

EDITOR:

We are thankful that the Chamber of Commerce and more concerned people are finally realizing that the 'Cruise-Ins' are not going to go away without a major effort.

We wrote both local papers last year and couldn't believe the apathy except for the police coming when we called. Those not living close to Main St. should have a taste of living with it.

This year it started with Easter week, and it looks as if it has become a real challenge for our "civil rights" young people.

Besides the loss of OUR civil rights to have peace and quiet at a reasonable hour, these 'cruise-ins' will trash our lovely town, and spoil the atmosphere many have worked hard to project.

I signed last time to my regret!

Trustees know they're right but ask for vote

The Canton trustees took a deep breath Tuesday night and went with their collective gut feeling.

Trustee Robert Padget announced that he was proposing a citizen advisory vote on the issue of hiring a professional superintendent to run the day-to-day operations of the township.

The board voted unanimously in favor of the advisory vote.

Padget said that he had changed his mind on going for a vote late in the afternoon on Tuesday. He maintained, however, that a citizen vote was not the best way to gauge Canton residents' attitudes towards a superintendent.

"I personally haven't changed my convictions," Padget said. A "fair" number of people had come forward urging Padget and the other three trustees in favor of the superintendent to hold a citizen vote on the matter.

Padget was quick to point out that the vote would purely serve as an advisory question. The board could theoretically ignore the citizen vote and do what they wanted on this issue. But, as Padget noted, an elected representative of the citizens would not be investing in his or her future political career by overruling a citizen advisory vote.

The board reaction seemed to be one of immense relief, including the trustees who have carried this issue all along. "I agree with putting this on the ballot," said Trustee Steve Larson. Larson qualified his statement saying that he thought the board had accurately assessed the feelings of the residents on this matter.

"I think this is a far better way," said Treasurer Gerald Brown. Brown even went so far to say that he was "delighted" at the prospect of having his constituents vote on the issue.

Supervisor James Poole, who technically has the most to lose under the superintendent system, also seemed happy. Poole commented that he would rather see a vote scheduled in conjunction with the general election in November of 1988.

Former Supervisor Robert Greenstein, who was at the meeting, complemented the board on "a very sound and right decision."

Greenstein was profuse in praising Padget's action in proposing for a vote that he didn't even agree with, saying that he wished he could have acted like Padget when he was an elected official.

To the point

By Dan Ness

Trustee Loren Bennett piped in, "so do we," to a laughing Greenstein.

Now, the interesting question will be whether the trustees were indeed accurate in their assessment of the attitudes of Canton residents on hiring a superintendent.

And that points up another problem with taking the pulse of the Canton community. Cantonites are not terribly active voters, a charge that could be leveled at most other communities.

The board will be relying on those people who take the time to go to the polls and vote to get a reaction from the community. Whether or not the small percentage of active voters reflect the entire community's attitudes is a question that has been debated since elections were first held.

But the trustees' actions Tuesday night were admirable, even with the inherent weaknesses of an elective process. I would guess that each of the trustees is confident that the outcome of the special vote will back up their position.

Asking for the advisory vote will bolster the trustees positions in the eyes of Canton residents, as far as I'm concerned. Even if you do agree with the superintendent system, nobody likes to be told that they can't have a say in the matter.

Without an advisory vote the Canton trustees pushing for the new system could be seen, at worst, as taking a "Father Knows Best" posture. On the other hand, without an advisory vote, the trustees could be seen, at best, as simply taking the most efficient route towards a more efficient administrative system.

The voter turnout for the special advisory vote will say a lot in itself. If the turnout is characteristically low, then trustees could be accused of using a specious set of results in making a big move. If the voter turnout is high however, the amount of interest demonstrated will have warranted the vote.

Revenge of silly?

Nonsense II

Back by popular demand, (not to mention a tremendous need to fill some large space on this page) the column with no form has returned:

The last time one of these comingled masses of jumbled thoughts appeared in newsprint I swore it would be the first and only time. But a strange thing started to happen.

Someone said something positive about the column. And then someone else said something nice, and then another.

I couldn't believe it. There it was, proof positive that people actually do read some of this stuff.

Somehow, it felt nice to know people read this. (No matter where they happen to be at the time) Who was I to complain? Finally I knew how Sally Fields must have felt when she accepted her Oscar.

I thought to myself, "Self" I said, "this is sort of neat being called witty and funny." I sorta liked that.

So the column returns.

Second thoughts

By Janet Armstrong

There is something really special I want to share with you, and it all starts like this:

Let me win,
But if I cannot win,
Let me be brave in the attempt.

Friday, 901 of the most brave people I have ever met gathered at the Centennial Education Park football field for the Special Olympics.

You might ask why these people are the bravest I have ever met. Well, that's an easy question to answer.

People with handicaps -- whether they be physically handicapped or mentally impaired -- face more barriers than most of us could ever imagine.

They face the barriers of their respective handicaps, which is pretty tough just on its own. But they must also carry society's handicaps on their backs.

This is the handicap that makes our society unable to accept people who are different, even if the people didn't ask to be different. This is the handicap that makes "normal" people nervous about being around "those weird people."

But even though we burden them with our own doubts, they don't seem to mind. Either that, or they're the most forgiving people in the world. Or maybe they're the normal ones. You don't see them stare at someone walking down the street because they look different.

They also don't care whether you're old, young, black, or white. They do care, however, that you're a person, and in their mind, every person they meet has the possibility of becoming a friend.

I often wonder why it is people think they should learn from us "normal" people or if it is us, society, that needs to learn from them.

There are a lot of people that do realize the capability of the Special Olympians -- people who put in many hours of volunteer work setting up the event and working at the event. But don't let these volunteers fool you. They have their motives.

What motives?

Because they're selfish.

I know that when I volunteered on Friday, I came away feeling good. No, I came away feeling great, feeling like I was doing something special.

In case you haven't picked up the gist of the column, I'll fill you in. What I'm trying to say is that those Special Olympians that came out last Friday to do their best deserve a standing ovation, and so do all those volunteers that put their time and effort into making this year's Special Olympics the best it could be.

Fighting MAD?

Rouge Rescue '87

Cantonites can help clean the Rouge River on June 6.

"Rouge Rescue '87" will follow up last year's first Rouge Rescue on June 6. This year, Canton will also be involved. Registration for the Rescue cleanup effort will begin at 8:30 a.m. on Morton-Taylor Road one block north of Michigan Avenue.

For more information on the cleanup effort, call David Schneider, Department of Community and Economic Development, at 397-1000.

The Rouge River winds 126 miles throughout southeastern Michigan, involving approximately 46 communities. It is also considered the most polluted river in the state. Statistics show that six billion gallons of human waste are discharged into the river annually, along with various industrial pollutants, debris and sediment.

Last year, 2,100 volunteers and 14 communities participated in the project. Their work resulted in the removal of 1,000 cubic yards of debris and the dislodging of 35 log jams. Removing accumulated debris and log jams enables the river to flow freely, which in turn helps the river to clean itself through natural processes.

This year, 22 communities and an estimated 4,000 volunteers will help rescue the Rouge.

Bd. endorses Geer

The Plymouth-Canton Schools Board of Education endorsed fundraising efforts to rehabilitate Geer School at its Monday night meeting.

A goal of $300,000 has been set for the fundraising effort. The rehabilitation effort will rely on private monies, not taxes.

If enough money is raised, district fifth graders would spend a week of school in the old school house, on Plymouth and Gotfredson roads. The school was built in 1880.

Medal of merit

Suzanne Pletzer, 18, of Canton, was awarded the Medal of Merit for Outstanding Youth on May 3 by Congressman William Ford.

Pletzer, a senior at Canton High School, was recognized for her volunteer work in helping a neighbor who requires assistance. Pletzer spends about 2½ hours each day helping 8-year-old Vincent Estes. Estes was injured in a car accident as an infant, and now has cerebral palsy.

Pletzer has helped Estes for about six years.

"They've become my second family," Pletzer said of the Estes family.

Pletzer will attend Wayne State University next year with the assistance of a physical therapy scholarship she was awarded.

Handicapped service begins with SEMTA

The cities of Plymouth, Livonia, Farmington, Farmington Hills and Northville and the townships of Plymouth and Northville have implemented a handicapped transportation service for their residents.

The program is made possible through the sale of a small bus equipped with a lift, from SEMTA, to the consortium.

An independent, non-profit organization -- Alternative Community Transportation (ACT) -- will schedule, operate and maintain the vehicle within the communities. Handicapped persons will pay an initial $10 membership fee per year to ACT to ride the vehicle within the seven communities for a subsidized fare of 50 cents per mile. The normal rate of $1 per mile will be subsidized through the cities'

Municipal Credit dollars. Handicapped person will be billed on a monthly basis for their rides.

To qualify for the program, handicapped persons must reside within one of the seven communities, be mentally or developmentally handicapped or physically handicapped to the extent that an appliance, such as a cane, wheelchair, or walker is needed for mobility. Handicappers may ride to any location within the seven communities and to two locations in Westland -- the Northwest Wayne Skill Center and Tri-City Therapeutic Recreation at the 50 cents per mile rate. Outside of these locations, handicappers must pay $1 per mile.

Handicappers wishing to use this service should contact ACT at 474-6222 between 8:30 a.m. and 5 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Omnicom adds silent network

Omnicom Cablevision, serving Plymouth, Plymouth Township and Canton, is adding the "Silent Network" to its cablecast schedule.

"Silent Network" is the nation's only television programming aimed at the deaf and hearing-impaired population. All of the network's original programming is done simultaneously in sign language, normal sound and open captions.

The network's current programming line-up includes four half-hour programs: "Festival," a children's program; "Off Hand," a celebrity interview show; "It's A Dog's Life," a show about dog obedience training; and "Say It With Sign," a sign language instruction program.

"Silent Network" can be seen on Channel 11 on Wednesday and Thursday mornings from 8:35-9:35 a.m.

Schools book due out

A new book about the Plymouth-Canton Community Schools should be ready for distribution in a few weeks, author Sam Hudson wrote to district Superintendent John M. Hoben recently.

The final page proofs of the work, entitled "Michigan's Tenth Largest -- Plymouth-Canton Community Schools, 1830-1986," were returned to the printer recently.

The 312-page volume will contain 116 pages of photographs.

The district plans to purchase at least

3,000 copies at a cost of $12,205, Hudson explained.

Hudson, The Plymouth-Canton Community's resident historian, also suggested selling the books at $11 a copy with the funds to be used to benefit the Educational Excellence Foundation.

The books will be distributed through school bookstores, libraries, local booksellers and other retail outlets as well as community college and community libraries.

Cultural Center to host show

Hobby enthusiasts take note. On May 31, from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., there will be a Hobby Show at the Plymouth Cultural center featuring used and new collectibles such as toys, stamps, comic books, models, dolls, coins and many others.

There is a $2 admission charge for the one-day event, which will also feature exhibitors from all over the metro Detroit area.

Tell it to Phyllis

By Phyllis Redfern

Sunday was Mother's Day, a day to buy mom flowers and gifts and take her out to dinner. The card shops love the day as they feature cards not only for mom, but for grandma, aunt and wife.

It kind of makes you wonder if the person who thought up the idea of Mother's Day owned a flower shop, a restaurant or a card shop. No matter how commercial it is, it can still be a fun day.

Holidays of any kind are a good excuse for family gatherings. Although we don't make a big deal out of Mother's Day, my brothers and I and our families usually spend part of the day at Mom's house. If mom is lucky, we even offer to cook hamburgers or something gourmet like that on the grill. (Sorry I didn't get there in time to do the cooking mom, but the sloppy joes were good.)

You don't have to spend a lot of money to make Mother's Day special. A simple hug is one of the best gifts of all. Both of my kids came through with great gifts this year.

My son gave me a coat of stain for the picnic table (he even paid for the stain). He also gave me a card from "your little menace".

The gift from my daughter was a clean car. Not only did she wash it, but she also vacuumed the inside. The only other time she offered to wash the car was when she wanted to borrow it. I enjoyed having her home for the weekend.

Sunday afternoon we had fun at grandma's house. Well I had fun in spite of my stupid brothers who were mad at me because I told mom they should clean out her storage shed for Mother's Day. What's a sister for if she can't get the best of her brothers once in a while? Don't worry I've had my share of pay backs. I get the pleasure of planting mom's garden for her. I just hope my knees are up to it.

Mother's Day isn't all commercial, in fact the more I think about it, I wonder if maybe we couldn't try it twice a year.

Students from Plymouth receiving degrees from Alma College are: Karin Barto, a 1983 graduate of Canton High School, is the daughter of Glen and Constance Barto of Willowbrook, BA in international business administration and Spanish; Joanne Olstad, a 1983 graduate of Salem High School, is the daughter of Oscar and Betty Olstad of Brookwood, BA in Spanish; and Matthew Turner, a 1983 graduate of Salem High School, is the son of David and Susan Turner of Northampton, BA in history and political science.

Susan Knight, daughter of Douglas and Judith Knight, of Northville and Plymouth, has been selected as a residence hall assistant for Malone College in Canton, Ohio. She is a senior, majoring in English.

Jason Blakenship, from Pioneer, finished in an eight-way tie for 12th in the eight grade event. A Central Middle School student, Kevin Holmes, finished in a seven-way tie for fifth, also in the eighth grade competition.

The students won certificates for their efforts.

Travel TALK
FROM Emily's World
TRAVEL, LTD.

Emily Guettler

HISTORIC MOBILE
As the seagull flies, Alabama has only about 60 miles of shoreline. Yet, because its shore opens into a big, sheltered bay, the region has figured in every struggle since the days of the Spaniards. The French came next, then the British. Finally, Admiral Farragut barked, "Damn the torpedoes", and took Mobile Bay from the Confederacy in 1864.
All this is reflected in the culture and architecture of Mobile, a city that isn't given to boasting and has never advertised that its Mardi Gras predates New Orleans.
Mobile has three historic districts, including a reconstruction of Fort Conde, its old French stronghold. For strolling the historic byways, rent a tour tape ($5), available at most major motels.
Spectacular Gulf Shores State Park, a complete vacation resort with 30 miles of uncluttered, sugar-white beach, lies just 60 minutes South of Mobile. There are housekeeping cottages, a surf-side motel complex, a golf course, tennis courts and boat rentals.

Over 30 years experience assures you of the finest travel service available. And, best of all, THERE IS NO CHARGE TO YOU FOR OUR SERVICES. We are reimbursed in commission fees by the airlines and hotels, ships and resorts that we book.

Fund gears up

Meet the new leaders for the 1987-88 Plymouth Community Fund United Way campaign.

Marcia Buhl, corporate affairs manager for Michigan Bell, is the chairperson and Minnie Johnson, district manager for National Bank of Detroit in Plymouth and Canton, is vice-chairperson.

Buhl and Johnson plan to add a new "Pacesetter" feature to this year's campaign. The Pacesetter concept is a "pre-campaign move designed to spur other firms and area workers to dig deeper during the general campaign drive to keep pace," according to Johnson. Pacesetter firms are those who have been very supportive in the past, but have "growth potential" in their overall contributing, Johnson said.

Pacesetter companies will be given special recognition and a merit award at the annual kick-off program.

This year's division chairpersons are:

INDUSTRY -- Jon Huneke, plant controller, Ford Motor Company - Sheldon Road Plant.

BUSINESS -- Duke Morrow, vice president-engineering, Multi-Feed, Inc. and Kriss Rautio, vice president, First of America Bank - Plymouth.

PROFESSIONAL -- Beverly Farley, University Circle Director and Annual, Eastern Michigan University.

EDUCATION -- Carol Rundio, teacher and president of teachers union, and Judy Stone, principal of West Middle School.

GOVERNMENT -- Pete Pellerito, director of community and state relations, University of Michigan.

CLUBS and FOUNDATIONS -- Dr. Greg Ferman, D.O.

RESIDENTIAL -- Esther Powell.

Plymouth Community Fund United Way Board of Directors include: Fred Hill, president; Mickey Edell-Cotner, vice president; Kriss Rautio, secretary; Dr. Donald Davies, treasurer; Mary Childs, Gerald Kania, Kenneth Currie, Sy Kernicky, Judge James Garber, the Rev. Allegheny native Perna makes mark in P-C

BY DAN NESS

Mary Perna. Joseph Priestley. They both hail from the same farming community in eastern Pennsylvania's Allegheny Mountains, but Canton residents will be forgiven if Priestley's name doesn't ring a bell. Perna's name, on the other hand, should be very familiar.

Perna recently retired after 12 years as manager and assistant vice president of Security Bank and Trust's two Canton branches. She's also been very active in Canton civic affairs, serving as one of the Canton Chamber of Commerce's first presidents.

Priestley's claim to fame is that he was the man who discovered the chemical element we call oxygen in 1774. Remember?

Perna chose an active career at a time when women were not readily accepted into the white collar world. She was married after graduating from college, and when the opportunity came to go to New York for a merchandising job, she opted against it, at the advice of her late husband. "Being a good wife, I didn't do it."

But times have changed, Perna notes. "Now, it would be 'I'm going to be in New York for two weeks, honey, goodbye. Here's the microwave.'"

"I was a product of my time."

Perna ended up working for Crowley's in Detroit, but she soon switched to banking. "I always liked mathematics," Perna said. So she looked around the area for banking jobs to put her business administration degree (with an accounting minor) to work. "Some banks wouldn't even take my application."

But soon, Perna was working at Detroit Bank and Trust, where she worked for about 19 years, including 10 years as assistant manager. In those days, Perna and her cohorts didn't have electronic calculators and computers to use in their banking work.

"We didn't have the green eyeshades, but it wasn't far from it," she said. Checks were sorted by hand, bank statements were prepared by hand, and the bank's hours were from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. to allow for all of the paperwork, done by hand.

Perna had been working with a new bank -- Security Bank and Trust -- for two years when that bank opened a branch in Canton in the early '70s.

"The only thing I knew of Canton was that I went down there to buy sausages from a farm," said Perna, a Northville resident. Perna got to know Canton very well from the time she started working there.

"As residential building would expand, business activity would expand, and as residential building would pull back, business activity would pull back," Perna said.

Perna immediately joined the Canton Chamber of Commerce after starting to work here. "I was around right when Bart Berg was really taking the initiative to get it going."

Perna's attitudes towards work and accomplishment were formed at an early age. "I was raised by a single mother, because my father died when I was very small. That contributed to my independence in pursuing a career."

Perna refers to Canton as her "home" and says she will find time between gardening and reading and going to Detroit Symphony Orchestra concerts to visit her many friends in Canton during retirement. "It was just very satisfying to become so acquainted with all of the people in the community and the leaders in the community."

"I've made some very dear friends -- that friendship is going to go on."

Santomauro reports after 90 days as PSD

BY DAN NESS

Canton Public Safety Director John Santomauro issued a report on the consolidation of the administration of the fire department and police department 90 days after he took over.

The report states that many improvements have been made within the fire department since the incorporation. The consulting firm of Bartell and Bartell recommended that Canton's fire and police departments consolidate administrative duties last year.

"I have found an aura of cooperation and a sincere interest to effect change, not only from the fire command, but also from the fire union and individual fire fighters," Santomauro wrote.

Santomauro listed "what this office sees as improvements" for the fire department in the report:

- Establishment and implementation of department rules and regulations.
- Facility and equipment clean-up and rehabilitation.
- Establishment of uniformity through the department in personal and uniform appearance.
- Establishment of communications between administration, fire command, and the fire union.
- Initial procurement of essential equipment, such as self-contained breathing apparatus and medical supplies.
- Administrative consolidation of records bureau and clerical functions between both police and fire departments.

- A systems approach for the storing and distribution of equipment and supplies.

- The consolidation and realignment of budget line items in the department's 1987 budget.

Santomauro recommended hiring an additional six firefighters for 1987, and four more firefighters for 1988. Other recommended changes for 1987 included:

- Continue standardization of department uniforms.
- The procurement of communications equipment which will include mobile and portable radios.

- The purchasing of furniture for each fire station (there are two.)
- Purchase of three collapsible stretchers for the EMT program.
- The purchase of an equipment vehicle instead of a mini-pumper.
- An ambulance change over, and a payment due on a new ambulance and change over (1986 purchase).

Canton man bound over in shooting

BY DAN NESS

A Canton man charged with shooting his wife was bound over to Wayne County Circuit Court Monday after a preliminary examination at 35th District Court.

Gary Leon Lane, 31, was bound over on a two-count warrant of assault with intent to murder and possession of a firearm during the commission of a felony.

Lane was arrested May 1 after shooting at his wife on the front lawn of their home on Longfellow Drive. Fontaine Lane, 31, had gone to the Canton Police Department to ask for assistance in getting her two children out of their home. Four Canton police officers arrived at the home, with two at the front door and two on the lawn near Fontaine.

When Gary Lane came to the door, he rushed past the officers and drew a gun, shooting Fontaine Lane in the abdomen, according to police. Lane fired five shots during the incident, according to Public Safety Director John Santomauro. The Canton police officers fired two shots, before physically restraining Lane.

Canton Police Officers Kevin Rize, Davey LeBlanc, Robert Kerr and George Sharp were praised by Santomauro after an internal analysis of the incident. "The officers used a tremendous amount of restraint in the fact that they were shot at five times," Santomauro said. A police psychologist from Ann Arbor was called in after the incident to talk with the officers involved. "You don't get shot at five times" without having a traumatic effect on the officers, Santomauro said.

Fontaine Lane was the sole person testifying at the preliminary hearing, according to Police Information Officer David Boljesic. Gary Lane is being held in the Wayne County prison in Detroit on $150,000 bond. No court date was set.

Corpse robbed of jewelry

An employe of the Wayne County Medical Examiner's office was arraigned Tuesday in 35th District Court in a bizarre case of apparent theft.

Mack Gibbs, Jr., 55, is charged with the theft of jewelry from the body of a Canton woman that committed suicide April 25, according to Canton police. Gibbs was arraigned on charges of embezzlement of more than $100. The jewelry was valued at $2,500.

The woman's family reported two pieces of jewelry missing from the woman's body after the county medical examiner's office had returned the body. The Canton Police Department and the investigator's office of the Wayne County Medical Examiner's office performed a joint investigation that led to the arrest of Gibbs, according to Police Information Officer David Boljesic.

Salem's girls softball team wins 7

BY MARTY TUNGATE

Seven straight. Salem's girls softball team just keeps on rolling.

The Rocks have won seven games in the last seven days to up their record to 16-2.

Monday the Rocks had a tough time, but hung on to beat the Farmington Falcons 6-4.

"We didn't play very well. I think the girls are just a little tired," Head Coach Rob Willette said.

Kim Berrie was the winning pitcher in the contest.

Last Saturday Salem repeated as champions in the Walled Lake tournament. The Rocks crushed three foes and struggled in the championship game, but held on and won the tourney.

In the first game Salem appeared unbeatable, as they dumped co-host Walled Lake Western 16-0. The Rocks mustered 17 hits in the game.

Game two saw much of the same thing, as Salem only gave up one run and scored 16 of their own, as they dropped Milford 16-1.

Next on the Rocks' hit list was Branden High School.

Salem handled Branden with ease as they cruised into the championship game with a 13-3 victory.

But co-host Walled Lake Central didn't roll over and die.

Walled Lake Central matched the Rocks run for run. In the bottom of the seventh, Salem's Jessica Handley scored the winning run, giving the Rocks the victory and the championship.

Earlier last week, Salem was in a pitching duel with the cross-town rival Northville Mustangs.

Kim Berrie pitched a fine game, according to Willette. It then took Berrie to score the Rocks lone run, which was enough to beat the Mustangs, 1-0.

Last Wednesday, Salem was hot once again, as the Rocks walked all over Walled Lake Central. Salem tallied nine runs while Walled Lake Central could only put four runs across the plate.

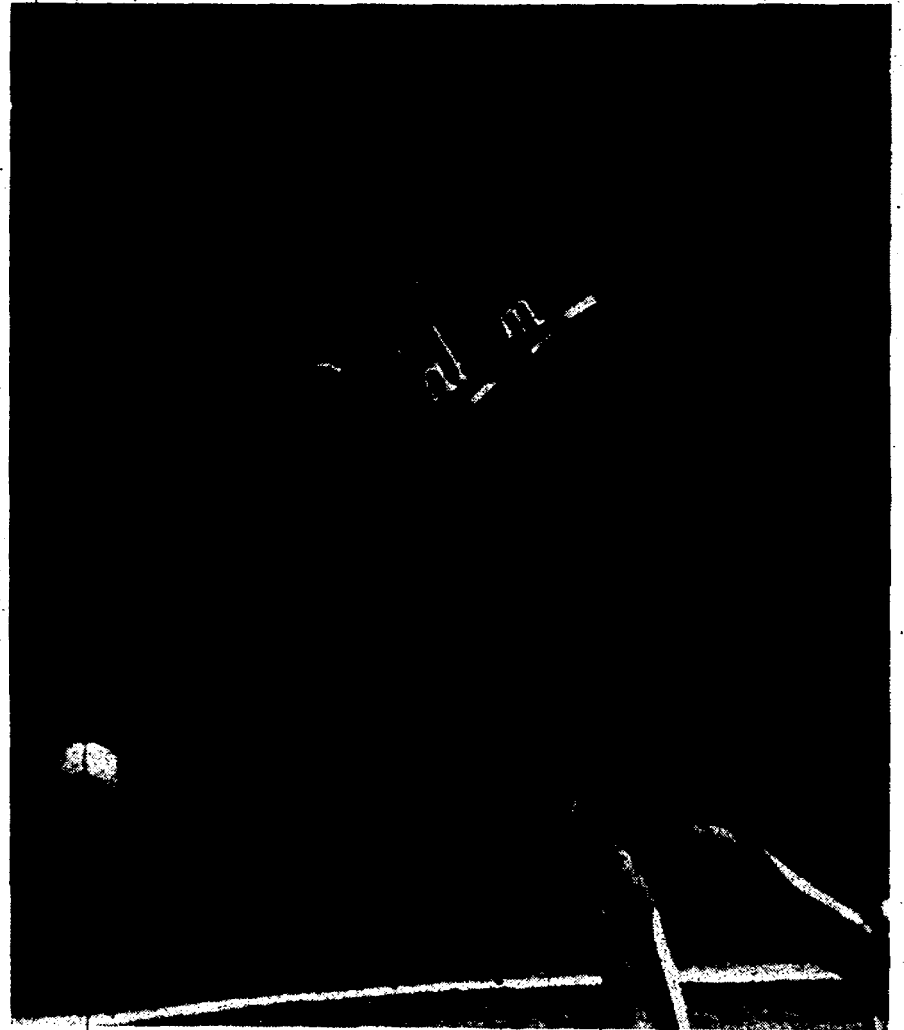

Berrie picked up the win in this game as well, while Denice Tackett was the big hitter for Salem, as she stroked two doubles and picked up two RBI.

"We're playing pretty good right now," Willette added.

Although the Rocks appear to seem unbeatable, the highly-rated South

Lyon team comes to town on Thursday to face the Rocks in a pre-district game.

"If we lose Thursday, we'll only have a few games left, and the season will be over," Willette said.

Special Olympians -- let me be brave

BY JANET ARMSTRONG

Last Friday 901 Special Olympians gathered at the Canton High track to take part in this year's Special Olympic Games for mentally retarded athletes.

The weather was perfect for both the athletes and the army of volunteers who, according to area director for the special olympics Susie Pidosny, helped make the annual event a success.

"It's all the volunteer hours put in, that makes it (special olympics) work," said Pidosny. Plus the athletes, of course.

The olympians, who ranged in age from eight to 99, were led in the athlete's pledge by Special Olympian Bonnie Bacon.

The athletes competed in age groups 8-11, 12-15, 16-21, 22-29 and 30-99, and in such events as swimming (which was held in the Salem pool) and a variety of track and field events -- broad jump, high jump, wheel chair races, the 50-yard dash, the mile run, and the softball throw.

As in the international olympic games held every four years, athletes had the chance to win glory and medals for their efforts.

The opening ceremony of Friday's event not only included the athletes pledge by Bacon (from Redford Union High) but also the lighting of the olympic torch by Danny Helstowski of Trenton High.

The annual summer competition is run in conjunction with year long events and a winter games as well.

Belsky gets 4-year deal

BY MARTY TUNGATE

Salem's Lisa Belsky will feel the pressure, as she makes the jump from high school tennis to college tennis.

Belsky, a senior at Salem High School has recently received an 85 per cent scholarship guaranteed for four years from Ball State University in Muncie, IN.

Belsky wrapped up her tennis career at Salem by capturing titles of a number of events.

She and her teammates won the Lakes Division of the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA), the conference championship, Regionals, and Belsky was the only member of the Salem tennis team to win a match at the state meet.

Belsky's final singles record as a Rock was 41-7.

Ball State's tennis coach Eloise Wiertel is looking for big things from Belsky.

LISA BELSKY

"Lisa has a lot of potential, she can be a great player," Wiertel said. "Lisa is a hard worker, she needs some improving in some areas, but she is willing to do that work."

According to Wiertel, Belsky is expected to start for the Cardinals in the middle of the singles line-up, and for a senior going into college expected to start provides a lot of pressure Wiertel said.

Belsky, who is excited about the prospect of playing for Ball State, and for the reasons she chose the school.

"They were the first school to offer me such a large scholarship, so I jumped at it," Belsky said. "Ball State is also a good school, and I plan I receiving my degree from the University."

Belsky, who is fully recovered from a broken foot, will provide the fans at Ball State with some exciting tennis.

Rocks making progress

BY JANET ARMSTRONG

It's been a tough season for the Salem girls track team, but things are definitely looking better. Although the Rocks are 0-4 in dual meets, they seem to be learning from the experience.

"We're making progress," said Salem track coach Fred Thomann. He added "we're developing more depth."

The Rocks' most recent progress was at the Wayne Memorial relays where Salem came in third with 53 points.

Ypsilanti was first with 130 points, Robishaurd was second with 72.

Place winners for the Rocks were Shelly Bohlen in the discus, taking second with a throw of 107.8 feet, and Shannon Donnelly in the two mile run, also earning a second place with a time of 12:50.8 minutes.

The Rocks 880-yard relay garnered a third place with a time of 1:52.1. The team was made up of Lee Zelek, Kristen Hostynski, Jenny Smith and Dena Head.

Also getting a third place was the mile relay team for the Rocks - Kim Mischler, Tracy Thomas, Hostynski and Smith combined for a time of 4:32.6.

Mischler also took a third in the 440-yard dash, getting a time of 1:05.9.

According to Thomann, it's been Hostynski who's been leading the team, both in the hurdle events and in the 220-yard dashes.

Champions!

Rock soccer squad wins titles

BY MARTY TUNGATE

Champions. That says it all.

Salem's girls soccer team has captured, for the first time ever, the Western Lakes Activities Association (WLAA) Conference crown.

"It's great. It feels really good to be the conference champions," Head Coach Ken Johnson said.

The Rocks accomplished this feat by defeating the Farmington Falcons 3-1.

Michelle Minton scored two of the Rocks goals, while Rachel Thiet knocked in the other goal.

The Rocks held the Falcon's top scorer to just one goal on the night, which played a key part to the victory, according to Johnson.

Jill Estey picked up all three assists in the game, as she tied a school record in assists for a season with 21.

"Everyone was terrific," Johnson added. "Jennifer Belhart, Lisa Hysko and Thiet all played very, very well."

"Terri Maier is a great player and only a freshman," Johnson said. "But

Salem freshman kicker Sara Hayes attacks the ball Saturday as the Rocks crushed Walled Lake Central 13-0. (Crier photo by Kelly Sauter)

Tracy Krajewski shut her down. Krajewski was assigned to shut Maier down, and she did just that, as Maier, who has already tallied 20 goals on the year, was frustrated by the Salem defense.

On Saturday the Rocks ripped Walled Lake Central 13-0. Estey knocked in four goals, which gave her 26 goals on the season, thus breaking her own record of 25 goals scored in a season. Estey is still only a sophomore.

Minton tallied a hat trick for the Rocks, as she came up with three goals of her own, while Terri King and Sara Hayes each knocked in two goals.

Thiet and Krajewski also got into the scoring action, as the two juniors beat the goaltender for a goal apiece.

It was Ellen Schnackel's sixth shut-out on the year for the Rocks.

The Rocks will face Ann Arbor Huron in the district semi-finals tonight, May 13, at 6 p.m. If the Rocks beat the River Rats, they will face the winner of the Belleville v. Canton contest Saturday at Huron High School for the district crown.

Kick-off is slated for 2 p.m.

Canton's girls tracksters stay hot

BY MARTY TUNGATE

Canton's lady tracksters finished third out of 10 teams at the Redford Union Relays last Saturday.

The Chiefs compiled three first place finishes, two second place finishes and one third place finish, giving the Chiefs a total of 63 points.

Redford Bishop Borgess won the meet, as it racked up 108 points, while Livonia Stevenson tallied 77 points giving the Spartans a second place finish in the meet.

In the shotput relay the Chiefs captured first place, as Susan Furko, Vicky Minar and Kara Haarala combined for a throw of 89 feet two inches.

The Chiefs locked up first in the highjump relay, as Angie Miller, Janet Armstrong and Heather Spenser leaped for a combined effort of 14 feet eight inches.

The final first place finish came for the Chiefs in the longjump relay. Tonya Walaskay, Sherry Figurski and Heather Miller jumped 43 feet nine and three quarter inches.

In the four-mile relay the Canton took a second place finish home with them, as Lori Penland, Cindy Spessard, Cathy McCabe and Kris Marquard finished a 25:09.9 seconds.

The sprint medley relay saw Angie

Miller, Krsti Brugar, Heather Miller and Trish Carney take second place in 3:10.5 seconds.

While in the two-mile relay Penland, Figurski, Missy Jasnowski and Michelle Young captured third place in 10:59.3 seconds.

"We're doing real fine right now, we're right where we should be at at this point in the season," Canton Head Coach George Przygodski said.

"You couldn't ask for anything better right now."

Earlier last week the Chiefs disposed of neighbor rival the Salem Rocks 80-48, this was the first time the Chief lady tracksters defeated the Rocks.

"Beating Salem was a big win for us," Przygodski said.

The Chiefs also defeated Livonia Franklin last week 88-40.

The Chiefs dual record stands at 2-0-1.

Canton footrace slated

It's that time of year again, when normal people don those waffle bottom shoes and take to the roadways for a race. A race on foot.

And the Canton Country Festival is just the place to begin the season.

The Canton Parks and recreation

Department has scheduled the annual Canton Country Festival five-mile run for Saturday June 20, beginning at 9 a.m. at the Canton Township Hall.

The registration fee is $6 in advance and $7 the day of the race. To register by mail, fill out the application below and send it to the recreation department. This year all race participants are eligible to win a weekend trip for two to Toronto. For more information, call the recreation department at 397-1000.

Canton kickers win tight contest

BY MARTY TUNGATE

The Canton girls soccer team tied for third in the Western Lakes Activities Association, (WLAA) as they squeaked by Ann Arbor Pioneer 1-0 Monday.

The Canton girls just pulled out a 1-0 victory over the Pioneers in triple-sudden-death-overtime.

Shanon Meath provided the excitement 3:50 minutes into the third overtime.

"We played great defensively, we only allowed six shots on goal," Head Coach Don Smith said.

While Pioneer was only able to come up with six shots on goal, the Chiefs came up with 31 shots on goal.

"That's great having so many shots on goal," Smith added, "but we should've put more into the net with that many opportunities."

Wednesday, the Chiefs beat a strong Livonia Churchill team 2-1. Meath came up with the two goals for the Chiefs in that contest.

Thursday, the lady Chiefs were in action again, as they dumped the North Farmington Raiders 2-0.

Julie Stabnick and Amy West provided the goals for the Chiefs in that victory. While in a game with Walled Lake Central later last week the Chiefs did it again, as they beat up on Central 4-0.

Michelle Lonigro had two goals for the Chiefs, while Jenny Russel and Stabnick booted in the other two goals in the game.

"I'm real happy and proud of the girls, they really worked hard this season, and believed in themselves," Smith said.

The Chiefs are 10-2-3 as they enter the second round of districts against Belleville tonight at home.

PCA winning, and winning big

BY MARTY TUNGATE

Turning it around.

Plymouth Christian Academy was a winless softball team during the 1986 campaign, but they've turned their season around by winning three games last week.

Manoogian was PCA's first victim, as the Eagles jumped all over the opponent 31-0 early last week.

Aligon Shirm was the winning pitcher in the contest, as she went the distance for the shutout.

Trish Tilly and Becca Chester had seven stolen bases a piece, while Shelly Oxley stole home.

This was the first shutout in the history of PCA and Head Coach Dan Brandel.

The Eagles next victim was Saint

Ann, as PCA swept a doubleheader Friday night.

Elaine Pribie started the first game for the Eagles, and came up with a no-hitter, as PCA dumped Saint Ann in the first game 16-0, while they completed the sweep with a 16-1 win in the nightcap.

In the second contest Nichol Hopper came just one hit away from tossing a no-hitter. She gave up one hit against Saint Ann.

Tilly had seven stolen bases on the day, while Oxley stole four bases, and had four hits for the Eagles.

Alian Schram knocked in three runs, while Kathy Coomis had one sacrifice for the Eagles.

The three victories lifts PCA's record to 9-6 on the year.
